37 CFR Part 2

RIN 0651-AA61

Revision of Trademark Fees

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is amending the rules of practice in trademark cases. The PTO is announcing that the fee for filing a trademark application is $245, in accordance with the applicable provisions of Patent and Trademark Office Authorization Act of 1993. No other fees will be affected by this rulemaking.
Effective Date: Dec. 3, 1993. For Further Information Contact: Robert Kopson by telephone at (703) 305-8510 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: This rules change adjusts the fee for filing a trademark application in accordace with the provisions of Public Law 103-179. The trademark fee increase is required to address long-term funding needs of the trademark functions of the PTO which cannot be satisfied with the current fee structure.
Statutory Provisions: Section 31 of the Trademark (Lanham) Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113), authorizes the Commissioner to establish fees for the filing and processing of an application for the registration of a trademark or other mark, and for all other services and materials furnished by the PTO relating to trademarks and other marks.

Public Law 103-179 established the fee for filing a trademark application at $245 per class. Public Law 103-179 took effect on Dec. 3, 1993.
Recovery Level Determinations: The existing fee schedule, along with the adjustment to the trademark application fee, will recover $518,692,000 in fiscal year 1994, of which $4,830,000 is attributable to the increase in the trademark application fee. The enacted 1994 budget is $504,021,000. An additioal $14,671,000 of patent statutory fees will be collected in 1994 and will be deposited to the Fee Surcharge Fund.

Patent statutory fees are subject to the provisions of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990, as amended by Public Law 102-204. Of the total amount of income expected to be collected in 1994 under 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and (b), $103,000,000 must be deposited to the Fee Surcharge Fund for deficit reduction purposes in lieu of seeking general taxpayer funds from the U.S. Treasury. The $103,000,000 is deposited in a special account in the U.S. Treasury, reserved exclusively for use by the PTO, and is made available to the PTO through the appropriation process. For 1994, the Congress appropriated $88,329,000 from the Fee Surcharge Fund.
General Procedures: There will be a grace period of 60 days, beginning Dec. 3, 1993, and ending Jan. 31, 1994. During the grace period, any party who submits a trademark application, which is otherwise sufficient, with a fee of at least $210, but less than $245, will be notified of the fee deficiency and permitted to supplement it within a 30-day period set by the notice of the insufficient fee. If the applicant submits the amount by which the fee is deficient within the 30-day period, the application will retain its original filing date. If the amount by which the fee is deficient is not submitted within 30 days, the application papers and fee will be returned to the applicant. Any trademark application submitted after Jan. 31, 1994 with a deficient fee payment will be returned to the applicant.

Discussion of Specific Rules

37 CFR 2.6 Trademark fees.

Section 2.6, subparagraph (a)(1), is revised to adjust the fee authorized by the Trademark (Lanham) Act of 1946 in accordance with the provisions of Public Law 103-179.

Other Considerations: This rule change is in conformity with the requirements of Executive Order 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501, et seq. There are no information collection requirements relating to patent and trademark fee rules.

This regulation was reviewed by the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs of the Office of Management and Budget under Executive Order 12866.

The PTO has determined that this rule change has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

Notice and opportunity for comment are unnecessary under 5 U.S.C. 553(6)(b) because this rule change merely restates a Congressionally-mandated fee change. Because notice of proposed rulemaking is not required for this rule, the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) does not apply. The PTO published a notice of proposed rulemaking on July 21, 1993, (58 FR 39102) to increase the trademark fee to $245 based on pending legislation that would have given PTO the authority to raise trademark fees in excess of the Consumer Price Index. The legislation as passed (Pub L. 103-179) simply increased the trademark application filing fee to $245 effective the date of enactment.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Part 2

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Lawyers, Trademarks.

For the reasons set forth in the preamble, the PTO is amending title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations, Chapter 1, as set forth below.

Part 2-Rules of Practice in Trademark Cases

TRADEMARK POST REGISTRATION

(126) Trademark Rule 2.165 Requirement Where A Section 8 Affidavit Or Declaration Is Held Insufficient

Several recent Petitions to the Commissioner have indicated a failure on the part of registrants and their attorneys to follow the requirements of Trademark Rule 2.165. Therefore, reviewing certain basic elements of this rule is considered timely so as to alert registrants and attorneys to technical errors which might lead to the cancellation of a valuable trademark registration.

Part (a) of Rule 2.165 indicates that the examiner will notify the registrant when an affidavit or declaration of use under Section 8 of the Statute is insufficient and the reasons therefor. When the registrant wishes the examiner to reconsider the affidavit or declaration, or when the registrant has taken additional steps to rectify the deficiencies and desires to have the examiner reconsider the affidavit or declaration in light of those steps, the request for reconsideration must be submitted within 6 months of the date of mailing of the notice of insufficiency.

Note, however, that a supplemental or substitute affidavit or declaration required by Section 8 cannot be considered unless it is received before the expiration of the six year anniversary of the registration. Consequently, registrants should file their affidavits as early as possible during the sixth year following registration.

There are situations where correcting the deficiency in the affidavit or declaration requires recording an assignment with the Assignment Division of this Office. If the recording cannot be completed within 6 months, the registrant must at least respond to the examiner's notice of insufficiency within that period. The response must indicate the steps being taken to correct the deficiency. The examiner can then allow the registrant additional time or suspend action depending on the circumstances. Registrants must always observe the "six month response" period whenever responding to the examiner from an adverse action.

Part (b) of Rule 2.165 permits a registrant to request the Commissioner to review the action of the examiner when he is dissatisfied with that action. Review by the Commissioner should be sought only where it is believed that the examiner has erred in his action. In other words, the Commissioner's role is to review the correctness of the examiner's action and not to serve as an alter ego of the examiner before whom the registrant may seek to correct deficiencies.

When review by the Commissioner has been sought, the decision on that request constitutes the final action of the Patent and Trademark Office. If no review by the Commissioner is sought and if no request for reconsideration of an examiner's action is timely filed, the Commissioner will notify the registrant of the deficiency in the affidavit or declaration after the sixth year has expired. Such notice is never mailed prior to the expiration of the sixth year following registration nor until a reasonable time has elapsed following a six month period from the last action mailed by this Office. This notice constitutes the final action of the Patent and Trademark Office in those cases where the Commissioner's review has not been sought. Once this notice has been mailed, it is too late (under the Rules of Practice) to request the Commissioner to review the action of the examiner. Review would only be proper if an affiant could show circumstances sufficient to suspend the finality element of Rule 2.165(b) pursuant to Rule 2.148.

Registrants will be held to strict compliance with Rule 2.165 as it has been briefed above. Therefore, parties are urged to respond fully as soon as possible after an action is received from the examiner.

Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks.

(127) Late-Filed Renewal Fees

Sections 9 and 31 of the Lanham Act (15 U.S.C. §§ 1095 and 1113) require that an additional five dollar ($5.00) fee be submitted by a registrant who files a renewal application during the three-month period following expiration of its registration. The language of the statute requires that this additional fee be submitted within the three-month grace period. A number of registrants who have failed to submit the additional fee within the prescribed period have petitioned the Commissioner to allow their renewal applications. The Commissioner has granted petitions of this kind where the registrant or its attorney maintained a Patent and Trademark Office deposit account which contained, on the date the renewal application was filed, sufficient funds to cover the additional fee. Specifically, the Commissioner has exercised discretion under Trademark Rules 2.146(a)(3) and 2.147 to deem the authorizations to charge the deposit accounts to have taken place at the time the registrants filed their renewal applications, even though the authorizations were not confirmed until a later date. This Office policy was established by the Commissioner's decision in In re Ralston Purina Co., 191 USPQ154 (Comr. Pats. 1976).

The policy established by the Ralston Purina decision is being changed. Henceforth, the Commissioner will no longer exercise discretion to charge deposit accounts nunc pro tunc for trademark renewal application fees. To allow an authorization to charge a deposit account to relate back to a date on which no actual authorization existed is, in effect, to allow late payment. It is inequitable to permit those registrants who have deposit accounts (or those whose attorneys have such accounts) to make late payment of renewal fees, while those without deposit accounts may not.

Petitions relying on Ralston Purina will, after the date of this notice, be denied, unless the events that gave rise to those petitions occurred before publication of this notice.

(128) Renewal Applications and Section 8 Affidavits

There has been a noticeable increase in the number of petitions requesting provisional acceptance of defectively executed Section 8 Affidavits and Renewal Applications under 35 U.S.C. § 26, the most common problem being a lack of notarization or a Rule 2.20 declaration. Often, such petitions are necessitated by the failure of registration owners to file the documents early enough to leave time in which to correct should they prove defective.

Section 8 Affidavits may be filed beginning with the fifth anniversary of the registration. The period for filing expires on the sixth anniversary of the registration. The period for filing Renewal Applications begins six months before the twentieth anniversary of the registration and extends three months beyond the expiration of the twenty year term. While the Post Registration Division may allow up to six months to respond to a notice of defect, it may not allow corrective action beyond the period for filing established by the Trademark Act. It is therefore in the registrant's best interest to file such documents as close to the opening date as possible to allow time for correction, if necessary. Provisional acceptance under 35 U.S.C. § 26 has been, and will continue to be, given narrow application. Registrants should not rely on 35 U.S.C. § 26 as a means of acquiring an extension of time.

We have also become aware of many delays caused by defects in the chain of title. Registrants are encouraged to keep Patent and Trademark Office assignment records current with regard to ownership of registrations.

The filing of Post Registration documents at the earliest date and mainten ance of assignment records will help to avoid the cancellation or expiration of registrations of trademarks currently in use, and will result in a savings of time and expense for both the registrant and the Patent and Trademark Office.

(129) Trademark Examining Operation

Effective Dec. 1, 1983, all requests presented to the Patent and Trademark Office under the provisions of Section 7 of the trademark statute (15 U.S.C. 1057) will be considered by the Post Registration Section of the Trademark Examining Operation.

Necessary telephone inquiries concerning procedure or status should be directed to 703-557-1986.

(130) Helpful Hints

- Trademark Post Registration - Failure to Specify Type of Commerce in Section 8 Affidavits or Declarations—Section 8(a) of the Trademark Act requires that before the end of the sixth year following registration, an affidavit must be filed showing that the "mark is in use in commerce." [15 U.S.C. 1058a].

  The Trademark Rules require that all Section 8(a) affidavits or declarations "state that the registered mark is in use in commerce and specify the nature of such commerce." [37 C.F.R. Section 2.162(e)].

  The affidavit or declaration must be filed between the fifth and sixth year following the date of registration and it must contain a statement that the "mark is in use in commerce," with evidence thereof. There may be no extensions of time beyond the sixth year for submission of this state- ment and evidence of use of the mark in commerce. However, if the timely-filed affidavit or declaration does not set forth the type of commerce, the registrant will be given six months to submit that information even though the sixth year may have expired. The rules do not provide for any further extensions of time beyond the six months. (Carlisle Walters, 703-557-3061)

- Backlogs in Trademark Renewals and Section 8 Affidavits and Declarations—Registrants are advised that a backlog currently exists in the processing of Trademark Renewals and Section 8 affidavits and declarations. While the Patent and Trademark Office conducts a preliminary review of critical elements in order to notify registrants of statutory deficiencies prior to the expiration of the statutory period for the submission of required documents, the ultimate responsibility for complying with the requirements of the statute and the rules rests with the registrant. (131) Section 8 Requirements For Trademark Registrations

Any registrant who files in the Patent and Trademark Office, on or after November 16, 1989, an affidavit or declaration under Section 8 of the Trademark Act will be required to comply with the requirements of the Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988 [Title 1 of Pub. L. 100-667, 102 Stat. 3935 (15 U. S. C. 1051)], which takes effect on November 16, 1989. The Trademark Law Revision Act amends 15 U. S. C. 1058(a) by adding the requirement that a registrant submit an affidavit "setting forth those goods or services recited in the registration on or in connection with which the mark is in use in commerce and attaching to the affidavit a specimen or facsimile showing current use of the mark...."

For Section 8 affidavits or declarations filed on or after November 16, 1989, the Patent and Trademark Office will require registrants to specify the goods and services to which the Section 8 affidavit or declaration pertains. The registrant may comply with the requirement for specification of its goods and services by listing each of the goods and services to which the Section 8 affidavit or declaration pertains or by making an all-encompassing reference to the goods and services recited in the registration (e.g., "The mark is in use in connection with all the goods and services recited in the registration." or The mark is in use in connection with all the goods and services recited in the registration, with the exception of...". The Patent and Trademark Office prefers that the registrant use an all-encompassing reference to its goods and services as the method of specification, especiallly where the mark is registered for numerous goods and services.

If the registrant fails to file, before the end of the sixth year following registration, a Section 8 affidavit or declaration that sets forth goods and services in connection with which the mark is in use, the registration will be cancelled. Similarly, those goods or services recited in the registration but not specified in a Section 8 affidavit or declaration filed before the end of the sixth year following registration will be deleted from the registration. After the end of the sixth year following registration, the Patent and Trademark Office will not accept a substitute Section 8 affidavit or declaration filed to correct registrant's failure to specify, or to specify completely, the goods and services on or in connection with which the mark is in use.

A Section 8 affidavit or declaration filed on or after November 16, 1989 must include a specimen or facsimile showing current use of the registered mark. The registrant will be required to file one specimen or facsimile for each class of goods or services to which the registration pertains. For a single-class registration covering multiple goods or services, only one specimen or facsimile showing current use of the mark on one of the goods or services in that class will be required. Similarly, for a mulitiple-class registration, the registrant will be required to file, for each class of goods or services covered by the multiple-class registration, one specimen or facsimile showing current use of the mark on one of the goods or services in that class.

If the registrant fails to file, before the end of the sixth year following registration, an affidavit or declaration that includes a proper specimen or facsimile for each class of goods or services to which the registration pertains, the registration will be cancelled as to that class of goods or services. After the end of the sixth year following registration, the Patent and Trademark Office will not accept a substitute Section 8 affidavit

(132) Renewal of Trademark Registrations (Revised)

This supersedes the notice that appeared in the Official Gazette on May 2, 1989; (1102 TMOG 5):

The Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988 [Title 1 of Pub. L. 100-667, 102 Stat. 3935 (15 U.S.C. 1051)], which takes effect on November 16, 1989, amends 15 U.S.C. 1059(a) to reduce the renewal term of a registration from twenty years to ten years from the end of the expiring period of the registration.

Any registration whose expiration date is prior to November 16, 1989, shall be renewed, upon proper application, from the end of the expiring period for:

(a) twenty years if the renewal is granted prior to November 16, 1989, or
(b) ten years if the renewal is granted on or after November 16, 1989, regardless of the renewal application filing date.

Any registration whose expiration date is on or after November 16, 1989, shall be renewed, upon proper application, for ten years from the end of the expiring period, regardless of the renewal application filing date.

The present practice of notification of renewal will continue. However, the updated renewal certificate issued by the PTO will be modified to specifically indicate the length of the renewal period. The notice of renewal appearing in the Trademark Official Gazette will be modified to indicate the date of the acceptance of renewal.

(133) Powers of Attorney in Registered Trademark Files

On and after Feb. 1, 1967, communications advising of changes in the powers of attorney for registered trademarks will be placed in the registration files, but will not be acknowledged by the Patent Office. The information will thus be available to those who inspect the files, but since these powers of attorney do not directly concern the Patent Office, acknowledgments are not believed to be necessary.

(135) Patent and Trademark Office Services

In order to provide improved services to trademark applicants, registrants, and the general public, the Patent and Trademark Office plans to implement a pilot program called the "Trademark Assistance Center." The Center will provide general information about the trademark registration process and will respond to inquiries pertaining to the status of specific trademark applications and registrations. The location of the Center is 2900 Crystal Drive, 4B10, Arlington, Va. 22202-3513. Assistance may be obtained in-person or by dialing (703) 308-9000, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Eastern time, except holidays. Opening of the Center is planned for October 3, 1994. Please note that personal assistance concerning trademark as well as patent matters will continue to be available at 308-HELP and recorded information will continue to be available at (703) 557-INFO. Also, automated information about the status of trademark applications and registrations will continue to be available at (703) 305-8747.

(136) Initial Processing of Application

On Feb. 1, 1972, the operations of the Trademark Application Section of the Patent Office will be reorganized. The purpose of the reorganization is to provide the public and applicants with more current information concerning newly filed applications.

The prompt initial processing of trademark applications is necessary in order to fulfill one of the main Patent Office functions, that of producing a record, accessible to the public, of new trademark activity to facilitate the clearance of new marks for use, determine the registrability of proposed marks, and avoid conflicts with the rights of others. In order to maintain a record of marks applied for which reflects the most current information available to the Office concerning them, the early processing of drawings in order to have them placed in the search room is considered as a first priority. The processing of these drawings includes the assignment of serial numbers, initial classification, duplication of the drawing and the forwarding of copies of the drawing to the search room. Other functions which are necessary in the processing of applications, such as the processing and mailing of filing receipts, are secondary to the processing of drawings.

In past years, there have been delays in processing applications and forwarding application drawings to the search room. These delays have varied from several weeks to several months. In view of the importance, both to applicants and the public, of recording essential information concerning newly filed applications as quickly as possible, a reorganization of the workflow in the Application Section is being effected.

There is no change in the processing of applications through the mail room and finance branch to the Application Section. However, under the new plan, upon receipt in the Trademark Application Section, all applications will be stamped with a serial number, and the drawing of the mark will be reproduced immediately and placed in the search file. This processing will occur as soon as the application files reach the Application Section. Such procedures as determining whether or not an application will receive a filing date, preparation of the file jackets, and mailing of the filing receipt will take place at a later time.

Applicants who wish to be notified promptly of the date their papers were received in the office and their serial number, may send two self-addressed postcards with their application papers. The mail room will stamp both postcards with the date of receipt and return one to the applicant; the second postcard will be stamped with the serial number and forwarded to the applicant from the Application Section. The postcards should contain the applicant's name and the trademark which is the subject of the application. When more than one set of application papers are forwarded under one cover, postcards should be attached to each set of papers for which a receipt is desired.

Under the new system of processing application papers, your particular attention is directed to the following changes as compared to the present procedure.

1. Application drawings will be placed in the public search file prior to the mailing of the filing receipt.

2. By using the postcard system described above, applicants will be notified sooner of the date of receipt of their papers and the serial number of their application. Applicants are encouraged to use the postcard system.

3. Additional papers sent in by the applicant or attorney should be identified by serial number, thereby enabling the office to process these papers quickly.

VOL 1170 ISS 1 JA 3 1995 UMI

4. When an application is accompanied by a petition to the Commissioner under § 2.146, the petition will not be considered until processing by the Application Section is complete.

*Effective date.*The procedure outlined in this notice will become effective Feb. 1, 1972.

(137) Dissemination Of Trademark Information

In order to clarify the policy regarding Trademark Examiners giving out Trademark information to the general public, the following directive has been promulgated:

Trademark Examiners are reminded that they may only be responsive to questions regarding applications pending before them. All other questions regarding Trademark matters must be directed to the Director of the Trademark Examining Operation, 703-557-3268.

(138) Responsibility to Diligently Monitor Trademark Applications and Registrations

The purpose of this notice is to remind trademark applicants and registrants of their responsibility to monitor the status of their application or registration in cases where a notice or action from the PTO is expected; and to apprise these parties that the Trademark Manual of Examining Procedure, (TMEP), will be revised to indicate that inquiries regarding the status of pending matters should be made within six months of the filing or receipt of any document for which further action by the Office is expected.

The TMEP is under revision in its entirety. As a part of that revision, Section 411, entitled "Status Inquiries," will be amended. The current language of § 411 indicates that a party awaiting action by the Office should file a status inquiry within eighteen months from the filing date of the application, or from the filing of a response to an Office action. This eighteen-month period was based on Office pendency in 1971, which was approximately fourteen months to mailing of the first Office action. Currently, the Office is mailing first actions within three months. Accordingly, the eighteen month period is no longer appropriate and is being reduced to six months to more realistically reflect Office pendency. Adoption of a six-month due diligence standard may have implications with respect to filing petitions and requests for other relief.

The Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks receives a number of requests to reactivate applications and registrations occasioned by the loss of papers mailed to or from the PTO. In many of these cases, the applicant or registrant may have proof that papers mailed to the PTO were actually received, or can aver that notices sent from the PTO were never received. However, in some of these cases the request will be denied because the party seeking relief has waited too long before investigating the problem. The rationale for denial is that third parties may have relied to their detriment on the information available in the PTO files and databases that an application was abandoned or that a registration has been cancelled or expired.

The PTO generally processes applications, responses and other papers in the order in which they are received in the Office. Accordingly, applicants and registrations can expect to receive notice concerning these filings within predictable time periods. For example, a party filing an application for registration should expect to receive a filing receipt within four to six weeks and, in most cases, a "first action" within four to five months of the date of filing. Similarly, a registrant should expect to receive a notice of acceptance or rejection of a Section 8 affidavit of use or excusable nonuse within four to five months of submission, and a notice of acceptance or rejection of a renewal application within two to three months of submission. Only in rare cases would any of these time periods be longer than six months.

Since it is reasonable to expect some notice from the PTO about a pending matter within six months of the filing or receipt of any document, a party who has not received the expected written action or telephone call from the PTO within that time frame should be put on notice that the filing may have become lost. The party awaiting notification has the burden of inquiring as to the cause of the delay. In order to be considered diligent in the monitoring of its application or registration, the party expecting notification from the PTO should inquire within six months. Waiting until the end of the six-month period is not recommended. Parties should inquire as soon as they suspect that a problem exists.

Written status inquiries are discouraged. Whenever possible, status inquiries should be made by calling the Trademark Status Line, at (703) 305-8747 through 8752. The Status Line provides the current status and status date of all active federal applications and registrations, and is available from 6:30 a.m. until midnight, Eastern Time, Monday through Friday.

Examples of Situations Requiring Diligent Action

Applicant/registrant files an application, Section 8 affidavit, or Section 9 renewal application, accompanied by an acknowledgment postcard:

(a) No acknowledgement postcard, filing receipt or other acknowledgment is received within a reasonable time.

Diligent Action: Inquire within six months of mailing of the document to PTO.

(b) Acknowledgement post card received but no filing receipt or other acknowledgment is received within a reasonable time.

Diligent Action: Inquire within six months of receipt of the acknowledgement postcard.

(c) A filing receipt for the application is received but no Office action, telephone call from the examining attorney, or notice of publication is received within a reasonable time.

Diligent Action: Inquire within six months of receipt of the filing receipt.

(d) A response to an Office action is mailed to the PTO but no further Office action, telephone call, notice of publication, or other acknowledgment is received within a reasonable time.

Diligent Action: Inquire within six months of mailing of the response.

(e) A notice of publication is received for an application under Section 1(b), 15 U.S.C. § 1051(b) but no Notice of Allowance or notification of potential opposition is received within a reasonable time.

Diligent Action: Inquire within a six months of receipt of the notice of publication.

In the event that the party discovers that its application or registration is no longer active, or that a required paper has not been received by the PTO, the applicant or registrant should promptly file a petition to the Commissioner or take other appropriate action to rectify the situation. The time limits for filing petitions are strictly applied. A certificate of mailing in accordance with Trademark Rules 1.8 or 1.10, 37 C.F.R. §§ 1.8 or 1.10, is recommended.

To summarize, applicants and registrants have a duty to monitor the status of their applications and registrations. If nothing has been heard from the PTO within a six month period, the party awaiting notification has the burden of inquiring as to the status. Status inquiries should be made via the Trademark Status Line. Should the status inquiry reveal that the relevant document is lost, or some other problem exists, a petition to the Commissioner or other required action should be filed within 60 days. Trademark Rule 2.146(d), 37 C.F.R. § 2.146(d). Failure to act diligently and follow up with the appropriate action may result in denial of the requested relief.

(139) Availability of Trademark Status Line

Beginning on Feb. 20, 1990, the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office provided access, via push button telephone, to current status and status date information for all federal trademark application and registration records maintained in the automated Trademark Reporting and Monitoring (TRAM) System. The Trademark Status Line will be available on (703)557-8747 from 6:30 a.m. until midnight, Eastern Time, Monday through Friday.

The Trademark Status Line may be used from any push button telephone by entering a seven-digit registration number and the "#" symbol or an eight-digit serial number and the "#" symbol after the welcoming message and the tone. All calls will be answered in the order received. Callers may request information for up to five serial number or registration number records per call.

When requesting information for registration numbers under one million, add sufficient leading zeros to the registration number so that a total of seven digits are entered. For example, to get status information for Reg. No. 88,725 enter 0088725#.

When requesting information for applications, enter an eight-digit serial number that consists of the two-digit series code followed by the six-digit serial number PTO. The series code is determined by the filing date of the application. All applications filed before Mar. 31, 1905 are series code 70. Applications filed between Apr. 1, 1905 and Dec. 31, 1955 are series code 71. Applications filed between Jan. 1, 1956 and Aug. 31, 1973 are series code 72. Applications filed between Sept. 1, 1973 and Nov. 15, 1989 are series code 73. All applications filed on or after November 16, 1989 are series code 74.

When requesting information for serial numbers under 100,000 in any series code, add sufficient leading zeros to the serial number so that a total of six digits are entered after the series code. For example, to get status information for serial number 92,132 in series code 73, enter 73092132#.

The TRAM System contains records for all active federal trademark registration and pending applications. The TRAM System also contains records for all federal trademark registrations and applications which became inactive after Mar. 31, 1982. Some earlier inactive records are also available.

The Trademark Status Line will provide current status information for all federal trademark application and registration records included in the TRAM System. The date that the record entered the current status is provided also. If additional information regarding the status of a trademark application or registration is required, call the Trademark Services division at (703)557-5249 and request a status check.

(140) New Telephone Numbers for the Trademark Status Line

On November 18, 1991, the local telephone company in Arlington, Va. will change many of the telephone numbers used by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, including the numbers for the Trademark Status Line. Effective on that date, the new telephone numbers for the Trademark Status Line will be (703) 305-8747 through (703) 305-8752.

The Trademark Status Line provides access, via touch tone telephone, to current status and status date information for all federal trademark application and registration records maintained in the automated Trademark Reporting and Monitoring (TRAM) System. The Trademark Status Line is available from 6:30 a.m. until midnight, Eastern Time, Monday through Friday.

The Trademark Status Line may be used from any touch tone telephone by entering a seven-digit registration number and the "#" symbol or an eight-digit serial number and the "#" symbol after the welcoming message and the tone. All calls will be answered in the order received. Callers may request information for up to five serial number or registration number records per call. If additional information regarding the status of a trademark application or registration is required, call the Office of Trademark Services at (703) 308-9400 and request a status check.

(141) TRADEMARK STATUS INFORMATION AVAILABLE ON THE TRADEMARK STATUS LINE

The Trademark Status Line (703) 557-8747 provides status and status date information for all Trademark applications and registrations to users with touch tone telephones. The Trademark Status Line is available from 6:30 A.M. to midnight (Eastern Standard Time), Monday through Friday.

The following is a listing of the status text provided by the Trademark Status Line for each corresponding status code in the TRAM system and the usual location of the file when it is in each status. All information in parenthesis is explanatory and is not part of the status text. All status codes followed by a "*" are within the blackout period for filing Amendments to Allege Use in Intent to Use applications. All status codes followed by a "^" apply to Intent to Use applications only.

(143) Availability of Deposit Account Status Line

Beginning on February 20, 1990, the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office will provide access, via push button telephone, to the current account balance information, and last deposit for the current month, if any. The Deposit Account status line will be available on (703)557-8735 or (703)557-8746 from 6:30 A.M. until midnight, Eastern time, Monday thru Friday.

The Deposit Account status line may be used from any push button telephone by entering your six digit account number and the pound sign after being told to do so by the greeting message that you receive whenever you dial in. All six digits and the pound sign must be entered.

Questions that may arise pertaining to the information received thru use of the status line must be referred to the Deposits Account Division at (703) 557-3227 during the hours 8 A.M. until 5 P.M. Eastern time, Monday thru Friday, except for Federal holidays.

(144) Telephone Changes for Deposit Account Status Line

Effective Nov. 18, 1991, new telephone exchange numbers will be made for the Deposit Account Status Line. On that date, Deposit Account Balance information can be obtained by calling (703) 305-8735 or (703) 305-8746 from 6:30 a.m. until midnight, Eastern time, Monday thru Friday, except for Federal holidays.

Questions that may arise pertaining to the information received through use of the status line may be referred to the Deposit Account Division at (703) 308-0902. Calls will be received on the answering machine 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

(145) Notices of Abandonment

The Trademark Operation has begun notifying trademark applicants when their pending applications have been abandoned by the Office. Under this new procedure, a computer-generated post card bearing the notice, serial number, applicant name and abandonment date will be sent to the correspondence address designated by the applicant. The post cards will be mailed within 2 to 4 weeks after the application is declared abandoned.

(146) Change of Correspondence Address in Trademark Applications

Applicants are reminded that when an application is filed and a correspondence address is entered in the Official record, correspondence will continue to be sent to such address until the applicant or party, or the attorney-at-law or other authorized representative of the applicant or party, indicates in writing that correspondence is to be sent to another address. 37 CFR Section 2.18. The filing of a response to an Office action on letterhead stationery that indicates a different address from the correspondence address of record is insufficient notice that correspondence is to be sent to another address. Specific language is needed which can reasonably be interpreted to be a request to change the address. See TMEP Section 603.

If a power of attorney has been filed in an application, a subsequently filed power of attorney will be regarded as a written request to change the correspondence address, even if there is no specific language changing the address or revoking the prior power of attorney. See TMEP Section 603.

(147) Use of Restricted Deposit Account for Electronic Ordering of Patent and Trademark Copies

Effective July 1, 1986, the restricted deposit account will be made available to those members of the public who wish to use it for electronic ordering of patent and trademark copies. The restricted deposit account requires maintenance of a minimum balance of $300.00 at the end of each month, as compared to the unrestricted account which requires a minimum balance of $1,000.00

In FY 1986, the Office established the restricted deposit account for use in charging subscriptions for copies of newly issued patents by subject matter classification. Establishment of a PTO deposit account is a prerequisite for subscription service.

Recently, the Office established an electronic ordering service (EOS), a method of ordering copies of patents and trademarks through the use of a computer terminal and modem. EOS is available only to PTO deposit account holders.

Many people who are interested in using EOS to order copies of patents and trademarks and who do not have PTO deposit accounts find the $1,000.00 balance required for the unrestricted account prohibitive. Therefore, the use of restricted account is being expanded to incorporate EOS ordering. Subscriptions and EOS ordering are the only two services for which restricted accounts may be used. If you have any questions on subscriptions or EOS, please call Mary Brown on (703) 557-3236. If you have questions on deposit accounts, please call Delores Riley on (703) 557-3227.

(148) CD-ROM PRODUCTS NOW AVAILABLE FROM THE U.S. PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE

Trademark Information on CD-ROM

The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office is pleased to announce the availability of trademark information on Compact Disc-Read Only Memory (CD-ROM). These discs, previously available only at U. S. Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries, may now be purchased by the general public. Subscription to any trademark title below will begin with the first disc issued after October 1, 1994. Orders may be placed now.

Trademark Registrations: Contains the text of all active registered trademarks from 1884 through the date specified with each issue. Twenty-nine search fields are available, including Word Mark, International and U. S. Classifications, Goods & Services, Design Search Code, Dates of Filing, Publication for Oppositions, and Registration, and more. Cost: $300/subscription.

Trademarks Pending: Contains the text of trademark applications which have been filed but not yet approved for registration as of the date specified with each issue. Twenty-four search fields are available, including most of the same fields present on the Trademark Registrations disc. Cost: $300/subscription.

Trademark Assignments: Contains the text of bibliographic data from trademark assignment deeds recorded at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office from 1955 through the date specified with each issue. Ten search fields are available, including Assignor, Assignee, Mark, Date Recorded, and others. Cost: $300/subscription.

All Trademark CD-ROM products also currently contain the Trademark Manual of Examining Procedure and a Goods and Services manual which are updated when electronic versions of revisions are made available. All search results can be viewed on screen, printed, or downloaded to diskette.

Each product title will be sold individually on a yearly subscription basis consisting of approximately six discs. Updated discs issue approximately every two months. Back issues are not available once superseded by current issues.

SNAP (Serial Numbers for Allowed Patents) CD-ROM

This CD-ROM provides a concordance between U.S. patent numbers and their application serial number. Kinds of patent documents included are: utility, design, plant, reissue, Statutory Invention Registration and Defensive Publication, filed after December 31, 1976, which were granted by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office through the date specified with each disc. Search fields are: Serial Number, Application Year, Series Code, Patent Title and Patent Number. Updated discs issues on an irregular basis. Cost per disc: $50. Back issues are not available once superseded by an updated disc. Orders may be placed now for the next disc to issue.

USAPat

USAPat contains facsimile images on CD-RM of all documents issued weekly by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. These include: utility patents, design patents, plant patents, reissue patents, reexamined patents, Statutory Invention Registrations, and Certificates of Correction. Each week's issue consists of 2 or 3 discs.

This product allows users to view and print all patents. Images shown on the screen can be "zoomed" for better viewing. Excellent copies can be obtained using a laser printer.

As a document delivery system, patents on CD-ROM offer advantages over traditional formats. Storage requirements will be reduced, fast retrieval of documents will be possible, and excellent laser-printed copies will be available immediately for your use.

USAPat will be sold on a calendar year subscription basis at a cost of $2,400. You may elect to begin your subscription with the first issue of 1995, or with the first issue of 1994.

The price for all CD-ROM products includes the discs, retrieval software, and appropriate printed user documentation, which are the only user support available from the PTO. The discs are mailed first class domestic or air mail overseas. Payment may be made by check or money order payable to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, or charged to your PTO deposit account. Cash, credit cards and purchase orders are not accepted.

(149) Filing of a Notice of Appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit in the Patent And Trademark Office

This notice supersedes a notice entitled Filing of a Notice of Appeal to the Federal Circuit and Service of Court Papers on the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks published at 1079 Off. Gaz. Office 72 (June 30, 1987).

A notice of appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit may be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office in any one of the following ways:

A. By first-class mail addressed as follows, in which case the notice of appeal must actually reach the Patent and Trademark Office by the due date:

Box 8
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Washington, D.C. 20231
Attention: Office of the Solicitor

VOL 1170 ISS 1 JA 3 1995 UMI

B. By "Express Mail" (U.S. Postal Service only) under 37 CFR § 1.10 addressed as follows, in which case the notice of appeal is deemed filed on the date of the Express Mail certificate:

Box 8
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Attention: Office of the Solicitor

C. By hand (on or before the due date) to the Office of the Solicitor. The Office of the Solicitor is located at:

Crystal Park II
Suite 918
2121 Crystal Drive
Arlington, Va.

D. By facsimile transmission to the Office of the Solicitor. The telephone number for accessing the Office of the Solicitor facsimile machine is (703) 557-9373. A notice of appeal will be deemed timely filed on the date the facsimile transmission is received by the Office of the Solicitor, provided an original notice of appeal is subsequently received in either of the following ways:

(1) An original, signed copy of the notice of appeal is actually received in the Office of the Solicitor within five calendar days of the facsimile transmission; or,

(2) An original, signed copy of the notice of appeal is mailed by "Express Mail" (U.S. Postal Service only) under 37 CFR § 1.10 on the day of the facsimile transmission.

The facsimile machine for receiving a notice of appeal is located in the Office of the Solicitor and is staffed during the business hours of 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, excluding holidays. Due to possible equipment failure or maintenance requirements, precautions must be taken when relying on the availability of this service near the end of the time for filing a notice of appeal.

(150) Service of Court Papers on the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks

Court papers other than a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit may be served on the Commissioner in either of the following ways:

A. By hand between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. at the Office of the Solicitor, located in Crystal Park II, Suite 918, 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va.

B. By mail in an envelope addressed as follows:

Office of the Solicitor
Arlington, Va. 22215

While the above mail service address may be supplemented to include the name of the particular attorney assigned to the court case, it must not be supplemented to refer to either the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks or the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (PTO).

Court papers mailed to an address other than the above mail service address and court papers delivered by hand are deemed to have been served on the Commissioner when actually received in the Office of the Solicitor.

Papers which are not court papers and are intended to be filed in the PTO in connection with an application or other proceeding pending in the Office shall not be mailed to the Solicitor's mail service address. Any such papers which are mailed to the Solicitor's mail service address will not be considered to have been filed in the PTO. Instead, all such papers will be returned. No exceptions will be made to this policy.

(151) Appeals to the Federal Circuit from the PTO

This notice was originally prepared by the Solicitor and Associate Solicitor Richard E. Schafer for presentation at the Eighth Annual Judicial Conference of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. The notice discusses litigation philosophy of the Office of the Solicitor of the Patent and Trademark Office and other matters which may be helpful to appellants and others seeking judicial review of PTO decisions in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

October 5, 1990 FRED E. McKELVEY
Solicitor

I. Introduction

This notice discusses the philosophy of the Office of the Solicitor when representing the Commissioner before the Federal Circuit and other courts. The notice is also designed to assist appellants and others seeking judicial review of Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) decisions in the Federal Circuit. Much of what is said in the notice is also applicable to those instances where judicial review is sought of PTO decisions in a district court.

II. Solicitor's litigation philosophy

The Office of the Solicitor and its attorneys start with the proposition that justice is done when the right result is reached. The Solicitor is not an advocate who needs to win to be satisfied. Rather, the public interest is served when:

(1) a patent issues on a patentable invention;
(2) a patent is refused on an unpatentable invention;
(3) a trademark is registered if entitled to registration under Title 15;
(4) a trademark is refused registration if not entitled to registration under Title 15; or
(5) PTO rules are properly applied within PTO and by reviewing courts.

Our litigation philosophy is expressed in Berger v. United States, 295 U.S. 78, 88 (1935):

> The . . . [Government attorney] is the representative not of an ordinary party to a controversy, but of a sovereignty whose obligation to govern impartially is as compelling as its obligation to govern at all; and whose interest . . . is not that it shall win a case, but that justice shall be done. As such, he is in a peculiar and very definite sense the servant of the law, the twofold aim of which is that guilt shall not escape or innocence suffer.

The Office of the Solicitor does more than simply "defend" an appeal. Rather, it will determine whether:

(a) appeals are ripe for judicial consideration;
(b) there are steps a party might take in PTO to obviate the appeal, e.g., amendments which might be made to claims to conform an argument to the subject matter being claimed - we often find that arguments in a brief are based on limitations which do not appear in the claims;
(c) there is material not in the record which might provide a full answer to an argument - particularly a new one - made in a brief; and/or
(d) the deciding official or board should be approached to see if it wishes to reevaluate its decision in view of a change in the law, acredible argument that the decision may not be correct, or a matter which may have been overlooked.

Most of the time, it takes more effort to implement this philosophy than it would take simply to brief and argue a matter.

Generally, in a Federal Circuit matter, the Office of the Solicitor - apart from designating an appendix -does not "get deeply into" a case until appellant's brief is filed. Exceptions occur, i.e., inter partes patent and trademark cases where the board opinion is reviewed to see if an amicus brief might be appropriate to assist the Federal Circuit with PTO practice.[1] This is not to say that an appellant should not feel free to discuss an appeal with an attorney in the Solicitor's Office. But, ordinarily in an ex parte case, we do not spend time until we see appellant's brief. The reason is that a large number of appeals are simply dismissed without the need for us to do much, if any, work.

Table 1, below, shows the disposition of appeals from October 1985 through April 1990. About 23%, i.e., 146, of the cases were dismissed with little, if any, work having been done by the Office of the Solicitor on the appeal. If we conducted a review of all appeals when filed, our Federal Circuit "workload" would increase about 23%. We do not have the resources to effectively carry on 23% more work.

We find a lot of cases are not ripe or otherwise ready for judicial review. When we determine that more work needs to be done before the Federal Circuit should consider a case, we generally move to remand. Fed. Cir. R. 27(c) provides that a remand generally should be requested prior to briefing. However, since we generally cannot efficiently take up cases until appellant's brief is filed, we now file motions to remand along with our brief. A merits panel is then in a position to evaluate whether it should hear the case on the merits or order a remand.

There are a variety of reasons why we seek remands.

A.

An appellant may argue that a certain feature of a claim is not shown in the prior art. Such an argument may prompt us to determine whether the feature is known. If we find the feature, we will probably ask for a remand for the purpose of making an additional rejection.[4] In like manner, based on our respective backgrounds or other cases handled by the Office of the Solicitor, we may know of prior art which strengthens a rejection.[5]

B.

Similarly, an appellant may argue that a certain fact is true. Upon looking into the matter, we have found literature from the appellant's assignee or other evidence which, in our opinion, demonstrates that the argument may not be factually correct.[6] Since the literature or other evidence is not part of the record, we have asked for a remand so that the case may be fully developed before a merits panel is required to consider the case. We have also filed a brief on the merits asking the Federal Circuit to take judicial notice of a fact while concurrently filing a contingent motion to remand in the event the merits panel believes that judicial notice is not appropriate.[7]

C.

We have had cases where the sole issue is whether a Rule 131, 37 CFR § 1.131, affidavit is sufficient to antedate a reference. When the sufficiency of a Rule 131 affidavit is in issue, we search for a foreign or other equivalent statutory bar. When an equivalent statutory bar is found, we move to remand suggesting that the issue on appeal may well be moot.[8]

D.

In re Steele, 305 F.2d 859, 134 USPQ 292 (CCPA 1962), suggests that indefiniteness should be taken care of prior to considering obviousness. There have been cases in which the claims are so indefinite that judicial review of an obviousness issue simply would not make sense. Remands, over appellant's objection, have been ordered.[9]

E.

There have been occasions where the Board, TTAB, or the Commissioner decides to change or reconsider a decision. A change of decision can occur, inter alia, due to:

1. new "law" as announced in a court or administrative decision.[10] or
2. a deciding official or tribunal determines that:
   (a) a decision may not be correct,
   (b) a matter was overlooked,[11] or
   (c) a decision otherwise needs to be reconsidered.[12]

F.

There have been cases where, although not argued by the appellant, it did not make sense to apply existing law in a particular context. We have moved to remand. In one instance, the Board reconsidered its position, established new law, and granted relief.[13]

G.

In its opinion, the Board - without entering a new ground of rejection under Rule 196(b), 37 CFR § 1.196 - may suggest that if there is to be further prosecution, an examiner may wish to look into several possible rejections. Generally in such a case the appellant will abandon or refile under 35 U.S.C.§ 120. On occasion, however, an appellant will seek judicial review. Ordinarily, we seek remands in such a case in order to avoid piecemeal judicial review.[14]

VOL 1170 ISS 1 JAN 3 1995 UMI

We had one case in which an appellant "dropped" an appeal as to all but a dependent claim -only the independent claim had been discussed in appellant's brief to the Board and the Board discussed only the independent claim. We sought a remand - after the appellant's brief had been filed - so that PTO could articulate a rationale as to the sole claim left in appeal.[15] Alternatively, we could have argued the appeal on the basis of the independent claim. However, in the context of the particular case, that alternative did not make sense.

I.

We had a case where the application on appeal was deemed to be abandoned. We moved to remand to clarify the status of the application.[16] We also had a trademark appeal in which registration in the United States could not occur until registration took place abroad.[17] Obviously, there was no reason to proceed in the Federal Circuit until registration occurred in the foreign country. When an appeal is taken in a trademark case, we always check to be sure that the registration relied upon is "alive." Appellant also should be sure that the registration has not expired. In one trademark appeal, the likelihood of confusion issue became moot on appeal when we discovered that the registration cited against the appellant expired without being renewed.

Most attorneys representing appellants will agree to a remand when approached by an attorney in the Office of the Solicitor - regardless of the time a suggestion to remand is made. A remand saves appellant, the Federal Circuit and our office time and money and in the long run contributes to the effective administration of justice within PTO and the Federal Circuit. In some cases, our motions to remand have been opposed. In one published opinion, an opposed motion was granted notwithstanding appellant has filed its principal brief;[18] in another opinion, relief was denied.[19] It appears the Federal Circuit has adopted, as a general rule, the latter opinion. See Fed. Cir. R. 27(c).

We will not attempt to reconcile Fed. Cir. R. 27(c) with what we regard to be the better policy expressed in In re Gould. We will point out, however, that if an appeal proceeds in the face of a motion to remand,

(a) an appellant will have to spend money to have its attorney appear for oral argument,

(b) the merits panel will have to spend time preparing for oral argument, holding oral argument, and writing an opinion,

(c) PTO will have to expend resources preparing for and presenting oral argument, and

(d) prosecution on the merits may be reopened after a mandate is entered if a viable rejection remains to be considered.

It is possible, of course, that we might prevail on the merits, thereby obviating any need for a remand. However, if we do not prevail, PTO can - and often does - reopen prosecution of the application upon entry of the Federal Circuit's mandate to consider the matter raised by a motion to remand.[20]

Sometimes an appellant will decide to file a second application, i.e., a continuation application or another trademark application, and simultaneously pursue the appeal. We believe appellant has a responsibility to call our attention to the fact that a second application has been filed. Knowledge of the second application is material to steps we might take.

First, perhaps any appeal (or civil action) should be suspended pending outcome of proceedings on the second application or dismissed without prejudice to another appeal in the event a final adverse Board decision is entered in the second application. In effect, by filing a second application, appellant admits that there are available administrative remedies and that those remedies have not been exhausted.

Second, it is in PTO's best interest that the examiner handling the second application be aware of the existence of an appeal. The examiner may ask our office for assistance, as may the Board, during prosecution of the second application.

III. Notice of appeal

Recent amendments have been made to conform PTO practice as much as possible to Fed. R. App. 4. See 54 Fed. Reg. 29548 (July 13, 1989), reprinted in, 1105 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 5 (Aug. 1, 1989).

A. Time for appeal

If an appeal from a PTO decision to the Federal Circuit is authorized by law, the time for filing a notice of appeal in PTO was changed in August 1989 to two (2) months or 60 days, whichever is longer. The time for seeking judicial review by civil action under 35 U.S.C. 145 or 146 is also two (2) months or 60 days, whichever is longer.

The filing of a request for reconsideration in PTO tolls the time for filing a notice of appeal. After a decision on re consideration is entered in PTO, the two month period begins to run.

The time for appeal to the Federal Circuit is set by the Commissioner. 35 U.S.C.§ 142; 15 U.S.C. § 1071(a)(2). The period for appeal must be at least 60 days. A notice of final rule was effective in August 1989 setting the time for appeal to two months or 60 days - whichever is longer. The dichotomy which used to exist between the 60-day period for initial decisions and the 30-day period for decisions on reconsideration[21] no longer exists.

B. Cross appeals

In inter partes cases, a cross-appeal may be filed within fourteen (14) days of service of an appeal or two months after the PTO decision being appealed, whichever is later.

C. Requests to extend time to appeal

A request for an extension of time to file a notice of appeal before the appeal period expires can be granted by the Commissioner upon a showing of good cause.

A request after the appeal period expires must establish excusable neglect. The "excusable neglect" standard applied by PTO is the same as that applied by the courts of appeals.

All requests for an extension of time to appeal should be directed to the attention of the Office of the Solicitor.

D. Where to file a notice of appeal

The original notice must be filed in PTO - filing only in the Federal Circuit does not perfect an appeal. However, a copy must also be filed in the Federal Circuit. Fed. Cir. R. 15. A copy of the decision being appealed, and any decision on reconsideration, should be attached to the copy of the notice of appeal filed in PTO and with the Federal Circuit.

The original notice may be filed in any of the following ways:

1. By hand-delivery to the Office of the Solicitor between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. at:
   Office of the Solicitor
   2121 Crystal Drive
   Suite 918
   Arlington, Virginia

A notice of appeal mailed to the Solicitor's Postal Box in Arlington, Virginia is deemed filed when received in the Office of the Solicitor.

E. Content of notice of appeal

A notice of appeal should identify all parties appealing. Fed. R. App. P. 15(a). See Torres v. Oakland Scavenger Co., 487 U.S. 312, 317 (1988) [construing similar requirement of Fed. R. App. P. 3(c)] .

Thus, in a case where there are joint inventors, the notice of appeal should identify all inventors. The notice of appeal should not identify John Doe et al. as appellants; rather, it should identify as appellants all named inventors, i.e., "John Doe and Richard Roe appeal . . . ."

A notice of appeal need simply state that:

John Doe and Richard Roe appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit from a final decision entered by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences on June 15, 1990, and from a decision on reconsideration entered by the Board on July 15, 1990.

There is no need to give reasons in the notice of appeal. See 37 CFR §§ 1.4 and 1.5 for material which should appear in the "heading" of the notice of appeal.

IV. Transmittal of certified list

After a notice of appeal is received, a determination is made whether the notice was timely filed.

Appellant will be advised if the appeal is untimely. Fed. Cir. R. 15(b)(1) governs proceedings when a notice of appeal is not timely filed:

If the Commissioner notifies the clerk that the notice of appeal was not timely, the clerk shall order the appellant to show cause why the appeal should not be dismissed, and thereupon refer the response to the court.

In order to properly respond to the Federal Circuit, an appellant may wish to file a request for an extension of time, which should be filed in the Office of the Solicitor, and establish that the untimely filing of the notice of appeal was a result of excusable neglect. Any decision on the request will be copied to the Clerk of the Federal Circuit for such action as may be appropriate. A decision by the Commissioner granting a request to extend the time for filing the notice of appeal will discharge the show cause order entered by the Clerk.

A certified list, consisting of the contents of the application, interference, opposition, cancellation, or other proceeding is copied and forwarded to the Federal Circuit with a statement indicating whether the notice of appeal was considered timely filed. In ex parte patent appeals the certified list usually does not include the contents to any "parent" applications unless the application involved in the appeal is a "file wrapper continuation" under 37 CFR § 1.62.

A copy of the certified list is mailed to the appellant or, in the case of an inter partes proceeding, all parties.

In ex parte patent or trademark appeals, an attorney in the Office of the Solicitor is assigned to the appeal at the time the certified list is forwarded to the Federal Circuit. Counsel for appellant should initiate a discussion with the Solicitor's Office attorney assigned to the case to determine the contents of the appendix.

Upon receipt of the certified list, the appeal will be docketed by the Federal Circuit. An appeal number is assigned to each appeal by the Federal Circuit. Appellant's 60-day period for filing a brief runs from the later of the date the appeal is docketed by the Federal Circuit or the certified list is served. Fed. Cir. R. 31(a). Since the appeal is docketed after the certified list is served in the case of PTO appeals, the 60-day period almost always runs from the date the appeal is docketed.

V. Service of court papers on the Solicitor

The mail service address for the Solicitor is:
Office of the Solicitor
P. 0. Box 15667
Arlington, Virginia 22215

Only litigation papers should be mailed to the Post Office box address. Other papers intended for filing in PTO should be addressed as specified in 37 CFR § 1.1. Non-litigation papers will be returned and will not be forwarded to the Mail Room.

Litigation papers not served by hand must be mailed to our Post Office box. Litigation papers mailed or delivered to the Mail Room of PTO, left in PTO's night deposit box, or left with a PTO employee in an office other than the Office of the Solicitor, are deemed served when received in the Office of the Solicitor.

The Office of the Solicitor is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Litigation papers served by hand must be delivered between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. to:
Office of the Solicitor
2121 Crystal Drive
Suite 918
Arlington, Virginia

Unless permitted by court rules or order, delivery does not include facsimile transmission.

VI. Motions

Motions are inevitable in Federal Circuit and other court practice. Before a motion is filed, appellant should contact the Solicitor's Office to see if there is agreement on the requested relief and the proposed order. If there is no opposition to a procedural order, it can be entered by the Clerk, thereby obtaining prompt relief and obviating the need for a judge or motions panel to consider the matter.

VII. Appendix

A. Designation

The Office of the Solicitor typically designates the following items for inclusion in the appendix in addition to the mandatory items specified in Fed. Cir. R. 30.

In ex parte patent cases, we generally designate:
(1) the specification;
(2) any drawings;
(3) the prior art supporting the rejection;
(4) the final rejection and any Office action referenced in the final rejection;
(5) the examiner's answer; and
(6) any evidence submitted to support patentability.

In ex parte trademark cases, we generally designate:
(1) the trademark application, including the drawing;
(2) specimens;
(3) the trademark examining attorney's statement; and
(4) registrations supporting the refusal and any other evidencerelied upon by the examining attorney or the TTAB.

It should be noted that Fed. Cir. R. 30(a)(2)(iii) prohibits the inclusion of briefs filed by an applicant in PTO without leave of the court. However, the examiner's answer and examining attorney's statement may be designated and included without leave. Fed. Cir. R. 30(a)(2).

While the items in the appendix differ from case to case, a typical appendix in an ex parte patent appeal contains the following items in the following order:
(1) table of contents;
(2) the initial decision of the Board;
(3) any decision on reconsideration;
(4) a copy of the certified list, which corresponds to the docket entries mentioned in Fed. R. App. P. 29(a)(1)] ;
(5) the specification;
(6) the final rejection;
(7) the examiner's answer;
(8) any prior art relied upon by PTO;
(9) any rebuttal evidence, e.g., affidavits under Rule 131, 37 CFR§ 1.131, or Rule 132, 37 CFR § 1.132; and
(10) a copy of the rejected claims.

With respect to the last item, Fed. Cir. R. 30(a)(3) provides:

> In appeals from . . . [PTO] , the appendix shall, unless the parties mutually agree to the contrary, include a copy of all rejected claims in an ex parte patent appeal, a copy of all counts in a patent interference appeal, and both a copy of the trademark sought to be registered or cancelled and a copy of any registration relied upon to refuse or oppose registration or to seek cancellation of a registered mark in an ex parte or an inter partes trademark appeal.

If the material designated as the appendix exceeds 100 pages, a draft copy of the appendix, with page numbers, should be sent to the Office of the Solicitor. Upon receipt, if we see any problem with the appendix, including any failure to comply with Federal Circuit rules, we promptly advise appellant. Preparation of a draft appendix will also insure that all briefs properly refer to pages of the appendix.

B. Page numbering

Fed. Cir. R. 30(c)(2) requires that page numbers be centered in the bottom margin of each page and that other pagination marks be redacted if necessary to avoid confusion. Numbering the appendix pages with a format such as "0001" generally avoids confusion with other page numbers.

If the designated appendix is less than 100 pages (which should be copied on both the front and back), the appendix is bound with appellant's principal brief. If the designated appendix is more than 100 pages, the appendix is filed separately within seven (7) days of the date the last reply brief is filed. Fed. Cir. R. 30(a)(4).

C. Legible materials

An appendix will often contain copies of materials which are illegible. In cases where counsel for an appellant does not have legible copies of materials which are available in PTO, contact the Office of the Solicitor and we will arrange to send a legible copy.

Handwritten notes in the margin of counsel's copy of Office actions should be removed. The proper place to argue a case is in a brief — not in notes in the margin.

VIII. Briefs

A. Statement of the facts

Fed. R. App. P. 28(a)(3) requires that an appellant file a statement of facts relevant to the issues presented for review. Fed. Cir. R. 28(b) provides that the appellee's statement of the case should be limited to the specific areas of disagreement with those of the appellant. Absent disagreement the appellee shall not include a statement of the case in his brief. Id. In our view these rules place the responsibility to provide a complete and neutral statement of facts on the appellant. Appellant should remember that it lost below. Hence, the "facts" are not those the appellant would like them to be; rather, the "facts" are those found by the Board. The statement of the facts in a brief is not the place to argue that the Board was clearly erroneous in making a finding of fact.

In our experience, appellants' statement of the facts invariably include argument; fail to describe all the facts relevant to the issues; state the facts in a light most favorable to appellant despite contrary findings below; or state conclusions - often without citation to the appendix. As a result, we typically find it necessary to include a detailed and, we believe, a complete and neutral statement of facts — with full citations to the appendix.

We particularly note that when "new" counsel is retained to handle the Federal Circuit appeal, the arguments on appeal often bear no resemblance to the arguments made to the Board. As a matter of logic, it would seem that the Board could not possibly have erred below on the basis of an argument made for the first time in the Federal Circuit. See Keebler Co. v. Murray Bakery Products, 866 F.2d 1386, 9 USPQ2d 1736 (Fed. Cir. 1989) (since Keebler failed to tell the TTAB it was interested in Murray's "intent," it could not use intent as a basis for showing "error" by the TTAB; prescience is not a required characteristic of the board and the board need not divine all possible afterthoughts of counsel that might be asserted for the first time on appeal).

B. References in brief to the appendix

All factual assertions made in the brief should be supported with citation to the appendix. How the Federal Circuit is supposed to know that an assertion is correct, when no reference is made to the appendix in support of the assertion, is something we have not been able to figure out. The Federal Circuit has often noted, with apparent disapproval, the absence of a citation to the appendix in support of a party's position.[22] Failure to cite to the appendix may affect an attorney's credibility before the Federal Circuit and diminish the impact of otherwise meritorious arguments. If counsel feels that it is necessary to make factual assertions and cannot point to the specific portion of the appendix supporting the assertion, consideration should be given to refiling the application. Argument which depends on factual assertions not supported by the record cannot have any relevance to any error in the decision under review.

Moreover, to the extent that we have influence within PTO to bring about a favorable result by way of settlement, we need to be convinced. Allegations, not supported by references to the appendix, are not likely to convince any attorney in the Office of the Solicitor of the merits of an appellant's position.

IX. Oral argument

A. When we appear

An attorney from the Solicitor's Office will appear and present argument in cases in which the appellant intends to present oral argument. We will submit on the briefs only (1) where appellant submits on brief and (2) no reply brief has been filed or we conclude that the reply brief does not require comment at the oral hearing. On the other hand, if a reply brief raises a substantial issue, particularly a "new" issue, we will appear even if appellant waives oral argument.

B. Discussinq the [allegged] error

An appellant has a burden of showing that the Board erred in its decision.[23] Factual findings below must be shown to be clearly erroneous,[24] while legal conclusions are reviewed for correctness or error as a matter of law.[25] Having only a short time for oral hearing, typically fifteen minutes, appellants should direct their remarks to the purported errors in the Board's decision. Based upon the 60 to 80 cases we argue annually, we can assure appellants that Federal Circuit merits panels are familiar with the record and the proceedings under review. Counsel may not want to use part of the 15 minutes normally allocated for oral argument by:

(1) explaining that the case is an appeal from the Patent and Trademark Office (the merits panel already knows that because the briefs have been read),

(2) identifying the appellant or assignee (because it is essentially irrelevant),

(3) reviewing the facts of the case, etc.

However, counsel should be thoroughly familiar with the record and be prepared to identify the portions which support their arguments.

We suggest oral argument by an appellant should start by saying "The error below was . . ." and here's why.

C. Visual aides

Fed. Cir. R. 34(c) encourages the use of visual aids. If the visual aid was not used during the administrative proceeding, written notice of the proposed use must be given at least 15 days prior to the hearing. Any written objections must be filed at least 5 days before the hearing. The rule also provides that counsel may agree on the use of visual aids.

Whether or not we will agree depends on the particular facts. We ordinarily do not disagree with enlargements ("blow- ups") of portions of the record. Where the proposed visual aid is not part of the record, we will not agree until we have had an opportunity to see the visual aid.

X. Pe..tions for rehearing

Petitions for rehearing can be useful if properly used. But, in our experience, petitions for rehearing filed by appellants simply reargue the case. We do not believe this is a proper function of a petition for rehearing.

Generally we will file a petition for rehearing only when (a) we believe the merits panel has made a genuine mistake - not merely a "judgment" call which happens to differ from our judgment, or (b) even where the result is correct, an opinion contains language which we believe will seriously and adversely affect PTO's ability to properly and effectively administer the patent or trademark laws. See Markey, "Semantic Antics in Patent Cases," 88 F.R.D. 103, 108 (1980) (suggesting rehearing should be requested to modify opinion language which confuses the law of patents).

We suggest, and do not believe, that there is such a thing as a "routine" petition for rehearing. A truly extraordinary situation must exist before a petition for rehearing can be deemed proper.[26] The Office of the Solicitor has been relatively successful with petitions for rehearing. In a 20-year period before the CCPA and Federal Circuit, we can recall filing approximately 12 petitions for rehearing. Some form of relief has been granted in nine, i.e., claims found patentable in the original decision were found unpatentable on rehearing,[27] language was changed in the opinion,[28] relief was granted in part,[29] etc.

XI. Issuance of mandates/termination of proceedings

As provided in Fed. R. App. P. 41(a), the Court's mandate usually issues 21 days after the entry of its decision. A request for rehearing stays the mandate until seven days after an order by the merits panel denying rehearing. Unless there are allowable claims or the Court's decision requires further proceedings by the Office, the receipt of the mandate by PTO "terminates the proceedings" for purposes of continuity under 35 U.S.C. § 120. 37 CFR § 1.197(c), 54 Fed. Reg. 29548, 29552 (July 13, 1989) reprinted in, 1105 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 5, 9 (Aug. 1, 1989). If an appellant contemplates filing a "continuing" application, it should be filed prior to the receipt of the mandate by PTO to preserve the benefit of the filing date of the parent application. Proceedings terminate on receipt of the mandate, not upon the expiration of the period for applying for certiorari to the Supreme Court.[30]

XII. Costs

In ex parte patent and trademark appeals from PTO, costs are not awarded for or against the Commissioner. See Fed. Cir. Practice Note to Fed. Cir. R. 39.[31] Hence, we do not file bills of costs in ex parte cases.

(152) Helpful Hints

• Correspondence with Certificate of Mailing Delivered by Commerical Carrier—The benefits of 37 CFR 1.8 or 1.10 apply only to documents delivered to the PTO by the U.S. Postal Service.

A number of instances have been uncovered where individuals are certifying that documents were deposited with the U.S. Postal Service when, in fact, the documents were hand carried or delivered to the PTO via commerical mail service, e.g., "Federal Express," "DHL," "Purolator," "Air Borne," "UPS'," etc. In those instances where documents include a certificate of mailing under 37 CFR 1.8 or 1.10, but were delivered to the PTO by other than U.S. Postal Service, Mail Room personnel are placing a notice indicating that fact on the correspondence involved to alert PTO personnel that the benefits of 37 CFR 1.8 or 1.10 do not apply.

(153) Helpful Hints

• Certificate of Mailing AND Return Post Card—Use of the Certificate of Mailing Procedure is strongly encouraged.

37 CFR 1.8(a) provides for the use of a Certificate of Mailing on most correspondence with the PTO, whereby the correspondence (and/or fee) will be considered as timely filed if deposited with the U.S. Postal Service within the set time period. Consistent use of this procedure is extremely beneficial to practitioners, whether or not the Post Card Receipt provision of MPEP 503 is used.

In those instances where the PTO never receives the correspondence, no post card receipt will be available to evidence the filing and/or timeliness of the correspondence. However, in those instances where a Certificate of Mailing is properly used, 37 CFR 1.8(b) provides relief, even if the correspondence is not received in the PTO at all. Under 37 CFR 1.8(b) the party who forwarded the correspondence need only (1) inform the PTO of the previous mailing of the correspondence, (2) supply a copy of the previously mailed correspondence and Certificate, and (3) include a declaration which adequately attests to the previous timely mailing.

(154) DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Patent and Trademark Office

Change of Address For Trademark Applications and Trademark Related Papers

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Notice.
Summary: Commencing July 5, 1994, trademark applications and other trademark-related mail, except for trademark-related documents sent to the Assignment Branch for recordation and requests for certified copies of trademark documents, should be addressed to: Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, 2900 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va. 22202-3513.
Dates: This new address will be effective July 5, 1994.
For Further Information Contact: Lynne G. Beresford at (703) 305-9464 or by mail marked to her attention and addressed to: Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231. After July 5, 1994, mail should be addressed to: Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, 2900 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va. 22202-3513.
Supplemental Information: As part of its emphasis on better service for trademark applicants and registrants, the responsibilty for receiving, opening and routing of trademark mail is being transferred to the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks. In order to more efficiently process the mail, the Assistant Commissioner has determined that trademark-related mail, except for trademark-related documents sent to the Assignment Branch for recordation and requests for certified copies of trademark application and registration documents, should be sent directly to the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, 2900 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va. 22202-3513, which is the location of the Trademark Operation. Having mail sent directly to that address should speed up processing and reduce the amount of lost or misrouted mail. The mail room at the South Tower Building will begin to receive and process mail on July 5, 1994. For a period after July 5, 1994, the Patent and Trademark Office (Office) will receive trademark-related mail at both the old address, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, and at the new address, Assistant Commis-

(155) Special Boxes And "Fee/No Fee" Indicators For Trademark-Related Mail And Guidelines For Filing Requests To Extend Time To Oppose With The Trademark Trial And Appeal Board (TTAB)

On July 5, 1994, the Patent and Trademark Office opened a mailroom to receive mail related to trademark applications, registrations and matters before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board at the following addresses:

Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks
2900 Crystal Drive
Arlington, Virginia 22202-3513

To facilitate mail-handling in the new mailroom, the special box designations have been expanded so that incoming mail can be presorted more efficiently. In addition to these box designations, filers are encouraged to indicate whether the contents of an envelope contain a "FEE" or "NO FEE." As shown below, the "FEE" and "NO FEE" indicators should be set forth on the line below the box designation for easy visibility. Envelopes will be batched based on the "FEE/NO FEE" indicator and box designation and sent unopened to the appropriate employee in the Pre-exam area for processing.

The "SPECIAL BOXES FOR MAIL" page in the Official Gazette will be changed. Please note that the "BOX 5" designation for "'No fee' mail related to trademarks" has been discontinued. Furthermore, the box designation "Box Trademark Application" has been changed to "BOX NEW APP."

The following box designations and "FEE/NO FEE" indicators will now be available:

BOX NEW APP FEE for any new trademark application. [All applications require fees; therefore a "NO FEE" indicator should not be used.]

BOX ITU FEE for papers such as Statements of Use (SOU), and extensions requests therefor, to be filled with the Intent to Use (ITU) Unit. [All ITU papers require fees; therefore a "NO FEE" indicator should not be used.]

BOX TTAB FEE for papers such as oppositions, cancellation petitions and ex parte appeals filed with the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board (TTAB).

BOX TTAB NO FEE for TTAB papers with no fee, such as extension requests, interferences and motions.

BOX STATUS NO FEE for written status inquiries. [Status inquiries do not require a fee; therefore a "FEE" indicator should not be used.]

BOX POST REG FEE for post registration documents such as Section 8 affidavits and Section 9 renewals.

BOX RESPONSES NO FEE for responses to Examining Attorneys' Office actions; and for responses to Post Registration Examiners' rejections.

For best results, these box designations and "FEE/NO FEE" indicators should appear on the envelope as well as on the cover sheet or first page of any document. However, although not preferred procedure, filers may continue to include documents destined for more than one location in a single envelope, provided each document references the box designation and "FEE/NO FEE" indicator on the cover sheet or first page of the document; and provided each complete filing is stapled or secured in some fashion. The envelope should list all the box designations and "FEE/NO FEE" indicators for its contents.

This notice does not apply to trademark-related documents intended for recordation with the Assignment Branch or for requests for certified and uncertified copies of trademark application and registration documents. These papers and patent-related mail should continue to be sent to: Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Labeling First Requests for Extensions of Time to Oppose

Although the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board reports to the Office of the Deputy Assistant Secretary of Commerce and Deputy Assistant Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, it is located and receives its mail at the Arlington address of the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks. As noted above, requests for extensions of time to oppose should be sent to BOX TTAB, including the "NO FEE" indicator.

Because first requests for extensions of time to oppose are critically time-sensitive documents, filers are encouraged to indicate on the cover sheet or first page of the extension request that the paper is a first request. The suggested title for these documents is: First Request for Extension of Time to File a Notice of Oppositions.

(156) Changes in How Papers May be Filed in the Patent and Trademark Office

Beginning April 21, 1992, an improved service will be offered to people who wish to file papers directly with the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) by extending the hours of operation for the Attorneys' Window located in Room 1B03 of Crystal Plaza Building 2, Arlington, Virginia. The current hours of operation are from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, except Federal holidays within the District of Columbia. The change will extend the hours of operation until 12:00 midnight on Monday through Friday, except holidays, on a trial basis. If, after six months, usage does not warrant retaining operations until midnight, the hours of operation will be reduced.

This change will provide walk-up, personalized service to firms and individuals who are filing documents with the PTO. The PTO will continue to stamp postcard-type receipts to acknowledge the receipt of papers filed at the Attorneys' Window.

Also, effective on April 21, 1992, the PTO is discontinuing the use of drop boxes in the lobby of Crystal Plaza Building 3, Arlington, Virginia, and at the main entrance of the Department of Commerce Building, Washington, D.C. (37 CFR 1.6(c)) as means for receiving papers.

These changes will provide improved services with respect to receipt and processing of documents while, at the same time, overcoming problems with the present arrangement.

Problems encountered with the present arrangement for the drop boxes have occasionally made it difficult to determine the dates of actual deposit of papers. For example, there have been many incidents of papers being found outside of the drop boxes (e.g., on the floor of the main lobby of the Department of Commerce Building, on the guard's desk, on a nearby table, etc.). On occasion, the PTO and/or filers have been denied access to the drop box at the Department of Commerce by building security guards due to a special event taking place in the lobby.

Provisions are also available for filing papers through the use of the certificate of mailing (37 CFR 1.8) and the Express Mail (37 CFR 1.10) procedures.

Changes in Signature and Filing Requirements for Correspondence Filed in the Patent and Trademark Office

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final Rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (Office) is amending the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases to: specify the types of correspondence which will no longer require original signatures; provide for facsimile transmission of certain correspondence to the Office; discontinue use of the drop boxes at Crystal Plaza Building 3 and at the Department of Commerce Building in Washington, D.C.; and clarify other provisions with respect to practice before the Office.
Effective Date: November 22, 1993. These rules will be applicable to all correspondence filed with the Office on or after the effective date.
For Further Information Contact: Abraham Hershkovitz by telephone at (703) 305-9282, by facsimile transmission at (703) 305-8825, or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Box DAC, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: In a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking published in the Federal Register at 57 FR 36034 (August 12, 1992) and in the Patent and Trademark Office Official Gazette at 1142 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 8-13 (September 1, 1992), the Office proposed to amend the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases to simplify the manner in which correspondence may be transmitted to the Office and clarify other provisions with respect to practice before the Office. This rulemaking includes changes to expand those situations where a party can use the Certificate of Mailing or Transmission procedure, and minor technical modifications in Part 2 of Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations which were not part of the proposed rulemaking. This rule making also expands the acceptability of facsimile transmissions to certain trademark documents which were not part of the proposed rulemaking.

Written comments were submitted by twenty-two law firms, five individuals, nine corporations, two organizations and three agencies. An oral hearing was not conducted.

The following includes a discussion of the rules being changed and the reasons for those changes, and an analysis of the comments received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking.

Discussion of Specific Sections to be Changed or Added:

(1) Types of Correspondence No longer Requiring Original Signatures (Section 1.4)

Section 1.4 is amended to include a new paragraph (d) to specify that most correspondence filed in the Office, which requires a person's signature, may be an original, or a copy thereof. See §§ 1.4 (e) and (f) for types of correspondence where the original must be filed in the Office. The word original, as used in this rulemaking, is defined as correspondence which is personally signed in permanent ink by the person whose signature appears thereon. Where copies of correspondence are acceptable, photocopies or facsimile transmissions may be filed. For example, a photocopy or facsimile transmission of an original of an amendment, declaration, petition, issue fee transmittal form, authorization to charge a deposit account, etc., may be submitted in a patent or trademark application. Furthermore, where copies are permitted, second and further generation copies (i.e., copy of a copy) are acceptable. The original, if not submitted to the Office, should be retained as evidence of proper execution in the event that questions arise as to the authenticity of the signature reproduced on the photocopy or facsimile-transmitted correspondence. If a question of authenticity arises, the Office may require submission of the original.

Section 1.4(e) identifies types of correspondence in which an original must be submitted to the Office. Where an original is required, copies are not acceptable and will not be accorded a receipt date. Correspondence, as referred to in this section, includes application forms for registration to practice before the Office and data sheets for the register of patent attorneys and agents.

Section 1.4(f) provides that when a document that is required by statute to be certified must be filed (such as a certified copy of a foreign patent application, pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 119; a certified copy of an international application, pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 365; a certified copy of a foreign trademark registration, pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 1126(e); a certified copy of a final court order, pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 1119; or a certified copy of a U.S. trademark registration), a copy of the certification, including a photocopy or facsimile transmission, will not be acceptable. The requirement for an original certification does not apply to certifications such as required under §§ 1.8, 1.10, 1.60, 1.97(e) and 3.73(b), since these certifications are not required by statute.
(2) Identification of Applications (Section 1.5)

Section 1.5(a) is amended to make reference to the certificate procedure under § 1.8 consistent with the new title for § 1.8.
(3) Receipt of Correspondence (Section 1.6)

A descriptive heading is added to each paragraph of § 1.6 to identify the content of that paragraph.

The phrase "correspondence" is used in § 1.6 since the terms "papers", "letters" and "fees" all fall within the generic definition of "correspondence".

Section 1.6(a) is amended to clarify that correspondence transmitted by facsimile on weekends or Federal holidays within the District of Columbia, will be accorded the next business day as the date of receipt.

Sections 1.6 (b) and (c) are amended to clarify that weekdays refer to any day except a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia.

Section 1.6(c) is amended to delete reference to the box locations in the lobby of Crystal Plaza Building 3, Arlington, Virginia, and at the Department of Commerce Building in Washington, D.C. The use of the drop boxes was discontinued on April 21, 1992, and the hours of operation for the attorney's window were extended to midnight, the same hours the drop boxes were available. The public can now deposit correspondence with the Office and obtain an acknowledgment of receipt after normal business hours. See "Changes in How Papers May Be Filed in the Patent and Trademark Office", 1137 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 7 (April 7, 1992).

Use of the drop boxes at Crystal Plaza Building 3 and Department of Commerce Building locations had caused problems for both the public and the Office. Occasionally, it had been difficult to determine the dates of actual deposit of correspondence in the boxes. On occasion, Office employees and/or members of the public had been denied access to the drop box at the Department of Commerce by building security guards due to a special event taking place at the Department. Additionally, there were instances of correspondence being found outside of the drop boxes (e.g., on the floor of the main lobby of the Department of Commerce Building, on the guard's desk, on a nearby table, etc.). As a result, on occasion, the Office lacked confidence in assigning correct dates of receipt to correspondence deposited in the boxes at Crystal Plaza Building 3 and at the Department of Commerce Building. Given these difficulties, and the fact that the necessity for these boxes has been greatly diminished as a result of the facsimile transmission and certificate of mailing procedures, § 1.6(c) is amended by deleting reference to the drop boxes at Crystal Plaza Building 3 and the Department of Commerce Building.

A new section 1.6(d) is added to specify the types of correspondence which may be transmitted by facsimile and former § 1.6(d) is revised to be consistent with § 1.8(b) and redesignated as § 1.6(e). The widespread use of facsimile transmission and the resulting time saved in correspondence between applicants and the Office prompted the Office to establish a trial program to accept facsimile transmission of certain correspondence. The policy on "Filing of Certain Papers and Authorizations to Charge Deposit Accounts by Facsimile Transmission" was published at 1096 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 30 (November 15, 1988) and was supplemented in the notice "Filing of Certain Papers with the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences by Facsimile Transmission" published at 1108 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 15 (November 14, 1989). The policy on "Filing of Certain Trademark Papers and Authorizations to Charge Deposit Accounts by Facsimile Transmission" was published at 1123 Off. Gaz. TM. Office 18 (February 12, 1991). In light of the success of the trial program, a policy on acceptance of facsimile transmission is incorporated into § 1.6(d). The situations where transmission of correspondence by facsimile is permitted have been increased over those permissible under the trial program outlined above. The situations where transmissions by facsimile remain prohibited are identified in § 1.6(d)(1)-(9). Prohibitions cover situations where originals are required as specified in §§ 1.4 (e) and (f), and situations where accepting a facsimile transmission would be unduly burdensome on the Office. As a courtesy, the Office will attempt to notify senders whenever correspondence is sent to the Office by facsimile transmission that falls within one of these prohibitions. Senders are cautioned against submitting correspondence by facsimile transmission which is not permitted under § 1.6(d) since such correspondence will not be accorded a receipt date.

This final rulemaking expands the acceptability of facsimile transmission to certain patent interference proceedings, not included in the proposed rulemaking, to reflect the practice set forth at 1108 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 15 (November 14, 1989).

This final rulemaking also expands the acceptability of facsimile transmission to certain trademark documents, not include in the proposed rulemaking. These addditional documents are:

(1) An affidavit showing that a mark is still in use or containing an excuse for nonuse under section 8 (a) or (b) or section 12(c) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1058(a), 1058(b), 1062(c);

(2) An application for renewal of a registration under section 9 of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1059;

(3) In an application under section 1(b) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(b), the filing of an amendment to allege use in commerce under section 1(c) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(c); or the filing of a statement of use under section 1(d)(1) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(d)(1).

The Certificate of Mailing or Transmission provisions of § 1.8 do not apply to correspondence listed in (1)-(3) above, nor to the filing of correspondence in an international application before the U.S. Receiving Office, the U.S. International Searching Authority, or the U.S. International Preliminary Examining Authority or to the filing, in an application under section 1(b) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(b), of a request under section 1(d)(2) of the Trademark act, 15 U.S.C. 1051 (d)(2), for an extension of time to file a statement of use under section 1(d)(1) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051 (d)(1). See § 1.8 (a)(2)(i)(E) and 1.8 (a)(2)(ii)(B), (C), (E) and (F). If the transmission of any of these documents is completed after midnight (Eastern time) of the due date, the papers are untimely.

Under § 1.6(d)(4) as adopted in this final rulemaking, drawings submitted under §§ 1.81, 1.83-1.85, 1.152, 1.165, 1.174, 1.437, or 2.21 may not be filed by facsimile in patent and trademark applications. The experience of the Office is that the quality of the drawings received by facsimile transmission is generally not sufficient to comply with the drawing requirements set forth in these rules. However, applicants may submit by facsimile transmission proposed drawing corrections for approval by the Office.

In trademark proceedings, the facsimile transmission of specimens in response to an Office action will be permitted. Facsimile-transmitted specimens must be legible in order to be accepted and examined as specimens. This final rulemaking also expands the acceptability of specimens filed in conjunction with amendments to allege use under section 1(c); statements of use under section 1(d); affidavits of use or excusable nonuse under section 8 (a) or (b) or 12(c); and applications for renewal under section 9 of the Trademark Act. 15 U.S.C. 1051 (c) and (d); 1058 (a) and (b); 1062(c) and 1059.

The date of receipt accorded to any correspondence permitted to be sent by facsimile transmission is the date the complete transmission is received by an Office facsimile unit, unless the transmission is completed on a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia. Correspondence for which transmission was completed on a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia, will be accorded a receipt date of the next succeeding day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia. For example, a facsimile transmission to the Office from California starting on a Friday at 8:45 p.m. Pacific time and taking 20 minutes, would be completed at 9:05 p.m. Pacific time. The complete transmission would be received in the Office around 12:05 a.m. Eastern time on Saturday. The receipt date accorded to the correspondence is the date of the following business day, which in this case, would be Monday (assuming that Monday was not a Federal holiday within the District of Columbia).

The following lists itemize types of correspondence which may not be filed by facsimile transmission, and, if submitted by facsimile, will not be accorded a date of receipt:

Correspondence Relative to Patents and Patent Applications Where Filing by Facsimile Transmission is Not permitted

(1) A document that is required by statute to be certified;

(2) A national patent application specification and drawing or other correspondence for the purpose of obtaining an application filing date;

(3) Drawings submitted under §§ 1.81, 1.83-1.85, 1.152, 1.165, 1.174, or 1.437;

(4) Correspondence in an interference which an examiner-in-chief orders to be filed by hand or "Express Mail";

(5) Agreements between parties to an interference under 35 U.S.C. 135(c);

(6) Correspondence to be filed in an interference proceeding which consists of a preliminary statement under § 1.621; a transcript of a deposition under § 1.676 or of interrogatories, cross-interrogatories, or recorded answers under § 1.684(c); or an evidentiary record and exhibits under § 1.653;

(7) Correspondence to be filed in a patent application subject to a secrecy order under §§ 5.1-5.8 of this chapter and directly related to the secrecy order content of the application;

(8) An international application for patent;

(9) A copy of the international application and the basic national fee necessary to enter the national stage, as specified in § 1.494(b) or § 1.495(b);

(10) A request for reexamination under § 1.510.

Correspondence Relative to Trademark Registrations and Trademark Applications Where Filing by Facsimile Transmission is Not Permitted

(1) The filing of a trademark application;

(2) Drawings submitted under § 2.21;

(3) A petition to cancel a registration of a mark under section 14, subsection (1) or (2) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1064;

(4) Request for cancellation or amendment of a registration under section 7(e) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1057(e); and certificates of registration surrendered for cancellation or amendment under section 7(e) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1057(e);

(5) Correspondence to be filed with the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board, except the notice of ex parte appeal.

Correspondence Relative to Practitioner Registrations, Investigations, and Disciplinary Proceedings Where Filing by Facsimile Transmission is Not Permitted

Correspondence requiring a person's signature and relating to:

(1) Registration to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office in patent cases;

(2) Enrollment and disciplinary investigations; or

(3) Disciplinary proceedings.

(4) Certificate of Mailing or Transmission Procedure (Section 1.8)

The title of § 1.8 is changed from Certificate of Mailing to Certificate of Mailing or Transmission so as to include facsimile transmission.

Section 1.8(a) prescribes procedures for the use of a certificate of mailing or transmission to file papers or fees in the Office by first class mail or by facsimile transmission. The description of the Certificate of Mailing or Transmission practice is set forth in § 1.8(a)(1), and the list of exceptions to the certificate practice is found in § 1.8(a)(2). The phrase "papers or fees" in § 1.8(a) is changed to "correspondence" since both "papers" and "fees" fall within the generic definition of "correspondence". Paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 1.8 are amended to include correspondence transmitted by facsimile. In the event that correspondence is filed by facsimile transmission, it is recommended that the sending facsimile machine generate a report confirming transmission for each transmission session. This report should be retained by the applicant, along with the correspondence used as the original, as evidence of content and date of transmission. Paragraph (a)(2) of § 1.8 is amended to include separate headings for correspondence which relate to patents, trademarks and disciplinary proceedings. The sequence of some of the paragraphs found in § 1.8(a)(2) has been changed in order to have those paragraphs listed under the appropriate heading. The ability to use the Certificate of Mailing or Transmission procedures has been expanded to the filing of an affidavit under section 15, subsection (3) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1065(3), the filing of a notice of election to proceed by civil action in an inter partes proceeding under 35 U.S.C. 141 or 15 U.S.C. 1071(a)(1), in response to another party's appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, the filing of a notice and reasons of appeal under 35 U. S.C. 142 or a notice of appeal under 15 U.S.C. 1071(a)(2), and the filing of a statement under 42 U.S.C. 2182 or 42 U.S.C. 2457(c).

Paragraph (a)(2)(vi) of § 1.8 is redesignated as paragraph (a)(2)(x) and amended to refer to section 14(1) or 14(2) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1064, to conform with the numbering of the Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988. Other sections of paragraph (a)(2) of § 1.8 are amended to identify the types of correspondence which will not receive the benefit of a certificate of mailing or transmission.

Paragraph (b) of § 1.8 outlines procedures to be followed to document the timely filing of correspondence in accordance with § 1.8(a) where such correspondence is not received by the Office. The phrase "correspondence or fees" in § 1.8(b) is changed to "correspondence" since "fees" fall within the generic definition of "correspondence". Before adoption of this final rule, § 1.8(b) required that the party forwarding the correspondence or fee include a declaration, under §§ 1.68 or 2.20 of this chapter, attesting to the previous timely mailing or transmission. In order to be consistent with other sections in Parts 1 and 2 of this chapter, the practice under § 1.8(b) is amended to permit a practitioner, as defined in § 10.1(r), to submit a statement rather than an oath or declaration under §§ 1.68 or 2.20 of this chapter. New paragraph (c) of § 1.8 is added to explicitly provide for a requirement for additional evidence relating to the mailing or transmission of correspondence in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section. The Office may invoke this requirement when it is deemed appropriate to establish an actual date of mailing or transmission. See, e.g., In re Klein, 6 USPQ2d 1547 (Comm'r Pat. 1987), aff'd sub nom. Klein v. Peterson, 696 F. Supp. 695, 8 USPQ2d 1434 (D.D.C. 1988), aff'd 866 F.2d 412, 9 USPQ2d 1558 (Fed. Cir.), cert. denied, 490 U.S. 1091 (1989).

(5) Time for Appeal or Civil Action (Section 1.304) In section 1.304, paragraphs (a) and (c) are amended to delete a statement that use of the certificate procedure under § 1.8 is prohibited' so as to be consistent with changes to § 1.8. Also, a cross reference to 1.658 in paragraph (a) is clarified.

(6) Submission of Maintenance Fees (Section 1.366) Section 1.366(b) is amended by deleting the words "of mailing" to conform with the new title for § 1.8.

(7) Filing Date of Application for Extension of Patent Term Section 1.741(a)Section 1.741(a) is amended to conform with the new title for the certificate procedure under § 1.8.

(8) Appeal to Court and Civil Action (Section 2.145) Sections 2.145(c)(3) and 2.145(d)(1) are amended to conform with the revised list of types of correspondence excluded from the certificate of mailing or transmission procedure set out in § 1.8. Formerly, the notice of election to proceed by civil action in an inter partes proceeding under 35 U.S.C. 141 or section 21(a)(1) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1071(a)(1), and the filing of notice and reasons of appeal under 35 U.S.C. 142 or a notice of appeal under section 21(a)(2) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1071(a)(2), were specifically excluded, under §§ 1.8(a)(2) (viii) and (ix), respectively, from the certificate of mailing procedure. Since these notices are no longer excluded under amended § 1.8(a)(2), sections 2.145(c)(3) and 2.145(d)(1) are amended to conform with § 1.8 by deleting the last sentence which provided that the certificate of mailing procedure was not available.

(9) Reconsideration of Affidavit or Declaration (Section 2.165) Section 2.165(a)(1) is amended to refer to the new title for the certificate procedure under § 1.8 of this chapter.

(10) Signature and Certificate of Practitioner (Section 10.18) Section 10.18 is modified to clarify signature requirements for correspondence signed by practitioners. The reference to § 1.4 of this chapter will make it apparent that copies, including photocopies or facsimile transmissions, of correspondence signed by practitioners will be accepted under appropriate circumstances.

(11) Misconduct (Section 10.23(c)) Section 10.23(c) is amended to refer to the new title for the certificate procedure under § 1.8 of this chapter.

Response to Comments on the Rules

The comments received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking have been given careful consideration and a number of the suggested modifications have been adopted. The comments and responses are discussed below.

Comment: In order to clarify how the Office will treat a copy of a paper, one comment suggested changing the second sentence in proposed § 1.4(d) to indicate that, except as provided in §§ 1.4 (e) and (f), a copy would be treated by the Office as if the original had been filed.

Response: While the suggested language was not adopted, the rule was modified to clarify that, except as provided in §§ 1.4 (e) and (f), an original or a copy thereof may be filed. The rules as stated in this final rulemaking are clear that, where an original is not required, a paper filed will be treated in the same way regardless of whether it is an original or a copy.

Comment: Five comments objected to a perceived requirement in § 1.4(d) that the color of ink used for signing a paper be different from the printing on the paper.

Response: Proposed § 1.4(d) did not require that the color of ink used for signing a paper be different from the printing on the paper. The suggested use of different colors of ink is a preferred procedure for distinguishing between an original and a copy. However, in order to avoid further confusion, the suggestion that a different color of ink be used has been deleted.

Comment: One comment recommended that the issue of signature authenticity end upon issuance of a patent in order to reduce the need to keep files in storage for long periods of time and to remove the burden on applicants of having to retrieve files from storage.

Response: Once a patent issues, the Office is not likely to inquire into any matters related to signature authenticity of correspondence filed in that patent application. Nevertheless, on rare occasions, a question of signature authenticity might arise after issuance of a patent. Applicants must therefore make their own decisions as to how long to retain originals.

Comment: Two comments questioned the justification for proposed § 1.4(e) requiring originals to be submitted in international patent applications.

Response: Section 1.4(e), as adopted, does not prohibit the filing of photocopies in an international patent application. With regard to facsimile transmissions, Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) Rule 92.4, as revised on July 1, 1992, permits the filing by facsimile of certain correspondence related to an international patent application. However, as indicated in §§ 1.6(d)(3), 1.8(a)(2)(iv) and 1.8(a)(2)(vi), the filing by facsimile is not permitted in the following situations relative to international applications for patent: (1) the filing of an international application for patent and (2) the filing of a copy of the international application and the basic national fee necessary to enter the national stage, as specified in §§ 1.494(b) or 1.495(b).

Applicants are cautioned, however, that the Certificate of Mailing or Transmission provisions of § 1.8 do not apply to correspondence filed in an international application before the U.S. Receiving Office, the U.S. International Searching Authority, or the U.S. International Preliminary Examining Authority, regardless of whether the correspondence was filed by mail or facsimile transmission. See § 1.8(a)(2)(5).

Comment: One comment suggested that, in applications filed under § 1.60, the certification that the application and papers being filed are true copies of those filed in the parent application should be excluded from the original signature requirement.

Response: Filing of copies of statements under § 1.60 as well as certifications under §§ 1.8, 1.10, 1.97(e) and 3.73(b) will be permitted. The certified documents referred to in § 1.4(f) are those which are required to be certified by statute (e.g., certified documents under 35 U.S.C. 119).

Comment: One comment questioned whether routine papers could be photocopied with a practitioner's signature thereon with appropriate information being filled in later by another person.

Response: Section 10.18(a) states that the signature of a practitioner, on correspondence filed, constitutes a certificate that the correspondence has been read by the practitioner. Accordingly, the photocopying of papers with a practitioner's signature thereon and subsequently having appropriate information filled in by another person, is not authorized or permitted under the rules.

Comment: One comment questioned whether a docket clerk could use a signature stamp of a registered attorney on a transmittal letter.

Response: Section 10.18(a) states that correspondence filed by a practitioner must be personally signed by that practitioner. Accordingly, use of a signature stamp of a registered attorney by a docket clerk would not be permitted.

Comment: Two comments suggested that the facsimile transmission practice be further liberalized to permit scanned-in signatures to be affixed to facsimile or electronically transmitted correspondence. The personal, handwritten signature would be affixed on a copy of the transmitted correspondence which would be kept by the applicant or his or her representative.

Response: The Office is actively considering acceptance of electronically filed applications and papers related thereto. See "Electronic Filing of Patent and Trademark Applications" published at 57 FR 56537 (November 30, 1992) and 1145 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 378 (December 22, 1992). Until an acceptable program is established, every paper, requiring a signature, filed in the Office, regardless of the manner in which it was transmitted, will have to be a paper which was signed by the person whose signature appears thereon, or be a copy thereof. Scanned signatures affixed to papers which were not personally signed will not be permitted at this time.

Comment: One comment indicated that proposed § 1.5(a) appeared to be contrary to PCT Article 27(1) in that it added the additional requirement not set forth in the PCT of requiring correspondence concerning an international application to identify the international application number.

Response: PCT Rule 92.1 requires any paper relating to an international application to identify the international application to which it relates. In order to ensure prompt and proper association of correspondence with the intended application file, it is essential to use the application number on all papers. The practice (which was not a new one added in this rulemaking) is a mere implementation of the requirement in PCT Rule 92.1 and is not contrary to PCT Article 27(1) as no additional requirement is being placed on applicants.

Comment: Two comments recommended an increase from two weeks to 30 days or one month in the period provided in § 1.5(a) for resubmission of correspondence.

Response: The two-week period provided in § 1.5(a) is to enable applicants to provide the necessary identifying data where such data was not provided during the original submission. This is intended to permit immediate resubmission and no additional time is deemed to be necessary. Extending this period to 30 days would unnecessarily delay prosecution of applications.

Comment: Section 1.5(a) suggests that all letters directed to the Office concerning applications for patents should also state "Patent Application". One comment suggested that § 1.5(a) be amended to replace the restrictive reference to a "Patent Application" to read "identifying the correspondence a relating to a patent application".

Response: In order to make it easier for Office employees handling incoming correspondence to direct mail, § 1.5(a) recommends that letters relating to a patent application should state "Patent Application". The suggestion in the comment was not adopted since uniformity in the reference to "Patent Application" is desirable. Furthermore, this suggested labeling is not a requirement as evidenced by the use of the word "should" rather than "must".

Comment: Section 1.5(a) states that "No correspondence relating to an application should be filed prior to when notification of the application number is received from the Patent and Trademark Office". One comment suggested that the phrase "notification of the application number" was not adequately defined as it was not clear if applicants had to wait for the official filing receipt before information disclosure statements or other papers could be filed.

Response: The phrase "notification of the application number" as used in § 1.5(a) includes any manner in which an applicant becomes aware of the application number. The phrase is purposely broad and is not limited to the mailing of an official filing receipt. Rather, it includes a return post card which has an application number stamped thereon. The reasoning behind the statement in § 1.5(a) that no correspondence should be filed prior to notification of the application number is that correspondence received without an application number is difficult to match with the appropriate file. Further defining the phrase "notification of the application number" in § 1.5(a) is not warranted.

Comment: One comment suggested defining a business day as Monday through Friday, except for Federal holidays in the District of Columbia.

Response: It is not clear which section the comment was directed to, but § 1.6 indicates that no correspondence will be received by the Office on Saturdays, Sundays or Federal holidays within the District of Columbia. Since the language has not created problems in the past, the suggestion will not be adopted.

Comment: Two comments suggested amending § 1.6(c) to indicate the hour of operation of the "walk-up window".

Response: Specifying in the regulations the hours of operation of the "walk-up window" is unnecessary. The hours of operation have been published in Official Gazette announcements and if those hours are changed in the future, the new schedule will published. Should the hours of operation of the "walk-up window" be changed due to unforeseen circumstances (i.e., snow emergency, etc.), a sign will be posted at the "walk-up window" giving an alternate location to deposit correspondence for the Office.

Comment: Two comments requested that the Office reconsider and withdraw the proposal to eliminate the mail drop box at the guard's desk at the Department of Commerce Building in Washington, D. C.

Response: As indicated in the notice of proposed rulemaking, members of the public were occasionally denied access to the drop box at the Department of Commerce. Additionally, the Office lacked confidence in assigning correct dates of receipt to correspondence deposited in the box as a result of instances when correspondence was found outside of the drop box. Further, since there are many ways to file papers with the Office (i.e., certificate of mailing or transmission, Express Mail, facsimile transmission, longer hours at the "walk-up-window"), there is no need to maintain an off-site drop box.

Comment: One comment suggested that the Office publish phone numbers for facsimile machines at various locations, (i.e., Publishing Division, various examining groups, etc.), in order to enable the public to direct their transmissions to a particular location, rather than a central location.

Response: The suggestion has been adopted. See "Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) Information Contacts", 1149 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 67 (April 27, 1993). The Office will publish in the Official Gazette periodic updates of this list.

Comment: Three comments advocated a further expansion of the facsimile transmission practice to permit transmission of any paper which did not require an original signature. According to the comment, it was difficult to understand why the Office would not permit facsimile transmission of certain papers directly to the Office, but would accept those same papers if transmitted by facsimile to a third party who then hand-delivered the papers to the Office.

Response: The only papers, not requiring an original signature or certification, which the Office will not accept by facsimile transmission are those which, for various reasons, would cause an undue burden on the Office. For example, papers submitted for the purpose of obtaining an application filing date are often rather voluminous difficult to collate and would create inefficiencies in tying up the Office facsimile machines for long periods of time. In addition, there is a time and content criticality to papers filed for the purpose of obtaining a filing date which is not shared by other types of papers. Another example would be drawings submitted under §§ 1.81, 1.83-1.85, 1.152, 1.165, 1.174, 1.437, or 2.21. Experience has shown that the quality of drawings received by facsimile transmission would typically result in an objection by the Official Draftsman. Disputes might arise at that point as to whether the cause of the poor quality was applicant's transmitting unit or the receiving unit of the Office. Hence, the Office will continue to prohibit facsimile transmission of certain papers as specified in § 1.6(d). However, the suggestion has been adopted to the extent that the office will accept, via facsimile transmission, an affidavit showing that a mark is still in use or containing an excuse for nonuse under section 8(a) or (b) or section 12 (c) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1058(a), 1058(b), 1062(c); an application for renewal of a registration under section 9 of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1059; and in an application under section 1(b) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(b), the filing of an amendment to allege use in commerce under section 1(c) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(c); or the filing of a statement of use under section 1(d)(1) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051 (d)(1).

Comment: Section 1.6(d) states that the receipt date accorded to a paper transmitted by facsimile will be the date on which the complete transmission is received in the Office. Three comments objected to this language by arguing that this practice discriminated against West Coast practitioners and gave an advantage to East Coast practitioners because the West Coast prac-titioners had only until 9 P.M. to complete a transmission in order to receive the benefit of that day's filing.

Response: The facsimile transmission practice is similar to regular mail practice. Thus, a West Coast practitioner depositing correspondence with the local postal service without a certificate of mailing will receive as a receipt date the date on which the Office receives the correspondence, rather than the date on which the correspondence was deposited. Similarly, a paper transmitted by facsimile will be accorded, as the date of receipt, the date on which the complete transmission was received in the Office, unless the date of receipt is a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia, in which case, the date of receipt will be the next business day.

The certificate practice provided in § 1.8, on the other hand, permits the sender to indicate on the correspondence the date of mailing or transmission from the sender's perspective, which date would then be effective to meet a deadline set for response. Use of the certificate of mail or transmission is applicable to correspondence submitted by mail and correspondence transmitted by facsimile. If transmitted by facsimile, the person signing the certificate certifies the expectation that the transmission would be initiated before midnight, local time.

By way of example, a West Coast practitioner preparing a response on the last day of the period for response would have to use the § 1.8 certificate of mailing procedure or the § 1.10 Express Mail procedure, for the response to be considered timely, if the correspondence was sent by way of the U. S. Postal Service. If the practitioner chose to send the correspondence by facsimile on the last day for response and the transmission was started before 9:00 p.m. Pacific time, but was completed after 9:00 p.m. Pacific time, the Office would accord that correspondence a receipt date as of the next business day, which would be after the period for response expired because the Office would have received the correspondence after midnight Eastern time of the last day for response. However, if the practitioner affixed a certificate of transmission to the correspondence sent by facsimile transmission, indicating that the correspondence was being transmitted on the last day in the period for response, then the correspondence would be considered timely filed.

As another example, a transmission started before midnight, Pacific time, on the last day for response and having a certificate of transmission affixed thereto, would be considered timely filed even though the transmission was completed after midnight, Pacific time and was received in the Office the day after the deadline for response.

Comment: One comment suggested replacing "drawings" in § 1.6(d)(4) with "formal drawings" for clarity.

Response: The suggestion has not been adopted because the phrase "formal drawings" does not find support or antecedent basis in sections referred to in § 1.6(d)(4).

Comment: One comment objected to the perceived requirement for a certificate of transmission in order for a facsimile-transmitted document to be accorded a date of receipt.

Response: The receipt date accorded to correspondence eligible for facsimile transmission, whether containing a certificate of transmission or not, will be the date of receipt in the Office of the complete transmission (unless that date is a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia, in which case the date accorded will be the next business day). The certificate of transmission, if used, is for purposes of establishing timely filing if the correspondence is transmitted within the period for response but is (1) received in the Office after expiration of the period for response, or (2) lost or (3) not received by the Office.

Comment: One comment requested clarification as to what constituted a "complete transmission" as used in §§ 1.6(d).

Response: The context in which the phrase "complete transmission" was used in § 1.6(d) was to indicate that the transmission was finished. For example, if page 1 of a ten-page facsimile transmission is received in the Office at 11:55 p.m. on a Tuesday and page 10 of that transmission is received at 12:05 a.m. Wednesday, the receipt date accorded to that correspondence will be the date of that Wednesday. (This example assumes that Wednesday is not a Federal holiday within the District of Columbia).

Comment: One comment questioned whether a confirmation in the sender's facsimile machine that the entire facsimile was received constituted sufficient proof that a transmission was complete.

Response: A confirmation by the sender's facsimile machine is evidence that a transmission was made. As such, the confirmation will be considered together with any other evidence presented when questions of filing by facsimile transmission arise. It is therefore suggested that a certificate of transmission be used to enable the sender to rely on the procedures set forth in § 1.8(b).

Comment: One comment requested clarification as to what constituted an incomplete, faulty or illegible facsimile. Also, if an incomplete transmission was sent near the end of the period for response, will the sender be able to rely on the date the facsimile was initially transmitted, or would the sender have to rely on § 1.137 to revive the application if it became abandoned?

Response: If an incomplete, faulty or illegible facsimile transmission is received, that correspondence will be treated by the Office in the same manner that a comparably incomplete, faulty or illegible piece of correspondence would be treated if the correspondence were hand-delivered or mailed to the Office.

Whether the application would be held abandoned upon receipt of an incomplete facsimile transmission or whether an opportunity would be provided to complete the transmission will be decided on a case-by-case basis using the same standards that are currently used - for example, for incomplete responses to Office actions, see § 1.135(c).

Comment: One comment indicated that the proposed practice of not accepting papers related to international applications if transmitted by facsimile and the indication that papers transmitted by facsimile, when prohibited, may be disposed of is contrary to PCT practice wherein PCT expressly provides for facsimile transmission of such papers and when not acceptable, an opportunity to correct is provided.

Response: PCT does not mandate acceptance of facsimile transmissions; it merely authorizes their acceptance. See PCT Rule 92.4(h). Additionally, as indicated above, the suggestion that the Office permit facsimile transmission of correspondence relative to an already filed international application has been adopted to a large extent.

There is no provision in PCT to provide an opportunity for correction when correspondence is filed by facsimile in spite of a refusal by a national Office to accept that type of correspondence by facsimile. As with national applications, the Office will attempt to notify senders whenever a facsimile transmission received is of a type which the Office has not agreed to accept by facsimile. Senders are cautioned against submitting such correspondence by facsimile transmission since the correspondence will not be accorded a filing date or date of receipt in the Office.

Comment: One comment suggested changing the phrase "Certificate of Transfer" in § 1.8 to "Certificate of Transmittal" or "Certificate of Sending" because "transfer" typically implies transfer of ownership interest in patents or trademarks.

Response: While each phrase has its own advantages and drawbacks, the suggestion will not be adopted. Nevertheless, in order to avoid confusion, this rulemaking leaves the old "Certificate of Mailing" intact, while adding "or Transmission" to include correspondence filed by facsimile transmission.

Comment: In the notice of proposed rulemaking, it was recommended that the facsimile machine transmission report be retained by the sender along with the correspondence used as the original, as evidence of content and date of transfer. One comment indicated that the correspondence used as the original can only be retained using the older stand-alone type of facsimile machine, since there is no such physical document with the newer in-computer facsimile cards.

Response: Section 1.4(d)(2) provides for submission of copies, e.g., by facsimile, of originals as defined in § 1.4(d)(1). Section 1.4(d)(2) does not provide for transmission of unsigned correspondence from a computer. While § 1.4(d)(2) does not require the sender to retain the original, there may be occasions when the sender will have to document the date and content of a document previously filed by facsimile transmission. The recommendation made in the notice of proposed rulemaking will apply to any situation where a paper document served as the original from which a facsimile was transmitted. If a facsimile transmission by using a computer is desired, a paper copy of the document to be transmitted may be printed out, signed and retained by the sender as evidence of content of the document transmitted. Once signed, if filing of a copy is permitted, the document could be scanned into the computer and facsimile transmitted to the Office.

Comment: In proposed section 1.8(a)(1) published in the Federal Register, paragraphs (i) and (ii) were joined with the alternative "or" to indicate that correspondence could be filed by being deposited with the U. S. Postal Service or transmitted by facsimile. This same section was published in the Official Gazette, by having paragraphs (i) and (ii) joined with the connective "and". Numerous comments, received apparently from individuals who saw the proposed rules in the Official Gazette, objected to the requirement that, in order to receive benefits under § 1.8, correspondence transmitted by facsimile also had to be mailed.

Response: Section 1.8(a)(1) as published in the Federal Register was correct, while the version published in the Official Gazette contained a typographical error. Hence, §§ 1.8(a)(1)(i) (A) and (B), as adopted in this rulemaking, make clear that the certificate of mailing or transmission practice will be applicable to correspondence mailed or sent by facsimile. The Office discourages the practice of having the same papers submitted by both methods as this practice would result in unnecessary duplication of papers and processing requirements.

Comment: One comment indicated that since all facsimile transmissions include the date and time of the actual facsimile transmission, the Office should not require a certificate of transmission, in order to get the benefit of an earlier filing date under § 1.8(a), when correspondence is transmitted by facsimile.

Response: The Office is concerned that some older machines may not print the date and time of the actual transmission. Furthermore, even on the new machines the date and time printed by the sending unit may not always be correct, particularly after a temporary electrical disconnection, change in time, etc. Hence, for purposes of being considered timely filed, if the sender wishes to obtain the benefits of a date earlier than the date the complete transmission is received in the Office, the correspondence must include a certification in accordance with § 1.8(a). A suggested format for a Certificate of Mailing and a Certificate of Transmission under § 1.8, to be included with the correspondence, is reproduced below:

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

The rule changes are in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612 and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et Seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that these rule changes will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)). The principal impact of these changes is to incorporate existing Office policy into the regulations, permit the filing of certain correspondence without an original signature and permit the filing of certain correspondence by facsimile transmission.

The Office has determined that these rule changes are not major rules under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individuals, industries, Federal, state or local government agencies, or geographic regions because most of the changes reduce procedural burdens. There will be no significant effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The Office has also determined that these changes have no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

These rule changes contain collection-of-information requirements subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., which have previously been approved by the Office of Management and Budget under Control Nos. 0651-0009 and 0651-0011. The public reporting burden for these collections of information for Certificates of Mailing or Transmission is estimated to average 0.1 hours each, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collections of information. Send comments regarding these burden estimates, or any other aspect of these collections of information, including suggestions for reducing the burden, to Abraham Hershkovitz, Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Box DAC, Washington, D.C. 20231, and to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget, Washington, D.C. 20503 (ATTN: Paperwork Reduction Act Projects 0651-0009 and 0651-0011).

For the reasons set out in the preamble, and pursuant to the authority contained in 15 U.S.C. 1123 and 35 U.S.C. 6, parts 1, 2 and 10 of title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations are amended as set forth below:

PART 1 - RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 continues to read as follows:
Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. In Section 1.4, the title is revised and paragraphs (d) through (f) are added to read as follows:

§ 1.4 Nature of correspondence and signature requirements.

(d) Each piece of correspondence, except as provided in paragraphs (e) and (f) of this section, filed in a patent or trademark application, reexamination proceeding, patent or trademark interference proceeding, patent file or trademark registration file, trademark opposition proceeding, trademark cancellation proceeding, or trademark concurrent use proceeding, which requires a person's signature, must either:

(1) be an original, that is, have an original signature personally signed in permanent ink by that person; or

(2) be a copy, such as a photocopy or facsimile transmission (§ 1.6(d)), of an original. In the event that a copy of the original is filed, the original should be retained as evidence of authenticity. If a question of authenticity arises, the Patent and Trademark Office may require submission of the original.

(e) Correspondence requiring person's signature and relating to registration to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office in patent cases, enrollment and disciplinary investigations, or disciplinary proceedings must be submitted with an original signature personally signed in permanent ink by that person.

(f) When a document that is required by statute to be certified must be filed, a copy, including a photocopy or facsimile transmission, of the certification is not acceptable.

3. Section 1.5(a) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.5 Identification of application, patent or registration.

(a) No correspondence relating to an application should be filed prior to when notification of the application number is received from the Patent and Trademark Office. When a letter directed to the Patent and Trademark Office concerns a previously filed application for a patent, it must identify on the top page in a conspicuous location, the application number (consisting of the series code and the serial number, e.g., 07/123,456), or the serial number and filing date assigned to that application by the Patent and Trademark Office, or the international application number of the international application. Any correspondence not containing such identification will be returned to the sender where a return address is available. The returned correspondence will be accompanied with a cover letter which will indicate to the sender that if the returned correspondence is resubmitted to the Patent and Trademark Office within two weeks of the mail date on the cover letter, the original date of receipt of the correspondence will be considered by the Patent and Trademark Office as the date of receipt of the correspondence. Applicants may use either the Certificate of Mailing or Transmission procedure under § 1.8 or the Express Mail procedure under § 1.10 for resubmissions of returned correspondence if they desire to have the benefit of the date of deposit in the United States Postal Service. If the returned correspondence is not resubmitted within the two-week period, the date of receipt of resubmission will be considered to be the date of receipt of the correspondence. The two-week period to resubmit the returned correspondence will not be extended. If for some reason returned correspondence is resubmitted with proper identification later than two weeks after the return mailing by the Patent and Trademark Office, the resubmitted correspondence will be accepted but given its date of receipt. In addition to the application number, all letters directed to the Patent and Trademark Office concerning applications for patent should also state "PATENT APPLICATION," the name of the applicant, the title of the invention, the date of filing the same, and if known, the group art unit or other unit within the Patent and Trademark Office responsible for considering the letter and the name of the examiner or other person to which it has been assigned.

4. In section 1.6, is revised, to read as follows:

§ 1.6 Receipt of correspondence.

(a) Date of receipt and Express Mail date of deposit. Correspondence received in the Patent and Trademark Office is stamped with the date of receipt except as follows:

(1) No correspondence is received in the Patent and Trademark Office on Saturdays, Sundays or Federal holidays within the District of Columbia;

(2) Correspondence filed in accordance with § 1.10 will be stamped with the date of deposit as "Express Mail" with the United States Postal Service unless the date of deposit is a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia in which case the date stamped will be the next succeeding day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia;

(3) Correspondence transmitted by facsimile to the Patent and Trademark Office will be stamped with the date on which the complete transmission is received in the Patent and Trademark Office unless that date is a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia, in which case the date stamped will be the next succeeding day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia.

(b) Patent and Trademark Office Post Office pouch. Mail placed in the Patent and Trademark Office pouch up to midnight on any day, except Saturdays, Sundays and Federal holidays within the District of Columbia, by the post office at Washington, D.C., serving the Patent and Trademark Office, is considered as having been received in the Patent and Trademark Office on the day it was so placed in the pouch by the U.S. Postal Service.

(c) Correspondence delivered by hand.

VOL 1170 ISS 1 JA 3 1995 UMI

In addition to being mailed, correspondence may be delivered by hand during hours the Office is open to receive correspondence.

(d) Facsimile transmission.

Except in the cases enumerated below, correspondence, including authorizations to charge a deposit account, may be transmitted by facsimile. The receipt date accorded to the correspondence will be the date on which the complete transmission is received in the Patent and Trademark Office, unless that date is a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia. See § 1.6(a)(3). To facilitate proper processing, each transmission session should be limited to correspondence to be filed in a single application or other proceeding before the Patent and Trademark Office. The application number of a patent or trademark application, the control number of a reexamination proceeding, the interference number of an interference proceeding, the patent number of a patent, or the registration number of a trademark should be entered as a part of the sender's identification on a facsimile cover sheet. Facsimile transmissions are not permitted and if submitted, will not be accorded a date of receipt, in the following situations:

(1) Correspondence as specified in § 1.4(e), requiring an original signature;

(2) Certified documents as specified in § 1.4(f);

(3) Correspondence which cannot receive the benefit of the certificate of mailing or transmission as specified in § 1.8(a)(2)(i)(A) through (D) and (F); 1.8 (a)(2)(ii)(A) and (D); and 1.8 (a)(2)(iii)(A);

(4) Drawings submitted under §§ 1.81, 1.83 through 1.85, 1.152, 1.165, 1.174, 1.437, 2.51, 2.52, or 2.72;

(5) A request for reexamination under § 1.510;

(6) Correspondence to be filed in a patent application subject to a secrecy order under §§ 5.1 through 5.8 of this chapter and directly related to the secrecy order content of the application;

(7) Requests for cancellation or amendment of a registration under section 7(e) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1057(e); and certificates of registration surrendered for cancellation or amendment under section 7(e) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1057(e);

(8) Correspondence to be filed with the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board, except the notice of ex parte appeal;

(9) Correspondence to be filed in an interference proceeding which consists of a preliminary statement under § 1.621; a transcript of a deposition under § 1.676 or of interrogatories, cross-interrogatories, or recorded answers under § 1.684(c); or an evidentiary record and exhibits under § 1.653.

(e) Interruptions in U.S. Postal Service.

If interruptions or emergencies in the United States Postal Service which have been so designated by the Commissioner occur, the Patent and Trademark Office will consider as filed on a particular date in the Office any correspondence which is:

(1) Promptly filed after the ending of the designated interruption or emergency; and

(2) Accompanied by a statement indicating that such correspondence would have been filed on that particular date if it were not for the designated interruption or emergency in the United States Postal Service. Such statement must be a verified statement if made by a person other than a practitioner as defined in § 10.1(r) of this chapter.

5. Section 1.8 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.8 Certificate of mailing or transmission.

(a) Except in the cases enumerated in paragraph (a)(2) of this section, correspondence required to be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office within a set period of time will be considered as being timely filed if the procedure described in this section is followed. The actual date of receipt will be used for all other purposes.

(1) Correspondence will be considered as being timely filed if:

(i) the correspondence is mailed or transmitted prior to expiration of the set period of time by being:

(A) deposited with the U.S. Postal Service with sufficient postage as first class mail addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231; or

(B) transmitted by facsimile to the Patent and Trademark Office in accordance with § 1.6(d); and

(ii) the correspondence includes a certificate for each piece of correspondence stating the date of deposit or transmission. The person signing the certificate should have reasonable basis to expect that the correspondence would be mailed or transmitted on or before the date indicated.

(2) The procedure described in paragraph (a)(1) of this section does not apply to, and no benefit will be given to a Certificate of Mailing or Transmission on the following:

(i) Relative to Patents and Patent Applications

A. The filing of a national patent application specification and drawing or other correspondence for the purpose of obtaining an application filing date;

B. The filing of correspondence in an interference which an examiner-in-chief orders to be filed by hand or "Express Mail";

C. The filing of agreements between parties to an interference under 35 U.S.C. 135(c);

D. The filing of an international application for patent;

E. The filing of correspondence in an international application before the U.S. Receiving Office, the U.S. International Searching Authority, or the U.S. International Preliminary Examining Authority;

F. The filing of a copy of the international application and the basic national fee necessary to enter the national stage, as specified in § 1.494(b) or § 1.495(b).

(ii) Relative to Trademark Registrations and Trademark Applications

A. The filing of a trademark application;

B. The filing of an affidavit showing that a mark is still in use or containing an excuse for nonuse under section 8 (a) or (b) or section 12(c) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1058(a), 1058(b), 1062(c);

C. The filing of an application for renewal of a registration under section 9 of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1059;

D. The filing of a petition to cancel a registration of a mark under section 14, subsection (1) or (2) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1064;

E. In an application under section 1(b) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(b), the filing of an amendment to allege use in commerce under section 1(c) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(c); or the filing of a statement of use under section 1(d)(1) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(d)(1);

F. In an application under section 1(b) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(b), the filing of a request under section 1(d)(2) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(d)(2), for an extension of time to file a statement of use under section 1(d)(1) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(d)(1).

(iii) Relative to Disciplinary Proceedings

A. Correspondence filed in connection with a disciplinary proceeding under Part 10 of this chapter.

B. Reserved.

(b) In the event that correspondence is considered timely filed by being mailed or transmitted in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, but not received in the Patent and Trademark Office, and the application is held to be abandoned or the proceeding dismissed, terminated, or decided with prejudice, the correspondence will be considered timely if the party who forwarded such correspondence:

(1) informs the Office of the previous mailing or transmission of the correspondence promptly after becoming aware that the Office has no evidence of receipt of the correspondence,

(2) supplies an additional copy of the previously mailed or transmitted correspondence and certificate, and

(3) includes a statement which attests on a personal knowledge basis or to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to the previous timely mailing or transmission. Such statement must be a verified statement if made by a person other than a practitioner as defined in § 10.1(r) of this chapter. If the correspondence was sent by facsimile transmission, a copy of the sending unit's report confirming transmission may be used to support this statement.

(c) The Office may require additional evidence to determine if the correspondence was timely filed.

6. Section 1.304 paragraphs (a) and (c) are revised to read as follows:

§ 1.304 Time for appeal or civil action.

(a)(1) The time for filing the notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (§ 1.302) or for commencing a civil action (§ 1.303) is two months from the date of the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. If a request for reconsideration or modification of the decision is filed within the time period provided under § 1.197(b) or § 1.658(b), the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action shall expire two months after action on the request. In interferences, the time for filing a cross-appeal or cross-action expires:

(i) 14 days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint, or

(ii) Two months after the date of decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, whichever is later.

(a)(2) The time periods set forth in this section are not subject to the provisions of §§ 1.136, 1.550(c) or § 1.645 (a) or (b).

(a)(3) The Commissioner may extend the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action:

(i) For good cause shown if requested in writing before the expiration of the period for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action, or

(ii) Upon written request after the expiration of the period for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action upon a showing that the failure to act was the result of excusable neglect.

(c) If a defeated party to an interference has taken an appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit and an adverse party has filed notice under 35 U.S.C. 141 electing to have all further proceedings conducted under 35 U.S.C. 146 (§ 1.303(c)), the time for filing a civil action thereafter is specified in 35 U.S.C. 141. The time for filing a cross-action expires 14 days after service of the summons and complaint.

7. Section 1.366(b) is revised to read as follows:

(b) A maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge submitted for a patent must be submitted in the amount due on the date the maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge are paid and may be paid in the manner set forth in § 1.23 or by an authorization to charge a deposit account established pursuant to § 1.25. Payment of a maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge or the authorization to charge a deposit account must be submitted within the periods set forth in § 1.362 (d), (e) or (f). Any payment or authorization of maintenance fees and surcharges filed at any other time will not be accepted and will not serve as a payment of the maintenance fee except insofar as a delayed payment of the maintenance fee is accepted by the Commissioner in an expired patent pursuant to a petition filed under § 1.378. Any authorization to charge a deposit account must authorize the immediate charging of the maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge to the deposit account. Payment of less than the required amount, payment in a manner other than that set forth in § 1.23, or the filing of an authorization to charge a deposit account having insufficient funds will not constitute payment of a maintenance fee or surcharge on a patent. The certificate procedures of either § 1.8 or § 1.10 may be utilized in paying maintenance fees and any necessary surcharges.

8. Section 1.741, paragraph (a) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.741 Filing date of application.

(a) The filing date of an application for extension of patent term is the date on which a complete application is received in the Patent and Trademark Office or filed pursuant to the "Certificate of Mailing or Transmission" provisions of 37 CFR 1.8 or "Express Mail" provisions of 37 CFR 1.10.

PART 2- RULES OF PRACTICE IN TRADEMARK CASES

9. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 2 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

10. Section 2.145 is amended by revising Paragraphs C(3) and D(1) to read as follows:

§ 2.145 Appeal to Court and Civil Action.

(c) ***

(3) Any adverse party to an appeal taken to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit by a defeated party in an inter partes proceeding may file a notice with the Commissioner within twenty days after the filing of the defeated party's notice of appeal to the court (paragraph (b) of this section), electing to have all further proceedings conducted as provided in section 21(b) of the Act. The notice of election must be served as provided in § 2.119.

(d) Time for appeal or civil action.

(1) The time for filing the notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (paragraph (b) of this section), or for commencing a civil action (paragraph (c) of this section), is two months from the date of the decision of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board or the Commissioner, as the case may be. If a request for rehearing or reconsideration or modification of the decision is filed within the time specified in §§ 2.127(b), 2.129(c) or § 2.144, or within any extension of time granted thereunder, the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action shall expire two months after action on the request. In inter partes cases, the time for filing a cross-action or a notice of a cross-appeal expires (i) 14 days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint; or

(ii) two months from the date of the decision of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board or the Commissioner, whichever is later.

11. Section 2.165(a)(1) is revised to read as follows:

§ 2.165 Reconsideration of Affidavit or Declaration

(a)(1) If the affidavit or declaration filed pursuant to § 2.162 is insufficient or defective, the affidavit or declaration will be refused and the registrant will be notified of the reason. Reconsideration of the refusal may be requested within six months from the date of the mailing of the action. The request for reconsideration must state the grounds for the request. A supplemental or substitute affidavit or declaration required by section 8 of the Act of 1946 cannot be considered unless it is filed before the expiration of six years from the date of the registration or from the date of publication under section 12(c) of the Act. The Certificate of Mailing or Transmission procedure provided by § 1.8 does not apply to affidavits or declarations or to supplemental or substitute affidavits or declarations filed under section 8(a) or (b) of the Act, but the certificate by "Express Mail" procedure provided by § 1.10 does apply thereto.

13. Section 10.18, is revised to read as follows:

§ 10.18 Signature and certificate of practitioner.

(a) Except where a copy, including a photocopy or facsimile transmission, of a personally signed piece of correspondence is permitted to be filed pursuant to § 1.4 of this chapter, every piece of correspondence filed by a practitioner on behalf of himself or herself or representing an applicant or a party to a proceeding in the Patent and Trademark Office must bear an original signature personally signed in permanent ink by such practitioner except for correspondence which is required to be signed by the applicant or party. The signature of a practitioner on correspondence filed by the practitioner, regardless of whether the correspondence has an original signature or is a copy, including a photocopy or facsimile transmission, of correspondence bearing an original signature, constitutes a certificate that:

(1) The correspondence has been read by the practitioner;

(2) The filing of the correspondence is authorized;

(3) To the best of practitioner's knowledge, information, and belief, there is good ground to support the correspondence, including any allegations of improper conduct contained or alleged therein; and

(4) The correspondence is not interposed for delay.

(b) Any practitioner knowingly violating the provisions of this section is subject to disciplinary action. See § 10.23(c)(15).

14. Section 10.23, paragraph (c)(9), is revised to read as follows:

(158) Unpaid Fee Checks

Beginning Dec. 1, 1987, the Office will change the procedure for handling fee checks of attorneys and agents that are returned to the Office unpaid. Presently, when a check submitted as payment for an application, a processing, an issue or any other fee is returned to the Office unpaid, the Office of Finance sends a letter to the attorney or agent who represents the applicant, or to the applicant if unrepresented by an attorney or agent, enclosing the check and calling attention to the fact that the check was returned unpaid. Beginning Dec. 1, 1987, the Office of Finance will send a copy of its letter to the applicant if the letter is addressed to an attorney or agent. The prohibition of 37 CFR §§ 1.33 and 2.18 against double correspondence is waived in view of the submission of a check that is returned unpaid to the Office.

A registered patent attorney or agent who repeatedly submits checks that are returned unpaid through no fault of the bank may expect to have the matter referred to the Office of Enrollment and Discipline.

Effective immediately, the Trademark Examining Operation will replace its existing "FILING RECEIPT FOR TRADEMARK APPLICATIONS," PTO Form 100 (Rev. 8/78), with a filing receipt using a new format. The revised filing receipt will be printed on a single sheet of 8 1/2" x 11" paper and will contain information regarding the mark, applicant, International and U.S. classes, goods and/or services, and dates of use. If all of the information relating to a new application cannot be printed on the 8 1/2" x 11" filing receipt, it will be noted that additional information was contained in the application but was not printed. The addressee's name and address will be printed on the back of the filing receipt.

Patent and Trademark Automated Search System Fees

Action: Final Rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (Office) is amending the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases, Parts 1 and 2 of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, to set forth fees for public access to the text data bases resident on the Automated Patent System (APS) and the automated trademark search system (T-Search). Pub. L. 100-703, enacted on November 19, 1988, allows the Commissioner to establish reasonable fees for on-line access to the automated search systems.

The Office will provide on-line access to its USPAT data base (full text of U.S. patents issued after 1974), the U.S. classification data from 1790 to the present, and to English abstracts of Japanese and Chinese patents (to the extent they are available), hereinafter referred to as APS-Text, in its Patent Search Room and to T-Search in its Trademark Search Library, located in Arlington, Virginia. Except for a series of pilot experiments which may occur over the next one or two years, the Office does not plan to provide routine remote on-line access to these data bases at any other facilities at the present time. A separate rulemaking process will be followed when the Office determines to provide such remote on-line access.

Both search systems have been made available to the public free of charge since April 3, 1989, for the purposes of education and training (familiarization).

The paper and/or microfilm collections of U.S. patents, foreign patents documents and U.S. trademark registrations continue to be available to the public free of charge, as provided by section 104(b) of Pub. L. 100-703. The Office reaffirms its commitment to hold a public hearing prior to making any decision concerning the elimination of the paper files.

This final rule establishes fees for use of the on-line automated search systems. In addition, procedures for public use of the automated search systems, including training and charging of fees, are presented.

In response to the notice of proposed rulemaking published in the Federal Register on May 3, 1989 (54 FR 18907), and at a public hearing held on June 30, 1989, the Office received many comments regarding problems encountered by the public in the use of T-Search. The Office believes that T-Search has proven effective for searches performed by Trademark examining attorneys in connection with their examination of applications for the registration of marks. Although the Office is establishing a fee for accessing the T-Search system, the Commissioner is immediately suspending collection of that fee to provide additional time for the public to familiarize themselves with T-Search. The Office will provide the public with sixty days notice before starting to collect the fee.

Effective Date: February 12, 1990. Rule 2.6(w) will take effect February 12, 1990 but immediately be suspended by the Commissioner. The Office will provide written notice in the Federal Register sixty days before starting to collect fees for accessing T-Search.

For Further Information: Frances Michalkewicz by telephone at (703) 557-1610 or by mail marked to her attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Supplementary Information: The purpose of this final rule is to establish new fees for the on-line use by the public of APS-Text, and T-Search that are to be provided in the Office's facilities in Arlington, Virginia. This final rule is consistent with the Office's Electronic Data Dissemination Policies and Guidelines, which were published in final form in the Federal Register on May 3, 1989, at 54 FR 18920. Establishment and adjustment of patent fees is provided for by section 6 and section 41 of Title 35, United States Code, and section 103(b) of Pub. L. 100-703. Establishment and adjustment of trademark fees is authorized by section 31 of the Trademark (Lanham) Act 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113), and section 103(a) of Pub. L. 100-703. Information on the procedures for public use of the automated systems, including training, waivers, and the charging of fees, also is presented.

Background: In response to Pub. L. 96-517, the 1980 legislation which amended patent and trademark laws, the Office prepared and submitted a plan for the automation of its operations to Congress on December 13, 1982. The plan centered on two basic concepts: the creation of electronic data bases that (1) would eventually replace the Office's all-paper patent and trademark files, and thereby improve the integrity and quality of Office records; and (2) would support searches, examinations, Office actions and other Office functions through electronic workstations which would provide text and image retrieval capabilities and perform other automation functions.

Over 700,000 active Federal trademark registations have been converted to an electronic data base of textual and digital image data. A computer system has been installed to enable trademark examining attorneys to search the data base for registered and pending trademarks and associated textual data, including marks containing designs, and to retrieve, display and print all information as a substitute for paper file searches. Trademark examining attorneys have been using T-Search exclusively since January 1988 via a network of approximately 40 terminals. After a six-month experimental T-Search evaluation program conducted between June and December 1988, the capability was deployed for public use in the Trademark Search Library on April 3, 1989.

The T-Search "dead data base", trademarks cancelled, expired or abandoned since March 1984, also is available to the public, but approximately 17,000 images are missing and an additional 184,000 registrations and applications have not been quality checked. Trademark examining attorneys do not search this data base in connection with examining activities.

An Automated Patent System (APS) was installed for test and evaluation purposes, using one patent examining group as an operational testbed. Major operational components of APS, that is, large scale computers with conventional magnetic storage devices, a high-speed local data communications network, and electronic workstations equipped with two high resolution graphic displays and laser printers were interconnected on July 1, 1986, to enable system test and evaluation to begin in the testbed group.

On-line access to the full-text of all U.S. patents granted after 1974 and then to English language abstracts of Japanese patents was deployed to the patent examining staff beginning in 1986. On-line access to APS-Text permits examiners to search the text of approximately one million U.S. patents containing more than five billion words. Today, all examiners have been trained in the use of the full-text searching tool, and it has become a routine part of the patent examination process for many examiners. Searches are conducted from approximately 71 single screen text terminals located throughout the Office. The APS-Text capability was deployed to the public in the Patent Search Room on April 3, 1989.

The Office intends to enter the text of virtually all U.S. patents issued after 1970. In addition, selected tubular data and chemical and mathematical equations will be added to the current full text file. Ultimately, approximately 1.2 million U.S. patents will be available to both patent examiners and the public for search in full text form.

Public evaluation of the APS full-text search capability was conducted between January 11 and April 15, 1988. Forty-two (42) public users were trained an APS-Text during January 1988, and allowed first-come/first-serve access to several terminals. Reactions of public users to APS-Text were positive. Public users found APS-Text useful for pre-application and state-of-the-art searches. A total of 38 public users were trained on T-Search during a public evaluation period conducted between June and December 1988. Preliminary review indicated that public users considered T-Search to be useful both as a source for registrability searching and for verifying paper searches. In addition, T-Search was found to facilitate searches by class and ownership.

Pub. L. 100-703, enacted on November 19, 1988, allows the Commissioner to establish reasonable fees for public access to the automated search systems while it continues the requirements that no more than 30 percent of automation resources may be from user fees and that the Office may not enter into exchange agreements relating to automatic data processing resources.

Section 104(c) of Pub. L. 100-703 allows the Commissioner to waive the payment by an individual of fees for accessing the automated search systems upon a showing of need or hardship, and if such waiver is in the public interest.

The information contained in the automated data bases, which will be available to the public at the Patent and Trademark Office in Arlington, Virginia, is available free of charge at that location in paper form, and is substantially available through commercial vendors. The Office believes it to be in the public interest to waive the fee for public access to its text data bases in situations where access to the data base is needed for a personal, educational purpose by an individual or member of an educational or non-profit organization, or where payment of the fee would pose a genuine financial hardship to the user.

A personal, educational purpose is one in which the person using the data base is attempting to satisfy a personal need, and is not conducting a search or otherwise using the data base for compensation in any form. Examples of appropriate waiver situations would include students or teachers doing a term paper, a university professor collecting background information for the preparation of an application for a research grant. An example of a situation where a waiver would not be appropriate would include an individual doing work for renumeration - e.g., a law student doing a pre-examination or infringement search for a law firm.

The Commissioner will further consider a fee waiver based on a genuine financial hardship. The person requesting a waiver will be required to provide information that would demonstrate a clear inability to pay the fee.

A waiver for the payment of fees is intended to be granted sparingly, and generally only when terminals are available. It is not anticipated that fees will be waived for any one individual more than once or twice each year. The Commissioner reserves the authority to control access to the data bases and deny a waiver to any individual. The waiver policy would apply only to use of the automated system, and not to the printing or sale of copies. Any abuse of the waiver policy could lead to a ban on the use of any public search facility for that individual.

VOL 1170 ISS 1 JAN 3 1995 UMI

Cost Calculations: The Office calculated unit costs for all fees based on OMB Circular A-25 "User Fees", and OMB Circular A-130, "Management of Federal Information Resources." Costs were determined from the best available records (for example, financial statements for the Office) and included direct and indirect costs to the Office of carrying out the activity, as directed by OMB Circular A-25. User charges for both APS-Text and T-Search were based on the marginal costs of providing these services to the public.

In calculating the costs of providing access to T-Search and APS-Text to the public, the Office followed Congressional direction that fees be resonable by reflecting the marginal cost for providing the new service and not include the costs of designing or installing the automated system for use by Office examiners, or the development of the new systems.

Prior to preparation of this final rule, all of the cost assumptions and cost calculations were reviewed and modified to ensure that they included the Office's best estimates and projections.

APS-Text

The Office is establishing the $40.00 fee for each hour of terminal session time on APS-Text. The marginal costs for one hour terminal session time on APS-Text include a portion of the lease cost of a new computer mainframe which originally was to be acquired in fiscal year 1990 for use by Office patent examiners. To meet public search requirements, the mainframe is being leased earlier than originally planned. That portion of lease costs for the three (3) month period March 1990 through May 1990 over and above the lease costs for a mainframe sized to meet only examiner needs is being passed on to the user. After May 1990, the mainframe was intended to be procured and installed to support APS. Therefore, no costs are being passed on to the public user after that time. When public usage reaches the level where a mainframe dedicated for public use is required, fee adjustments will be proposed to pass all of the costs of that mainframe on to the public.

The level of public use will affect the amount of main memory needed to support the additional search sessions. It is projected than an additional increment of main memory will be required in fiscal years 1991 and 1992. This increment would not be required to support the examiner workload alone.

The fee calculations for public access also include the costs for equipment: network interface units, text terminals, printer noise dampeners and text terminal printers.

Other costs include a portion of the license fees that must be paid to Chemical Abstracts Service for its proprietary text and structure search software; additional personnel for the Patent Search Room, and the Office of Information Systems; computer installation costs; supplies and equipment dedicated to public use; and general and administrative overhead.

The Office is providing free access time during training on the automated search systems in accordance with 104(c) of Public Law 100-703 which reads. "...a limited amount of free access shall be made available to all users of the systems for purposes of education and training."

The usage rate estimates are based on the three-month public user study performed from January through March 1988. For this study, 42 frequent Patent Search Room users were selected to be trained in the use of APS-Text. Three text terminals were made available to the trained public users at no charge. During the three-month study period, use of the three terminals averaged approximately 50 percent. While it is impossible to accurately predict future use by a more diverse group of public users, the cost calculations attempted to take into account the following factors and assumptions:

1. Future public users, on average, would use APS-Text less frequently than the 42 frequent users selected for the 1988 study, many of whom routinely used commercially available automated text search tools.

2. Collection of a fee for use (as opposed to the absence of any charge during the study) would reduce demand for text search services when compared with usage data obtained during the study period.

3. The potential universe of public users is expected to average no more than 300 per day.

4. The average length of a public user search session is projected to be approximately 22 minutes - the average length of a search session during the 1988 test of public use.

5. Based on the preceding assumptions, if all 300 potential public users conducted a single search session during a workday, a total of 110 hours of access would be required. Twenty-five text terminals available five days a week, twelve hours a day, would provide a maximum potential of 300 hours of available text search time. Under these assumptions, the number of text terminals appeared to be adequate for the foreseeable future.

6. For purposes of actual use of available text terminals, the following estimates were used:

(a) In fiscal year 1990, between four (4) and six (6) terminals would be available during the first quarter. An estimate of 45 percent utilization of available text terminal time was projected. By increasing the number of text terminals to 10 in January 1990 and 20 in April 1990, an estimate of 40 percent utilization of available text terminal time was projected. By increasing the number of text terminals to 25 in July 1990, an estimate of 35 percent utilization of available text terminal time was projected.

(b) During fiscal year 1991 and beyond, stable levels of usage were projected to be achieved, yielding an estimated 35 percent average utilization of the 25 available terminals. This utilization rate equates to 105 session hours per day, or an average of 4.2 session hours per terminal per day. At an average of 22 minutes per session, a total of 286 search sessions per day.

Although usage rates since the system was made available to the public in April 1989 have been higher than projected, the Office believes these projections are valid for the three-year fee cycle.

A summary of the fee calculations is as follows:

T-Search

The marginal cost for one hour of terminal session time on T-Search includes the costs of personnel in the Trademark Search Library, maintenance of the T-Search terminals, routine site preparation, supplies and forms, and general and administrative overhead. The Office is establishing the $40.00 fee for each hour of terminal session time on T-Search, but is immediately suspending collection of that fee in order to provide public users additional time to familiarize themselves with the system.

The comments submitted in response to the proposed rulemaking indicate that the public users have not adequately adjusted to the T-Search system. During the period collection of the fee is suspended, the public will have an opportunity to better learn the system so as to perform more effective searches than they may be experiencing now. The Office will publish a notice in the Federal Register sixty days before it begins collecting a fee for public access to T-Search.

Usage rates for T-Search during fiscal years 1990-1992 were projected to be 28 percent of the hours the system would be available to the public. This rate was extrapolated from actual usage rates during the T-Search public user pilot program which was conducted from June through December 1988. A total of 38 members of the public were trained on T-Search, and about 24 to 28 public users were active on T-Search each month. The overall usage rate of these active users was 14 percent of the hours the system was available to the public. In projecting usage rates on which to base a fee amount, it was anticipated that the overall number of users and the usage rate would double once T-Search was made available in the Trademark Search Library to all users of that search facility and training was provided on a routine basis. Although usage rates since the system was made available to the public in April 1989 have been higher projected, the Office believes these projections are valid for the three-year fee cycle.

A summary of the fee calculations are as follows:

T-Search

(December 1989-November 1992)

Cost Element	Public Share (Marginal Cost)
Personnel: Compensation and Benefits	$ 27,862
Hardware & Maintenance	$ 5,274
Supplies & Forms	$ 3,579
Sub-Total	$ 36,715
General & Administrative Overhead	$ 6,792
TOTAL COST	$ 43,507
Estimated Use (pages)	448,875
UNIT COST (per page)	$ 0.097

The proposed fee of $25.00 for each hour of Office staff search assistance to conduct a search using T-Search has been withdrawn. The T-Search system can be used by the public with routine assistance provided by the regular staff of the Trademark Search Library. This is similar to assistance on how to use the paper files now provided free of charge by the Trademark Search Library staff. Office employees will neither work one-on-one with members of the public in conducting searches, nor conducted searches for members of the public.

Rounding Procedures: Fee amounts were rounded so that the amount rounded would be de minimis and convenient to the user. This procedure is consistent with section 103(b) of Pub. L. 100-703 which allows the Office to adjust patent fees in the aggregate, and with section 103(a) of Pub. L. 100-703 which allows the Office to adjust trademark fees in the aggregate. The Office has detailed cost calculation worksheets for each fee item, which are available for public inspection in Suite 904 of Building 2, Crystal Park at 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia.

PROCEDURES FOR PUBLIC USE OF APS-TEXT AND T-SEARCH

Patent Search Room Configuration

Initially four (4) text search terminals will be installed and available for public use in the Patent Search Room. A printer will be associated with each text search terminal. An additional terminal will be located in Patent Search Room employee office space for control and adminstrative activities. Up to twenty-one (21) more terminals and printers are planned to be added for public use during fiscal year 1990, if necessary.

Trademark Search Library Configuration

Initially three (3) T-Search terminals with associated printers all be installed and available for public use in the Trademark Search Library. The terminals will be clustered in one area of the Trademark Search Library. An additional terminal will be located in Trademark Search Library employee office space for control and administration activities. Additional terminals and printers will be added as demand warrants and space permits.

Training

To enable prospective public users to become effective on APS-Text, approximately fourteen (14) hours of free basic training is being offered. For those familiar with automated search systems, a shorter course of six (6) hours is provided. Ten (10) members of the public can be trained during each class. Training is being held at the Office's Arlington, Va. complex during normal work hours.

Four (4) hours of basic training is being offered on the use of T-Search. For those familiar with automated search systems, a shorter course of one (1) hour is available. T-Search training is being held in the Office's Arlington, Va. complex during morning, evening and weekend hours.

VOL 1170 ISS 1 JAN 3 1995 UMI

Enrollment in all training classes initially was on a lottery basis. Public users who wished to be trained on APS-Text or T-Search were required to submit an application form. The Office is now accepting requests for training and adding the names to the list. As of August 31, 1989, 696 people or 70 percent of all those requesting training have been trained.

System Use and Fee Procedures

To ensure equity of public access to the automated systems, as well an efficient operations, rules for use will be posted at the terminals. Users of the systems will be expected to comply with the rules and with all other regulations regarding the use of facilities.

Users are strongly encouraged to register in advance for system use. Each week, the next week's schedule will be available in the Patent Search room and the Trademark Search Library. Should requests for blocks of terminal time exceed the availability of terminals, limits on the amount of reserved time may be instituted. Up to three (3) of the initial four (4) terminals in the Patent Search Room and up to two (2) of the initial three (3) terminals in the Trademark Search Library will be allocated to public users with advance reserved times. The remaining terminal in the Patent Search Room will be available for walk-up users and for assisted searches for infrequent users. The remaining terminal in the Trademark Search Library will be available for walk-up users. The terminal time reservation system and the number of terminals available for walk-up public use and for assisted searches (in the Patent Search Room) is subject to change based upon operational experience.

All public use of APS-Text and T-Search, with the exception of scheduled training classes, is on a pre-payment basis. In pre-paying for use of the systems, the public may use a blank signed check, major credit card or charge to a deposit account. At the end of the search or the pre-paid amount of time, users will receive an accounting from Patent Search Room or Trademark Search Library staff for terminal time used and prints produced. The user must then finalized payment.

Discussion of Specific Rules

37 CFR 1.21 Miscellaneous fees and charges.

Section 1.21 is amended to add new paragraph (o) to set the fees for access to the Automated Patent System full-text search capability (APS-Text) and to provide for the waiver of fees under certain circumstances.

Section 1.21 is amended to add new paragraph (p) to set the fees for APS-Text search assistance by Office staff.

Section 1.21 is amended to add new paragraph (q) to set the fee for a printed copy from APS-Text.

37 CFR 2.6 Trademark fees

Section 2.6 is amended to add new paragraph (w) to set the fees for access to the automated trademark search system (T-Search) and to provide for the waiver of fees under certain circumstances.

Section 2.6 is amended to add new paragraph (x) to set the fee for a printed copy from T-Search.

A final rule package establishing two new fees under the provisions of Pub. L. 100-667, the Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988, has been published which added paragraphs (u) and (v) to section 2.6. Therefore, the rule has been modified from the proposal to add paragraphs (w) and (x) instead of paragraphs (u), (v) and (w).

Response to Comments on the Rules

A notice of proposed rulemaking to establish a basis for the charges for use of the on-line automated search systems in the Patent Search Room and Trademark Search Library located at the Patent and Trademark Office in Arlington, Virginia was published in the Federal Register on May 3, 1989, at 54 FR 18907. Corrections were published in the Federal Register on May 12, 1989, at 54 FR 20670. A notice also was published on May 30, 1989, in volume 1102 of the Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office, pages 94 through 98 for patents, and pages 96 through 100 for trademarks.

A public hearing was conducted on June 30, 1989. A total of 25 comments were received: 24 respondents submitted written comments and five people presented oral testimony (four of whom also submitted written comments) at the public hearing. On the 25 comments, twelve (12) were from individuals, seven (7) from libraries, five (5) from organizations and one (1) from business. All of the written and oral comments were considered in adopting the rules set forth herein.

Many of the comments from the representatives of the Patent Depository Libraries raised questions or commented on the proposed rules from the perspective of their impact on Patent Depository Libraries. The proposed rules and policies set forth in the Federal Register Notice of May 3, 1989 are applicable only to the automated search systems provided in PTO's facilities located in Arlington, Virginia. When the Office is prepared to offer the automated search systems at the Patent Depository Libraries, a proposed notice will be published for public comment. Therefore, any comments relating to procedures for accessing the automated search systems in the Patent Depository Libraries will not be addressed at this time.

Comment: Overall, nine respondents acknowledged the usefulness of the automated search systems, particularly APS-Text. Although seven respondents alleged that T-Search is not adequate to meet the needs of the public, that its response time is too slow, and that it is not sufficiently accurate to meet the specific needs of the commentor, most of these respondents acknowledged that T-Search had the potential for being a useful tool. Documentaton of specific problems, for example, those associated with conducting a phonetic search, were provided. Two respondents said that T-Search is flawed and the decision to require examiners to use the system on an exclusive basis was ill-advised and regrettable.

Response: Trademark examining attorneys have been using T-Search for word mark searches since August 1987, and for word mark and design searches since January 1988. The public has been using the system since April 3, 1989.

The minutes to the September 27, 1988, meeting of the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs, express the view that: "...T-Search searches are more thorough than manual searches." The transcript to that meeting contains the following comments: "I don't think there is any question, but a T-Search [sic] properly done gives an excellent result" and "...from the corporate point of view, ... I am pleased to say that I like what I see. I like the very fast action we're getting on the first action." From the transcript to the February 23, 1988 meeting: "I'd like to start with a glowing report. I think that the registration process is working very well. From my own personal experience in terms of what the examiners are doing, they get an A plus. They're really doing a good job."

The concensus of the management of the Trademark Examining Operation is that the T-Search system meets the needs of the Office at this time. There is no indication in any records or activities in the PTO which would indicate that the use of T-Search has caused a deterioration in the quality of searches conducted by Trademark examining attorneys.

The difference between the perceptions of the Trademark examining attorneys and the public may be attributed to several factors: Trademark examining attorneys use the system on a daily basis; they know what the system can do and what it cannot do and avoid the latter; and they know how to utilize the system's functionalities to perform the best search possible. Further, Trademark examining attorneys do different types of searches, and have different needs, than the public. T-Search use statistics for the period April 1989 through August 1989 demonstrate that the public is making extensive use of the system. Following is a summary of those statistics:

Month	Available Hours	Hours Used By Public	Rate of Usage	Average Session Time
April	513	108	21%	13.02 min.
May	513	126	24%	12.25 min.
June	627	183	29%	10.84 min.
July	570	186	33%	12.51 min.
August	656	217	33%	9.66 min.

This usage rate compares favorably to the projected usage rate of 28 percent.

Comment: Seven respondents claimed that the paper Trademark files have been allowed to deteriorate and, therefore, are not reliable for use by the public.

Response: The Office contracts for file maintenance sevices in both the Trademark Search Library and the Patent Search Room. Among the tasks performed by the contractor in the Trademark Search Library are maintaining the pending files, filing newly registered Trademarks, pulling erroneous registrations from the file, etc. The contract for the Trademark Search Library includes a monitoring system based on MIL-STD 105, which is a sampling plan that provides a 97 percent accuracy level. Once the contractor completes a task, Office staff check the required sample levels to ensure that filing was performed accurately. The Office is constantly monitoring the status of the paper files, but notes that maintenance of paper file integrity is subject to inherent limitations.

Comment: In view of the above comments about the inadequacy of the Trademark paper search files and T-Search, six respondents advocated the need for T-Search, at no charge to the user, as an adjunct or back-up to the paper files. One respondent suggested a similar arrangement in the Patent Search Room.

Response: The Office has adopted the $40.00 fee amount for one hour of terminal session time on both APS-Text and T-Search. In order to give the public more time to become familiar with the T-Search system, the Commissioner is immediately suspending collection of that fee. This will enable users to learn the system so as to perform more effective searches. The Office will publish a notice in the Federal Register announcing its decision regarding the imposition of the fee at least 60 days before starting to collect the fee amount. At that time, the Office also will publish validated cost estimates based on usage rates and actual costs documented from the present time to the time the decision to collect a fee is made.

Comment: Two respondents claimed that the objective of automation necessarily comtemplated a free search system to give meaning to the constructive notice provisions of the Trademark Act.

Response: Registration of a trademark constitutes constructive notice and records of all active trademark registrations and pending applications are available for searching free of charge in the paper file and on TRAM (Trademark Reporting and Monitoring System) data base.

Comment: One respondent claimed that PTO is required to provide access to disclosed patent information as the information is made public; four respondents were opposed to the Office charging fees for accessing the automated search systms; two other respondents commented that the Office should not charge fees for using systems designed to be the sole searching source of the public records which the Office is charged by law to provide; and one respondent commented that the proposal to limit access to the automated data bases only to those who can pay a fee is deplorable policy at a time when there is concern about industrial competitiveness with Japan.

Response: The Office will continue to make the paper and/or microfilm collections of U.S. patents, foreign patent documents and U.S. trademark registrations available for pubic access free of charge. The Office also has adopted a policy whereby the hourly terminal session fee for access to the data base can be waived when it is needed for a personal, educational purpose by an individual or member of an educational or non-profit organization, or where payment of the fee would pose a genuine financial hardship to the user. In this way, the Office will continue to provide public access to all available information free of charge.

Comment: One respondent commented that user fees for electronic data is a form of dual taxation when information was gathered, organized and produced at taxpayers expense; and two respondents claimed that users of information have contributed up to 30 percent of the $120 milllion for development of the APS system to date — in other words, the public already has paid for APS.

Response: In calculating the proposed fees, the Office is consistent with the Office of Management and Budget's proposed policy on user charges for Government information products, as clarified in the June 15, 1989 Federal Register notice entitled "Second Advance Notice of Further Policy Development on Dissemination of Information." In that notice, OMB's stated policy is that user charges for Government Information products should be no higher than a level sufficient to recover the costs of disseminating, not collecting, the information.

The costs associated with the fees for accessing APS-Text and T-Search are directly related to the public's use of the systems; for example, the costs associated with the acquisition of the APS-Text terminals that are being used by the public. No costs associated with designing or installing the automated system for use by Office examiners, or the development of the new systems have been included. Neither have costs been included for gathering, organizing or producing information.

The Federal Register notice of June 15, 1989 (54 FR 25554, 25558) dealing with policy development on dissemination of information states that: "As to double taxation, OMB notes that user charges policy has a basis in statute (31 U.S.C. 9701), and the Congress has not viewed user charges as double taxation because they are applied when the recipient receives special benefits."

Comment: Two respondents stated that Government information is the same, whether it is provided in printed or electronic form.

Response: Charging fees for access to the automated search systems is consistent with PTO's fee policy. For example, fees are charged for manual search services (e.g., for a search of Office records or for a search of assignment records), and for printed copies of patents and trademarks and for copies of Office documents.

Comment: The Japanese system is available at four locations at no cost, and includes U.S. information made available at U.S. taxpayer expense.

Response: The Japanese automated search system, like the automated search systems in the PTO's search facilities, is being made available free of charge at the present time. The costs of such use, however, are being paid from general fee revenues collected by the Japanese Patent Office. Additionally, the APS-Text system currently includes Japanese English language abstracts and the Office is in the process of acquiring Japanese patent information in digital facsimile form.

Comment: One respondent commented that PTO has no responsibility to provide an expensive, complex, internal Government on-line value-added computer service, that this is far beyond the requirements of public access to patent files; and another respondent commented that it is in the public interest to have the same system that is being used by the examiners also available to the public.

Response: The Office agrees that it is in the public interest to provide the same search system capability to the public that is being used by the examiners.

Comment: One respondent stated that providing free access is not competing with the private sector, and that there always is a place for the private sector to provide value-added information.

Response: The user charges adopted for public access to the APS-Test and T-Search systems are consistent with OMB Circulars A-25 "User Charges" and A-130 "Management of Federal Information Resources", and with the PTO's Electronic Data Dissemination Policies and Guidelines. The PTO's user's fees are designed to recover the marginal costs associated with providing access to the automated search systems to the public.

Comment: Five respondents stated that the proposed fees are not "reasonable" and the Office does not have documented cost estimates and usage rates to support the proposed fee amounts.

Response: The Office is meeting Congressional direction to establish "reasonable" fees by recovering only the marginal costs associated with providing public access to the automated search systems. Costs and projected usage rates were determined from the best available records, for example, financial statements for the Office and the results of the public evaluations of the APS-Text and T-Search systems. A summary of the costs used in the fee calculations is included above under "Cost Calculations." Full details of these cost calculations are available for public inspection at the Patent and Trademark Office in Suite 904 of Building 2, Crystal Park, at 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia.

Comment: Two respondents questioned the proposed fees for search assistance. If the search assistance is similar to that which is provided free now, there should be no fee. If the search assistance entails doing searches, the Office should not be getting into that business.

VOL 1170 ISS 1 JAN 3 1995 UMI

Response: The PTO is withdrawing the proposed fee for staff search assistance to conduct a search using T-Search capabilities. The fee for staff search assistance to conduct a search using APS-Text capabilities is being adopted, because an untrained user cannot conduct a search without significant help from Office staff. Users of course, have the option of obtaining free training on the system.

Comment: One respondent commented that user fees cannot be justified under the theory that electronic search provides a new service or offers an enhancement to the public's ability to search the patent data base, and that the public has an option of paying the fee or using the paper files. Another respondent commented that APS-Text and T-Search represent enhancements to services already provided.

Response: The fees are specifically authorized under § 104 (c) of Pub. L. 100-703 and are calculated to allow recovery of only the marginal cost for providing the system to the public.

Comment: Two respondents claimed that the Office should ask Congress for funding to offer free access here and at the PDLs.

Response: It continues to be PTO policy, consistent with OMB Circular A-130, that costs for access to the automated search systems be borne by those who actually use the automated search systems.

Comment: One respondent claimed that the accuracy of the trademark data base is suspect.

Response: All of the backfile data base elements (registrations issued prior to September 9, 1980) have been corrected except owner information. As originally planned, the owner field will be cleaned up the active registrations issued prior to September 9, 1980. It is projected that this owner field will be cleaned up by the third quarter of fiscal year 1991.

Comment: Three respondents claimed that the public requires access to the dead data base.

Response: The Office will consider this proposal further. The dead data base is now available in electronic format for all applications and registrations that were active on January 1, 1983 and are now inactive. However, many of these records are of poor quality. Costs for cleaning up these records would be significant, and those costs would likely be reflected in the T-Search user fee.

Comment: Four respondents addressed the fee waiver policy. The proposal to waive fee appears inconsistent wih PTO's position that the free paper search files provide an equal and viable resource to anyone not wanting to pay for the automated files. If paper records are inferior, then anyone seeking access to T-Search should be able to qualify for the fee waiver. If the paper records are adequate, then there should be no need to waive the access fee for anyone.

Response: The waiver policy authorized by Pub. L. 100-703 is designed for those individuals who, for some reason in the public interest, such as an educational purpose, need the capabilities of the automated system, for example, to manipulate the data.

Comment: One respondent commented that the procedure to enroll people in training classes by the use of a lottery was unfair and that everyone who wants to be trained should be enrolled.

Response: The lottery was a method for establishing the initial schedules to provide training. Everyone who requests training will be trained. As of August 31, 1989, 449 out of 623 people requesting training on APS-Text, and 247 out of 376 people requesting training on T-Search have been trained.

Comment: One respondent commented that advance registration is an unrealistic approach for many searchers.

Response: At least one terminal in the Patent Search Room and one in the Trademark Search Library will be available for walk-up users. The other terminals will be available first for users with a reservation and then, if needed, for walk-up users. The system is designed to ensure equity of public access to the automated systems.

Comment: Two respondents asked for information justifying that this is not a "Major Rule" as defined by Executive Order 12291, and that the rule will not have a significant adverse impact on small entities.

Response: The no "major rule" determination and no significant adverse impact on small entities was based on the fact that the automated systems are being offered only at the Patent and Trademark Office's public search facilities located in Arlington, Virginia. The total number of users of these facilities averages less than 400 a day, and many of these users are members of law firms or commercial search services. The annual effect on the economy is expected to be about $1 million, far less than the $100 million annual threshold specified in the Executive Order. The fees for accessing the automated search systems are reasonable and should not burden small entities and, at the same time, the Office is continuing to maintain the paper search files which are available to the public free of charge. Finally, there should be no significant adverse effects on competition, because the systems are being offered only at one location, the Patent and Trademark Office in Arlington, Virginia, and the public may continue to use paper files without payment of any fee.

Comment: Five respondents commented that user fees burden small entities and run counter to a fundamental objective of the patent system which is to advance technology through dissemination of the technical information contained in patents.

Response: The Office does not believe that the fee amounts adopted will burden small entities or negatively impact the dissemination of technical information. The Office also will continue to maintain the paper search files using taxpayer funds, and provide access to the public free of charge. Further, the Office has adopted a fee waiver policy whereby the fee amount can be waived where access to the data base is needed for a personal, educational purpose by an individual or member of an educational or non-profit organization, or where payment of the fee would pose a genuine financial hardship to the user. Full details are included above under "Background".

Comment: One respondent commented that the Office needs a policy to ensure that no user of the patent and trademark information is disenfranchised due to an inability to pay for the services necessary to its access.

Response: The Commissioner will consider a fee waiver for users with a genuine financial hardship.

Other Considerations:

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501, et seq. There are no information collection requirements relating to patent and trademark fee rules.

The Office has determined that this notice has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354). The rules make the Office's on-line, automated patent full-text search and trademark search systems available to the public at rates significantly less than commercial systems.

The Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Parts 1 and 2

37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Inventions and patents, Lawyers, Reporting and record keeping requirements, Small businesses.

37 CFR Part 2

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Lawyers, Trademarks.

For the reasons set forth in the permeable, the Office is proposing to amend Title 37 of the code of Federal Regulations, Chapter 1, as set forth below.

PART 1-RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES.

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.21 is amended by adding new paragraphs (o)-(q).

§ 1.21 Miscellaneous fees and charges.

* * * * *

(o) Marginal cost, paid in advance, for each hour of terminal session time, including print time, using Automated Patent System full-text search capabilities, prorated for the actual time used. The Commissioner may waiver the payment by an individual for access to the Automated Patent System full-text search capability (APS-Text) upon a showing of need or hardship, and if such waiver is in the public interest $40.00

(p) Marginal cost, paid advance, for each hour of Office staff search assistance to conduct a search using Automated Patent System full-text search capabilities (APS-Text), prorated for the actual time used $25.00

(q) Marginal cost, for each printed page generated from the Automated Patent System text terminal $0.10

PART 2-RULES OF PRACTICE IN TRADEMARK CASES

1. The authority citation for Part 2 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 2.6 is amended by adding new paragraphs (w)-(x).

§ 2.6 Trademark fees

* * * * *

(w) Marginal cost, paid in advance, for each hour of terminal session time, including print time, using T-Search capabilities, prorated for the actual time used. The Commissioner may waive the payment by an individual for access to T-Search upon a showing of need or hardship, and if such waiver is in the public interest $40.00

(x) Marginal cost, for each printed page generated from the T-Search terminal $0.10

Patent and Trademark Office
37 CFR Part 2
Patent and Trademark Automated Search System Fees

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Listing of suspension of final rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (Office), on December 11, 1989, amended the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases, Parts 1 and 2 of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, setting forth the fees for public access to the Office's text data bases: the Automated Patent System (APS) and the automated trademark search system (T-Search). 54 FR 50942. That final rule became effective on February 12, 1990. On that date, 37 CFR 2.6(w), dealing with T-Search fees, took effect, but was immediately suspended by the Commissioner.

The collection of the fee was initially suspended to permit users to become familiar with the T-Search system. The T-Search system has been available to the public since April 1989, a sufficient time for users to become familiar with the system. Therefore, as provided in the final rule, the Office now gives notice that the suspension is lifted. The Office will begin to collect the fees set forth in 37 CFR 2.6(w) sixty (60) days from the date of this notice. Cost estimates based on usage and actual costs are available for inspection in the Office of Long-Range Planning and Evaluation, Room 507, Crystal Park 1, Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia.

Dates: The suspension of 37 CFR 2.6(w) is lifted as of Nov. 13, 1990. The collection of fees under 37 CFR 2.6(w) will begin on November 13, 1990

For Further Information Contact: Frances Michalkewicz by telephone at (703) 557-1610 or by mail to her attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(163) Automated Trademark System (X-Search) Training for Public Users

X-Search, an enhanced automated trademark searching system, is scheduled to become available in July 1993.

Several free training classes will be offered to the public. A four-hour class, consisting of a lecture session and hands-on instruction, will be conducted once a month from 4:00 to 8:00 p.m. This class is for users who have no experience with automated trademark seraching. A two-hour class will be conducted three times a week for users who have experience with automated trademark searching techniques. These classes will be held from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays and from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. on Saturdays.

Space in all sessions will be limited. A lottery-type drawing will be held to determine specific class assignments. To enter the lottery drawing, a completed application form including all information shown below may be deposited in the Trademark Search Library or submitted via mail or telefax. Applications received on or before June 25, 1993, will be included in the lottery for classes beginning in July.

Trainees who fail to appear at their scheduled class will not be reassigned until all persons scheduled on the original lottery have been accommodated. Subsequent lotteries will be offered periodically if demand requires.

Training for the new system is recommended, but not required. In addition to the formal training described above, informal demonstrations will take place during business hours in the Trademark Search Library, 2900 Crystal Drive, room 2B30. These sessions will be available for the first ten days following introduction of the X-Search system and will not require a reservation. Specific dates will be posted in the Trademark Search Library.

Electronic Filing of Patent and Trademark Applications

Action: Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking
Summary: This advance notice of proposed rulemaking is to inform the public that the Patent and Trademark office (PTO) is considering amending its rules of practice: (1) to allow for electronic filing of patent applications and trademark applications; and (2) to require applications filed in paper form to follow a prescribed order and format.

The PTO anticipates that permitting electronic filing of applications will improve the accuracy of the information relied upon in the examination of patent and trademark applications, eliminate delays caused by mailing and data entry, and, as a first step toward a fully-automated processing system, ultimately provide considerable cost savings. The cost savings realized could be used to help reduce the need for future fee adjustments and/or fund improvements in the delivery of services. Requiring applications filed on paper to follow a prescribed order and format will enable the PTO to convert these applications to electronic format.

The purposes of this notice are to: (1) invite interested parties to participate in pilot programs involving electronic filing of patent and trademark applications; and (2) encourage comments on this topic, in the form of responses to the questions posed in this notice, from industry, the patent and trademark bars, and members of the public.

Dates: Comments should be received on or before Feb. 28, 1993.

Addresses: Written comments should be addressed, if sent by mail, to the attention of Edward R. Kazenske, Executive Assistant to the Commissioner and Director of Interdisciplinary Programs, c/o Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231. If delivered by hand, comments should be brought to the Office of the Executive Assistant to the Commissioner and Director of Interdisciplinary Programs, Room 906, Crystal Park 2, 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va.

For Further Information Contact: Edward R. Kazenske, Executive Assistant to the Commissioner and Director of Interdisciplinary Programs, (703) 305-8600.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

1. Pilot Programs

Currently, the PTO accepts patent and trademark applications delivered by mail or in person. These applications are in paper form or, in the case of patent applications for nucleotide sequences, a combination of computer-readable (see 37 CFR 1.821-1.825) and paper form.

The PTO is initiating a pilot program that would permit electronic filing of patent and trademark applications, using software now under consideration by the PTO. Initially, it is anticipated that participants in the pilot program would be required to use the PTO software to create a diskette, which would then be mailed to the PTO along with the paper application generated by the diskette. The diskette would serve the limited function of eliminating the initial data entry of applications into the PTO databases.

As part of a second pilot program, a separate group of participants is being solicited to file paper applications following a prescribed order and format. The paper applications would then be scanned and converted to electronic format. Data collected from the pilot programs will be evaluated to determine whether requiring submission of a paper application in a certain order and format facilitates data entry; whether any modifications to the electronic filing software are required; and more fundamentally, whether electronic filing is a feasible, cost-effective alternative to filing in paper form.

2. Paper Applications

The PTO contemplates that paper applications will be required to follow the order and format of the data elements (e.g., inventor, foreign priority information, in the case of a patent application; applicant, mark, in the case of a trademark application) entered in the electronic filing system. This would enable the PTO to scan and convert paper applications to electronic applications upon receipt at the PTO. Once the paper application is converted into electronic form, processing of the application will be done in a purely electronic format. The electronic form of the application would become the official file.

3. Electronic Filing

The PTO contemplates that applicants filing by electronic means would be required to use an "Authoring Program" developed by the PTO, which will be available to facilitate the preparation of an electronic submission and record the submission on electronic media. This "Authoring Program" will include a validation feature so that applicants, themselves, can test whether an electronic submission complies with all requirements.

The "Authoring Program" software under consideration by the PTO will be designed to be compatible with computers capable of creating files of standard ASCII (American Standard Code for Information interchange) text within one or more of the major operating systems environments (e.g., DOS, Windowsr, Unix®, and Apple MacIntosh®).

The format for text in patent applications will specify a set of mandatory data elements, similar to those required under the Patent Cooperation Treaty. The format for text in trademark applications will specify a set of mandatory data elements, similar to those required of a "written application" under 15 U.S.C. 1051. In both the patent and trademark software, specific formats will be required for non-textual elements, such as drawings, formulas, tables and specimens. These non-textual elements would be submitted in separate computer files called "Presentations," similar to the presentation of nucleotide sequence information in accordance with 37 CFR 1.821-1.825.

The PTO also contemplates that certain individuals be designated by the agency as qualified "electronic application transmitters." Upon application to the PTO, unlimited parties meeting specified requirements may be issued Personal Identification Numbers to enable them to transmit applications in electronic form on behalf of themselves or other individuals.

In an effort to facilitate public comment to the questions set forth below, the following background information is provided:

4. Background Specific to Electronic Patent Applications

Signature

Under 35 U.S.C. 111, a patent application must include an oath by the applicant. 35 U.S.C. 25 permits a declaration in lieu of oath. The applicant's signed oath or declaration is not required for receipt of a filing date, but may be submitted, upon payment of a surcharge, within a prescribed period.

Certified Copy of Foreign Patent Application

Under 35 U.S.C. 119, a U.S. patent application may be based on a foreign patent application, thus, potentially, conferring the benefit of the earlier foreign patent application's filing date.

A certified copy of the foreign patent application is required to be filed in the PTO before the patent is granted.

5. Background Specific to Electronic trademark Applications

Signature

Under 15 U.S.C. 1051, a trademark application must be verified by the applicant. Prior to implementation of the Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988 (TLRA) on Nov. 16, 1989, the PTO permitted verification of the application to be provided at any time during the examination process. With implementation of the TLRA, the PTO amended its regulations with respect to the verification of an application. 37 CFR 2.21, which sets forth the minimum requirements for an application to receive a filing date, was amended to require that the application be signed by the applicant at the time of filing.

Specimen

Under 15 U.S.C. 1051, a trademark application based on "use in commerce" must include specimens or facsimiles of the mark as used. 37 CFR 2.21(a)(5) requires at least one specimen or facsimile to be included with the "use" application in order to receive a filing date. Applications filed based upon a "bona fide" intention to use the mark in commerce, under 15 U.S.C. 1051(b), must be supplemented with specimens or facsimiles before the registration issues. In order to meet the minimum requirements for filing an amendment to allege use or statement of use, one specimen or facsimile must be submitted. 37 CFR 2.76(e)(2) and 2.88(e)(2).

Certification or Certified Copy of Foreign Registration

Under 15 U.S.C. 1126(e), "an application [based on a foreign registration] shall be accompanied by a certification or a certified copy of the registration of the country of origin of the applicant." 37 CFR 2.21(a)(5) requires the certification or certified copy to be included with the application in order to receive a filing date.

6. Comments on the following Questions and Any Other Related Matters Are Solicited

Questions Common to Patent and Trademark Applications

a. What benefits do you foresee for the applicant if electronic filing is adopted? What disadvantages do you foresee?
b. Should the PTO require paper applications to be filed in a specific order and format to facilitate conversion to electronic format? What advantages and disadvantages do you foresee?
c. Should the electronic file become the official agency file?
d. Should electronic filing be expanded to encompass amendments and other submissions to the PTO?
e. Should paper or electronic application filings receive a filing date only if they meet order and format requirements, or should compliance be subject to a surcharge?
f. Should the PTO accept electronic filing by diskette, on-line, or both?
g. Should applications filed in paper form be converted to electronic form by the PTO? Should the PTO charge a fee for this service?
h. If paper applications are converted to electronic form by the PTO, should the PTO destroy or retain the paper applications?
i. Should fees be processed electronically?
j. Should the PTO create a registry of "electronic application transmitters" capable of transmitting patent and trademark applications for others? If so, what, if any, criteria should be established before one could be "registered" as an "electronic application transmitter?"

Questions Related Solely to Patent Issues

k. Should the PTO require the oath or declaration to an electronically filed patent application be filed on paper to authenticate that applicants believe themselves to be original and first inventors of the subject matter of the electronically filed application?

If not, how should the filing of the oath or declaration be accomplished?

l. How should the filing of certified copies of foreign patent applications be accomplished for an electronically filed patent application?

Questions Related Solely to Trademark Issues

m. Should the PTO require electronically filed applications to include a scanned, signed declaration in order to receive a filing date? Should the PTO accept declarations in electronic form with some type of electronic signature?

If not, should 37 CFR 2.21 be amended to permit unverified applications to be accorded a filing date? if so, within what time period must an unverified application be ratified by the submission of a signed declaration?

How long should the PTO retain the signed declaration after it has been scanned and merged into the electronic file?

n. Should "use" applications submitted without a specimen be given a filing date?

If so, within what time period after filing must the specimens be submitted?

Should the number of required specimens be reduced?

How long should the PTO keep the specimens after they are scanned and merged into the electronic file?

o. Should Section 44(e) of the Trademark Act (15 U.S.C 1126(e)) beamended to permit applicants to submit a facsimile of the certification or certified copy of the foreign registration?

Alternatively, should the statute be amended to permit Section 44(e) applicants to obtain a filing date absent a certification or certified copy of the foreign registration? If so, within what time period must a Section 44(e) application be supplemented with a certificate or certified copy of the foreign registration?

How long should the PTO retain the certification or certified copy after it has been scanned and merged into the electronic application?

7. Candidates for the Pilot Programs

Any person interested in participating in one of the pilot programs identified above is requested to contact Edward R. Kazenske, Executive Assistant to the Commissioner and Director of Interdisciplinary Programs, c/o Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231. If delivered by hand, written statements of interest should be brought to Suite 906, Crystal Park 2, 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va. 22202. Telephone: (703) 305-8600. Please indicate which pilot program you wish to participate in and please be certain to include a telephone number where you may be reached.

(165) United States Postal Service
Interruption and Emergency in Los Angeles

The January 17, 1994, Los Angeles earthquake has caused a service interruption in United States Postal Service (USPS) in the greater Los Angeles area. Normal postal delivery and collection operations of the USPS were impacted by the earthquake throughout the greater Los Angeles area to varying degrees from January 17, 1994, through January 21, 1994.

The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is designating the interruption in the service of the USPS in the greater Los Angeles area and the overall destruction caused by the earthquake as a postal service interruption and an emergency within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 21(a). Any request to accept a paper or fee delayed by this emergency should be directed to Jeffrey V. Nase, Director, Office of Petitions, (703) 305-9285, PK3-704, for patent-related matters, and to Lynne G. Beresford,

TRADEMARK PUBLICATIONS

(166) Separation of the Patent and Trademark Sections of the Official Gazette

Effective February 2, 1971, the Official Gazette will be separated into two parts to be known as the Patent Official Gazette and the Trademark Official Gazette

* * * * *

Orders for subscriptions should be addressed to Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Also effective February 2, 1971, the Official Gazette will no longer contain "Decisions in Patent and Trademark Cases." Decisions of the type heretofore found in the "Decisions in Patent and Trademark Cases" are published by non-Federal organizations such as, for example, the Bureau of National Affairs, Inc., 1231 25th St. NW., Washington, D.C. 20037, and West Publishing Co., 50 Kellogg Blvd., St. Paul, Minn. 55102.

Finally, the "Decisions Leaflet" of the Official Gazette will no longer be supplied as a separate subscription item after January 26, 1971. According to present plans, however, both the Patent Official Gazette and the Trademark Official Gazette will have identical "Patent Office Notices" sections containing notices of the various types heretofore published in the Gazette decision leaflet and Trademark Section. Those notices of particular interest to Patent Office employees will be accumulated and published approximately every fourth week, and distributed separately to employees.

(167) Changes in Format for Publishing Trademarks for Opposition

Because of the adoption of the International classification of goods and services by the United States as of September 1, 1973 (see Official Gazette of June 26, 1973, 911 O.G. TM 210), it is necessary to change the arrangement in the Official Gazette of the marks published for opposition.

Beginning with the issue of May 7, 1974, the section of the Official Gazette entitled "Marks Published for Opposition" will be divided into four sections instead of the present two sections. (For the preceding change from one to two sections, see Official Gazette of October 13, 1964, 807 O.G. TM 51.) Sections 1 and 2 will be according to international classification and will contain marks in applications filed on or after September 1, 1973, and Sections 3 and 4 will be according to prior United States classification and will contain marks in applications filed on or before August 31, 1973.

In Section 1, all marks presented in combined applications filed on or after September 1, 1973 for registration in more than one international class will be published with only one reproduction of each mark. The reproduction of the mark will be followed by the international class numbers, and under each class will appear the goods or services in connection with which the mark is used. If the date of first use applies to all classes, it will appear following the last class; otherwise, the dates of use will appear after each class.

In Section 2, all marks presented in applications filed on or after September 1, 1973 for registration in a single class will be published in international class order.

In Section 3, all marks presented in combined applications filed on or before August 31, 1973 for registration in more than one prior United States class will be published with only one reproduction of each mark. The reproduction of the mark will be followed by the prior United States class numbers and titles, and under each class will appear the goods or services in connection with which the mark is used. If the date of first use applies to all classes, it will appear following the last class; otherwise, the dates of use will appear after each class.

In section 4, all marks presented in applications filed on or before August 31, 1973 for registration in a single class will be published in the prior United States class order.

The following explanation will appear under the heading "Marks Published for Opposition":

> The following marks are published in compliance with section 12(a) of the Trademark Act of 1946. Applications for the registration of marks in more than one class have been filed as provided in section 30 of said act as amended by Public Law 772, 87th Congress, approved Oct. 9, 1962, 76 Stat. 769. Opposition under Section 13 may be filed within thirty days of the date of this publication. See Rules 2.101 to 2.105.
> A separate fee of twenty-five dollars for opposing each mark in each class must accompany the opposition.

Sections 1 through 4 will appear immediately after the above explanation, the sections being designated as follows:

Section 1. International classification-Application in more than one class
Section 2. International classification-Application in one class
Section 3. Prior United States classification-Application in more than one class
Section 4. Prior United States classification-Application in one class

The same procedure of dividing into four sections will be followed in the notice of the issuance of registrations on the Supplemental Register.

(168) Change in Official Gazette Entry to Show Cancellation of Fewer Than All Classes in a Multiple Class Registration

Effective with the Official Gazette issue of December 16, 1980, there will be a change in the Official Gazette listing entitled "Trademark Registrations Cancelled." Beginning with that issue, "Trademark Registrations Cancelled" will list:

(1) single class registrations cancelled;
(2) multiple class registrations cancelled in all classes;
(3) multiple class registrations cancelled in fewer than all classes.

For every entry in the listing, the specific classes cancelled will be included in parentheses, next to the registration number and mark.

For a single class registration and for a multiple class registration in which every class has been cancelled, the class number(s) shown in parentheses will represent every class to which the registration applied.

For a multiple class registration in which fewer than all classes have been cancelled, the Official Gazette entry will include the word "only" following the notation of classes in parentheses, for example: (Int. Cls. 12 and 20, only). In this example, the addition of the word "only" would indicate that there are classes in the registration in addition to Classes 12 and 20, but only Classes 12 and 20 have been cancelled.

(169) Single Copies of the Trademark Official Gazette

Members of the public ordering single copies of the Trademark Official Gazette from the Superintendent of Documents are reminded they must specify the date of the issue being ordered.

The date of the issue in which a mark will be published for opposition is shown on The Notice of Publication form mailed to applicants approximately two weeks before the publication date. This date must be included on each single copy order.

Orders received without an issue date may be filled from current weekly stock. The Superintendent of Documents cannot check on whether a particular mark is published in the issue then in stock. If the stock is exhausted at the time the order is received, the order will be returned unfilled.

Effective Jan. 3, 1984, a new sub-section identified as "Inadvertently Issued Registration Numbers" will exist as the last category of cancellations listed under the "Trademark Registrations Canceled" section of the Official Gazette.

This new sub-section will provide public notice of the cancellation of registration numbers which have been inadvertently issued by the Patent and Trademark Office.

(172) Notice to Subscribers

The Patent and Trademark Office announces a change in the point of contact for subscribers who have not been receiving all of their copies of the Official Gazette, Manual of Patent Examining Procedures Revisions, Annual Indices, or other patent and trademark publications. All correspondence and inquiries concerning subscription services including requests for reinstatement or renewal of subscriptions should be directed to:

Mr. Michael F. DiMario

Superintendent of Documents (SD)
U.S. Government Printing Office
Washington, D.C. 20401

Furthermore, the Superintendent of Documents advises that expiration notices are sent out approximately three months before the expiration date. However, subscribers should not rely on this schedule. If a notice is not received within two months of the expiration date, the subscriber should renew the subscription with the Superintendent of Documents. Attach a label from the envelope in which the publication is received, together with a check covering the amount of the subscription. if a deposit account with the Superintendent of Documents is to be used, include the deposit account number with the renewal.

This notice is effective with the publication date and supersedes the notice published on this subject in 969 O.G. 2, dated Mar. 14, 1978.

(174) Error in Code of Federal Regulations (C. F. R.) Rule 1.8, 37 C. F. R. 1.8

The following C. F. R. Correction appeared in the Federal Register, at 56 FR 14648, on April 11, 1991:

In the July 1, 1990 revision of title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations, on page 14, column two, § 1.8, paragraphs (a)(2)(xiv), (xv), and (xvi) were inadvertently placed after paragraph (b). These paragraphs should be correctly placed after paragraph (a)(2)(xiii) and before paragraph (b), in column one.

Rule 1.8 (37 C. F. R. § 1.8), which is entitled "Certificate of Mailing," sets out the conditions for the timely filing by first-class mail of papers utilizing the Certificate of Mailing procedure. Under Rule 1.8(a)(2), certain papers are excluded from the Certificate of Mailing procedure and will not be considered timely filed if received after the due date, unless deposited as Express Mail in compliance with Rule 1.10 (37 C. F. R. § 1.10). There are sixteen (16) exclusions, numbered 1.8(a)(2)(i) through (xvi). However, the list of exclusions, as printed in the July 1, 1990 revision of the C. F. R., is interrupted at 1.8(a)(2) (xiii) by paragraph 1.8(b), before it resumes with 1.8(a)(2)(xiv) through (xvi). Therefore, at first glance, it appears that there are only thirteen (13) exclusions. The exclusions for statements of use under Rule 2.88; extension requests under Rule 2.89 for filing a statement of use; and amendments to allege use in commerce under Rule 2.76 were inadvertently placed after paragraph (b).

Any appicant who relied to its detriment on the July 1, 1990 revision of the C. F. R. and utilized a Rule 1.8 Certificate of Mailing when filing either a statement of use or an extension request for filing a statement of use, resulting in abandonment of the application, may petition the Commissioner to revive its application. Further, any applicant who filed an amendment to allege use and relied to its detriment on the July 1, 1990 revision to the C. F. R., resulting in its amendment to allege use being considered untimely, may also petition the Commissioner for relief.

Pursuant to Rules 2.66 and 2.146(c), applicant must support its statement of detrimental reliance with an affidavit or declaration in accordance with Rule 2.20, averring that on a specific date between July 1, 1990 and the date of publication of this notice in the Official Gazette, petitioner filed one of the three relevant documents pursuant to Rule 1.8; relied on the 1990 revision of the C. F. R.; and believed that the relevant document was not excluded from filing under Rule 1.8 the petition fee is $100 per application. Rule 2.6(k).

(175) Recording of Documents Affecting Title

The Patent Office is liberalizing its policy concerning the recording of documents, other than assignments, which affect title to trademark registrations and applications. Under Rule 2.185 of the Trademark Rules of Practice, instruments affecting title to a trademark registration or application, and licenses of trademarks which are the subject of trademark registrations or applications, will be recorded even though the recording thereof may not serve as constructive notice under Section 10 of the Trademark Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1060).

(176) International Protection of Government Emblems and Seals

Change of Intent

The Patent and Trademark Office, Department of Commerce, intends to forward only the 50 State seals plus one department seal for each department listed in the publication "Seals and Other Devices in Use at the Government Printing Office" ("Seals") instead of the entire publication, as indicated on page 59366 of the Federal Register of Dec. 23, 1975.

Since the publication had been printed in 1975, it was assumed that few deletions and additions would be necessary. However, the response to the above notice, along with some necessary deletions, resulted in a large number of seals in the publication requiring deletion. This rendered the publication unacceptable for submission to the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO).

Therefore, the Patent and Trademark Office now intends to forward only the 50 State seals along with the departmental seal denoted "No. 1" for each department listed in the "Seals" publication. If this is not the preferred departmental or State seal, the department or State involved is requested to notify the Patent and Trademark Office by Sept. 21, 1976. This notification should either specify the number of the preferred seal, as it appears in the "Seals" publication, or provide a clear, black and white photograph, suitable for reproduction, of the preferred seal. The seal must be no larger than 1 1/2 inches in diameter.

These seals will then be forwarded to WIPO for protection under Article 6 of the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property.

(177) Recording of "Territorial Assignments" in the Assignment Division of the Patent and Trademark Office

It has been the practice of the Assignment Division for many years to refuse to record "territorial assignments," that is, assignments purporting to transfer rights in a trademark registration (not a concurrent use registration) for less than the entire United States. Hereinafter, such documents will be recorded as long as the requirements of the Rules of Practice are met by the documents submitted.

The Office is not addressing the validity or effect of such documents by recording same, but is merely recognizing that such transfers may affect title to a registered mark and therefore ought to be recorded. At the time a Section 8 affidavit or declaration or an application for renewal is filed, the Examiner of Trademarks will consider the effect of such a document.

(178) Helpful Hints

Assignment Cover Sheets

The Office developed PTO Form 1594, Recordation Form Cover Sheet (Trademarks), and PTO Form 1595, Recordation Form Cover Sheet (Patents), to facilitate submitting data required to record an assignment. The first versions of these forms have been available since Sept. 1992, and most assignments are now received with them. Both forms and their instructions will be updated later this year to remove ambiguities and incorporate suggestions received from customers. Until the revisions are completed, the Office will continue to work with practitioners to improve the utility of the current forms.

A practitioner recently noted that the current cover sheets for both patent and trademark assignments are not clear as to the proper entry of different execution dates (Item 3) when there are multiple assignors shown (Item 1). Pending redesign of the forms, the Office suggests when there are multiple assignors named in Item 1, number each assignor, and in Item 3, preface each execution date with the corresponding number. if all assignor information cannot be entered in the space provided for Item 1, enter "See Attached List" and proceed in the same manner. This will enable Assignment Branch staff to associate the correct date with the appropriate assignor.

Another practitioner called to our attention the fact that although the forms indicate "Total number of pages comprising cover sheet" (Item 9), Assignment Branch staff frequently cross out that entry and replace it with the total number of pages submitted, both in cover sheets and the assignment instrument itself. Soon after the forms were printed, Assignment Branch staff found they were better able to verify document integrity by using the total number of pages per submission. This number is then used as a cross-check as the assignment moves through the recordation process, receives reel and frame numbers, is microfilmed, and returned to the customer. Pending revisions to the forms, the preferred procedure is to indicate the total number of pages submitted, both in cover sheets and the attached assignment.

Additional comments or suggestions for improving either or both assignment cover sheets should be directed to Audrey Britt, Chief, Assignment Branch, at (703) 308-9706.

(179) Indexing Against a Recorded Assignment

It has been the practice of the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) to process requests for indexing against a recorded document by adding the newly requested property to the data base record for the previously recorded document, except if the previously recorded document was an assignment. The PTO only required a transmittal letter with the recording fee and not a copy of the previously recorded document to process the indexing request. While indexing the additional properties resulted in the assignment data base being updated, the indexing request itself was never microfilmed to become part of the official record.

Effective immediately, the PTO will no longer process such indexing requests. Such indexing requests do not comply with 37 CFR 3.11, 3.28, and 3.31 which require that each request for recordation include the document to be recorded and a cover sheet. Instead of filing an indexing request, a party should submit a cover sheet in conformance with 37 CFR 3.31, a true copy of the document, and the recording fee. PTO will assign a new recording date to that submission, update the assignment data base, and microfilm the cover sheet and document to become part of the official record.

(180) Flexible Working Hours

On Jan. 4, 1979 the Patent and Trademark Office is beginning a 15 month experiment with flexible working hours for its employees. Under the "flexitime" experiment many of the Office's employees will have flexibility to begin their workdays as early as 6:30 a.m. or as late as 9:30 a.m., and end their workdays between 3:00 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. Employees in every case shall of course work eight hours each day. All or most patent and trademark examiners will have flexible hours.

The public hours of the Patent and Trademark Office will continue to be 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. All units of the Office which deal directly with the public will be staffed to answer telephone calls and receive visitors during those hours. All employees will be on duty from 9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. The patent public search room will continue to operate from 8:00 a.m. until 8:00 p.m. and the trademark search room from 8:00 a.m. until 5:30 p.m.

With the advent of flexible hours, it will be advisable for members of the public to make appointments in advance when they wish to interview examiners.

PUBLIC ADVISORY COMMITTEE FOR TRADEMARK AFFAIRS

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Comerce
Action: Notice of Committee Charter Amendment
Summary: In accordance with the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, 5 U.S.C. App. (1976), and after consultation with GSA, it has been determined that an amendment of the charter of the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs is in the public interest in connection with the performance of duties imposed on the Department by law. The charter amendment was signed on December 3, 1990.

The charter has been amended as follows to: (1) broaden the topics that the Committee may address to include international trademark law, (2) allow the membership of the Committee to be drawn from a wider range of the trademark community rather than soley from the regular, associate and supplementary membership of the United States Trademark Association (USTA), (3) increase the number of members on the Committee fron 15 to 18, (4) provide for the direct selection of the members and appointment of the chairman of the Committee by the Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks rather than by the president of the USTA, and (5) set the term of membership at two years.
For Further Information Contact: Lynne Beresford, Committee Control Officer, Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231, telephone: (703) 557-7464, or Jan Jivatodi, Committee Management Analyst, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230, telephone: (202) 377-4217.
Supplementary Information: The Committee was first established in September 1970, and the latest charter renewal was signed on April 4, 1990. The charter amendment was approved on December 3, 1990, and provides for the following:

(1) The amendment broadens the objectives and duties of the Committee to specifically embrace international trademark law. The previous charter permitted the Committee to advise the Patent and Trademark Office only on the steps which could be taken to increase the efficiency and effectiveness of the administration of the Trademark Act and to provide a continuing source of knowledge from the private sector to the Government. Given the increased interest within the trademark community and the Patent and Trademark Office in international trademark law, especially in the Madrid Protocol and harmonization, it is desirable that the charter refer explicitly to international trademark law.

(2) Section 5(b)(2) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act requires that the membership of advisory committees be "fairly balanced in terms of the points of view represented...." The amendment furthers that goal by permitting the membership to be drawn from a wide range of the trademark community including users of the public search room, academia, members of the public at large, and the business community.

(3) The amendment increases the number of members on the Committee from 15 to 18. The increase was needed to permit additional members, from different sectors of the trademark community, to be added to the Committee without having to displace any of the current Committee members.

(4) Section 5(b)(2) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act requires that "the membership be fairly balanced in terms of the points of view represented..." The amendment futhers that goal by permitting the chairman to be appointed, and the members of the Committee to be selected by the Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(5) The charter of the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs did not set terms for members. In order to promote more orderly administration of the Committee, the amendment sets the terms of the members at two years. Members will serve at the discretion of the Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks. Appointements, when vacancies occur, shall be for the remainder of the unexpired term.

Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs

Action: Notice of Renewal
Summary: In accordance with the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, 5 U.S.C. App. (1976), and after consultation with GSA, it has been determined that the renewal of the charter of the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs is in the public interest in connection with the performance of duties imposed on the Department by law.
Supplementary Information: The Committee was first established in September 1970, and its latest renewal was signed on April 3, 1992. The Committee's purpose is to advise the Patent and Trademark Office concerning steps which can be taken to increase the efficiency and effectiveness of administration of the Trademark Act and to provide a continuing source of knowledge from the private sector to the Government in the area of international and domestic trademark law.

Committee members are drawn from the trademark bar, business and industry, academia, the public at large, and users of the public search room, and are selected by the Assistant Secretary of Commerce and the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks to assure a balanced representation among members of the trademark community. The Committee will function solely as an advisory body, and in compliance with the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act.
For Further Information Contact: Lynne Beresford, Committee Control Officer, Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231, telephone: (703) 305-9464, or Jan Jivatodi, Committee Management Analyst, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230, telephone: (202) 377-4299.

(185) Advisory Committee for Patents and Trademarks; Establishment

In accordance with the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (5 U.S.C. App. 2.) and General Services Administration Interim Rule on Federal Advisory Committee Management, 41 CFR Part 101-6, as amended, and after consultation with GSA, the Secretary of Commerce has determined that the establishment of the Advisory Committee for Patents and Trademarks is in the public interest in connection with the performance of duties imposed on the Department by law.

1. The Committee will advise the Patent and Trademark Office on broad policy issues involving both patents and trademarks, and the overall operation of the Office including matters concerning office-wide Automation programs.

2. The Committee will consist of at least 10 but no more than 18 members to be appointed by the Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks to assure a balanced representation among patent and trademark attorneys, corporate executives, technical research directors, inventors, the judiciary, professional patent and trademark searchers, information specialists and publishers, automation experts, consumer groups, entrepreneurs, and educators. The Committee will function solely as an advisory body and in compliance with the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act. Its charter will be filed under the Act, 15 days from the date of the publication of this notice.

Interested persons are invited to submit comments regarding the establishment of the Advisory Committee for Patents and Trademarks. Such comments, as well as any inquiries, may be addressed to the Executive Assistant to the Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20231, phone: 703-557-3071, or the Department's Committee Management Analyst, phone: 202-377-4217.

(189) Change in Legal Holidays

The Commissioner's Notice of Sept. 25, 1979, "Change in Legal Holidays," is hereby rescinded in view of Public Law 98-144, enacted Nov. 2, 1983, which amended the listing of legal public holidays in 5 USC § 6103. That amendment took effect in 1986 and added a new legal holiday relating to the birthday of Martin Luther King, Jr. This new holiday is designated for the third Mon. in Jan.

Section 6103, as amended, reads as follows:

New Year's Day, Jan. 1
Birthday of Martin Luther King, Jr., the third Mon. in Jan.
Washington's Birthday, the third Mon. in Feb.
Memorial Day, the last Mon. in May Independence Day, July 4
Labor Day, the first Mon. in Sept.
Columbus Day, the second Mon. in Oct.
Veterans Day, Nov. 11
Thanksgiving Day, the fourth Thurs. in Nov.
Christmas Day, Dec. 25.

Each of the holidays enumerated will constitute a "Federal holiday within the District of Columbia," as referred to in Section 21, Title 35, United States Code. In accordance with 37 CFR 1.6(a) and 1.10(a), the Patent and Trademark Office will not receive papers on these holidays. Actions required to be taken on such days may be taken on the next succeeding day that the Office is open for business in accordance with 37 CFR 1.7.

(190) Filing of Papers During Unscheduled Closings of the Patent and Trademark Office

When the Patent and Trademark Office is officially closed by Executive Order of the President or by the Office of Personnel Management for an entire day because of some unscheduled event, such as adverse weather conditions, the Patent and Trademark Office will consider that day as a "federal holiday within the District of Columbia" under 35 U.S.C. § 21. Any action or fee due that day will be considered as timely for the purposes of, e.g., 35 U.S.C. §§ 119, 133 and 151, if the action is taken, or fee paid, on the next succeeding business day on which the Patent and Trademark Office is open. When the Patent and Trademark Office is open for business during any part of a business day between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., papers are due on that day even though the Office may be officially closed for some period of time during the business day because of an unscheduled event. The procedures of 37 CFR 1.8 or 1.10 may be used, as appropriate, for the filing of papers. On any day the Office is open for at least part of the day, papers may also be deposited up to midnight in any boxes which are provided by the Patent and Trademark Office under 37 CFR 1.6(c).

(194) Regulations Relating to the Use of Patent and Trademark Office Records or Search Facilities and Enforcement Procedures

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Department of Commerce
Action: Notice
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is revising its regulations relating to use of Patent and Trademark Office records or search facilities and procedures for enforcing these regulations. These regulations and their enforcement are necessary to promote an atmosphere conducive to research and to maintain the integrity of the files and records in the Patent and Trademark Office.
Effective Date: July 1, 1987
For Further Information Contact: Theresa A. Brelsford, Assistant Commissioner for Administration, Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231, (703) 557-2290.
Supplementary Information: The procedures will apply to all visitors to the Patent and Trademark Office.

Visitors are reminded that unauthorized removal of government material or property may be prosecuted as a criminal felony under the provisions of 18 U.S.C. 2071, in addition to the imposition of administrative sanctions contained in these procedures.

Regulations Relating to the Use of Patent and Trademark Office Records or Search Facilities

These regulations are established for all persons using the facilities of the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO), and will be appropriately enforced as specified herein.

Smoking within PTO is prohibited except in designated areas (41 CFR 101-20.109-10).

All persons using the facilities of the PTO are subject to regulations governing conduct on property under the charge of the General Services Administration which appear in 41 CFR Subpart 101-20.3 (41 CFR §§ 101-20.300 through 101-20.315).

VOL 1170 ISS 1 JAN 3 1995 UMI

Packages, briefcases and other personal effects brought into the PTO, as well as storage lockers provided for general use, are subject to search by authorized personnel for reasonable cause under the provisions of 41 CFR 101-20.301.

Unauthorized removal of PTO files, documents, reference materials, or any government property is prohibited. In addition to the administrative sanctions specified in these regulations, violators may also be subject to arrest and prosecution under the provisions of 18 U.S.C. 2071 which carries a possible "fine of $2,000 or imprisonment for not more than three years, or both", and/or the violator may be subject to discipline under the PTO Code of Professional Responsibility if he or she is a practitioner as defined in 37 CFR 10.1(r).

All persons must comply with posted Official Notices and with verbal requests made by PTO personnel for compliance with these regulations.

1. User Passes

a. Individuals visiting any area of the PTO must obtain a valid, non-transferable user pass and wear it visibly displayed at all times while on the premises.

b. Permanent User Passes may be obtained from the Manager of the Patent Public Search Room. The first Permanent User Pass is issued at no charge. Permanent User Passes subsequently issued as replacements will be provided at a charge of $5.00 per Pass. The holder of a Permanent User Pass may be issued one (1) Temporary User Pass, within a ninety (90) day period at no charge. A request for a second Temporary User Pass during the same ninety day period will require the purchase of a Permanent User Pass at the required replacement fee.

c. Temporary User Passes may be obtained by visitors at no charge from the managers of the Patent or Trademark Public Search Rooms and are valid through the expiration date stamped thereon.

d. Permanent and Temporary User Passes must be surrendered to the PTO upon request for cause.

2. Use of Search Areas

a. The Patent and Trademark Office facilities may be used by visitors only during the hours specified, Monday through Friday, and are closed to the public on Saturdays, Sundays and Legal Holidays:

Patent Public Search Rm., Mezzanine and Microfilm Center	8:00 a.m.-8:00 p.m.*
Trademark Public Search Rm.	8:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m.*
Assignment Search Rm., Public Service Center, and Scientific Library	8:30 a.m.-5:00 p.m.*
Patent Examining Organizations Trademark Examining Law Offices and all other public access areas of the PTO	8:30 a.m.-5:00 p.m.*

* Clearing of these areas would begin prior to this time to ensureall visitors are out of the building by the time designated.

b. Materials available for search purposes in the Patent and Assignment Search Rooms and patent application file histories shall not be removed from those areas.

c. Trademark registrations in the Trademark Search Library shall not be removed from the secured bundles in the registered file. Photocopying from bound volumes of trademarks is prohibited.

d. Trademark files shall not be removed from PTO space in Crystal Plz. Bldg. 2.

e. Use of Patent Examining Group search areas is strictly limited to searching materials unavailable in the Patent Public Search Room or the Scientific Library. Examining Group search areas may be used only when such use does not conflict with the regular business of the organization.

f. Visitors to a Patent Examining Group Search Area must register with the designated Group Search Area representative indicating the times entering and leaving the area, User Pass number, and the class(es) and subclass(es) to be searched.

g. Documents removed from the files of Patent Examining Group search areas must be immediately returned to their proper location after use. Documents shall not be removed from the area in which they were obtained without specific written authorization from a Group Director or Supervisory Patent Examiner in the Examining Group where the material(s) reside. Such authorization will not be given for U.S. Patents and other material readily available through the Scientific Library.

3. PROHIBITIONS

The following are prohibited:

a. Conduct which is rude or abusive to PTO employees or others.

b. Smoking and consumption of food or beverages in other than designated areas.

c. Loud talking or any conduct which may be disruptive to others.

d. Use of radios, televisions, typewriters, photographic equipment, dictation equipment and other mechanical, electrical or electronic items without specific authorization from an Assistant Commissioner of the PTO.

e. Improper use, mutilation, destruction or unauthorized removal of PTO records, documents or government property.

f. Reserving seats or work areas.

g. Affixing messages to walls, telephone booths or other government property, except designated message boards.

h. Use of the PTO as a mailing address, use of PTO stationery, and use of PTO emblem or seal.

i. Use of PTO telephones and other office equipment, such as copiers, etc., except where specifically provided for public use. This includes the use of PTO telephones to receive incoming calls.

j. Use of any computer terminal other than the TRAM terminals provided for public use in the Trademark Search Library, and the CASPIR and FOUR-PHASE terminals (or CASSIS terminal if the FOUR-PHASE terminals are not operating) provided in the Patent Public Search Room for public use.

k. Placing PTO files or documents, government property or government owned reference materials in rental storage lockers.

l. Use of rental storage lockers without depositing the required fee or holding the key to a storage locker beyond the specified maximum period of use.

(195) Procedures for Enforcement of the Regulations Relating to the Use of Patent and Trademark Office Records or Search Facilities

Under applicable statutes and regulations, including 40 U.S.C. 486(c), 41 CFR 101-20.3, and appropriate sections of Department Organization Orders 10-14 and 30-3 of the Department of Commerce, the procedures appearing below are established.

1. Violations involving unauthorized removal of PTO files, documents, records or government property.

a. Each observed or reported violation will be investigated.

b. Persons found in possession of PTO material or government property, other than in areas or under circumstances where possession is specifically authorized, shall be required to immediately surrender the material or property and if appropriate, their User Pass. An oral explanation for the possession of such material or property will be requested by the PTO.

c. Each incident involving unauthorized possession of PTO material or government property shall be immediately reported by telephone or in person to the Office or Group Director of the area from which the material or property was taken.

d. If it appears to the Office or Group Director that possession of the materials was inadvertent or otherwise unintentional, no further action will be taken. The materials will be replaced appropriately and the person's User Pass will be returned.

e. If it appears to the Office or Group Director that possession of the materials was intentional, all persons involved shall be required to submit written statements detailing the circumstances and, in the case of a PTO User/visitor, show cause why the User Pass and visitor privileges should not be suspended or revoked. Statements will also be obtained from other witnesses where appropriate. The material or property shall be secured for possible use as evidence by the Office or Group Director, if appropriate.

f. If the involved person possesses a Permanent User Pass, it shall be retained and forwarded with the written statements to the Assistant Commissioner for Administration. A Temporary User Pass may be issued as replacement by the Assistant Commissioner for Administration, pending action on an alleged violation.

g. If the involved person possesses only a Temporary User Pass it shall be retained and forwarded with the written statements to the Assistant Commissioner for Administration within two weeks of the incident. No replacement will be provided pending action by the Assistant Commissioner for Administration.

2. Other violations of public use regulations.

a. Each observed or reported violation will be investigated. The persons involved shall be informed of the nature of the violation and requested to comply with regulations.

b. If it appears that the violation was inadvertent or otherwise unintentional and the involved person immediately conforms to the regulations, no further action will be taken.

c. If the violation appears to be intentional or if the person involved refuses to comply with a verbal request from a PTO employee or continues to violate the regulations after being requested to comply, the person shall be required to surrender his or her User Pass to the PTO. A written report of each violation and the User Pass will be submitted to the Assistant Commissioner for Administration for a final decision. User Pass replacement procedures shall be as specified in paragraphs 1.f. or 1.g.

d. If the Assistant Commissioner for Administration determines that a reported violation was inadvertent or otherwise not intentional, the User Pass will be returned and no further action will be taken. In all other cases, the Assistant Commissioner for Administration will request the person involved to show cause in writing why his or her User Pass and visitor privileges should not be suspended or revoked.

e. A written decision will be rendered by the Assistant Commissioner for Administration after consideration of any timely submitted response.

f. In the case of a written decision by the Assistant Commissioner for Administration adverse to a practitioner as defined by 37 CFR 10.1(r), a copy of the written decision will be forwarded to the Director of the Office of Enrollment and Discipline for whatever further action, including sanctions, as may be appropriate under the PTO Code of Professional Responsibility.

3. Factors to be Considered in Assessing Penalties.

a. Penalties will be determined on a case by case basis.

b. Prior violations of regulations will be considered when assessing whether any violation is willful, deliberate or intentional, and when determining the penalty to be imposed.

c. Penalties may be assessed as follows, depending on circumstances:

(1) For a first offense: from a written warning to a 30 day suspension of the User Pass and visitor privileges.

(2) For a second offense: a suspension of the User Pass and visitor privileges from 5 days to one year.

(3) For a third or subsequent offense: from a suspension of 30 days to permanent revocation of the User Pass and visitor privileges.

(4) For any single serious or aggravated violation: suspension of the User Pass and visitor privileges for up to one year or permanent revocation of the User Pass and visitor privileges. A serious or aggravated violation is defined as any instance involving multiple violations of regulations during a single event or acts which also constitute a violation of Federal or local criminal law.

4. Record of Penalties Imposed.

A record of penalties imposed for given violations will be maintained by the Assistant Commissioner for Administration. These records will be made available to the public upon request.

5. Use of Public Facilities During Suspension or After Revocation of User Pass.

No individual will be permitted to use the facilities specified in these regulations while his or her User Pass is suspended or revoked.

6. Absence of Assistant Commissioner for Administration.

In the absence of the Assistant Commissioner for Administration, the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Administration will carry out the responsibilities assigned by these regulations.

7. Absence of Designated PTO Officials.

In the absence of any Designated PTO Official, a Deputy or Acting Official will carry out the responsibilities assigned by these regulations.

8. Assistance.

PTO employees may, when necessary, request the Security Officer of the Patent and Trademark Office or the Federal Protective Service or their contractors to provide assistance in carrying out their assigned responsibilities in paragraphs 1 and 2.

9. Appeals.

Decisions rendered by the Assistant Commissioner for Administration may be reviewed on petition to the Commissioner.

(196) Rules Concerning Conduct on Patent and Trademark Premises

1. Applicability

These rules apply to all premises under the charge and control of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) through the General Services Administration and to all persons entering such premises.

2. Admission to Property

Patent and Trademark Office facilities are closed to the public outside of normal working hours. During normal working hours, a valid User Pass is required to enter PTO premises.

The individual's User Pass must be displayed at all times while on PTO premises.

3. Preservation of Property/Conduct on PTO Premises

The following activities are prohibited on PTO premises:

a. Improperly disposing of rubbish; willfully destroying or damaging property; theft of property; creating a hazard to persons or things; and placing Government documents or materials in storage lockers.

b. The willfull and unlawfull concealment, removal, mutilation, obliteration or destruction, or attempts to do so, or, with intent to do so, or taking and carrying away of any record, book, paper, document, or other things from the facilities shall result in a fine of not more than $2,000 or imprisonment of not more than 3 years, or both. See 18 U.S.C. § 2071.

c. Removal of papers, materials, or other Government property from designated areas. Within a designated area, papers or other Government property must be returned to its proper location after use, unless otherwise posted.

d. Using PTO premises and facilities as a place of business. It is prohibited to reserve work areas, use PTO as a mailing address, use PTO stationery, or a PTO telephone number as a personal telephone number.

4. Inspection

Packages, briefcases, storage lockers and other containers in the possession of visitors, employees, or other persons arriving at, working at, visiting, or departing from the PTO are subject to inspection. See 41 CFR § 101-20.301.

5. Disturbances

Disorderly conduct or other conduct which creates a loud or unusual noise or a nuisance which impedes or disrupts the performance of official duties by Government employees or which prevents the public from obtaining the administrative services provided on the property in a timely manner is prohibited. See 41 CFR § 101-20.305.

6. Conformity with signs and directions

Persons on the PTO premises shall at all times comply with the official signs of a prohibitory, regulatory or directory nature and with the lawful direction of PTO employees.

No rude or abusive conduct to PTO employees and fellow users.

No food or beverages are permitted.

No smoking except in designated areas.

No mechanical or electronic equipment such as radios, televisions, typewriters, computers, or photographic equipment may be used without prior permission from the Assistant Commissioner for Administration.

No use of PTO telephone and office equipment, except as specifically designated for public use.

7. Penalties and other laws.

Nothing in these rules shall be construed to abrogate any other Federal laws or regulations or any State and local laws and regulations applicable to any area in which property under the charge and control of the PTO through the U.S. General Services Administration is situated. See 40 U.S.C. §§ 318(c) and 486(c).

41 CFR § 101-20.315 provides that whoever is found guilty of violating the rules of conduct on Federal property contained in 41 CFR § 101-20.3 while on any property under the charge and control of the U.S. General Services Administration is subject to a fine of not more than $50, imprisonment of not more than 30 days, or both. See 40 U.S.C. § 318c.

Failure to follow these rules may result in immediate removal from the premises, suspension of user privileges, and/or enforcement of any criminal sanctions that may apply.

(197) DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Patent and Trademark Office

Effect of December 1, 1993 Amendments to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedures on Trademark Trial and Appeal Board Inter Partes Proceedings

Trademark Rule 2.116(a) provides that, except as otherwise provided, and wherever applicable and appropriate, procedure and practice in Trademark Trial and Appeal Board (Board) inter partes proceedings shall be governed by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedures. Trademark Rule 2.120(a) provides, in part, that the provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure relating to discovery shall apply in opposition, cancellation, interference, and concurrent use registration proceedings except as otherwise provided in Trademark Rule 2.120; and that the opening of discovery is governed by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Thus, where the Board has its own rule concerning a particular matter of practice or procedure, that rule governs; if there is no Board rule concerning the matter, the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure apply, where applicable and appropriate.

On December 1, 1993, certain of the rules in the Federal Rules of Civil Procedures were amended, and one new rule was added. Specifically, Rules 1, 4, 5, 11, 12, 15, 16, 26, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 36, 37, 38, 50, 52, 53, 54, 58, 71A, 72, 73, 74, 75, and 76 were amended, and new Rule 4.1 was added. Included in the amendments are changes in the discovery rules to require that the parties to a civil action: (1) make a series of automatic disclosures, during the pretrial stages of the proceedings, of certain evidence; (2) file the disclosures with the court; (3) meet, early in the proceeding, to discuss, inter alia, the automatic disclosure and to develop a plan for discovery; and, (4) transmit to the court a written report outlining the discovery plan. The timing of some of these matters is tied to the timing of a scheduling conference to be held, or a scheduling order to be issued, by the court. The timing and sequence of other of the matters depends upon the direction of the court. Further, parties are prohibited from seeking any of the traditional forms of discovery until after they have met and developed their discovery plan.

The Patent and Trademark Office (Office) believes that the application of the cited provisions in inter partes proceedings before the Board would increase the complexity and cost of the proceeedings and would be unduly burdensome both to the Board and the parties. For these reasons, the Office is now of the opinion that these provisions would have a detrimental effect on, and are not appropriate for, Board proceedings. Moreover, the Office's Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs has recommended that incorporation of the amendments in Board practice be deferred until the Office can evaluate the effects of the amendments on civil actions. On the other hand, some of the provisions added by the amendments are not objectionable, and others so clearly do not apply in, and/or are not appropriate for, Board proceedings that they need not be mentioned.

Accordingly, application of Rule 2.120(a) is hereby waived, in pertinent part, to the extent that the following provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, as amended, which otherwise arguably would apply in Board proceedings, and which would, in the opinion of the Office, have a detrimental effect on those proceedings, shall not be applied therein unless and until further notice is given:

1. Rule 16(b) [requirement that court issue a scheduling order, after consulting with parties by scheduling conference, telephone, mail, or other suitable means]

2. Rules 26(a)(1)-26(a)(4) [requirements for series of automatic disclosures of evidence]

3. Rule 26(b)(4) [requirements for taking discovery from a person identified, in automatic disclosure, as an expert whose opinions may be presented at trial]

4. Rule 26(d), first sentence [prohibition against the taking of discovery before the parties have met to discuss, inter alia, the automatic disclosures and to develop a plan for discovery]

5. Rule 26(e)(1) [requirement for supplementation of automatic disclosures]

6. Rule 26(f) [requirement that the parties meet, early in the proceeding, to discuss, inter alia, the automatic disclosure and to develop a plan for discovery]

7. Rule 26(g)(1) [signature requirements for automatic disclosures]

8.Rule 30(a)(2)(C) [requirement that a party obtain leave of court or written stipulation to take a deposition prior to the Rule 26(f) meeting of the parties]

9. Rule 33(a), last sentence [requirement that a party obtain leave of court or written stipulation to serve interrogatories prior to the Rule 26(f) meeting of the parties]

10. Rule 34(b), last sentence of first paragraph [requirement that a party obtain leave of court or written stipulation to serve request for production of documents and things prior to the Rule 26(f) meeting of the parties]

11. Rule 36(a), last sentence of first paragraph [requirement that a party obtain leave of court or written stipulation to serve request for admission prior to the Rule 26(f) meeting of the parties]

12. Rule 37(a)(2)(A) [provision of motion to compel disclosure and for sanctions for failure to make automatic disclosure]

13. Rule 37(c)(1) [description of sanctions which may be imposed for failure to make, or supplement, automatic disclosure]

14. Rule 37(g) [provision of sanctions for failure to participate in good faith in the framing of a discovery plan]

Discovery in Board inter partes proceedings will continue to open as it did prior to December 1, 1993 amendments to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, that is, as provided in those rules as they existed on November 30, 1993. Thus, interrogatories, requests for production of documents and things, and requests for admission may be served upon the plaintiff after the proceeding commences (i.e., after the notice of opposition or petition for cancellation is filed, and after the mailing by the Board of the notice of institution in an interference or concurrent use proceeding), and upon the defendant with or after service of the complaint by the Board. Discovery depositions generally may be taken by any party after commencement of the proceeding. Board's permission to take a discovery deposition must be obtained in certain situations, including a situation in which the plaintiff seeks to take a deposition prior to the expiration of 30 days after service of the complaint by the Board upon any defendant, except where a defendant has served a notice of taking deposition or otherwise sought discovery or where the notice of deposition: (1) states that the proposed deponent is about to go out of the United States and will be unavailable for examination unless the person's deposition is taken before expiration of the 30-day period, and, (2) sets forth facts to support the statement.

Similarly, the practice embodied in Rules 33(a), 34(b), and 36(a) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, as they read on November 30, 1993, that a defendant may serve responses to interrogatories, requests for production of documents and things, and requests for admission either within 30 days after service of a discovery request [35 days if service of the request for discovery is made by first-class mail, "Express Mail," or overnight courier—Trademark Rule 2.119(c)], or within 45 days after service of the complaint upon it by the Board, whichever is later, will continue to be followed in Board proceedings.

The Patent and Trademark Office will, in due course, publish a notice of proposed rule making to amend, as may be necessary, the trademark rules governing practice and procedure in inter partes proceedings before the Board.

Acting Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks

(198) Interlocutory Decisions by the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board

Only final decisions of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board are subject to judicial review. Some confusion may exist in inter partes trademark proceedings as to whether certain decisions of the Board are "final" fort purpose of judicial review.

An example where confusion may arise is a case in which (1) an opposition is filed, (2) applicant counterclaims for cancellation of a registration relied upon by an opposer, and (3) the Board renders a dicision (generally on summary judgment) on the opposition, but sets the counterclaim for trial. Under these circumstances, there is no final order of the Board, because a decision has not been entered on the counterclaim.

The party losing the opposition may feel compelled to seek judicial review within two months of the Board's decision to "prserve" its rights. But such an appeal appears to be premature under Copeland's Enterprises, Inc. v. CNV, Inc. 887 F.2d 1065, 12 USPQ2d 1563 (fed. Cir. 1989) (in banc). Copeland's is not the only appeal which has been dismissed because it was taken from an interlocutory decision of the Board. See Cortex Corporation v. W.L. Gore & Associates, Inc., No. 91-1016 (Fed. Cir. January 14, 1991)(unpublished), and Kellogg Co. v. Pack'em Enterprises, Inc., No. 90-1336 (Fed. Cir. Sept. 27, 1990) (unpublished).

In an effort to (1) minimize disruption in proceeding pending before the Board, (2) eliminate unnecessary appeals and filing of civil actions, only to have the appeal or civil action dismissed as premature, and (3) provide some certainty to parties and their attorneys as to when an appeal is timely, the Board will, when resolving a merits issue prior to final judgement, generally indicate that it has entered an "interlocutory" order in the proceeding and further set the time for seeking judicial review of the "interlocutory" order to expire two months from the date a final order is entered in the proceeding.

(200) Patent and Trademark Office
37 CFR Part 10
Cross Appeals in Patent and Trademark Office Disciplinary Proceedings

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Notice of proposed rulemaking.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) proposes to amend its rules of practice in practitioner disciplinary proceedings. The proposed rule change provides for a time period for a party to a disciplinary proceeding to file a cross-appeal, after the other party (the respondent or the Director of the Office of Enrollment and Discipline) to the proceeding has appealed from an initial decision of the administrative law judge to the Commissioner. Currently, PTO rules do not provide for a time period for filing a cross-appeal in a disciplinary case. A party in a disciplinary case may be interested in appealing only if the other party has appealed. Allowing a time period for filing a cross-appeal will give parties to disciplinary cases more flexibility after an initial decision by the administrative law judge. A party need not file a contingent appeal simply to preserve rights in the event the other party files an appeal.
Dates: Written comments must be received on or before Aug. 20, 1993 to ensure consideration. An oral hearing will not be conducted.
Addresses: Address written comments to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, marked to the attention of Fred E. McKelvey, Solicitor. Written comments will be available for public inspection in suite 918, on the 9th floor of Crystal Park II, located at 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va.
For Further Information Contact: Fred E. McKelvey by telephone at (703) 305-9035 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: Pursuant to 37 CFR § 10.132 et seq., the Director of the Office of Enrollment and Discipline within the PTO may initiate a disciplinary proceeding against a practitioner. If the proceeding is contested by the practitioner and the Director continues to prosecute, an administrative law judge for the Department of Commerce enters an initial decision which includes findings of fact, conclusions of law and an order. 37 CFR § 10.154.

Either party to the proceeding may appeal from the initial decision of the administrative law judge to the Commissioner with in thirty (30) days of the date of the decision. 37 CFR § 10.155(a). However, § 10.155(a) does not currently address the filing of a cross-appeal. That is, no period of time is specified for the non-appealing party to file a cross-appeal.

With regard to interference proceedings, 37 CFR § 1.304(a) addresses the filing of cross-appeals by stating in pertinent part that:

> the time for filing a cross-appeal [to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit] or cross-action [in a district court] expires (1) 14 days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint or (2) two months after the date of decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, whichever is later.

The proposed rule change is similiar to the cross-appeal authorized in interference proceedings.

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

The proposed rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612 and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that the proposed rule change will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number ofsmall entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)). The principle impact of the proposed change is to provide a time period to file a cross- appeal in a PTO disciplinary proceeding.

The PTO has determined that the proposed rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers; individuals; industries; Federal, state or local government agencies; or geographic regions. There will be no significant effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of the United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The PTO has also determined that this notice has no federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The proposed rule change will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no record keeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

List of Subjects in 35 CFR Part 10

Administrative practice and procedure, Inventions and patents, Lawyers, Reporting and record keeping requirements

For the reasons set out in the preamble, and pursuant to the authority contained in 35 U.S.C. 6, the PTO proposes to amend 37 CFR part 10 as follows, wherein deletions are indicated by brackets ([]) and additions by arrows (►◄):

PART 10-REPRESENTATION OF OTHERS BEFORE THE PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR part 10 would continue to read as follows:

Authority: 5 U.S.C. 500; 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6, 31, 32, 41.

2. Section 10.155 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 10.155 Appeal to the Commissioner.

(a) Within thirty (30) days from the date of the initial decision of the administrative law judge under § 10.154, either party may appeal to the Commissioner. ►If an appeal is taken, the time for filing a cross-appeal expires (1) 14 days after service of the appeal or (2) 30 days after the date of the initial decision of the administrative law judge, whichever is later.◄ An appeal ►or cross-appeal◄ by the respondent will be filed with the Director in duplicate and will include exceptions to the decisions of the administrative law judge and supporting reasons for those exceptions. If the Director files the appeal ►or cross-appeal◄, the Director shall serve a copy of the appeal ►or cross-appeal◄. Within thirty (30) days after receipt of an appeal ►, cross-appeal◄ or copy thereof, the other party may file a reply brief, in duplicate with the Director. If the Director files the reply brief, the Director shall serve a copy of the reply brief. Upon the filing of an appeal►, cross-appeal, if any,◄ and[a]reply brief ►s◄, if any, the Director shall transmit the entire record to the Commissioner.

(201) Request for Information to Aid in the Implementation of the Recordation Requirements of Section 8 of the Fastener Quality Act

Action:Notice; Request for Information
Summary:The Patent and Trademark Office(PTO) is seeking information concerning alphanumeric designations currently in use by manufacturers or distributors of industrial fasteners. These alphanumeric designations may be used to signify the physical characteristics, strength, chemical content, size or other information about the fastener upon which they appear or they may be used as common law trademarks to identify and distinguish the manufacturer or distributor of such fasteners. The PTO needs information concerning these alphanumeric designations in order to administer the proposed fastener recordal system published on Aug. 17, 1992, at 57 F.R. 37060, 37061 to implement the requirements of Section 8 of the Fastener Quality Act, Public Law 101-592. Therefore, the PTO is requesting from fastener industry associations, standards bodies, or individual manufacturers or distributors, any general or specific information available concerning alphanumeric designations currently in use within the industry, whether as unregistered trademarks, as marks required by a standard, or for any other purpose.

Date: Comments should be submitted on or before Sept. 27,1993. Comments received after this date will be considered if possible.

Addresses: All comments concerning alphanumeric designations should be addressed to Lynne G. Beresford, Trademark Legal Administrator, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, telephone number (703) 305-9464.

For Further Information Contact: Lynne G. Beresford, Trademark Legal Administrator, (703) 305-9464.

Supplementary Information: In 1990, Congress enacted the Fastener Quality Act, Public Law 101-592 (the Act) to protect public safety, deter introduction of non-conforming fasteners into commerce, improve the tracing of fasteners used in critical applications, and provide customers with greater assurance that fasteners meet stated specifications. The Act requires that certain fasteners sold in commerce conform to the specifications to which they are represented to be manufactured; provides for accreditation of laboratories engaged in fastener testing; and requires the inspection, testing and certification (in accordance with standardized methods) of fasteners covered by the Act.

Section 8 of the Act prohibits offering fasteners for sale that are required by an applicable standard or specification to bear a raised or depressed insignia identifying the manufacturer or private label distributor unless such manufacturer or distributor has complied with the requirements of a program of the Secretary of Commerce for the recordation of such insignia in order to ensure that the fasteners can be traced to the manufacturer or distributor.

The program for recordation of fastener insignias, established by the Secretary of Commerce and administered by the Patent and Trademark Office, will allow the owner of a mark, which is the subject of a duly filed trademark application or registration, to apply for recordal of that mark as its fastener insignia. However, if the manufacturer or private label distributor does not wish to use a trademark as its fastener insignia, it will be permitted to apply for a unique alphanumeric designation for that purpose.

The PTO wants to ensure that it does not inadvertently issue an alphanumeric designation that is either already in use by a manufacturer or distributor as its identifying insignia, or a designation already in use by the industry to signify the physical characteristics, strength, chemical content, size or other information about the fastener. For that reason, the PTO is requesting from fastener industry associations, standards bodies, or individual manufacturers or distributors, any general or specific information available concerning alphanumeric designations currently in use within the industry, whether as unregistered trademarks, as marks required by a standard, or for any other purpose. The PTO does not need information concerning specific registered alphanumeric trademarks, as that information is readily available from the PTO's database.

Notice of Hearings and Request for Comments on Preliminary Draft of the Report of the Working Group on Intellectual Property Rights

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Notice of hearings and request for public comments
Summary: The Working Group on Intellectual Property Rights of the White House Information Infrastructure Task Force has issued a preliminary draft of its report, "Intellectual Property and the National Information Infrastructure," and is soliciting public comment. Copies of the preliminary report may be obtained by calling the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office at (703) 305-9300 or by sending a written request to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Box 4, Washington, D.C. 20231, marked to the attention of Terri A. Southwick, Office of Legislative and International Affairs. The Working Group will hold public hearings on the preliminary report in Washington, D.C., Chicago and Los Angeles.
Dates: The public hearing in Chicago will be held on September 14, 1994, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The public hearing in Los Angeles will be held on September 16, 1994, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The public hearing in Washington, D.C., will be held on September 22 and 23, 1994 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Requests to present oral testimony at the Chicago or Los Angeles hearings must be received on or before September 7, 1994. Requests to present oral testimony at the Washington, D.C., hearings must be received on or before September 15, 1994. As announced in the previous notice regarding the submission of written comments on the preliminary report, published at 59 Fed. Reg. 35912 (July 14, 1994), all written comments must be submitted on or before September 7, 1994. Comments in reply to initial written comments may be submitted no later than September 28, 1994.
Addresses: The hearing in Chicago will be held at the University of Chicago, Ida Noyes Hall, 1212 East 591h Street, Chicago, Illinois. The hearing in Los Angeles will be held at the University of California at Los Angeles, 1100 Schoenberg Hall, 405 Hilgard Avenue (Southeast side of UCLA Campus), Los Angeles, California. The hearings in Washington, D.C. will be held at the Andrew W. Mellon Auditorium, Constitution Avenue between 12th and 14th Streets, N.W., Washington, D.C. Requests to present oral testimony should be submitted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Box 4, Washington, D.C. 20231, marked to the attention of Terri A. Southwick, Attorney-Advisor, Office of Legislative and International Affairs. Requests should specify the date and location of the hearing at which the requester wishes to present oral testimony, and should include the name, address, telephone number, fax number and professional affiliation, if any, of the requester.

The transcripts of the hearings will be made available for public inspection 10 days after the hearings at the Scientific and Technical Information Center of the Patent and Trademark Office, Room 2C01, Crystal Plaza 3/4, 2021 Jefferson Davis Highway, Arlington, Virginia, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, except holidays. Information about obtaining copies of transcripts of the hearings may be obtained by calling (703) 305-9300 no sooner than 10 days after the hearings.
For Further Information Contact: Terri A. Southwick or Michael O'Neil, Office of Legislative and International Affairs, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Box 4, Washington, D.C. 20231. Telephone: (703) 305-9300; Fax: (703) 305-8885.
Supplementary Information: The Working Group on Intellectual Property Rights, chaired by Assistant Secretary of Commerce and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks Bruce A. Lehman, was established as part of the White House Information Infrastructure Task Force. The Task Force, chaired by Secretary of Commerce Ronald H. Brown, was created to work with Congress and the private sector to develop comprehensive telecommunications and information policies aimed at articulating and implementing the Administration's vision for the National Information Infrastructure (NII).

VOL 1170 ISS 1 JA 3 1995 UMI

"Intellectual Property and the National Information Infrastructure: A Preliminary Draft of the Report of the Working Group on Intellectual Property Rights" represents the Working Group's examination and analysis to date of the intellectual property implications of the NII, and includes the Group's draft findings and recommendations. While it addresses each of the major areas of intellectual property law, including patent, trademark and trade secret, the preliminary report focuses primarily on copyright law and its application and effectiveness in the context of the NII.

The Working Group solicited written comments from the public on the preliminary report in a notice published at 59 Fed. Reg. 35912 on July 14, 1994.

(203) Iraqi Sanctions Regulations

On Jan. 18, 1991, the Department of the Treasury, Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC), published the Iraqi Sanctions Regulations (Regulations) (31 CFR Part 575). 56 Fed. Reg. 2112. The regulations implement Executive Orders 12722 (Aug. 2, 1990) and 12724 (Aug. 9, 1990) relating to certain property and transactions in which the Government of Iraq and persons in Iraq may have an interest.

It appears that the provisions of the Executive Orders and Regulations prohibit transactions relating to the filing or prosecution of applications for patents or for registration of trademarks, where an Iraqi interest is involved. The prohibited transactions, however, may be authorized by a specific license issued pursuant to the proceedures described in Section 575.801 of Subpart H of the Regulations.

This notice is intended to alert practitioners and applicants to the prohibitions which may apply to matters before the Patent and Trademark Office, (PTO) if Iraqi interests are involved. this notice is further intended to advise that where such interests or potential interests come to the attention of the PTO, an appropriate specific license from OFAC may be required.

(204) Notice Regarding Patent and Trademark Rights in the Russian Federation

Representatives of the Russian Federation met with representatives of the U.S. Government on Monday, February 24, 1992, at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. The Russian delegation sought information about the operation of the U.S. patent and trademark systems and provided information about the treatment of inventions, industrial designs, utility models, trademarks, service marks, and appellations of origin in the Russian Federation.

Following is the text of a statement from the Chairman of the Committee for Patents and Trademarks (ROSPATENT), outlining the status of industrial property protection in the Russian Federation and the plans for the future.

INFORMATION

by the Committee for Patents and Trademarks

Due to the fact that the draft laws on patents and on trademarks were approved in the first hearing by the Supreme Soviet of the Russian Federation and taking into account numerous questions of domestic inventors, foreign patent offices and patent attorneys, the Committee for Patents and Trademarks (Rospatent) of the Ministry of Science, Higher School and Technical Policy of the Russian Federation hereby informs that:

1. Until the Patent Law and Trademark Law become effective, the provisions of the USSR Laws on Inventions, Industrial Designs and Trademarks, that are adopted as the normative base by the States party to the Provisional Agreement on the Industrial Property Protection, as signed in Minsk on Dec. 27, 1991, are applied in the territory of the Russian Federation.

According to the Provisional Agreement, the Russian Federation, as well as the other States party to it, recognizes the validity of titles of protection issued earlier pursuant to the USSR Laws in the territory of the Russian Federation.

Rospatent has submitted to the Government of the Russian Federation its proposals on issuing a normative act which is to certify the adoption by the Russian Federation of the said obligations arising out of the Provisional Agreement.

2. The applicants, who have filed applications for inventions, industrial designs and trademarks with the former USSR Gospatent, may, without losing the priority dates, wait until the Provisional Agreement on the Industrial Property Protection becomes effective, the Interstate Patent Office is established and its working procedures for issuing interstate titles of protection are elaborated.

3. In accordance with the abovesaid proposals by Rospatent, as submitted to the Government of the Russian Federation, any applicant wishing to obtain a patent (a trademark certificate) of the Russian Federation will be given the right to seek, on the basis of an application filed, for provisional protection in the territory of the Russian Federation.

Such provisional protection will be granted to inventions, industrial designs and trademarks claimed in the applications in respect of which the examiners have taken decisions on the possibility of issuing patents (certificates), and will last from the date when the data on an application are published in a special gazette to the date of issuance of a patent (certificate) of the Russian Federation.

The provisional protection in the territory of the Russian Federation will not impose legal barriers to obtaining, by the applicant, an interstate patent (certificate) after the Provisional Agreement on the Industrial Property Protection becomes effective. The priority date will still be considered as the date of filing the application either with the former USSR Gospatent or with Rospatent, with due regard to the conventional priority.

4. According to the Provisional Agreement on the Industrial Property Protection signed on Dec. 27, 1991, an inventor's certificate issued in the former USSR may not be exchanged for patents of the individual States party to the Provisional Agreement. The question of exchanging inventor's certificates for interstate patents will be finally resolved in the course of developing and concluding an Interstate Convention.

In this connection, Rospatent does not exchange inventors' certificates for patents if a petition to this extent was filed after Dec. 27, 1991.

V. Rassokhin
Chairman of Rospatent

Copies of unofficial translations of the draft laws referred to in the statement are available from Box 4, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, DC 20231, the charge is $4.00 to cover the cost of duplication. Checks should be made payable to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(205) Regarding Industrial Property Protection in Ukraine

The following announcement of Ukraine was furnished by the World Intellectual Property Organization of Geneva, Switzerland.

ANNOUNCEMENT ON THE PROVISIONAL REGULATION CONCERNING THE LEGAL PROTECTION OF INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY IN UKRAINE

The President of Ukraine, by his Decree of Sept. 18, 1992, approved the Provisional Regulation on Legal Protection of Objects of Industrial Property and Rationalization Proposals in Ukraine ("Regulation"). The Regulation entered into force on Sept. 18, 1992.

The situation of industrial property protection in Ukraine, as resulting in particular from the transitional provisions of the Regulation, is summarized below.

I. The Transitional Provisions Concerning Priority and, in Respect of Applications for Patents of Inventions, the Carrying Out of Examination

(1) Any priority claimed within six months from the entry into force of the Regulation, i.e. until Mar. 18, 1993, on the basis of the first filing in a State party to the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, will be recognized even if it is claimed after twelve months from the first filing in the case of patents for inventions, or six months from the first filing in the case of industrial designs or trademarks, provided that it is claimed not later than twenty-seven months from the first filing in the case of patents for inventions, or not later than twenty-one months from the first filing in the case of industrial designs and trademarks.

(2) The applicant or any other person may submit to the State Patent Office of Ukraine within five years from the filing date a request for the substantive examination of an application for a patent for invention. The request must be accompanied by a search report established by an International Searching Authority under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) or an organization registered with the State Patent Office of Ukraine as a Searching Authority, or by evidence that an action to grant a patent has been taken by a Patent Office which has a substantive examination system for granting patents.

II. Applications for Industrial Property Rights Filed with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union

(3) An applicant of an application for a patent for invention, for an inventor's certificate, for an industrial design patent or certificate or for a trademark certificate filed with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union may request the State Patent Office of Ukraine within six months from the date of entry into force of the Regulation, i.e., until Mar. 18, 1993, that the said application be further processed according to the Regulation. The request must be accompanied by a copy of said application, including a copy of the request showing the filing date as sent back by the Patent office of the Soviet Union to the applicant, and by any available evidence showing that the said application still had effect on Dec. 24, 1991. The filing date and any priority date of the said application will be maintained.

III. Industrial Property Rights Granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union

(4) Patents for inventions, industrial design patents and trademark certificates granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union prior to Dec. 25, 1991, will, after their registration by the State Patent Office of Ukraine at the request of the owner and upon furnishing of a document for payment of the prescribed fee (see paragraph (11), below), be considered as having the same effects for the remaining period of their validity as a patent for invention, industrial design patent or trademark certificate granted in accordance with the Regulation by the State Patent Office of Ukraine. The duration of the said validity is 20 years from the filing date of the application in the case of a patent for invention, 15 years from the filing date of the application in the case of an industrial design patent and, in the case of a trademark certificate, 10 years from the filing date of the application (if the period of validity of the certificate had not yet been extended by Dec. 24, 1991) or from the date of the request for extension of the period of validity (if the period of validity of the certificate had already been extended by Dec. 24, 1991). The request must be filed within six months from the date of entry into force of the Regulation, i.e., until Mar. 18, 1993, and must be accompanied by a copy of the patent or certificate granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union.

(5) As regards inventors' certificates and industrial design certificates granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union in relation to which a 20-year term in the case of inventions, or a 15-year term in the case of industrial designs, both counted from the filing date of the application, has not expired before the entry into force of the Regulation, i.e., prior to Sept. 18, 1992, the State Patent Office of Ukraine will grant, at the request of the inventor (inventors) and with the consent of the applicant, a Ukrainian patent to the inventor himself, or to any other physical or legal person, with their consent, indicated in the request, or to the Ukrainian Inventions Foundation. In the case of inventions, if the said request is not made within the period of one year after the entry into force of the Regulation, i.e., until Sept. 18, 1993, inventors' certificates granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union shall be exchanged for Ukrainian patents granted to the Ukrainian Inventions Foundation. Any Ukrainian patent to which this paragraph applies will be valid until the expiration of 20 years from the filing date of the application in the case of inventions, and 10 years from the filing date of the application, with an opportunity of subsequent extension, upon request of the owner, but not longer than for another 5-year period in the case of industrial designs.

IV. Effects in Ukraine of International Applications under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT)

(6)(a) On Sept. 21, 1992, Ukraine deposited a declaration of continuation the effect of which is that the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) is applied by Ukraine. Nationals and residents of Ukraine can therefore file international applications, and Ukraine can be designated and elected in international applications filed, from that date.

(b) On Sept. 29, 1992, the Assembly of the PCT Union adopted, with effect on Oct. 1, 1992, new Rules 32.1 and 32.2 in the Regulations under the PCT, concerning the extension of international applications to certain successor States.

(c) For the purpose of determining the status of international applications with respect to Ukraine, one has to distinguish between

(i) international applications designating the Soviet Union whichwere filed prior to Dec. 25, 1991 (see (d), below);

(ii) international applications—irrespective of the designations, they contain—which were filed between Dec. 25, 1991, and Nov. 23, 1992 (see (e) to (g), below);

(iii) international applications designating Ukraine filed on or after Sept. 21, 1992 (see (h), below).

(d) As regards any international application whose international filing date is prior to Dec. 25, 1991, and in which the Soviet Union has been designated, the "national filing effect" of any such application under Article 11(4) of the PCT will, pursuant to the deposit by Ukraine of its declaration of continuation, be recognized in Ukraine (provided that the international-application has not lost its effect in the Soviet Union by Dec. 24, 1991). The conditions under which any such international application, or any patent or inventor's certificate resulting therefrom and granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union, may continue to have effect in Ukraine are the following:

(i) if a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate has been granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union on the basis of the international application, the conditions described in paragraphs (4) and (5), above, are applicable;

(ii) if the applicant has entered the national phase before the Patent Office of the Soviet Union but a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate had not been granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union without the application having been rejected by that Office, the applicant must, until Mar. 18, 1993,

—furnish to the State Patent Office of Ukraine a copy of the Russian translation submitted to the Patent Office of the Soviet Union and any available evidence showing that the application still had effect on Dec. 24, 1991,

VOL 1170 ISS 1 JAN 3 1995 UMI

—file the request referred to in paragraph (3), above, with the State Patent Office of Ukraine, and —furnish to the State Patent Office of Ukraine a document for payment of the prescribed fee (see paragraph 11, below);
(iii) if the applicant has not entered the national phase before before the Patent Office of the Soviet Union and the time limit for entering the national phase before that Office had not expired on Dec. 24, 1991, the applicant must, until Mar. 18, 1993, furnish to the State Patent Office of Ukraine a translation of the international application into Ukrainian or Russian and a document for payment of the prescribed fee (see paragraph 11, below).

(e) As regards any international application whose filing date is later than Dec. 24, 1991, and earlier than Nov. 24, 1992[1], its effects may be extended to Ukraine (irrespective of the designations it contains) through the performance by the applicant of the following acts:
(i) filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) a request for extension;
(ii) paying to the International Bureau of WIPO an extension fee of 185 Swiss francs, payable in Swiss francs.

(f) The applicant in respect of each and every international application referred to in (e), above, or his agent or common representative if there is one, will receive a written notification from the International Bureau of WIPO calling his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written requests for extension, extend the effects of the international application to Ukraine. The notification will, in particular, specify the modes of payment of the extension fee of 185 Swiss francs. the request for extension must contain the identification of the international application by its international application number. A form which may be used for the purpose of requesting the extension to Ukraine will be attached to the notification. The request for extension must be in English or French, and may be sent by telefax or telex. The request for extension and the corresponding payment must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of three months from the date of the notification sent by the International Bureau of WIPO; if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. It is recommended that applicants await the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO and use the form attached to it, but requests and payments may be made without waiting for the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO.

(g) If the conditions described in (e) and (f), above, are fulfilled, Ukraine will be considered as having been designated in the international application on its international filing date. For entering the national phase before the State Patent Office of Ukraine, the applicant must furnish to that Office a translation of the international application into Ukranian or Russian and a document for payment of the prescribed fee (see paragraph 11, below) until Dec. 31, 1993, or within the following time limit if that time limit expires after Dec. 31, 1993:
(i) before the expiration of 21 months from the priority date if Ukraine is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date;
(ii) before the expiration of 31 months from the priority date if Ukraine is elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date.

(h) As regards any international application whose international filing date is later than Sept. 20, 1992, and in which Ukraine has been designated, the applicant, in order to enter the national phase before the State Patent Office of Ukraine, must furnish to that Office a translation of the international application into Ukrainian or Russian and a document for payment of the prescribed fee (see paragraph 11, below) to that Office within the following time limit:
(i) before the expiration of 21 months from the priority date if Ukraine is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date;
(ii) before the expiration of 31 months from the priority date if Ukraine is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date.

V. Effects in Ukraine of International Registrations under the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks

(7)(a) On Sept. 21, 1992, Ukraine deposited a declaration of continuation the effect of which is that the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks is applied by Ukraine.

(b) On Sept. 29, 1992, the Assembly of Madrid Union adopted, with effect on Oct. 1, 1992, a new Rule 38 in the Regulations under the Madrid agreement, concerning the effect of international registrations in certain successor States.

(c) Pursuant to the deposit of the declaration of continuation and to the decision of the Assembly, certain international registrations may have effect in Ukraine subject to the conditions described below. Those international registrations are those which have territorial extension to the Soviet Union effective from a date prior to Dec. 25, 1991.

(d) The conditions referred to above are the following:
(i) the filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) of a request;
(ii) the payment to the International Bureau of WIPO of a fee, the amount which is 62 Swiss francs per international registration.

(e) The owner of each and every international registration concerned, or his representative (if the owner has a representative whose name appears in the International Register), will receive a written notice from the International Bureau of WIPO calling his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written request, continue the effect of the international registration to Ukraine. The notice will, in particular, specify the modes of payment of the fee. The request must contain the identification of the international registration concerned by its international registration number. A form (in French) will be attached to the notice and may be used. The request must be in English or French, and may be sent by telefax or must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of six months from the date of the notice sent by the International bureau of WIPO; if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. Requests and payments may be made without waiting for the notice of the International Bureau of WIPO.

(f) If the conditions described above are fulfilled, the international registration concerned will, with respect to Ukraine, have effect as from the effective date of the territorial extension to the Soviet Union and benefit from any priority validly claimed in regard to such extension.

(g) For each international registration which has no territorial extension to the Soviet Union or whose international registration date is later than Dec. 24, 1991, protection in Ukraine can only be obtained by filing, through the intermediary of the national Office of the country of the owner, a request for territorial extension under Rule 20 of the Regulations under the Madrid Agreement. it is to be noted that requests for territorial extension to Ukraine are possible at present.

VI. Prior User Right

(8) Enterprises, organizations and institutions which have already started to use inventions or industrial designs for which protection can be obtained according to paragraph (5), above, prior to the entry into force of the Regulation, i.e., prior to Sept. 18, 1992, will have the right to a continued use of such inventions and industrial designs, but without increasing the volume of their utilization.

VII. New Applications

(9) From the date of entry into force of the Regulation, i.e. from Sept. 18, 1992, onward, applications for patents for inventions, for industrial design patents and for trademark certificates can be filed with the State Patent Office of Ukraine. The request as a part of the application must be filed in Ukrainian and be accompanied on the filing date by the prescribed fees. Other parts of the application may be presented in Ukrainian or Russian. they may also be presented in English, French or German, provided that a translation into Ukrainian is presented upon request of the state Patent Office of Ukraine

[1]With the exception of any such international application whose international filing date is later than Sept. 21, 1992, and in which Ukraine has been designated under Rule 4.9(a) of the Regulations under the PCT: in such a case, the procedure described in (e) to (g) is not applicable, and the procedure described in (h) is applicable. It should be noted that only those international applications filed on or after Sept. 21, 1992, can specifically designate Ukraine.

VIII. Procedural Provisions

(10) If an applicant does not have his ordinary residence or principal place of business in Ukraine, he must authorize a representative in Ukraine, and all applications and requests referred to in the present announcement must be filed through the intermediary of such a representative. The list of the persons who can act as representatives is available at the State Patent Office of Ukraine.

(11) The amounts of the fees which are referred to as "prescribed fees" in the present announcement as well as the kind of document which constitutes a "document for payment of the prescribed fee" will be published in a separate announcement.

(206) Regarding Industrial Property Protection in the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic

The following announcements concerning industrial property protection in the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic were furnished by the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO).

Announcement on the Protection of Industrial Property in the Czech Republic

In view of the fact that Czechoslovakia ceased to exist on Dec. 31, 1992, and that the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic became independent States on Jan. 1, 1993, the situation of industrial property protection in the Czech Republic is summarized below.

I. Legal Basis

(1) The respective legal acts on the protection of industrial property of Czechoslovakia remain applicable in the Czech Republic.

II. Applications for Industrial Property Rights Filed with the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia and Industrial Property Rights Granted by that Office.

(2) Applications for industrial property rights filed with the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia and industrial property rights granted by that Office maintain their legal effect in both the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic, it being understood that the next fees which are to be paid must be paid, for protection in both the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic, to both the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic and the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic.

III. International Treaties

(3) The Czech Republic has deposited, with effect on Jan. 1, 1993, a declaration the effect of which is that all those treaties administered by WIPO to which Czechoslovakia was party continue to be applicable as far as the Czech Republic is concerned. Those treaties are: the Convention Establishing the World Intellectual Property Organization, the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, the Madrid Agreement for the Repression of False or Deceptive Indications of Source on Goods, the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks, the Nice Agreement Concerning the International Classification of Goods and Services for the Purposes of the Registration of Marks, the Lisbon Agreement for the Protection of Appellations of Origin and their International Registration, the Locarno Agreement Establishing an International Classification for Industrial Designs, the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT), the Strasbourg Agreement Concerning the International Patent Classification, the Budapest Treaty on the International Recognition of the Deposit of Microorganisms for the Purposes of Patent Procedure, the Berne Convention for the Protection of Literary and Artistic Works, and the Treaty on the International Registration of Audiovisual Works.

IV. Effects in the Czech Republic of International Applications under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT)

(4)(a) Pursuant to the deposit of the declaration of continuation referred to in paragraph (3), above, nationals and residents of the Czech Republic can file international applications, and the Czech Republic can be designated and elected in international applications filed, on or after Jan. 1, 1993.

(b) Rules 32.1 and 32.2 of the Regulations under the PCT permit the extension of international applications to the Czech Republic.

(c) For the purpose of determining the status of international applications with respect to the Czech Republic, one has to distinguish between
(i) international applications specifically[1] designating Czechoslovakia which were filed prior to Jan. 1, 1993(see(d), below);
(ii) international applications not specifically[1] designating the Czech Republic—irrespective of the other designations they contain—filed between Jan. 1, 1993, and Feb. 21, 1993 (see (e) to (g) below);
(iii) international applications specifically[1] designating the Czech Republic filed on or after Jan. 1, 1993 (see (h) below).

(d) As regards any international application whose international filing date is prior to Jan. 1, 1993, and in which Czechoslovakia is specifically designated, the "national filing effect" of any such application under Article 11(4) of the PCT will, pursuant to the deposit by the Czech Republic of its declaration of continuation, be recognized in the Czech Republic (provided that the international application had not lost its effect in Czechoslovakia by Dec. 31, 1992). The conditions under which any such international application, or any patent resulting therefrom and granted by the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia, may continue to have effect in the Czech Republic are the following:
(i) if a patent has been granted by the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia on the basis of the international applications, paragraph (2), above, is applicable;
(ii) if the applicant has entered the national phase before the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia but a patent for invention has not been granted by the Office without the application having been rejected by it, paragraph (2), above, is applicable;
(iii) if the applicant has not entered the national phase before the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia and the time limit for entering the national phase had not expired on Dec. 31, 1992, the applicant must, before the expiration of the applicable time limit under PCT Article 22 or 39(1), furnish to the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic a transla-

[1]In this announcement, an international application is regarded as "specifically" designating a State either if that State has been designated under Rule 4.9(a) of the Regulations under the PCT or if the designation of that State has been confirmed under Rule 4.9(c) of those Regulations.

tion of the international application into the Czech language and pay the prescribed fee.

(e) As regards any international application whose international filing date is later than Dec. 31, 1992, and earlier than Feb. 22, 1993,[2] and in which the Czech Republic is not specifically designated, its effects may be extended to the Czech Republic (irrespective of the other designations it contains) through the performance by the applicant of the following acts:

(i) filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) a request for extension;

(ii) paying to the International Bureau of WIPO an extension fee of 185 Swiss francs, payable in Swiss francs.

(f) The applicant in respect of each and every international application referred to in (e), above, or his agent or common representative if there is one, will receive a written notification from the International Bureau of WIPO calling his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written request for extension, extend the effects of the international application to the Czech Republic. The notification will, in particular, specify the modes of payment of the extension fee of 185 Swiss francs. The request for extension must contain the identification of the international application by its international application number. A form which may be used for the purpose of requesting the extension to the Czech Republic will be attached to the notification. The request for extension must be in English or French, and may be sent by telefax or telex. The request for extension and the corresponding payment must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of three months from the date of the notification sent by the International Bureau of WIPO; if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. It is recommended that applicants await the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO and use the form attached to it, but requests and payments may be made without waiting for the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO.

(g) If the condition described in (e) and (f), above, are fulfilled, the Czech Republic will be considered as having been designated in the international application on its international filing date. For entering the national phase before the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic, the applicant must furnish to that Office a translation of the international application into the Czech language and pay the prescribed fee within three months from the date of the request for extension or, if it expires later, within the following time limit:

(i) before the expiration of 21 months from the priority date if the Czech Republic is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date;

(ii) before the expiration of 30 months from the priority date if the Czech Republic is elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date.

(h) As regards any international application whose international filing date is later than Dec. 31, 1992, and in which the Czech Republic is specifically designated, the applicant, in order to enter the national phase before the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic, must furnish to that Office a translation of the international application into the Czech language and pay the prescribed fee to that Office within the following time limit:

(i) before the expiration of 21 months from the priority date if the Czech Republic is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date;

(ii) before the expiration of 30 months from the priority date if the Czech Republic is elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date.

V. Effects in the Czech Republic of International Registrations under the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks.

(5)(a) Pursuant to the deposit of the declaration of continuation referred to in paragraph (3), above, and pursuant to Rule 38 of the Regulations under the Madrid Agreement, any international registration with a territorial extension to Czechoslovakia effective from a date prior to Jan. 1, 1993, may have effect in the Czech Republic subject to the following conditions:

(i) the filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) of a request;

(ii) the payment to the International Bureau of WIPO of a fee, the amount of which is 62 Swiss francs per international registration.

(b) The owner of each and every international registration concerned, or his representative (if the owner has a representative whose name appears in the International Register), will receive a written notice from the International Bureau of WIPO calling his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written request, obtain a continuation of the effect of the international registration in the Czech Republic. The notice will contain a request form (in French) and specify the modes of payment of the fee. The request must contain the identification of the international registration concerned by its international registration number. The request must be made in English or French, and may be sent by telefax or telex. The request and the corresponding payment must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of six months from the date of the notice sent by the International Bureau of WIPO; if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. Requests and payments may be made without waiting for the notice of the International Bureau of WIPO.

(c) If the conditions described above are fulfilled, the international registration concerned will, with respect to the Czech Republic, have effect as from the effective date of territorial extension to Czechoslovakia and benefit from any priority validly claimed in regard to such extension.

(d) For each international registration which has no territorial extension to Czechoslovakia or whose international registration date is later than Dec. 31, 1992, protection in the Czech Republic can only be obtained by filing, through the intermediary of the national Office of the country of the owner, a request for territorial extension under Rule 20 of the Regulations under the Madrid Agreement. It is to be noted that requests for territorial extension to the Czech Republic are possible at present.

VI. New Applications for Industrial Property Rights

(6) Applications for industrial property rights filed from Jan. 1, 1993, with the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic have no effect in the Slovak Republic. However, unless it is clear that the applicant does not seek protection in the Slovak Republic, the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic will, during a transitory period of a few months, invite the applicant to specify, within a time limit which will be fixed in the invitation, whether he wants to obtain protection in the Czech Republic only or both in the Czech Republic and in the Slovak Republic. In the latter case, the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic will transmit a copy of the application to the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic and the filing date of the application with the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic will be recognized by the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic.

(7) Applications requesting protection in the Czech Republic must be filed in the Czech language.

VII. General Provisions

(8) The fees to be paid to the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic are of the same amount as the fees which were payable to the Office of Czechoslovakia before Jan. 1, 1993.

(9) If an applicant does not have his ordinary residence or principle place of business in the Czech Republic, he must authorize a representative in the Czech Republic, and all applications to be filed with the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic must be filed through the intermediary of such a representative. The list of persons who can act as representatives is available at the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic.

Announcement on the Protection of Industrial Property in the Slovak Republic

In view of the fact that Czechoslovakia ceased to exist on Dec. 31, 1992, and that the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic became independent States on Jan. 1, 1993, the situation of industrial property protection in the Slovak Republic is summarized below.

I. Legal Basis

(1) Pending the enactment of new legislation, the respective legal acts on the protection of industrial property of Czechoslovakia remain applicable in the Slovak Republic.

II. Applications for Industrial Property Rights Filed with the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia and Industrial Property Rights Granted by that Office

(2) Applications for industrial property rights filed with the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia and industrial property rights granted by that Office maintain their legal effect in both the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic, it being understood that the next fees which are to be paid must be paid, for protection in both the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic, to both the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic.

III. International Treaties

(3) The Slovak Republic has deposited, with effect on Jan. 1, 1993, a declaration the effect of which is that all those treaties administered by WIPO to which Czechoslovakia was party continue to be applicable as far as the Slovak Republic is concerned. Those treaties are: the Convention Establishing the World Intellectual Property Organization, the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, the Madrid Agreement for the Repression of False or Deceptive Indications of Source on Goods, the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registrations of Marks, the Nice Agreement Concerning the International Classification of Goods and Services for the Purposes of the Registration of Marks, the Lisbon Agreement for the Protection of Appellations of Origin and their International Registration, the Locarno Agreement Establishing an International Classification for Industrial Designs, the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT), the Strasbourg Agreement Concerning the International Patent Classification, the Budapest Treaty on the International Recognition of the Deposit of Microorganisms for the Purposes of Patent Procedure, the Berne Convention for the Protection of Literary and Artistic Works, and the Treaty on the International Registration of Audiovisual Works.

IV. Effects in the Slovak Republic of International Applications under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT)

(4)(a) Pursuant to the deposit of the declaration of continuation referred to in paragraph (3), above, national and residents of the Slovak Republic can file international applications, and the Slovak Republic can be designated and elected in international applications filed, on or after Jan. 1, 1993.

(b) Rules 32.1 and 32.2 of the Regulations under the PCT permit the extension of international applications to the Slovak Republic.

(c) For the purpose of determining the status of international applications with respect to the Slovak Republic, one has to distinguish between

(i) international applications specifically[1] designating Czechoslovakia which were filed prior to Jan. 1, 1993 (see (d), below);

(ii) international applications not specifically[1] designating the Slovak Republic—irrespective of the other designations they contain—filed between Jan. 1, 1993 and Mar. 6, 1993 (see (e) to (g), below);

(iii) international applications specifically[1] designating the Slovak Republic filed on or after Jan. 1, 1993 (see (h), below).

(d) As regards any international application whose international filing date is prior to Jan. 1, 1993, and in which Czechoslovakia is specifically designated, the "national filing effect" of any such application under Article 11(4) of the PCT will, pursuant to the deposit by the Slovak Republic of its declaration of continuation, be recognized in the Slovak Republic (provided that the international application had not lost its effect in Czechoslovakia by Dec. 31, 1992). The conditions under which any such international application, or any patent resulting therefrom and granted by the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia, may continue to have effect in the Slovak Republic are the following:

(i) if a patent has been granted by the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia on the basis of the international application, paragraph (2), above, is applicable;

(ii) if the applicant has entered the national phase before the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia but a patent for invention has not been granted by the Office without the application having been rejected by it, paragraph (2), above, is applicable;

(iii) if the applicant has not entered the national phase before the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia and the time limit for entering the national phase had not expired on Dec. 31, 1992, the applicant must, before the expiration of the applicable time limit under PCT Article 22 or 39(1), furnish to the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic a translation of the international application into the Slovak language and pay the proscribed fee.

(e) As regards any international application whose international filing date is later than Dec. 31, 1992, and earlier than Mar. 7, 1993,[2] and in which the Slovak Republic is not specifically designated, its effects may be extended to the Slovak Republic (irrespective of the other designations it contains) through the performance of the following acts:

(i) filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) a request for extension;

(ii) paying to the International Bureau of WIPO an extension fee of 185 Swiss francs, payable in Swiss francs.

(f) The applicant in respect of each and every international application referred to in (e), above, or his agent or common representative if there is one, will receive a written notification from the International Bureau of WIPO calling his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written request for extension, extend the effects of the international application to the Slovak Republic. The notification will, in particular, specify the modes of payment for the extension fee of 185 Swiss francs. The request for extension must contain the identification of the international application by its international application number. A form which may be used for the purpose of requesting the extension to the Slovak Republic will be attached to the notification. The request for the extension must be in English or French, and may be sent by telefax or telex. The request for extension and the corresponding payment must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of three months from the date of the notification sent by the International Bureau of WIPO;if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. It is recommended that applicants await the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO and use the form attached to it, but requests and payments may be made without waiting for the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO.

(g) If the condition described in (e) and (f), above, are fulfilled, the Slovak Republic will be considered as having been designated in the international application on its international filing date. For entering the national phase before the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic, the applicant must furnish to that Office a translation of the international application into the Slovak language and pay the proscribed fee within three months from the date of the request for the extension or, if it expires later, within the following time limit:

[1]With the exception of any international application whose international filing date is later than Dec. 31, 1992, and in which the Czech Republic is specifically designated: in such a case, the procedure described in (e) to (g) is not applicable, and the procedure described in (h) is applicable.

V. Effects in the Slovak Republic of International Registrations under the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks

(5)(a) Pursuant to the deposit of the declaration of continuation referred to in paragraph (3), above, and pursuant to Rule 38 of the Regulations under the Madrid Agreement, any international registration with a territorial extension to Czechoslovakia effective from a date prior to Jan. 1, 1993, mayhave effect in the Slovak Republic subject to the following conditions:

(i) the filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) of a request;

(ii) the payment to the International Bureau of WIPO of a fee, the amount of which is 62 Swiss francs per international registration.

(b) The owner of each and every international registration concerned, or his representative (if the owner has a representative whose name appears in the International Register), will receive a written notice from the International Bureau of WIPO calling his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written request, obtain a continuation of the effect of the international registration in the Slovak Republic. The notice will contain a request form (in French) and specify the modes of payment of the fee. The request must contain the identification of the international registration concerned by its international registration number. The request must be made in English or French, and may be sent by telefax or telex. The request and the corresponding payment must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of six months from the date of the notice sent by the International Bureau of WIPO; if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. Requests and payments may be made without waiting for the notice of the International Bureau of WIPO.

(c) If the conditions described above are fulfilled, the international registration concerned will, with respect to the Slovak Republic, have effect as from the effective date of the territorial extension to Czechoslovakia and benefit from any priority validly claimed in regard to such extension.

(d) For each international registration which has no territorial extension to Czechoslovakia or whose international registration date is later than Dec. 31, 1992, protection in the Slovak Republic can only be obtained by filing, through the intermediary of the national Office of the country of the owner, a request for territorial extension under Rule 20 of the Regulations under the Madrid Agreement. It is to be noted that requests for territorial extension to the Slovak Republic are possible at present.

VI. New Applications for Industrial Property Rights

(6) From Jan. 1, 1993, it is possible to file applications for industrial property rights with the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic. Applications filed with the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic have no effect in the Slovak Republic. However, the following procedure will apply, during a transitory period of a few months, to applications filed with the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic: unless it is clear that the applicant does not seek protection in the Slovak Republic, the Industrial Property Office of the Czech office will invite the applicant to specify, within a time limit which will be fixed in the invitation, whether he wants to obtain protection in the Czech Republic only or both in the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic. In the latter case, the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic will transmit a copy of the application to the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic and the filing date of the application with the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic will be recognized by the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic.

(7) Applications requesting protection in the Slovak Republic must be filed in the Slovak language.

VII General Provisions

(8) The fees to be paid to the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic are of the same amount as the fees whichwere payable to the Office of Czechoslovakia before Jan. 1, 1993.

(9) If an applicant does not have his ordinary residence or principal place of business in the Slovak Republic, he must authorize a representative in the Slovak Republic, and all applications to be filed with the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic must be filed through the intermediary of such a representative. The list of persons who can act as representatives is available at the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic.

(207) Regarding Industrial Property Protection in Kazakhstan

The following announcement was furnished by the World Intellectual Property Organization of Geneva, Switzerland.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE PROTECTION OF INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY IN KAZAKHSTAN

The situation of industrial property protection in Kazakhstan is summarized below.

I. Legislation

(1) On Aug. 5, 1992, the Patent Law of Kazakhstan entered into force. This Law deals with preliminary patents and patents for inventions, preliminary patents and patents for industrial designs and patents for utility models.

(2) The Law on Trade Marks, Service Marks and Appellations of Origin of Kazakhstan was adopted on Jan. 18, 1993. This said Law entered into force on Feb. 23, 1993.

(3) The National Patent Office of Kazakhstan was established on June 23, 1992. It is under the supervision of the Cabinet of Ministers.

II. Membership in Treaties

(4) The Government of Kazakhstan deposited on Feb. 16, 1993, a declaration to the effect that the Convention Establishing the World Intellectual Property Organization, the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks and the Patent Cooperation Treaty continue to be applicable to Kazakhstan.

III. Applications for Industrial Property Rights Filed with the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan

(5) Applications for the grant of patents for inventions, patents for industrial designs and patents for utility models and applications for the registration of marks and appellations of origin have been able to be filed with the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan since Aug. 27, 1992.

IV. Industrial Property Rights Granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union

(6) A patent for invention or inventor's certificate, an industrial design patent or industrial design certificate, or a trademark certificate, which was issued by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union may be registered by the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan at the request of the owner. Upon registration, such industrial property rights will be considered as having the same effects as a patent for invention, industrial design patent or trademark certificate issued by the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan. The duration is 20 years from the filing date of the application in the case of a patent for invention, 10 years from the filing date of the application in the case of an industrial design patent with the right to extend registration in the case of a trademark certificate. The filing date and any Dec. 1, 1993, in the case of inventions and industrial designs, and before Nov. 1, 1993, in the case of trademarks. It must be accompanied by the original or a copy, certified by a notary or any other competent authority, of the patent or certificate issued by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union and evidence that the prescribed fees have been paid to the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan.

V. Applications for Industrial Property Rights Filed with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or with the Patent Office of the Russian Federation Before Oct. 14, 1992

(7) The applicant of an application for a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate, for an industrial design patent or an industrial design certificate or for a trademark certificate which had been filed with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or with the Patent Office of the Russian Federation before Oct. 14, 1992, may request the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan before Dec. 1, 1993, in the case of an application for a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate, or for an industrial design patent or certificate, and before Nov. 1, 1993, in the case of an application for a trademark certificate, that the said application be further processed according to the Kazakh legislation. The request for further processing by the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan must be accompanied by a copy of the said application, including a copy of the request part of the said application showing the filing date as sent back to the applicant by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or by the Patent Office of the Russian Federation, by a declaration that the said application is, to the best knowledge of the applicant, still pending before the Patent Office of the Russian Federation, and by an application filed according to the Kazakh legislation.

(8) If the applicant has received from the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or from the Patent Office of the Russian Federation in respect of an application filed before Oct. 14, 1992, a decision on grant of protection, the request needs only to be accompanied by a copy, certified by a notary or any other competent authority, of the said decision, as well as, in the case of inventions, by the description, any drawings and the claims on which the decision is based and an abstract of the invention or, in the case of industrial designs, by five photographs, one of which must be certified by a notary or any other competent authority, and any drawings. The filing date and any priority date of the application filed with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or the Patent Office of the Russian Federation will be maintained.

VI. Effects in Kazakhstan of International Applications under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT)

(9) (a) On Feb. 16, 1993, Kazakhstan deposited a declaration of continuation the effect of which is that the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) is applied by Kazakhstan. Nationals and residents of Kazakhstan can therefore file international applications, and Kazakhstan can be designated and elected in international applications filed, from the date.

(b) On Sept. 29, 1992, the Assembly of the PCT Union adopted, with effect on Oct. 1, 1992, new Rules 32.1 and 32.2 of the Regulations under the PCT, concerning the extension of international applications to certain successor States.

(c) For the purpose of determining the status of international applications with respect to Kazakhstan, one has to distinguish between:

(i) international applications designating the Soviet Union which were filed before Dec. 25, 1991 (see (d), below);

(ii) international applications—irrespective of the designations they contain—which were filed between Dec. 25, 1991, and Apr. 16, 1993 (see (e) to (g), below);

(iii) international applications specifically* designating Kazakhstan filed on or after Feb. 16, 1993 (see (h), below).

(d) As regards any international application whose international filing date is before Dec. 25, 1991, and in which the Soviet Union has been designated, the "national filing effect" of any such application under Article 11(4) of the PCT will, pursuant to the deposit by Kazakhstan of its declaration of continuation, be recognized in Kazakhstan. The conditions under which any such international application, or any patent or inventor's certificate resulting therefrom and granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or by the Patent Office of the Russian Fedcration, may continue to have effect in Kazakhstan are the following:

(i) if a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate has been granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or by the Patent Office of the Russian Federation on the basis of international application, the conditions referred to in paragraph (6) above, are applicable;

(ii) if the applicant has entered the national phase before the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or the Patent Office of the Russian Federation but a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate has not been granted by any of those Offices, the conditions referred to in paragraph (7), above, are applicable, provided that the applicant must, before Dec. 1, 1993, file with the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan a request that the international application be further processed according to the Kazakh legislation; the request must be accompanied by a copy of the Russian translation of the international application submitted to the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or the Patent Office of the Russian Federation and a declaration that the application is still pending before the Patent Office of the Russian Federation; however where a decision to grant a patent has issued, only the requirements referred to in paragraph (8), above, apply;

(iii) if the applicant has not entered the national phase before the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or the Patent Office of the Russian Federation and the time limit for entering the national phase had not expired on Dec. 24, 1991, the applicant must, before Dec. 1, 1993, or, if Kazakhstan is elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date, before Dec. 1, 1993, or the expiration of 31 months from the priority date whichever is later, furnish to the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan a translation of the international application into Kazakh or Russian and evidence that the prescribed fee (see paragraph (12), below) has been paid to the latter Office.

(e) As regards any international application whose international filing date is later than Dec. 24, 1991, and earlier than Apr. 17, 1993, its effect may be extended to Kazakhstan

*in this announcement, an international application is regarded as "specifically" designating Kazakhstan either if Kazakhstan has been designated under Rule 4.9(a) of the Regulations under the PCT or if the designation of Kazakhstan has been confirmed under Rule 4.9(c) of those Regulations.

With the exception of any such international application international filing date is on or after Feb. 16, 1993, and in which Kazakhstan is specifically designated:in such a case, the procedure described in (e) to (g) is not applicable, and the procedure described in (h) applies. It should be noted that Kazakhstan cab be specifically designated only in those international applications filed on or after Feb. 16, 1993.

(irrespective of the designations it contains) through the performance by the applicant of the following acts:

(i) filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) a request for extension;

(ii) paying to the International Bureau of WIPO an extension fee of 185 Swiss francs, payable in Swiss francs.

(f) The applicant in respect of each and every international application to in (e), above, or his agent or common representative if there is one, will receive a written notification form the International Bureau of WIPO calling his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written request for extension, extend the effects of the international application to Kazakhstan. The notification will, in particular, specify the modes of payment of the extension fee of 185 Swiss francs. The request for extension must contain the identification of the international application by its international application number. A form which may be issued for the purpose of requesting the extension to Kazakhstan will be attached to the notification. The request for extension must be English or French, and may be sent be telefax or telex. The request for extension and the corresponding payment must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of three months from the date of the notification sent by the International Bureau of WIPO; if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. It is recommended that applicants await the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO and use the form attached to it, but requests and payments may be made without waiting for the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO.

(g) If the conditions described in (e) and (f), above, are fulfilled, Kazakhstan will be considered as having been designated in the international application on its international filing date. For entering the national phase before the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan, the applicant must furnish, within the following time limit, to that Office both a translation of the international application into Kazakh or Russian and evidence that the prescribed fee (see paragraph (12), below) was paid:

(i) before Dec. 1, 1993, or the expiration of 21 months from the priority date, whichever is later, if Kazakhstan is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT before the expiration of 19 months from the priority date and item (iii) does not apply;

(ii) before Dec. 1, 1993, or the expiration of 31 months from the priority date, whichever is later, if Kazakhstan is elected under Chapter II of the PCT before the expiration of 19 months from the priority date;

(iii) before Dec. 1, 1993, or the expiration of 31 months from the priority date, whichever is later, if a request for extension to Kazakhstan is made after, but the demand was made before, the expiration of 19 months from the priority date, and a later election of Kazakhstan is made together with the request for extension or within three months from the date of the request for extension.

(h) As regards any international application whose international filing date is on or after Feb. 16, 1993, and in which Kazakhstan is specifically designated, the applicant, in order to enter the national phase before the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan, must furnish, within the following time limit, to that Office both a translation of the international application into Kazakh or Russian and evidence that the prescribed fee (see paragraph (12), below) has been paid to the said Office:

(i) before the expiration of 21 months from the priority date if Kazakhstan is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT with 19 months from the priority date;

(ii) before the expiration of 31 months from the priority date if Kazakhstan is elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the Priority date.

VII. Effects in Kazakhstan of International Registrations under the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks

(10) (a) On Feb. 16, 1993, Kazakhstan deposited a declaration of continuation the effect of which is that the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks is applied by Kazakhstan.

(b) on Sept. 29, 1992, the Assembly of the Madrid Union adopted, with effect on Oct. 1, 1992, a new Rule 38 in Regulations under the Madrid Agreement, concerning the effect of international registrations in certain successor States.

(c) Pursuant to the deposit of the declaration of continuation and to the decision of the Assembly, certain international registrations may have effect in Kazakhstan subject to the conditions described below. Those international registrations are those which have territorial extensions to the Soviet Union effective from a date prior to Dec. 25, 1991.

(d) The conditions referred to above are the following:

(i) the filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) of a request;

(ii) the payment to the International Bureau of WIPO of a fee, the amount of which is 62 Swiss francs per international registration.

(e) The owner of each and every international registration concerned, or his representative (if the owner has a representative whose name appears in the International Register), will receive a written notice from the International Bureau of WIPO calling his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written request, obtain the continuation of the effect of the international registration in Kazakhstan. The notice will, in particular, specify the modes of payment of the fee. The request must contain the identification of the international registration concerned by its international registration number. A form (in French) will be attached to the notice and may be used. The request must be in English or French, and may be sent by telefax or telex. The request and the corresponding payment must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of six months from the date of the notice sent by the International Bureau of WIPO; if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. Requests and payments may be made without waiting for the notice of the International Bureau of WIPO.

(f) If the conditions described above are fulfilled, the international registration concerned will, with respect to Kazakhstan, have effect as from the effective date of the territorial extension to the Soviet Union and benefit from any priority validly claimed in regard such extension.

(g) For each international registration which has territorial extension to the Russian Federation effective from a date prior to Apr. 17, 1993, the owner may request the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan before Nov. 1, 1993, that the said registration be processed as an application under the Kazakh legislation. The request must be accompanied by an extract from the International Register established by the International Bureau of WIPO, by a declaration that, to the best knowledge of the owner, the international registration still has effect in the Russian Federation, and by an application filed according to the Kazakh legislation.

(h) For each international registration not covered by (c) or (g), above, namely, for each international registration which has no territorial extension to the Soviet Union or to the Russian Federation or whose international registration date is later than Apr. 16, 1993, protection in Kazakhstan can only be obtained by filing, through the intermediary of the national Office of the country of the owner, a request for territorial extension under Rule 20 of the Regulations under the Madrid Agreement. It is noted that requests for territorial extension to Kazakhstan are possible at present.

VIII. Procedural Provisions

(11) If an applicant does not have his ordinary residence or principal place in business in Kazakhstan, he must authorize a representative in Kazakhstan, and all requests, applications and other documents must be filed through the intermediary of such a representative.

(12) The list of the persons who can act as representatives and the official fees applicable to the procedures referred to under paragraphs (5), (6), (7), (8), (9) and (10)(g) are available from the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan.

(13) The request part of any application referred to under paragraph (5), above, any request referred to under paragraphs (6), (7), (9)(d)(ii) and (10)(g), above, and any declaration referred to under paragraphs (7), (9)(d)(ii) and (10)(g), above, must be filed in Kazakh or Russian. Other parts of any application referred to under paragraph (5), above, may be presented in other languages, provided that a translation into Kazakh or Russian is presented within two months from the filing date.

(14) If an applicant, due to circumstances beyond his control, was unable to observe a time limit applicable under paragraph (6), (7), (9)(d), 10(g) or (13), above, the time limit may, upon request, be extended by two months by the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan.

(208) Regarding Industrial Property Protection in Belarus

The following announcement was furnished by the World Intellectual Property Organization of Geneva, Switzerland.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE PROTECTION OF INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY IN BELARUS

The situation of industrial property protection in Belarus is summarized below.

I. Legislation

(1) On Feb. 5, 1993, the Law on Patents for Inventions, the Law on Patents for Industrial Designs and the Law on Trademarks and Service Marks of Belarus and the respective Parliamentary Decrees putting the said laws into effect were adopted and entered into force.

II. Membership in Treaties

(2) The Government of Belarus deposited on Apr. 14, 1993, a declaration to the effect that the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks and the Patent Cooperation Treaty continue to be applicable to Belarus. Belarus was already party to the Convention Establishing the World Intellectual Property Organization.

III. Industrial Property Rights Granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union

(3) A patent for invention, an industrial design patent or trademark certificate, which was issued by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union may be registered by the State Patent Office of Belarus at the request of the owner. Upon registration, such industrial property rights will be considered as having the same effects as a patent for invention, industrial design patent or trademark certificate issued by the State Patent Office of Belarus. The duration is 20 years from the filing date of the application with the patent Office of the Soviet Union in the case of a patent for invention, 15 years from the filing date of the application with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union in the case of an industrial design patent, and 10 years from the filing date of the request for registration by the State Patent Office of Belarus in the case of a trademark certificate, the latter request to be filed before the expiry of the 10-year term from the filing date of the application with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union. The filing date and any priority date of the application with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union will be maintained.

(4) As regards inventors' certificates and industrial design certificates granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union in relation to which a 20-year term in the case of inventions, or a 15-year term in the case of industrial designs, both counted from the filing date of the application, has not expired, the State Patent Office of Belarus will grant for the remaining term a Belarusian patent for invention or industrial design patent upon the joint request of the applicant and the inventor (inventors). Failing the agreement between the applicant and the inventor (inventors), no patent will be granted.

(5) The request for registration by the State Patent Office of Belarus must be filed before Feb. 5, 1994, in the case of inventions and industrial designs, and before Oct. 5, 1993, in the case of trademarks. It must be accompanied by the original or a copy, certified by a the patent owner, or the applicant, or the patent attorney, of the patent or certificate issued by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union, and also by a copy of the document attesting that the fee for the preceding term has been paid.

(6) Any inventor's certificate which is not exchanged for a patent for invention will enjoy the legal status which had been applicable to the invention in question in the Soviet Union before July 1, 1991.

IV. Applications for Industrial Property Rights Filed with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or with the Patent Office of the Russian Federation Before Feb. 5, 1993

(7) The applicant of an application for a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate, or of an application for an industrial design patent or an industrial design certificate which had been filed with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or with the Patent Office of the Russian Federation before Feb. 5, 1993, and in respect of which a decision to grant has been taken, may request the State Patent Office of Belarus to issue a Belarusian patent for invention or industrial design patent. The request must be filed before Aug. 5, 1993.

(8) The applicant of an application for a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate, of an application for an industrial design patent or an industrial design certificate, or of an application for a trademark certificate, which had been filed with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or with the Patent Office of the Russian Federation before Feb. 5, 1993, and the processing of which has not been completed and in respect of which patents or certificates have not been granted, may request the State Patent Office of Belarus before Aug. 5, 1993, that the said application be further processed according to the Belarusian legislation and that the priority date of the said application be maintained, provided that the request is filed before the expiry of 27 months from the filing date of the first application in the case of inventions, and before the expiry of 21 months from the filing date of the first application in the case of industrial designs and trademarks.

V. Applications for Industrial Property Rights Filed, Before Apr. 14, 1993, with the Industrial Property Offices of States Party to the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property

(9) The State Patent Office of Belarus will recognize the priority date of the first application filed in a State party to the Paris Convention, provided that, in the case of inventions, the request for the grant of a Belarusian patent based on the said application is filed with the State Patent Office of Belarus before the expiry of 27 months from the filing date of the first application or, in the case of industrial designs and trademarks, the request for the grant of a Belarusian industrial design patent, or for the grant of a Belarusian trademark certificate, based on said application, is filed with the State Patent Office of Belarus before the expiry of 21 months from the filing date of the first application.

VI. Effects in Belarus of International Applications under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT)

(10) (a) As mentioned in paragraph (2), above, on Apr. 14, 1993, Belarus deposited a declaration of continuation, the effect of which is that the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) is applied by Belarus. Nationals and residents of Belarus can therefore file international applications, and Belarus can be designated and elected in international applications filed, from that date.

(b) Rules 32.1 and 32.2 of the Regulations under the PCT, allow the extension of international applications to certain successor States.

VOL 1170 ISS 1 JA 3 1995 UMI

(c) For the purpose of determining the status of international applications with respect to Belarus, one has to distinguish between:

(i) international applications designated the Soviet Union which were filed before Dec. 25, 1991 (see (d), below);

(ii) international applications-irrespective of the designations they contain-which were filed between Dec. 25, 1991, and June 22, 1993 (see (e) to (g), below);

(iii) international applications specifically* designated Belarus filed on or after Apr. 14, 1993 (see (h), below).

(d) As regards any international application whose international filing date is before Dec. 25, 1991, and in which the Soviet Union has been designated, the "national filing effect" of any such application under Article 11(4) of the PCT will, pursuant to the deposit by Belarus of its declaration of continuation, be recognized in Belarus. The conditions under which any such international application, or any patent or inventor's certificate resulting therefrom and granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or by the Patent Office of the Russian Federation, may continue to have effect in Belarus are the following:

(i) if a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate has been granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or by the Patent Office of the Russian Federation on the basis of international application, the conditions referred to in paragraph (3) to (6) above, are applicable;

(ii) if the applicant has entered the national phase before the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or the Patent Office of the Russian Federation but a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate has not been granted by either of those Offices, the conditions referred to in paragraphs (7) and (8), above, are applicable, provided that the applicant, before Aug. 5, 1993, files with the State Patent Office of Belarus a request that the international application be further processed according to the Belarusian legislation; the request must be accompanied by a copy of the Russian translation of the international application submitted to the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or the Patent Office of the Russian Federation and a declaration that the application is still pending before the Patent Office of the Russian Federation, except where a decision to grant a patent has been made, in which case only the requirements referred to in paragraph (7), above, apply;

(iii) if the applicant has not entered the national phase before the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or the Patent Office of the Russian Federation and the time limit for entering the national phase had not expired on Dec. 24, 1991, the applicant must furnish to the State Patent Office of Belarus,within the following time limit, a translation of the international application into Belarusian or Russian and evidence that the prescribed fee (see paragraph (13), below) has been paid to the latter Office.

—before Aug. 5, 1993, or before the expiration of 21 months from the priority date, whichever is later, if Belarus is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date;

—before Aug. 5, 1993, or before the expiration of 31 months from the priority date, whichever is later, if Belarus is elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date.

(e) As regards any international application whose international filing date is later than Dec. 24, 1991, and not later than June 22, 1993, its effect may be extended to Belarus (irrespective of the designations it contains) through the performance by the applicant of the following acts:

(i) filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) a request for extension;

(ii) paying to the International Bureau of WIPO an extension fee of 185 Swiss francs, payable only in Swiss francs.

(f) The applicant in respect of each and every international application referred to in (e), above, or his agent or common representative if there is one, will receive a written notification form the International Bureau of WIPO drawing his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written request for extension, extend the effects of the international application to Belarus. The notification will, in particular, specify the modes of payment of the extension fee of 185 Swiss francs. The request for extension must contain the identification of the applicant's international application by its international application number. A form which may be issued for the purpose of requesting the extension to Belarus will be attached to the notification. The request for extension must be in English or French, and may be sent by telefax or telex. The request for extension and the corresponding payment must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of three months from the date of the notification sent by the International Bureau of WIPO; if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. It is recommended that applicants await the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO and use the form attached to it, but requests and payments may be made prior to receipt of the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO.

(g) If the conditions described in (e) and (f), above, are fulfilled, Belarus will be considered as having been designated in the international application on its international filing date. In order to enter the national phase before the State Patent Office of Belarus, the applicant must furnish to that Office, within the following time limit, both a translation of the international application into Belarusian or Russian and evidence that the prescribed fee (see paragraph (13), below) has been paid:

(i) before Aug. 5, 1993, or before the expiration of 21 months from the priority date, whichever is later, if Belarus is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date and item (iii) does not apply;

(ii) before Aug. 5, 1993, or the expiration of 31 months from the priority date, whichever is later, if Belarus is elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date;

(iii) before Aug. 5, 1993, or the expiration of 31 months from the priority date, whichever is later, if a request for extension to Belarus is made after, but the demand for international preliminary examination was made before, the expiration of 19 months from the priority date, and a later election of Belarus is made together with the request for extension or within three months from the date of the request for extension.

(h) As regards any international application whose International filing date is on or after Apr. 14, 1993, and in which Belarus is specifically designated, the applicant, in order to enter the national phase before the State Patent Office of Belarus, must furnish to that Office, within the following time limit, both a translation of the international application into Belarusian or Russian and evidence that the prescribed fee (see paragraph (13), below) has been paid to the said Office:

(i) before the expiration of 21 months from the priority date if Belarus is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT with 19 months from the priority date;

(ii) before the expiration of 31 months from the priority date if Belarus is elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the Priority date.

VII. Effects in Belarus of International Registrations under the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks

(11) (a) As mentioned in paragraph (2), above, On Apr. 14, 1993, Belarus deposited a declaration of continuation, the effect of which was that the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks is applied by Belarus.

(b) Pursuant to the deposit of the declaration of continuation and to Rule 38 of the Regulations under the Madrid Agreement, certain international registrations may have effect in Belarus subject to the conditions described below. The international registrations are those which have a territorial extension to the Soviet Union effective from a date prior to Dec. 25, 1991.

(c) The conditions referred to above are the following:

(i) the filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) of a request;

(ii) the payment to the International Bureau of WIPO of a fee, the amount of which is 62 Swiss francs per international registration.

(d) The owner of each and every international registration concerned, or his representative (if the owner has a representative whose name appears in the International Register), will receive a written notice from the International Bureau of WIPO drawing his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written request, obtain the continuation of the effect of the international registration in Belarus. The notice will, in particular, specify the modes of payment of the fee. The request must contain the identification of the international registration concerned by its international registration number. A form (in French) will be attached to the notice and may be used. The request must be in English or French, and may be sent by telefax or telex. The request and the corresponding payment must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of six months from the date of the notice sent by the International Bureau of WIPO; if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. Requests and payments may be made upon receipt of the notice of the International Bureau of WIPO.

(e) If the conditions described above are fulfilled, the international registration concerned will, with respect to Belarus, have effect as of the effective date of the territorial extension to the Soviet Union and benefit from any priority validly claimed with regard to such extension.

(f) For each international registration which has a territorial extension to the Russian Federation effective as of a date between Dec. 25, 1991 and Apr. 14, 1993, the owner may request the State Patent Office of Belarus, before Aug. 5, 1993, that the said registration be processed as an application under the Belarusian legislation. The request must be accompanied by an extract from the International Register established by the International Bureau of WIPO, by a declaration that, to the best knowledge of the owner, the international registration still has effect in the Russian Federation, and by an application filed according to the Belarusian legislation.

(g) For each international registration not covered by (b) or (f), above, namely, for each international registration which has no territorial extension to the Soviet Union or to the Russian Federation or whose international registration date is later than Apr. 14, 1993, protection in Belarus can only be obtained by filing, through the intermediary of the national Office of the country of the owner, a request for territorial extension under Rule 20 of the Regulations under the Madrid Agreement. It is noted that requests for territorial extension to Belarus are possible at present.

VIII. Procedural Provisions

(12) If an applicant does not have his ordinary residence or principal place in business in Belarus, he must authorize a representative in Belarus, and all requests, applications and other documents must be filed through the intermediary of such a representative.

(13) The official fees applicable to the procedures referred to under paragraphs (3), (4), (5), (7), (8) (10) and (11)(f) are available from the State Patent Office of Belarus.

(14) Any request referred to under paragraphs (3), (4), (5), (7), (8), (10)(d)(ii) and (11)(f), above, and any declaration referred to under paragraphs (10)(d)(ii) and (11)(f), above, must be filed in Belarusian or Russian.

*In this announcement, an international application is regarded as "specifically" designating Belarus either if Belarus has been designated under Rule 4.9(a) of the Regulations under the PCT or if the designation of Belarus has been confirmed under Rule 4.9(c) of those Regulations.

With the exception of any such international application whose international filing date is on or after Apr. 14, 1993, and in which Belarus is specifically designated: in such a case, the procedure described in (e) to (g) is not applicable, and the procedure described in (h) applies. It should be noted that Belarus can be specifically designated only in those international applications filed on or after Apr. 14, 1993.

(209) Regarding Patent and Trademark Rights in the Republic of Lithuania

The State Patent Bureau of the Republic of Lithuania has provided the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office with information regarding the protection of inventions, industrial designs, and trademarks in the Republic of Lithuania.

Following is the unedited text of the SUMMARY OF INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY PROTECTION IN LITHUANIA, provided in English translation by the Government of Lithuania, outlining the status of industrial property protection in Lithuania pending enactment of new legislation.

"The system of industrial property protection in Lithuania functioned reasonably well until 1940 ('Law on Protection of Trademarks' of Jan. 27, 1925, 'Law on the Protection of Inventions and Improvements' of May 14, 1928, 'Law on the Protection of Industrial Models and Designs').

• Since 1940 industrial property protection in Lithuania had been based on legal acts of the Soviet Union.

• After Lithuania has declared it's independence it started establishing an independent national industrial property legislation. On Apr. 12, 1991, the Government of the Republic of Lithuania established the Lithuanian Patent Office, which is functioning under the name of the State Patent Bureau. On Dec. 1, 1991, the State Patent Bureau has proceeded the registration of Company Names of the Republic of Lithuania under the Regulations of Company Names.

Since Apr. 30, 1992 the Republic of Lithuania is a member of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO).

• In order to ensure legal protection of industrial property (inventions, industrial designs and trademarks), rights of inventors, patent owners and investors on May 20, 1992 the Government of the Republic of Lithuania adopted a Decree No 362 on provisional measures until the laws of the Republic of Lithuania on inventions, industrial designs and trademarks are adopted. The contents of the provisional measures and their main consequences are summarized below.

INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY RIGHTS GRANTED BY THE PATENT OFFICE OF THE FORMER SOVIET UNION

1. Valid patents for inventions, as well as valid inventor's certificates, granted by the Patent Office of the former Soviet Union on the basis of applications filed beginning with Jan. 1, 1978, shall be registered as patents of the Republic of Lithuania for a period not longer than 15 years from the date of filing an application, provided that the inventor together with the applicant or the patent owner files a request to that effect with the State Patent Bureau no later than Sept. 30, 1993 and pays the prescribed State fee. Failing such a request, the patent or inventor's certificate will not have any effect in the Republic of Lithuania.
2. Industrial design for which valid industrial design patent or industrial design certificates granted by the Patent Office of the former Soviet Union on the basis of applications filed beginning with Jan. 1, 1983 shall be registered as industrial designs in the Republic of Lithuania for a period of 5 years with a possibility of renewing the registration for 5 consecutive years but not longer than for a period of 10 years from the date of filing an application provided that the creator of the industrial design together with the applicant or the patent owner files a request to that effect with the State Patent Bureau not later than Sept. 30, 1993 and pays the prescribed State fee. Failing such a request, the industrial design patent or certificate shall not have any effect in Lithuania.
3. A patent or industrial design, which has been registered under paragraph 1 or 2 above, will have no effect against any person who in the Republic of Lithuania, prior to the date of the request for registration was using the invention or industrial design protected by inventor's certificate or certificate or was making effective and serious preparation for such use.
4. Trademarks for which valid trademark certificates were granted by the Patent Office of the former Soviet Union shall be registered as trademarks in the Republic of Lithuania for a period of 10 years, provided that the owner of the trademark certificate files a request to that effect with the State Patent Bureau not later than Sept. 30, 1993 and pays the prescribed State fee. The same applies to international trademark registration effected under Madrid Agreement concerning the International Registration of Marks, for which valid trademark certificates had the territorial extension to the Former Soviet Union. Failing such a request, the trademark certificate will not have any effect in the Republic of Lithuania.

5. Priority rights may be claimed from May 20, 1992 onwards, but not later than Apr. 30, 1993, on the basis of previous patents, industrial design and trademark applications filed with the Patent Office of the former Soviet Union after Jan. 1, 1990, and which were pending on Jan. 31, 1992. Such priority rights are governed by the provisions of Article 4 of the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property.
6. Information regarding patents for inventions and industrial designs and trademark certificates shall be published in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of the State Patent Bureau of the Republic of Lithuania.

NEW APPLICATIONS FOR INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY RIGHTS FILED WITH THE STATE PATENT BUREAU OF THE REPUBLIC OF LITHUANIA

7. Pending the enactment of industrial property legislation in Lithuania, it is possible to file patent applications and applications for the registration of industrial designs and of trademarks with the State Patent Bureau on the basis of legal acts of the Republic of Lithuania.

Foreign natural and legal persons, having their ordinary residence or principle place of business outside Lithuania, shall file requests and applications only through a patent attorney, registered in the Register of patent attorneys of the Republic of Lithuania.

Copies of the list of fees of the State Patent Bureau of the Republic of Lithuania and of the list of registered patent attorneys are available from Box 4, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231

(210) Regarding Industrial Property Rights in the Republic of Slovenia

The Industrial Property Protection Office of the Republic of Slovenia has provided the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) with a consolidated text, in English, of the Law on Industrial Property of the Republic of Slovenia which regulates the grant and protection of patents, model rights and design rights, trademarks and service marks, and appellations of origin. In addition, the Industrial Property Protection Office has notified the USPTO that it has entered into an "extension agreement" with the European Patent Organisation that will enter into force in Jauary 1994. After entry into force of the agreement, it will be possible to obtain patent protection in Slovenia through obtaining a European patent. The Republic of Slovenia also plans to ratify the Patent Cooperation Treaty administered by the World Intellectual Property Organization.

A copy of the consolidated text of the Slovenian industrial prperty law can be obtained by writing to the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Box 4, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(211) Regarding Industrial Property Rights In The Republic Of Croatia

The State Patent Office of the Republic of Croatia has provided the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office with information regarding the protection of inventions, industrial designs, and trademarks and appellations of origin in the Republic of Croatia.

Following is the unedited text of the document provided in English translation by the Government of Croatia, outlining the status of industrial property protection.

"I. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY IN THE REPUBLIC OF CROATIA

MEMBERSHIP IN INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS, CONVENTIONS AND TREATIES

The Republic of Croatia is a party to the following conventions:
•the Convention Establishing the World Intellectual Property Organization;
• the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property;
• the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks;
•the Nice Agreement Concerning the International Classification of Goods and Services for the Purposes of the Registration of Marks;
•the Locarno Agreement Establishing an International Classification for Industrial Designs;
•the BERNE Convention for the Protection of Literary and Artistic Works based on the notifications confirmed by the Director General of the World Intellecutal Property Organization, in his letter of 29, July, 1992, considered to be effective from 8, October, 1991, the date of independance declaration of the Republic of Croatia.

This fact grants the continuity of membership of the Republic of Croatia in the aforementioned conventions, starting from the found state of former Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia.

II. INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY IN THE REPUBLIC OF CROATIA

1. MAIN FEATURES OF INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY LAW IN THE REPUBLIC OF CROATIA

Industrial Property Law comprises:
•patents;
•designs;
•trademarks and service marks;
•appellations of origin.

According to this Law, which is basically in accordance with the aforementioned conventions and arrangements, the validity of patent is 20 years, and the validity of designs and marks 10 years upon the submission of the patent application. The validity of marks can be renewed without limitations. Foreign legal and physical persons are obliged to protect their industrial property rights in the Republic of Croatia by means of an authorized representative, either a Croatian citizen or a local legal entity.

3. INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY IN THE REPUBLIC OF CROATIA-PROSPECTS

A new law on industrial property is expected to be passed during 1994, conceding the use of the institution of complete examination of conditions for the grant of patents. Within general activities aimed at harmonization and unification of the legal provisions governing idustrial property rights, the State Patent Office will take up the activities concerning the admission to PCT and the European Patent Convention.

4. INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY RIGHTS GRANTED OR APPLIED FOR BY SUBMITTING AN APPLICATION TO THE FORMER FEDERAL PATENT OFFICE FOR THE TERRITORY OF FORMER YUGOSLAVIA (SFRY)

4.1. The Industrial property rights granted through the former Federal Patent Office up to 8 October, 1991 are regulated in Article 10, paragraph 1 and 2 of the Law on Changes and Amendments of the Law on Protection of Inventions, Technical Improvements and Distinctive Signs ("Official Gazette of the Republic of Croatia", 2 April, 1992): 'All rights of industrial property which are granted by the decisions of the former Federal Patent Office up to 8 October 1991 are valid on the territory of the Republic of Croatia up to their expiration. Upon the request of the rightfull claimants from the aforementioned paragraph, the State Patent Office will enter this particular right into the corresponding register.'

4.2. Rights acquired in former Yugoslavia by the international registration of marks (International Bureau of WIPO, Geneve)

The Assembly of the Madrid Union on 29 September, 1992 adopted the new Rule No. 38, which apart from the Republic of Croatia applies to Solvenia and Ukraine, of the Regulations under the Madrid Arrangement, according to which the internationally registered marks with the territorial sign YU with the dates earlier 1 December, 1992 can be effective in the Republic of Coratia, provided that:
•a request is submitted to the International Bureau of WIPO, Geneve (on the basis of the written notification of the International Bureau of WIPO);
•a fee in the amount of 62 Swiss francs for each internationally registered mark is paid to the International Bureau.

The International Bureau will by the end of 1992 notify in written form each of the owners of the internationally registered mark with the sign YU, with the appeal to utilize the possibility provided by the Rule No. 38 prior to March 1, 1994.

4.3. The Industrial property rights applied for by submitting the application at the former Federal Patent Office before 8 October, 1991, which were not granted or declined, can be effected in the Republic of Croatia by submitting the same applications to the State Patent Office until 4 November, 1993 (this period was prolonged by the Regulation of the Government of the Republic of Croatia of 14 April, 1993)."

The address of the State Patent Office is:

State Patent Office of the Republic of Croatia
Avenija Vukovar 78 41000 Zagreb
CROATIA

The State Patent Office of the Republic of Croatia has also provided a copy of the fees charged and a list of patent attorneys authorized to practice. Copies of these can be provided on request. Please send request to U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Office of Legislation and International Affairs, Box 4, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(212) Regarding Patent And Trademark Rights In The Former Yugoslav Republic Of Macedonia

The Ministry of Development of the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia has provided the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office with information regarding the status of industrial property protection within the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia.

Following is the unedited text of the ANNOUNCEMENT ON THE PROTECTION OF INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY IN THE FORMER YUGOSLAV REPUBLIC OF MACEDONIA, provided in English translation by the Ministry of Development.

"The present situation of industrial property protection in the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia is summarized below.

I. Legislation

(1) On July 14, 1993, the Industrial Property Act entered into force. An Office for the Protection of Industrial Property of the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia will be set up within a few months.
(2) Pending the setting-up of the said Office, applications for patents for inventions, utility models, industrial designs, trademarks, service marks and appellations of origin may be filed with the Ministry of Development in order to establish a filing or priority date. Applications so filed will not, however, be processed to grant or refusal until the said Office has been established.

II. Application of International Treaties

(3) On July 23, 1993, the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia deposited a declaration the effect of which is that all those treaties administered by WIPO to which Yugoslavia was party continue to be applicable as far as the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia is concerned. Those treaties are: the Convention Establishing the World Intellectual Property Organization, the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks, the Nice Agreement Concerning the International Classification of Goods and Services for the Purposes of the Registration of Marks, the Locarno Agreement Establishing an International Classification for Industrial Designs and the Berne Conventon for the Protection of Literary and Artistic Works.

(4) A further announcement will be made on the procedure to be followed to confirm the effect of international registrations to Rule 38 of the Regulations under the Madrid Agreement.

III. Applications for Industrial Property Rights Previously Filed with the Former Federal Patent Office in Belgrade and Industrial Property Rights Granted by the Former Federal Patent Office in Belgrade

(5) The applicant of any application for an industrial property right filed with the former Federal Patent Office in Belgrade prior to April 26, 1992, may file with the Office for the Protection of Industrial Property of the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, after its establishment and prior to July 7, 1994, a request that the application be further processed.
(6) The owner of any industrial property right granted by the former Federal Patent Office in Belgrade and valid on July 7, 1993, may file with the Office for the Protection of Industrial Property of the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, after its establishment and prior to July 7, 1995, a request to the effect that the granted industrial property right be considered for the remaining period of its validity as an industrial property right granted by the Office for the Protection of Industrial Property of the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia.

(213) Regarding Industrial Property In The Kygyz Republic

The following notice is reprinted from the December 1993 edition of "Industrial Property" published by the World Intellectual Property Organization, giving the status of industrial property protection in the Kyrgyz Republic:

The present situation of industrial property protection in the Kyrgyz Republic is summerized below.

I. Legislation

VOL 1170 ISS 1 JA 3 1995 UMI

(1) Pending the enactment of the industrial property laws, the Government of the Kyrgyz Republic adopted, on August 2, 1993, the Provisional Regulations on Industrial Property, which cover inventions, utility models, industrial designs and trademarks. It is possible, as of August 2, 1993, to file applicastions for the grant of patents for inventions and for the registration of utility models, industrial designs and trademarks with the Patent Department of the State Committee on Science and New Technologies of the Kyrgyz Republic.

II. Application of International Treaties

(2) The Kyrgyz Republic intends to become party to the Convention Establishing the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO), to the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, to the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks, to the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) and to the Nice Agreement Concening the International Classification of Goods and Services for the Purposes of the Registration of Marks.

(3) Announcements will be made as soon as the Kyrgyz Republic becomes party to the treaties mentioned in paragraph (2), above, or to any other treaties administered by WIPO. Details will be given at that stage of the procedures to be followed to confirm the application to the Kyrgyz Republic of certain international applications under the PCT and certain international registrations under the Madrid Agreement.

III. Reregistration of Industrial Property Titles Granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union and Further Processing of Pending Applications

(4) The owner of a patent for invention, an inventor's certificate, an industrial design patent or certificate granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union and still in force may file directly with the Patent Department of the State Committee on Science and New Technologies of the Kyrgyz Republic before May 1, 1994, a request for the grant of a Kyrgyz patent for invention, design patent or trademark certificate.

(5) An applicant of an application for a patent for invention, for an industrial design patent or for a trademark certificate filed before August 2, 1993, with the express or implied intention of obtaining protection also in the Kyrgyz Republic and pending with the Patent Office of the Russian Federation may file with Patent Department of the State Committee on Science and New Technologies of the Kyrgyz Republic before May 1, 1994, a request that the application be further processed under Kyrgyz legislation.

IV. Procedural Provisions

(6) The procedures referred to in paragraphs (1), (4) and (5) are subject to payment of the prescribed fees.

Notice of Maintenance Fees Payable

Title 37 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), Section 1.362(d) provides that maintenance fees may be paid without surcharge for the six-month period beginning 3, 7, and 11 years after the date of issue of patents based on applications filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980. An additional six-month grace period is provided by 35 U.S.C. 41(b) and 37 CFR 1.362(e) for payment of the maintenance fee with the surcharge set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(h), as amended effective Dec. 16, 1991. If the maintenance fee is not paid in the patent requiring such payment the patent will expire on the 4th, 8th, or 12th anniversary of the grant.

Attention is drawn to the patents which were issued on December 31, 1991 for which maintenance fees due at 3 years and six months may now be paid. The patents have patent numbers within the following ranges:

Utility Patents 5,075,897 through 5,077,835
Reissue Patents based on the above identified patents.

Attention is drawn to the patents which were issued on December 29, 1987 for which maintenance fees due at 7 years and six months may now be paid. The patents have patent numbers within the following ranges:

Utility Patents 4,715,066 through 4,716,593
Reissue Patents based on the above identified patents.

Attention is drawn to the patents which were issued on December 27, 1983 for which maintenance fees due at 11 years and six months may now be paid. The patents have patent numbers within the following ranges:

Utility Patents 4,422,183 through 4,423,522
Reissue Patents based on the above identified patents.

No maintenance fees are required for design or plant patents.

Payments of maintenance fees in patents should be directed to "Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box M. Fee, Washington, D.C. 20231."

For patents based on applications filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980, but before Aug. 27, 1982, patent owners must establish small entity status according to 37 CFR 1.27 if they have not done so and if they wish to pay the small entity amount.

The current amounts of the maintenance fees due at 3 years and six months, 7 years and six months, and 11 years and six months are set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(e)-(g), as amended Oct. 1, 1994, which are reproduced below:

37 CFR § 1.20 Post-issuance fees

(e) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980, in force beyond 4 years; the fee is due by three years and six months after the original grant:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $480.00
By other than a small entity $960.00

(f) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 in force beyond 8 years; the fee is due by seven years and six months after the original grant:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $965.00
By other than a small entity $1,930.00

(g) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 in force beyond 12 years; the fee is due by eleven years and six months after the original grant:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $1,450.00
By other than a small entity $2,900.00

The amount of the surcharge for paying the maintenance fee during the grace period or after expiration of the patent are set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(h), and (i) which are reproduced below:

(h) Surcharge for paying a maintenance fee during the 6 month grace period following the expiration of three years and six months, seven years and six months, and eleven years and six months after the date of the original grant of a patent based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $65.00
By other than a small entity $130.00

(i) Surcharge for accepting a maintenance fee after expiration of a patent for non-timely payment of a maintenance fee where the delay is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been:

(1) unavoidable $640.00
(2) unintentional $1,500.00

Notice of Expiration of Patents
Due to Failure to Pay Maintenance Fee

35 U.S.C. 41 and 37 CFR 1.362(g) provide that if the required maintenance fee and any applicable surcharge are not paid in a patent requiring such payment, the patent will expire at the end of the 4th, 8th or 12th anniversary of the grant of the patent depending on the first maintenance fee which was not paid.

According to the records of the Office, the patents listed below have expired due to failure to pay the required maintenance fee and any applicable surcharge.

Notice of Expiration of Trademark Registrations Due To Failure to Renew

15 U.S.C. 1059 provides that each trademark registration may be renewed for periods of ten years from the end of the expiring period upon payment of the prescribed fee and the filing of an acceptable application for renewal. This may be done at any time within six months before the expiration of the period for which the registration was issued or renewed, or it may be done within three months after such expiration on payment of an additional fee.

According to the records of the Office, the trademark registrations listed below are expired due to failure to renew in accordance with 15 U.S.C. 1059.

[Docket No. 941120-4320]

RIN: 0651-AA76

Changes to Implement 20-Year Patent Term and Provisional Applications

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.

Action: Notice of proposed rulemaking.

Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (Office) is proposing to amend the rules of practice in patent cases to implement the changes related to patent term in title 35, United State Code, contained in the Uruguay Round Agreements Act (S. 2467 and H.R. 5110), which was recently passed by Congress, and to simplify the rules. Among the changes that are contained in S. 2467 and H.R. 5110 are the conversion to a 20-year patent term measured from the date of filing an application in the U.S., and the introduction of provisional applications. The changes apply to utility and plant patents. They do not apply to design patents. S. 2467 was passed by the Senate on December 1, 1994, and the House passed H.R. 5110 on November 29, 1994. The President has indicated that he will sign the bills. Since a Public Law number is not available, the rule package refers to the Senate and House bill numbers for convenience. The amendments to title 35 relating to 20-year patent term and provisional applications will be effective on the date which is 6 months after the date of enactment.

Dates: Written comments must be submitted on or before February 17, 1995. A public hearing will be held Thursday, February 16, 1995, at 9:30 a.m., in the Commissioner's Conference Room 912, Crystal Park 2, 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia. Requests to present oral testimony should be received on or before February 14, 1995.

Addresses: Address written comments and requests to present oral testimony to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, Attention: Stephen G. Kunin, Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Patent Policy and Projects, Crystal Park 2, Suite 919, or by fax to (703)305-8825.

For Further Information Contact: Magdalen Y. Greenlief or John F. Gonzales, Special Program Examiners, Office of the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Patent Policy and Projects, at (703)305-9285 or by mail marked to their attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Supplementary Information: This proposed rule change is designed primarily to implement the changes in practice related to patent term provided for in S. 2467 and H.R. 5110. In addition, it is proposed to simplify the procedures for filing continuation and divisional applications which will benefit both the Office and the public.

Section 154 of title 35, United State Code, currently provides that every patent (other than a design patent) shall be granted for a term of seventeen years from the patent issue date, subject to the payment of maintenance fees as provided for in title 35. S. 2467 and H.R. 5110 amend 35 U.S.C. 154 by establishing a 20-year patent term from the date of filing of the application. Specifically, the legislation provides that the patent term will begin on the date on which the patent issues and will end twenty years from the date on which the application was filed in the United States. If the application contains a specific reference to an earlier application under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 or 365(c), the patent term will end twenty years from the date on which the earliest application relied on was filed. As amended by S. 2467 and H.R. 5110, 35 U.S.C. 154 excludes from determination of the patent term any application on which priority is claimed under 35 U.S.C. 119, 365(a) or 365(b).

S. 2467 and H.R. 5110 further provide that the term of a patent may be extended, for a maximum of five years, where the issuance of a patent is delayed because of (1) proceedings under 35 U.S.C. 135(a), (2) placement of the application under a secrecy order pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 181, and/or, under certain circumstances, (3) appellate review by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences or by a federal court. The total extension available is limited to five years regardless of whether there were delays due to more than one of the reasons covered by the legislation. This extension is separate from and in addition to the patent term extension available under 35 U.S.C. 156.

In addition, S. 2467 and H.R. 5110 establish a domestic priority system. In accordance with the provisions of the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, the term of a patent cannot include the Paris Convention priority period. The legislation provides a mechanism to enable domestic applicants to quickly and inexpensively file provisional applications. Applicants will be entitled to claim the benefit of priority in a given application based upon the previously filed provisional application in the United States. The domestic priority period will not count in the measurement of the term. Thus, under the legislation, domestic applicants will be placed on an equal footing with foreign applicants with respect to the patent term.

35 U.S.C. 111 is amended by S. 2467 and H.R. 5110 to provide for the filing of a provisional application. 35 U.S.C. 41(a)(1) is amended to provide a $150.00 filing fee for each provisional application, subject to a 50 percent reduction for a small entity. The requirements for obtaining a filing date for a provisional application are the same as those which previously existed for an application filed under 35 U.S.C. 111, except that no claim or claims as set forth in 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, is required. Moreover, no oath/declaration as set forth in 35 U.S.C. 115 is required. The provisional application is also not subject to the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 131, 135 and 157, i.e., a provisional application will not be examined for patentability, placed in interference or made the subject of a statutory invention registration. Further, the provisional application will automatically be abandoned twelve (12) months after its filing date and will not be subject to revival to restore it to pending status thereafter. Benefit of the filing date of the copending provisional application may be claimed pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 119(e), as contained in S. 2467 and H.R. 5110, in a continuing application during these 12 months. A provisional application will not be entitled to claim priority benefits based on any other application under 35 U.S.C. 119, 120, 121 or 365.

Also, S. 2467 and H.R. 5110 amend 35 U.S.C. 119 to allow an applicant to claim benefits of the filing date of the provisional application in a later filed U.S. application. However, since 35 U.S.C. 154 excludes from the determination of the patent term any application on which priority is claimed under 35 U.S.C. 119, 365(a) or 365(b), the filing date of a provisional application will not be considered in determining the term of any patent.

S. 2467 and H.R. 5110 further include transitional provisions for limited reexamination in certain applications pending for 2 years or longer as of the effective date of 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2), taking into account any reference to any earlier application under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 or 365(c). The transitional provisions also permit examination of more than one independent and distinct invention in certain applications pending for 3 years or longer as of the effective date of 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2), taking into account any reference to any earlier application under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 or 365(c). These transitional provisions are not applicable to any application which is filed on or after the effective date of 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2), regardless of whether the application is a continuing application.

In addition, this proposed rule change will simplify the procedures by eliminating the processing and retention fee practice set forth in existing sections 1.53(d) and 1.78(a)(1). The processing and retention fee practice allows applicants to file an application without the filing fee and to pay the processing and retention fee of $130.00 in order for the application to be used as a basis for foreign filing and for priority under 35 U.S.C. 120. The processing and retention fee practice is seldom used and will be unnecessary in view of the legislation which provides for the filing of a provisional application with a filing fee of $150.00/$75.00. The result achieved by the use of the processing and retention fee practice can be achieved by the use of the provisional application practice at about the same fee level.

In order to simplify the procedures for filing continuation and divisional applications, it is proposed that section 1.60 be deleted. The procedures set forth in section 1.60 are unnecessary in view of the recent rule change to section 1.6(d) which permits the filing of a copy of an oath or declaration. Applicants may use the procedures set forth in section 1.53 to file a continuation or divisional application under 35 U.S.C. 111(a), as contained in S. 2467 and H.R. 5110, by providing the Office with a copy of the prior application as filed. The issue of a stale oath or declaration would be eliminated by amending Office practice since neither the statute nor the rules require a recent date of execution to appear on the oath or declaration. The subject matter of the application would have been executed by the inventor(s) and the duty of candor and good faith including the duty of disclosure requirements of section 1.56 would be continuous and would apply to the continuing application.

Clarifying amendments are proposed to be made to sections 1.16, paragraphs (a) and (f); and 1.17, paragraphs(h) and (i). These proposed amendments do not affect the substance of the rules.

The fees set forth in current section 1.17, paragraphs (i)(1) and (i)(2), are proposed to be consolidated into a new paragraph (i).

Discussion of Specific Rules

If Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations, Parts 1 and 3, are amended as proposed:

Section 1.1 would provide a special "Box Provisional Patent Application" address to assist the Mail Room in separating and processing provisional applications and mail relating thereto.

Section 1.9 would have current paragraph (a) redesignated as subparagraph (a)(1). A new subparagraph (a)(2) would be added to define the term "provisional application" as a U.S. national application filed under 35 U.S.C. 111(b).

Sections 1.12 and 1.14 would have the reference to 37 CFR 1.17(i)(1) replaced with a reference to 37 CFR 1.17(i) because it is proposed that 37 CFR 1.17(i)(1) and (i)(2) be consolidated into a new paragraph (i) since the petition fees provided in existing paragraphs (i)(1) and (i)(2) are the same.

Section 1.16 would list the basic filing fee for a provisional application as $75.00 for a small entity (see section 1.9(c)-(f)) or $150.00 for other than a small entity as contained in S. 2467 and H.R. 5110. Since the filing fee for a provisional application is established by S. 2467 and H.R. 5110 as a 35 U.S.C. 41(a) fee, the filing fee for a provisional application will be subject to the 50 percent reduction provided for in 35 U.S.C. 41(h). A complete provisional application does not require claims since no examination on the merits will be given to a provisional application. However, provisional applications may be filed with one or more claims as part of the application. Nevertheless, no additional claim fee or multiple dependent claim fee will be required in a provisional application.

Also, proposed section 1.16 paragraph (l), would establish the surcharge required by proposed section 1.53(d)(2) for filing the basic filing fee or the cover sheet required by proposed section 1.51(a)(2) for a provisional application at a time later than the provisional application filing date as $25.00 for a small entity or $50.00 for other than a small entity. The $50.00/$25.00 surcharge set forth in proposed paragraph (l) for a provisional application is less than the $130.00/$65.00 surcharge set forth in paragraph (e) for all other types of patent applications. A reduced surcharge for a provisional application is proposed in view of the lower filing fee required for a provisional application and in an attempt to minimize applicant's overall cost of filing a provisional application.

Clarifying changes would be made to section 1.16. These changes do not affect the substance of the rule. It is proposed to insert the words "basic fee" in paragraph (f) of section 1.16. Paragraph (e) currently refers to "the basic filing fee". Current Office practice allows a design application to be filed without the design filing fee or the oath/declaration as set forth in current section 1.53(d). The change to section 1.16(f) is merely for clarification. In addition, it is proposed to replace the word "cases" found in paragraph (a) with the word "applications", since the word "applications" is used elsewhere in the rule.

Section 1.17 would amend paragraph (h) to provide that the $130.00 petition fee for filing a petition for correction of inventorship under 37 CFR 1.48 applies to all patentapplications, except provisional applications which would be covered by new paragraph (q).

The reference to section 1.60 in section 1.17(i)(1) would be deleted, since it is proposed that section 1.60 be removed.

The words "of this part", in section 1.17, paragraphs (h) and (i), would be deleted, since the paragraphs currently refer to sections in parts other than Part 1. No substantive change is intended by this proposal.

Section 1.17(i) would be amended to clarify that petitions relating to the grant of a filing date under section 1.53 are for applications other than provisional applications. Proposed paragraph (q) would address petitions relating to provisional applications.

In addition, the rules would be simplified by combining current section 1.17(i)(1) and (i)(2) into new paragraph (i), since the petition fees provided in current paragraphs (i)(1) and (i)(2) are the same. No substantive change is intended by this proposal.

A new section 1.17(q) would be added to establish the fee for filing a petition for correction of inventorship under section 1.48 in a provisional application as $25.00 for a small entity or $50.00 for other than a small entity. The $50.00/$25.00 petition fee would also be required by proposed section 1.53 for filing a petition to accord a provisional application a filing date or to convert an application filed under proposed section 1.53(b)(1) to a provisional application.

New sections 1.17(r) and (s) would be added to establish the fee for filing a submission after final rejection under section 1.129(a) and for each additional invention requested to be examined under section 1.129(b), respectively. These fees have been set at $730.00 to cover the costs of processing the submission after final rejection and each additional invention requested to be examined.

Paragraph (l) would be deleted from section 1.21 since the processing and retention fee required in existing section 1.53(d) would be eliminated and the reference to section 1.60 in paragraph (n) would be deleted since section 1.60 would be removed.

Section 1.28(a) would have the references to section 1.60 deleted since section 1.60 would be removed. Section 1.28(a) would be amended to delete the references to section 1.62 and to specify the procedure for establishing small entity status in continuation, divisional and continuation-in-part applications where small entity status has been established in a parent application. Where the status as a small entity has been established in a parent application and is still proper, applicant could include, in a continuation, divisional or continuation-in-part application, either a reference to a verified statement claiming small entity status in the parent application or a copy of the verified statement filed in the parent application.

Section 1.45(c) would state that each inventor named in a joint provisional application must have made a contribution to the subject matter disclosed in the application. The existing language of paragraph (c) refers to "the subject matter of at least one claim" which would be inappropriate for provisional applications, since provisional applications may be filed without claims.

Section 1.48, paragraphs (a)-(c), would specify that the procedures for correcting an error in inventorship set forth in those paragraphs relate to applications other than provisional applications. A new paragraph (d) would establish a simplified procedure for adding the name of an inventor in a provisional application, where the name was originally omitted without deceptive intent. Proposed paragraph (d) would not require the verified statement of facts by the original inventor or inventors, the oath or declaration by each actual inventor in compliance with section 1.63 or the consent of any assignee as currently required in paragraph (a). The procedure would require the filing of a petition identifying the name or names of the inventors to be added and including a statement that the name or names of the inventors were omitted through error without deceptive intention on the part of the actual inventor(s). The statement would be required to be verified if made by a person not registered to practice before the Office. The statement could be signed by a registered practitioner acting in a representative capacity under section 1.34(a). The $50.00/$25.00 petition fee set forth in proposed section 1.17(q) would also be required.

Under 35 U.S.C. 119(e), as contained in S. 2467 and H.R. 5110, a later filed complete application may claim priority benefits based on a copending provisional application so long as the applications have at least one inventor in common. An error in naming a person as an inventor in a provisional application would not require correction by deleting the erroneously named inventor from the provisional application since this would have no effect upon the ability of the provisional application to serve as a basis for a priority claim. Therefore, proposed section 1.48(d) would not provide a procedure for deleting a named inventor. Any request to delete a named inventor filed in a provisional application would be properly treated as a petition under section 1.182. As a condition to granting any petition to delete a named inventor in a provisional application and in order to protect the rights of the inventors/assignees involved, the Office may require a statement from all of the named inventors and/or the written consent of any assignee.

Section 1.51 would include a new subparagraph (a)(2) identifying the required parts of a complete provisional application. The complete provisional application would include a cover sheet, a specification as prescribed in 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, any necessary drawings and the provisional application filing fee. A suggested cover sheet format for a provisional application will be available from the Office free of charge to the public. The cover sheet as set forth by proposed subparagraph (a)(2)(i) would identify (1) the application as a provisional application, (2) the name or names of the inventor or inventors, (3) the title of the invention, (4) the name and registration number of the attorney or agent (if applicable), (5) the docket number used by the person filing the application to identify the application (if applicable), and (6) the correspondence address, all of which is information required in order to properly prepare the provisional application filing receipt.

The Office currently receives thousands of papers and fees every work day. Most papers filed in the Office are received in the Correspondence and Mail Division which must identify and route each paper to the appropriate area for consideration. Among the papers which may currently be filed in the Office are disclosure documents, which may comprise a written description and drawings, and applications for patent, some of which may be incomplete because claims are omitted. Further, applications for patent are frequently received in the Office without the filing fee or the oath/declaration required by section 1.63. With the inception of provisional application practice, the Office will begin receiving another type of document resembling either a disclosure document or an incomplete application for patent and which may comprise nothing more than a written description and drawings. The potential for Office error, e.g., misinterpreting a paper intended as a provisional application as some other type of document, will obviously increase. Further, with the inception of a twenty-year patent term, it will be highly desirable for the Office to process applications, as well as all other papers which the Office receives, quickly and correctly.

While the name or names of the inventors are required in order to accord a provisional application a filing date, a provisional application is not required to be signed by the inventor or the assignee. No oath or declaration is required. Presumably, most provisional applications will be filed by a registered practitioner without a power of attorney being filed. If an essential part, e.g., the drawings, of the provisional application is omitted or if the filing fee did not accompany the application, the Office will need a correspondence address to notify the applicant of the omission.

The cover sheet required in section 1.51 would provide the Correspondence and Mail Division with a paper specifically identifying the document as a provisional application and would provide the Application Processing Division with most of the information it will need to promptly and properly process the provisional application and to prepare the official filing receipt. The cover sheet would also provide applicants and practitioners with a checklist prior to the filing of the provisional application.

Since no substantive examination would be given to any provisional application, the filing of an information disclosure statement in a provisional application is unnecessary and will not be permitted. Therefore, paragraph (b) of section 1.51 would make it clear that the Office will not accept an information disclosure statement in a provisional application. Any information disclosure statements filed in a provisional application would either be returned or disposed of at the convenience of the Office.

Section 1.53 would have the title and paragraph (a) revised to refer to application number, rather than application serial number. The term "application number" is found in current section 1.5(a).

A new paragraph (b)(2) would be added to section 1.53 setting forth the requirements for obtaining a filing date for a provisional application. Existing paragraph (b) would be redesignated as paragraph (b)(1) and would be amended to: (1) refer to section 1.17(i) rather than 1.17(i)(1) to conform to the proposed change therein; (2) delete the reference to section 1.60 which is proposed to be removed; and (3) clarify that continuations, divisions and continuations-in-part may be filed under either section 1.53 or 1.62. Paragraph (b)(2) would state that a filing date would be accorded to a provisional application as of the date the written description, any necessary drawings and the names of all inventors are filed in the Office. The filing date requirements for a provisional application set forth in new paragraph (b)(2) parallel the existing requirements set forth in current paragraph (b), except that no claim would be required. In order to keep the cost of processing provisional applications down and to reduce the handling of the provisional applications, amendments, other than those required to make the provisional application comply with applicable regulations, would not be permitted after the filing date of the provisional application.

New section 1.53(b)(2)(i) would require all provisional applications to be filed with a cover sheet identifying the application as a provisional application. The paragraph would also indicate that the Office will treat an application as having been filed under paragraph (b)(1), unless the application is identified as a provisional application. This proposal is similar to the current requirement in section 1.62 that the application include a specific request for an application under section 1.62. The cover sheet with identification that a provisional application is intended should greatly assist the Correspondence and Mail Division in distinguishing provisional applications from other types of applications. A provisional application, which is identified as such, but which does not have a complete cover sheet as required by section 1.51(a)(2)(i) would be treated as a provisional application. The complete cover sheet and a surcharge would be required to be submitted at a later date.

Section 1.53(b)(2)(ii) would establish a procedure for converting an application filed under section 1.53(b)(1) to a provisional application. The procedure would require the filing of a petition requesting the conversion and the $50.00/$25.00 petition fee set forth in section 1.17(q). Filing of the petition in the application would be required prior to the payment of the issue fee or prior to 12 months after its filing date, whichever event is earlier. The grant of any such petition would not entitle applicant to a refund of the fees properly paid in the application filed under section 1.53(b)(1).

Section 1.53(b)(2)(iii) is intended to call attention to the provisions of S. 2467 and H.R. 5110 which prohibit any provisional application from claiming a right of priority under 35 U.S.C. 119 or 365(a) or the benefit of an earlier filing date under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 or 365(c) of any other application. Attention would be called to the provisions of the legislation which provide that no claim for benefit of an earlier filing date may be made in a design application based on a provisional application and that no request for a statutory invention registration may be filed in a provisional application. Section 1.53(b)(2)(iii) would specify that the requirements of section 1.821(e), relating to the filing of a copy of the "Sequence Listing" in computer readable form, are not applicable to a provisional application. It is noted that all other sequence requirements as set forth in sections 1.821 through 1.823 and 1.825 are applicable to a provisional application.

Section 1.53(c) would require that any request for review of a refusal to accord an application a filing date be made by way of a petition accompanied by the fee set forth in section 1.17(i), i.e., $130.00, if the application was filed under section 1.53(b)(1), or by the fee set forth in section 1.17(q), i.e., $50.00/$25.00, if the application was filed under section 1.53(b)(2). This reflects the current practice set forth in section 506.02 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure (MPEP) with regard to any request for review of a refusal to accord a filing date for an application. The Office would continue its current practice of refunding the petition fee, if the refusal to accord the requested filing date is found to have been an Office error.

Current paragraph (d) of section 1.53 would be redesignated as paragraph (d)(1) and would be amended to delete the references to the processing and retention fee practice which would be eliminated by this proposal in view of the proposed provisional application practice. Under proposed paragraph (d)(2), the provisional application could be filed without the basic filing fee (set by S. 2467 and H.R. 5110 as $150.00 for other than a small entity, subject to a 50 percent reduction for small entity) and without the complete cover sheet required by proposed section 1.51(a)(2). In such a case, the proposed rule provides that the applicant will be notified and be given a period of time in which to file the missing fee, and/or cover sheet and to pay the surcharge set forth in proposed section 1.16(l).

Section 1.53(e)(2) would be added to indicate that a provisional application would not be given a substantive examination and would be abandoned no later than twelve (12) months after its filing date as set forth in S. 2467 and H.R. 5110.

Section 1.55 would have the reference to 35 U.S.C. 119 replaced with a reference to 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d) and would specify that a provisional application is not entitled to the right of foreign priority under proposed 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d). S. 2467 and H.R. 5110 amend 35 U.S.C. 119 by assigning letters (a), (b), (c) and (d) to the existing paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 119. These paragraphs are directed to claims for foreign priority. In addition, 35 U.S.C. 111 is amended to provide that a provisional application may not claim or be entitled to the right of foreign priority of any other application under 35 U.S.C. 119. Therefore, provisional applications are not included in section 1.55. In addition, the reference to 37 CFR 1.17(i)(1) would be replaced by 37 CFR 1.17(i) to be consistent with the proposed change to section 1.17. No substantive change is intended by this proposal.

Section 1.59 would delete the reference to the processing and retention fee which is proposed to be eliminated from section 1.53(d).

Section 1.60 would be removed and reserved. The procedures set forth in section 1.60 for filing a continuation or divisional application are unnecessary in view of the recent rule change to section 1.6(d) which permits the filing of a copy of the signed oath or declaration. This is appropriate since neither the statute nor the rules require a recent date of execution to appear on the oath or declaration and the duty of disclosure requirements under section 1.56 would apply to the continuing application. The issue of a stale oath or declaration would be eliminated by appropriately amending the procedures set forth in the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure.

The Office currently receives a number of petitions requesting that an application filed under section 1.60 be accepted even though at the time of filing of the application, applicant failed to comply with all the requirements of section 1.60 due to inadvertent error on the part of the applicant. The deletion of section 1.60 will help reduce the number of petitions and will simplify the procedures for filing an application for both the Office and patent practitioners. Applicants may use the procedures set forth in section 1.53 to file a continuation or divisional application under 35 U.S.C. 111(a) by providing the Office with a copy of the prior application. Failure to submit a complete copy of the prior application may be corrected by way of a petition under section 1.182.

Section 1.62 would state that the procedure could be used for filing a continuation, division or continuation-in-part of a complete application filed under section 1.53(b)(1) but not a provisional application under section 1.53(b)(2). The section would specifically preclude the use of the file wrapper continuing procedures set forth in section 1.62 for filing the first complete application under 35 U.S.C. 111(a) which claims the benefit of an earlier filing date of a provisional application. In view of the relatively small filing fee for a provisional application and the fact that the provisional application will not be examined, Office handling must be kept to a minimum and these provisional applications, once complete, will be sent to the Files Repository for storage rather than being kept in the examination area of the Office. It would be burdensome for the Office to retrieve these provisional applications so that an applicant could use the procedures set forth in section 1.62. Furthermore, since claims and an oath or declaration are not required in a provisional application and the first complete application would most likely contain additional subject matter not disclosed in the provisional application, the procedures set forth in section 1.53 for filing an application will meet applicants' needs.

Reference to 37 CFR 1.17(i)(1) in section 1.62(e) would be replaced by 37 CFR 1.17(i) to be consistent with the proposed change to section 1.17. Furthermore, the phrase "Serial number, filing date" in section 1.62(a) and the term "application serial number" in section 1.62(e) would bechanged to "application number." The term "application number" is found in current section 1.5(a).

Section 1.63(a) would have the reference to section 1.51(a)(2) replaced with a reference to section 1.51(a)(1)(ii) in order to conform with the proposed changes in section 1.51.

Section 1.67(b) would have the reference to section 1.53(d) replaced with a reference to section 1.53(d)(1) in order to conform with the proposed changes in section 1.53. Furthermore, the references to sections 1.53(b) and 1.118 would be deleted to make clear that the new matter exclusion applies to all applications including those filed under section 1.62.

Section 1.78(a)(1) and (a)(2) would specifically preclude a provisional application from claiming the benefit of an earlier filing date of a prior copending application filed in the United States under section 1.53(b)(1) or 1.62. S. 2467 and H.R. 5110 amend 35 U.S.C. 111 to provide that a provisional application is not entitled to the benefit of an earlier filing date in the United States under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 or 365(c). Furthermore, the reference in section 1.78(a)(1) to the processing and retention fee required in existing section 1.53(d) would be deleted.

The use of serial number and filing date in section 1.78(a)(2) as an identifier for a prior application would be eliminated to avoid any confusion as to whether an application identified by its serial number and filing date is an application filed under proposed section 1.53(b)(1) or 1.62 or a design application since there is a different series code assigned to each of these types of applications.

In addition, new subparagraphs (a)(3) and (a)(4) would be added to section 1.78 to set forth the procedures for claiming the benefit of an earlier filing date based on a prior filed copending provisional application. The later filed application must be an application other than for a design patent and must be copending with the provisional application, which will be abandoned by operation of law no later than 12 months after filing. There must be a common inventor named in both the prior provisional application and the later filed application. The prior provisional application must be complete as set forth in proposed section 1.51(a)(2), or entitled to a filing date as set forth in proposed section 1.53(b)(2) and include the basic filing fee. Newly added subparagraphs (a)(3) and (a)(4) parallel the existing requirements set forth insubparagraphs (a)(1) and (a)(2) for other than a provisional application.

Section 1.83 would have current paragraph (a) redesignated as subparagraph (a)(1) and would clarify that this paragraph relates to the content of the drawings in applications other than provisional applications. A new subparagraph (a)(2) would set forth the required content of the drawings filed in a provisional application. Since claims would not be required in a provisional application, the drawings filed in a provisional application would be required to show every feature of the invention disclosed in the description, rather than specified in the claims as in subparagraph (a)(1), where necessary to understand the subject matter of the invention. In addition, the reference to paragraph (a) in section 1.83(c) would be replaced by a reference to paragraph (a)(1).

Section 1.97(d) would have the reference to section 1.17(i)(1) replaced with a reference to section 1.17(i) to be consistent with the proposed change to section 1.17. No substantive change is intended by this proposal.

Section 1.101(a) would indicate that provisional applications filed under section 1.53(b)(2) would not be examined.

Section 1.102(d) would have the reference to section 1.17(i)(2) replaced with a reference to section 1.17(i) to be consistent with the proposed change to section 1.17. No substantive change is intended by this proposal.

Section 1.103(a) would have the reference to section 1.17(i)(1) replaced with a reference to section 1.17(i) to be consistent with the proposed change to section 1.17. No substantive change is intended by this proposal.

Section 1.129 would be added to set forth the procedure for implementing certain transitional provisions contained in S. 2467 and H.R. 5110. These transitional provisions are not applicable to any application which is filed on or after the effective date of 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2) or to any design or reissue application. Paragraph (a) of proposed section 1.129 would provide for limited reexamination in certain applications pending for 2 years or longer as of the effective date of 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2), taking into account any reference to any earlier application under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 or 365(c). Under the proposed procedure, an applicant would be entitled to have a first submission entered and considered on the merits after final rejection if (1) the submission is filed prior to or simultaneously with the filing of a notice of appeal and prior to abandonment of the application and (2) the $730.00 fee set forth in proposed section 1.17(r) is paid within one month of any written notification from the Office refusing entry of the first submission and prior to abandonment of the application. If applicant complies with the requirements of the proposed rule, the finality of the previous rejection would be withdrawn and the submission would be entered and considered on the merits to the extent that the submission would have been considered if made prior to final rejection. The subsequent Office action could be made final under existing Office practice. If a subsequent final rejection is made in the application, applicant would be entitled to have a second submission entered and considered on the merits under the same conditions set forth for consideration of the first submission. Paragraph (a) would also define the term "submission" as including, but not limited to, an information disclosure statement, an amendment to the written description, claims or drawings and a new substantive argument or new evidence in support of patentability. For example, the submission may include an amendment, a new substantive argument and an information disclosure statement. In view of the $730.00 fee required in proposed section 1.17(r), any information disclosure statement previously refused consideration in the application because of applicant's failure to provide the certification under section 1.97(e) or to pay the fee set forth in section 1.17(p) or which is filed as part of either the first or second submission would be treated as though it had been filed within one of the time periods set forth in section 1.97(b) and would be considered without the petition and petition fee required in section 1.97(d), if it complies with the requirements of section 1.98.

Paragraph (b) of proposed section 1.129 would provide for examination of more than one independent and distinct invention in certain applications pending for 3 years or longer as of the effective date of 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2), taking into account any reference to any earlier application under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 or 365(c). Under the proposed procedure, a requirement for restriction or for the filing of divisional applications would only be made or maintained in the application after the effective date of 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2) if: (1) the requirement was made in the application or in an earlier application relied on under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 or 365(c) more than two months prior to the effective date; (2) the examiner has not issued any Office action in the application due to actions by the applicant; or (3) the required fee for examination of each additional invention was not paid. If the application contains claims to more than one independent and distinct invention, and no requirement for restriction or for the filing of divisional applications can be made or maintained as a result of proposed section 1.129(b), applicant will be notified and given a one month time period to pay the $730.00 fee set forth in proposed section 1.17(s) for each independent and distinct invention claimed in the application in excess of one. The fee set forth in proposed section 1.17(s) would not be subject to the 50 percent reduction for a small entity. The additional inventions for which the required fee under section 1.17(s) has not been paid would be withdrawn from consideration under section 1.142(b). An applicant who desires examination of an invention so withdrawn from consideration can file a divisional application under 35 U.S.C. 121.

Section 1.139 would be added to set forth the procedures for reviving a provisional application where the delay was unavoidable or unintentional. Paragraph (a) would address the revival of a provisional application where the delay was unavoidable and paragraph (b) would address the revival of a provisional application where the delay was unintentional.

Applicant may petition to have an abandoned provisional application revived as a pending provisional application for a period of no longer than twelve months from the filing date of the provisional application where the delay was unavoidable or unintentional. It would be permissible to file a petition for revival later than twelve months from the filing date of the provisional application but only to revive the application for the twelve-month period following filing. Thus, even if the petition were granted to reestablish the pendency up to the end of the twelve-month period, the provisional application would not be considered pending after twelve months from its filing date. The requirements for reviving an abandoned provisional application set forth in this new rule parallel the existing requirements set forth in section 1.137.

Sections 1.177, 1.312(b), 1.313(a), 1.314 and 1.666 would have the reference to section 1.17(i)(1) replaced with a reference to section 1.17(i) to be consistent with the proposed change to section 1.17. No substantive change is intended by these proposals.

Section 1.701 would be added to provide for the extension of patent term where the issuance of a patent on an application filed after the implementation date of the 20-year patent term provisions of S. 2467 and H.R. 5110, other than for designs, was delayed due to certain causes of prosecution delay. By virtue of 35 U.S.C. 173, the term of a patent and patent term extension under proposed 35 U.S.C. 154 do not apply to patents for designs.

The provisions for patent term extension under proposed section 1.701 are separate from and in addition to the patent term extension provisions of 35 U.S.C. 156. The patent term extension provisions of S. 2467 and H.R. 5110 are designed to compensate the patent owner for delays in issuing a patent, whereas the patent term extension provisions of 35 U.S.C. 156 are designed to restore term lost to premarket regulatory review after the grant of a patent. In order to prevent a term extension under proposed section 1.701 from precluding a term extension under 35 U.S.C. 156, S. 2467 and H.R. 5110 amend 35 U.S.C. 156(a)(2) to provide that the term has never been extended under 35 U.S.C. 156(e)(1).

Under proposed 35 U.S.C. 154(b)(1), if the issuance of a patent is delayed due to proceedings under 35 U.S.C. 135(a) and/or the application is placed under a secrecy order under 35 U.S.C. 181, the term of a patent could be extended for the period of delay up to five years. Proceedings under 35 U.S.C. 135(a) include any appeal to federal court. Under proposed 35 U.S.C. 154(b)(2), if the issuance of a patent is delayed due to appellate review by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences or by a federal court and the patent was issued pursuant to a decision reversing an adverse determination of patentability and if the patent is not subject to a terminal disclaimer due to the issuance of another patent claiming subject matter that is not patentably distinct from that under appellate review, the term of the patent could be extended for the period of delay up to five years. Pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 154(b)(4), as contained in S. 2467 and H.R. 5110, the term of a patent could only be extended under 35 U.S.C. 154(b)(1) and (b)(2) for a maximum of five years regardless of whether there were delays due to more than one of the reasons covered under 35 U.S.C. 154(b)(1) and (2). Proposed subparagraph (c)(1) of section 1.701 sets forth the method for calculating the period of delay where the delay was a result of proceedings under 35 U.S.C. 135(a). Proposed subparagraph (c)(2) sets forth the method for calculating the period of delay where the delay was a result of the application being placed under a secrecy order. Proposed subparagraph (c)(3) sets forth the method for calculating the period of delay where the delay was a result of appellate review. Pursuant to proposed section 1.701(d)(1), the period of delay set forth in subparagraph (c)(3) shall be reduced by any time calculated under subparagraph (c)(3) before the expiration of three years from the filing date of the first national patent application presented for examination. The filing date for the purpose of section 1.701(d)(1) would be the earliest effective U.S. filing date but not including the filing date of a provisional application or the international filing date of a PCT application. For PCT applications entering the national stage, the filing date for the purpose of section 1.701(d)(1) would be the date on which applicant has complied with the requirements of section 1.494(b), or section 1.495(b) if applicable. Pursuant to proposed section 1.701(d)(2), the period of delay set forth in subparagraph (c)(3) shall also be reduced by any time, as determined by the Commissioner, during which the applicant did not act with due diligence. The standard for determining due diligence is whether the applicant exhibited that degree of timeliness as may reasonably be expected from, and which is ordinarily exercised by, a person during the pendency period of the application. Examples of what may constitute lack of due diligence for this purpose include requests for extensions of time to respond to Office communications, submission of a response which is not fully responsive to an Office communication, and filing of informal applications. Applicants need not file a request for the extension of patent term under proposed section 1.701. The extension of patent term is automatic by operation of law. It is currently anticipated that applicant would be advised as to the length of any patent term extension at the time of receiving the Notice of Allowance and Issue Fee Due. Review of any determination as to the length of patent term extension would be by way of petition under section 1.181.

Section 3.21 would eliminate the use of serial number and filing date as an identifier for national patent applications in assignment documents. This proposal would eliminate any confusion as to whether an application identified by its serial number and filing date in an assignment document is an application filed under proposed section 1.53(b)(1) or 1.62 or a design application or a provisional application since there is a different series code assigned to each of these types of applications. If an assignment was executed after the filing of the national application, the assignment would be required to identify the application by the application number, consisting of the series code and serial number, e.g., 07/123,456 (for applications filed under proposed section 1.53(b)(1) or 1.62), 29/123,456 (for design applications) or 59/123,456 (for provisional applications filed under proposed section 1.53(b)(2)). The series code would be required since it would clearly identify the application to which the assignment document is directed.

Section 3.21 would be further clarified to indicate that existing requirements relating to assignments executed before the filing of the application refer to applications other than provisional applications. Section 3.21 would be further amended to specify the requirements for identifying a provisional application in an assignment executed before the filing of the provisional application. The assignment would be required to identify the provisional application by name of each inventor and the title of the invention. The date of execution of the provisional application would not be required since a provisional application need not be executed by the inventors.

Section 3.81 would have the reference to section 1.17(i)(1) replaced with a reference to section 1.17(i) to be consistent with the proposed change to section 1.17. No substantive change is intended by this proposal.

Other Considerations

The proposed rule changes are in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., Executive Order 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. This proposed rule has been determined to be not significant for the purposes of E.O. 12866.

The Assistant General Counsel for Legislation and Regulation of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that the proposed rule changes will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)). The principal impact of these changes is to provide a procedure for domestic applicants to quickly and inexpensively file a provisional application. The filing date of the provisional application will not be used to measure the term of a patent granted on an application which claims the earlier filing date of the provisional application.

The Patent and Trademark Office has also determined that this notice has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in E.O. 12612.

These proposed rules contain collections of information subject to the requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act (Act). The provisional application has been approved by the Office of Management and Budget under control numbers 0651-0031 and 0651-0032. The cover sheet is necessary to expedite the processing of a provisional application and improve quality. Public reporting burden for the collection of information on the cover sheet is estimated to average 12 minutes per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing the burden to the Office of Assistance Quality and Enhancement Division, Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231, and to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget, Washington, D.C. 20503.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6, the Patent and Trademark Office proposes to amend Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations as set forth below.

List of Subjects

37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Freedom of Information, Inventions and patents, Reporting and record keeping requirements, Small businesses.

37 CFR Part 3

Administrative practice and procedure, Inventions and patents, Reporting and record keeping requirements.

For the reasons set forth in the preamble, 37 CFR Parts 1 and 3 are proposed to be amended as follows, with removals (other than section 1.60 which is proposed to be removed and reserved) indicated by brackets ([]) and additions by arrows (cb):

PART 1 - RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 would continue to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6 unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.1 is proposed to be amended by adding new paragraph (i) to read as follows:

§ 1.1 All communications to be addressed to Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

9. Section 1.28 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.28 Effect on fees of failure to establish status, or change status, as a small entity.

(a) The failure to establish status as a small entity (§§ 1.9(f) and 1.27 of this part) in any application or patent prior to paying, or at the time of paying, any fee precludes payment of the fee in the amount established for small entities. A refund pursuant to § 1.26 of this part, based on establishment of small entity status, of a portion of fees timely paid in full prior to establishing status as a small entity may only be obtained if a verified statement under § 1.27 and a request for a refund of the excess amount are filed within two months of the date of the timely payment of the full fee. The two-month time period is not extendable under § 1.136. Status as a small entity is waived for any fee by the failure to establish the status prior to paying, at the time of paying, or within two months of the date of payment of, the fee. Status as a small entity must be specifically established [by a verified statement filed] in each application or patent in which the status is available and desired[, except those applications filed under § 1.60 or § 1.62 of this part where the status as a small entity has been established in a parent application and is still proper]. cStatus as a small entity in one application or patent does not affect any other application or patent, including applications or patents which are directly or indirectly dependent upon the application or patent in which the status has been established. Applications filed as continuations, divisions or continuations-in-part of a parent application must include a reference to a verified statement in the parent application or include a copy of the verified statement filed in the parent application if status as a small entity is still proper and desired.b Once status as a small entity has been established in an application or patent, the status remains in that application or patent without the filing of a further verified statement pursuant to § 1.27 of this part unless the Office is notified of a change in status. [Status as a small entity in one application or patent does not affect any other application or patent, including applications or patents which are directly or indirectly dependent upon the application or patent in which the status has been established, except those filed under § 1.60 or § 1.62 of this part. Applications filed under § 1.60 or § 1.62 of this part must include a reference to a verified statement in a parent application if status as a small entity is still proper and desired.]

10. Section 1.45 paragraph (c) is proposed to be revised to read as follows:

§ 1.45 Joint inventors.

• • • • •

(c) If multiple inventors are named in an application, cother than a provisional application under § 1.53(b)(2),b each named inventor must have made a contribution, individually or jointly, to the subject matter of at least one claim of the application and the application will be considered to be a joint application under 35 U.S.C. 116. cIf multiple inventors are named in a provisional application, each named inventor must have made a contribution, individually or jointly, to the subject matter disclosed in the provisional application and the provisional application will be considered to be a joint application under 35 U.S.C. 116.b

11. Section 1.48 is proposed to be revised to read as follows:

§ 1.48 Correction of inventorship.

(a) If the correct inventor or inventors are not named in an application for patent c,other than a provisional application,b through error without any deceptive intention on the part of the actual inventor or inventors, the application may be amended to name only the actual inventor or inventors. Such amendment must be diligently made and must be accompanied by:

(1) a petition including a statement of facts verified by the original named inventor or inventors establishing when the error without deceptive intention was discovered and how it occurred;

(2) an oath or declaration by each actual inventor or inventors as required by § 1.63;

(3) the fee set forth in § 1.17(h); and

(4) the written consent of any assignee. When the application is involved in an interference, the petition shall comply with the requirements of this section and shall be accompanied by a motion under § 1.634.

(b) If the correct inventors are named in the application c,other than a provisional application,b when filed and the prosecution of the application results in the amendment or cancellation of claims so that less than all of the originally named inventors are the actual inventors of the invention being claimed in the application, an amendment shall be filed deleting the names of the person or persons who are not inventors of the invention being claimed. The amendment must be diligently made and shall be accompanied by:

(1) A petition including a statement identifying each named inventor who is being deleted and acknowledging that the inventor's invention is no longer being claimed in the application, and

(2) The fee set forth in § 1.17(h).

(c) If an application cother than a provisional applicationb discloses unclaimed subject matter by an inventor or inventors not named in the application, the application may be amended pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section to add claims to the subject matter and name the correct inventors for the application.

c(d) If the name or names of an inventor or inventors were omitted in a provisional application for patent filed under § 1.53(b)(2) through error without any deceptive intentionon the part of the actual inventor or inventors, the provisional application may be amended to add the name or names of the actual inventor or inventors. Such amendment must be accompanied by:

(1) a petition including a statement that the error occurred without deceptive intention on the part of the actual inventor or inventors, which statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office; and

(2) the fee set forth in § 1.17(q).b

12. Section 1.51 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.51 General requisites of an application.

(a) Applications for patents must be made to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

c(1)b A complete application cfiled under § 1.53(b)(1)b comprises:

c(i)b[(1)] A specification, including a claim or claims, see §§ 1.71 to 1.77;b

c(ii)b[(2)] An oath or declaration, see §§ 1.63 and 1.68c;b

c(iii)b[(3)] Drawings, when necessary, see §§ 1.81 to c1.85b[1.88.]c; andb

c(iv)b[(4)] The prescribed filing fee, see § 1.16.

c(2) A complete provisional application filed under § 1.53(b)(2) comprises:

(i) A cover sheet identifying:

(A) The application as a provisional application,

(B) The name or names of the inventor or inventors, (see § 1.41),

(C) The title of the invention,

(D) The name and registration number of the attorney or agent (if applicable),

(E) The docket number used by the person filing the application to identify the application (if applicable), and

(F) The correspondence address;

(ii) A specification as prescribed by 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, see § 1.71;

(iii) Drawings, when necessary, see §§ 1.81 to 1.85; and

(iv) The prescribed filing fee, see § 1.16.b

(b) Applicants are encouraged to file an information disclosure statement cin national applications other than provisional applications.b See §§ 1.97 and 1.98. cNo information disclosure statement may be filed in a provisional application filed under § 1.53(b)(2).b

13. Section 1.53 paragraphs (a) - (e) are proposed to be revised to read as follows:

§ 1.53 [Serial] cApplicationb number, filing date, and completion of application.

(a) Any application for a patent received in the Patent and Trademark Office will be assigned can applicationb [a serial] number for identification purposes.

(b)c(1)b The filing date of an application for patent filed under this sectionc, except for a provisional application,b is the date on which: [(1)] a specification containing a description pursuant to § 1.71 and at least one claim pursuant to § 1.75; and [(2)] any drawing required by § 1.81(a), are filed in the Patent and Trademark Office in the name of the actual inventor or inventors as required by § 1.41. No new matter may be introduced into an application after its filing date (§ 1.118). If all the names of the actual inventor or inventors are not supplied when the specification and any required drawing are filed, the application will not be given a filing date earlier than the date upon which the names are supplied unless a petition with the fee set forth in § 1.17(i)[(1)] is filed which sets forth the reasons the delay in supplying the names should be excused. A continuationc,b"divisional cor continuation-in-partb application (filed under the conditions specified in 35 U.S.C. 120 or 121 and § 1.78(a)) may be filed cunderb [pursuant to] this section[, § 1.60] or § 1.62. [A continuation-in-part application may be filed pursuant to this section or § 1.62.]

c(2) The filing date of a provisional application is the date on which: a specification as prescribed by 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph; and any drawing required by § 1.81(a), are filed in the Patent and Trademark Office in the name of the actual inventor or inventors as required by § 1.41. No amendment, other than to make the provisional application comply with all applicable regulations, may be made to the provisional application after the filing date of the provisional application. If all the names of the actual inventor or inventors are not supplied when the specification and any required drawing are filed, the provisional application will not be given a filing date earlier than the date upon which the names are supplied unless a petition with the fee set forth in § 1.17(q) is filed which sets forth the reasons the delay in supplying the names should be excused.

(i) A provisional application must also include a cover sheet identifying the application as a provisional application. Otherwise, the application will be treated as an application filed under § 1.53(b)(1).

(ii) An application for patent filed under § 1.53(b)(1) may be treated as a provisional application and be accorded the original filing date provided that a petition requesting the conversion, with the fee set forth in § 1.17(q), is filed prior to the earlier of either the payment of the issue fee or the expiration of 12 months after the filing date of the provisional application. The grant of any such petition will not entitle applicant to a refund of the fees which were properly paid in the application filed under § 1.53(b)(1).

(iii) A provisional application shall not be entitled to the right of priority under § 1.55 or 35 U.S.C. 119 or 365(a) or to the benefit of an earlier filing date under § 1.78 or 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 or 365(c) of any other application. No claim for priority under § 1.78(a)(3) may be made in a design application based on a provisional application. No request under § 1.293 for a statutory invention registration may be filed in a provisional application. The requirements of § 1.821(e) regarding sequence listings in computer readable form are not applicable to a provisional application.b

(c) If any application is filed without the specification, drawing or name, or names, of the actual inventor or inventors required by paragraph (b)c(1) or (b)(2)b of this section, applicant will be so notified and given a time period within which to submit the omitted specification, drawing, name, or names, of the actual inventor, or inventors, in order to obtain a filing date as of the date of filing of such submission. A copy of the "Notice of Incomplete Application" form notifying the applicant should accompany any response thereto submitted to the Office. If the omission is not corrected within the time period set, the application will be returned or otherwise disposed of; the fee, if submitted, will be refunded less the handling fee set forth in § 1.21(n). cAny request for review of a refusal to accord an application a filing date must be by way of a petition accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(i), if the application was filed under § 1.53(b)(1), or by the fee set forth in § 1.17(q), if the application was filed under § 1.53(b)(2).b

(d)c(1)b If an application which has been accorded a filing date pursuant to paragraph (b)c(1)b of this section does not include the appropriate filing fee or an oath or declaration by the applicant, applicant will be so notified, if a correspondence address has been provided and given a period of time within which to file the fee, oath, or declaration and to pay the surcharge as set forth in § 1.16(e) in order to prevent abandonment of the application. A copy of the "Notice to File Missing Parts" form mailed to applicant should accompany any response thereto submitted to the Office. If the required filing fee is not timely paid, [or if the processing and retention fee set forth in § 1.21(l) is not paid within one year of the date of mailing of the notification required by this paragraph,] the application will be disposed of. No copies will be provided or certified by the Office of an application which has been disposed of or in which [neither] the required basic filing fee [nor the processing and retention fee] has cnotb been paid. The notification pursuant to this paragraph may be made simultaneously with any notification pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section. If no correspondence address is included in the application, applicant has two months from the filing date to file the basic filing fee, oath or declaration and to pay the surcharge as set forth in § 1.16(e) in order to prevent abandonment of the application[; or, if no basic filing fee has been paid, one year from the filing date to pay the processing and retention fee set forth in § 1.21(l) to prevent disposal of the application].

b(2) If a provisional application which has been accorded a filing date pursuant to paragraph (b)(2) of this section does not include the appropriate filing fee or the cover sheet required by § 1.51(a)(2), applicant will be so notified if a correspondence address has been provided and given a period of time within which to file the fee, cover sheet and to pay the surcharge as set forth in § 1.16(l) in order to prevent abandonment of the application. A copy of the "Notice to File Missing Parts" form mailed to applicant should accompany any response thereto submitted to the Office. If the required filing fee is not timely paid, the application will be disposed of. No copies will be provided or certified by the Office of an application which has been disposed of or in which the required basic filing fee has not been paid. The notification pursuant to this paragraph may be made simultaneously with any notification pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section. If no correspondence address is included in the application, applicant has two months from the filing date to file the basic filing fee, cover sheet and to pay the surcharge as set forth in § 1.16(l) in order to prevent abandonment of the application.b

(e)c(1)b An application for a patent cfiled under paragraph (b)(1) of this sectionb will not be placed upon the files for examination until all its required parts, complying with the rules relating thereto, are received, except that certain minor informalities may be waived subject to subsequent correction whenever required.

c(2) A provisional application for a patent filed under paragraph (b)(2) of this section will not be placed upon the files for examination and will become abandoned no later than twelve months after its filing date pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 111(b)(1).b

* * * * *

14. Section 1.55 is proposed to be revised to read as follows:

§ 1.55 Claim for foreign priority.

(a) An applicant cin an application other than a provisional applicationb may claim the benefit of the filing date of a prior foreign application under the conditions specified in 35 U.S.C. 119c(a) - (d)b and 172. The claim to priority need be in no special form and may be made by the attorney or agent if the foreign application is referred to in the oath or declaration as required by § 1.63. The claim for priority and the certified copy of the foreign application specified in [the second paragraph of] 35 U.S.C. 119c(b)b must be filed:

(1) in the case of an interference (§ 1.630);

(2) when necessary to overcome the date of a reference relied upon by the examiner;

(3) when specifically required by the examiner; and

(4) in all other cases, before the patent is granted. If the claim for priority or the certified copy of the foreign application is filed after the date the issue fee is paid, it must be accompanied by a petition requesting entry and by the fee set forth in § 1.17(i)[(1)]. If the certified copy filed is not in the English language, a translation need not be filed except in the case of interference; or when necessary to overcome the date of a reference relied upon by the examiner; or when specifically required by the examiner, in which event an English language translation must be filed together with a statement that the translation of the certified copy is accurate. The statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office.

(b) An applicant may under certain circumstances claim priority on the basis of an application for an inventor's certificate in a country granting both inventor's certificates and patents. When an applicant wishes to claim the right of priority as to a claim or claims of the application on the basis of an application for an inventor's certificate in such a country under 35 U.S.C. 119c(d)b, [last paragraph (as amended July 28, 1972),] the applicant or his or her attorney or agent, when submitting a claim for such right as specified in paragraph (a) of this section, shall include an affidavit or declaration including aspecific statement that, upon an investigation, he or she has satisfied himself or herself that to the best of his or her knowledge the applicant, when filing his or her application for the inventor's certificate, had the option to file an application either for a patent or an inventor's certificate as to the subject matter of the identified claim or claims forming the basis for the claim of priority.

15. Section 1.59 is proposed to be revised to read as follows:

§ 1.59 Papers of application with filing date not to be returned.

Papers in an application which has received a filing date pursuant to § 1.53 will not be returned for any purpose whatever. If applicants have not preserved copies of the papers, the Office will furnish copies at the usual cost of any application in which [either] the required basic filing fee (§ 1.16) [or the processing and retention fee § 1.21(l))] has been paid. See § 1.618 for return of unauthorized and improper papers in interferences.

16. Section 1.60 is proposed to be removed and reserved.

§ 1.60 c[Reserved]b [Continuation or divisional application for invention disclosed in a prior application.]

17. Section 1.62 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (e) to read as follows:

§ 1.62 File wrapper continuing procedure.

(a) A continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional application, which uses the specification, drawings and oath or declaration from a prior complete application [(§ 1.51(a))]cas defined by § 1.51(a)(1) (not a prior complete provisional application as defined by § 1.51(a)(2)), andb which is to be abandoned, may be filed cunder this sectionb before the payment of the issue fee, abandonment of, or termination of proceedings on the prior application. The filing date of an application filed under this section is the date on which a request is filed for an application under this section including identification of the [Serial Number, filing date,]capplication numberb and applicant's name of the prior complete application. If the continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional application is filed by less than all the inventors named in the prior application a statement must accompany the application when filed requesting deletion of the names of the person or persons who are not inventors of the invention being claimed in the continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional application.

* * * * *

(e) An application filed under this section will utilize the file wrapper and contents of the prior application to constitute the new continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional application but will be assigned a new application [serial] number. Changes to the prior application must be made in the form of an amendment to the prior application as it exists at the time of filing the application under this section. No copy of the prior application or new specification is required. The filing of such a copy or specification will be considered improper, and a filing date as of the date of deposit of the request for an application under this section will not be granted to the application unless a petition with the fee set forth in ¿ 1.17(i)[(1)] is filed with instructions to cancel the copy or specification.

* * * * *

18. Section 1.63 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.63 Oath or declaration.

(a) An oath or declaration filed under § 1.51(a)[(2)]c(1)(ii)b as a part of an application must:
(1) Be executed in accordance with either § 1.66 or § 1.68;
(2) Identify the specification to which it is directed;
(3) Identify each inventor and the residence and country of citizenship of each inventor; and
(4) State whether the inventor is a sole or joint inventor of the invention claimed.

* * * * *

19. Section 1.67 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.67 Supplemental oath or declaration. * * * * *

(b) A supplemental oath or declaration meeting the requirements of § 1.63 must be filed: (1) When a claim is presented for matter originally shown or described but not substantially embraced in the statement of invention or claims originally presented; and (2) When an oath or declaration submitted in accordance with § 1.53(d)c(1)b after the filing of the specification and any required drawings specifically and improperly refers to an amendment which includes new matter. No new matter may be introduced into an application after its filing date even if a supplemental oath or declaration is filed[(§ 1.53(b); § 1.118)]. In proper cases the oath or declaration here required may be made on information and belief by an applicant other than inventor.

* * * * *

20. Section 1.78 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraphs (a)(1) and (a)(2) and by adding new paragraphs (a)(3) and (a)(4) to read as follows:

§ 1.78 Claiming benefit of earlier filing date and cross-references to other applications.
(a)(1) An application cother than a provisional applicationb may claim an invention disclosed in a prior filed copending national application cfiled under § 1.53(b)(1) or § 1.62 (not a provisional application (see paragraph (a)(3) of this section))b or international application designating the United States of America. In order for an application to claim the benefit of a prior filed copending national application, the prior application must name as an inventor at least one inventor named in the later filed application and disclose the named inventor's invention claimed in at least one claim of the later filed application in the manner provided by the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112. In addition, the prior application must be

(i) complete as set forth in § 1.51(a)(1); or

(ii) entitled to a filing date as set forth in § 1.53(b)c(1) or § 1.62b and include the basic filing fee set forth in § 1.16[; or]

[(iii) entitled to a filing date as set forth in § 1.53(b) and have paid therein the processing and retention fee set forth in § 1.21(l) within the time period set forth in § 1.53(d)].

(2) Any application claiming the benefit of a prior filed copending national or international application cother than a provisional applicationb must contain or be amended to contain in the first sentence of the specification following the title a reference to such prior application, identifying it by application number (consisting of the series code and serial number)[, or serial number and filing date] or international application number and international filing date and indicating the relationship of the applications. Cross-references to other related applications may be made when appropriate. (See § 1.14(b).)

c(3) An application other than for a design patent may claim an invention disclosed in a prior filed copending provisional application filed under § 1.53(b)(2). A provisional application can be pending for no more than twelve months. In order for an application to claim the benefit of a prior filed copending provisional application, the prior provisional application must name as an inventor at least one inventor named in the later filed application and disclose the named inventor's invention claimed in at least one claim of the later filed application in the manner provided by the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112. In addition, the prior provisional application must be

(i) complete as set forth in § 1.51(a)(2); or

(ii) entitled to a filing date as set forth in § 1.53(b)(2) and include the basic filing fee set forth in § 1.16(k).

(4) Any application claiming the benefit of a prior filed copending provisional application must contain or be amended to contain in the first sentence of the specification following the title a reference to such prior provisional application, identifying it as a provisional application, and including the provisional application number (consisting of series code and serial number) and indicating the relationship of the applications.b

21. Section 1.83 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.83 Content of drawing.

(a)c(1)b The drawing cin an application other than a provisional applicationb must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. However, conventional features disclosed in the description and claims, where their detailed illustration is not essential for a proper understanding of the invention, should be illustrated in the drawing in the form of a graphical drawing symbol or a labeled representation (e.g. a labeled rectangular box).

c(2) The drawing in a provisional application filed under § 1.53(b)(2) must show every feature of the invention disclosed in the description where necessary to understand the subject matter of that invention. However, conventional features disclosed in the description, where their detailed illustration is not essential for a proper understanding of the invention, should be illustrated in the drawing in the form of a graphical drawing symbol or a labeled representation (e.g. a labeled rectangular box).b

* * * * *

(c) Where the drawings do not comply with the requirements of paragraphs (a)c(1)b and (b) of this section, the examiner shall require such additional illustration within a time period of not less than two months from the date of the sending of a notice thereof. Such corrections are subject to the requirements of § 1.81(d).

VOL 1170 ISS 1 JA 3 1995 UMI

22. Section 1.97 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraph (d) to read as follows:

§ 1.97 Filing of information disclosure statement.

* * * * *

(d) An information disclosure statement shall be considered by the Office if filed after the mailing date of either:

(1) A final action under § 1.113 or

(2) A notice of allowance under § 1.311, whichever occurs first, but before payment of the issue fee, provided the statement is accompanied by:

(i) A certification as specified in paragraph (e) of this section,

(ii) A petition requesting consideration of the information disclosure statement, and

(iii) The petition fee set forth in § 1.17(i)[(1)].

* * * * *

23. Section 1.101 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.101 Order of examination.

(a) Applications filed in the Patent and Trademark Office and accepted as complete applicationsc, except for provisional applications filed under § 1.53(b)(2) which are not examined,b are assigned for examination to the respective examining groups having the classes of inventions to which the applications relate. Applications shall be taken up for examination by the examiner to whom they have been assigned in the order in which they have been filed except for those applications in which examination has been advanced pursuant to § 1.102. See § 1.496 for order of examination of International applications in the national stage.

* * * * *

24. Section 1.102 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraph (d) to read as follows:

§ 1.102 Advancement of examination.

* * * * *

(d) A petition to make an application special on grounds other than those referred to in paragraph (c) of this section must be accompanied by the petition fee set forth in § 1.17(i)[(2)].

25. Section 1.103 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.103 Suspension of action.

(a) Suspension of action by the Office will be granted for good and sufficient cause and for a reasonable time specified upon petition by the applicant and, if such cause is not the fault of the Office, the payment of the fee set forth in § 1.17(i)[(1)]. Action will not be suspended when a response by the applicant to an Office action is required.

26. A new, undesignated center heading and new section 1.129 are proposed to be added to Subpart B-National Processing Provisions to read as follows:

cTRANSITIONAL PROVISIONS

§ 1.129 Transitional procedures for limited examination after final rejection and restriction practice.

(a) An applicant in an application, other than for reissue or a design patent, that has been pending for at least two years as of the effective date of 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2), taking into account any reference made in such application to any earlier filed application under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 and 365(c), is entitled to have a first submission entered and considered on the merits after final rejection under the following circumstances: The Office will consider such a submission, to the extent that it would have been entered and considered if made prior to final rejection, if the first submission is filed prior to or simultaneously with the filing of a notice of appeal and prior to abandonment of the application and the fee set forth in § 1.17(r) is paid within one month of any written notification from the Office refusing entry of the first submission and prior to abandonment of the application. If a subsequent final rejection is made in the application, applicant is entitled to have a second submission entered and considered on the merits after the subsequent final rejection under the following circumstances: The Office will consider such a submission, to the extent that it would have been entered and considered if made prior to final rejection, if the second submission is filed prior to or simultaneously with the filing of a notice of appeal of the subsequent final rejection and prior to abandonment of the application and a second fee set forth in § 1.17(r) is paid within one month of any written notification from the Office refusing entry of the second submission and prior to abandonment of the application. Any submission filed after a final rejection made in an application subsequent to the fee set forth in § 1.17(r) having been twice paid will be treated as set forth in § 1.116. A submission as used in this paragraph includes, but is not limited to, an information disclosure statement, an amendment to the written description, claims or drawings and a new substantive argument or new evidence in support of patentability.

(b)(1) In an application, other than for reissue or a design patent, that has been pending for at least three years as of the effective date of 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2), taking into account any reference made in the application to any earlier filed application under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 and 365(c), no requirement for restriction or for the filing of divisional applications shall be made or maintained in the application after the effective date, except where:

(i) the requirement was first made in the application or any earlier filed application under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 and 365(c) more than two months prior to the effective date;

(ii) the examiner has not issued any Office action in the application due to actions by the applicant; or

(iii) the required fee for examination of each additional invention was not paid.

(2)If the application contains more than one independent and distinct invention and a requirement for restriction or for the filing of divisional applications cannot be made or is withdrawn pursuant to this paragraph, applicant will be so notified and given a time period of one month from the notice to pay the fee set forth in § 1.17(s) for each independent and distinct invention claimed in the application in excess of one. If applicant does not pay the required fee for each additional invention in a timely manner, only the first claimed invention and those additional inventions for which the fee has been paid will be searched and examined. The additional inventions for which the required fee has not been paid will be withdrawn from consideration under § 1.142(b). An applicant who desires examination of an invention so withdrawn from consideration can file a divisional application under 35 U.S.C. 121.

The provisions of this section shall not be applicable to any application filed on or after the effective date of 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2).b

c§ 1.139 Revival of provisional application.

(a) A provisional application which has been accorded a filing date and abandoned for failure to timely respond to an Office requirement may be revived so as to be pending for a period of no longer than twelve months from its filing date if it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the delay was unavoidable. Under no circumstances will the provisional application be pending after twelve months from its filing date. A petition to revive an abandoned provisional application must be promptly filed after the applicant is notified of, or otherwise becomes aware of, the abandonment, and must be accompanied by:

(1) the required response unless it has been previously filed;

(2) the petition fee as set forth in § 1.17(l); and

(3) a showing that the delay was unavoidable. The showing must be a verified showing if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office.

(b) A provisional application which has been accorded a filing date and abandoned for failure to timely respond to an Office requirement may be revived so as to be pending for a period of no longer than twelve months from its filing date if the delay was unintentional. Under no circumstances will the provisional application be pending after twelve months from its filing date. A petition to revive an abandoned provisional application must be:

(1) accompanied by the required response unless it has been previously filed;

(2) accompanied by the petition fee as set forth in § 1.17(m);

(3) accompanied by a statement that the delay was unintentional. The statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office. The Commissioner may require additional information where there is a question whether the delay was unintentional; and

(4) filed either:

(i) within one year of the date on which the provisional application became abandoned; or

(ii) within three months of the date of the first decision on a petition to revive under paragraph (a) of this section which was filed within one year of the date on which the provisional application became abandoned.

(c) Any request for reconsideration or review of a decision refusing to revive a provisional application upon petition filed pursuant to paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section, to be considered timely, must be filed within two months of the decision refusing to revive or within such time as set in the decision.

(d) The time periods set forth in this section cannot be extended, except that the three-month period set forth in paragraph (b)(4)(ii) of this section and the time period set forth in paragraph (c) of this section may be extended under the provisions of § 1.136.b

28. Section 1.177 is proposed to be revised to read as follows:

§ 1.177 Reissue in divisions.

The Commissioner may, in his or her discretion, cause several patents to be issued for distinct and separate parts of the thing patented, upon demand of the applicant, and upon payment of the required fee for each division. Each division of a reissue constitutes the subject of a separate specification descriptive of the part or parts of the invention claimed in such division; and the drawing may represent only such part or parts, subject to the provisions of §§ 1.83 and 1.84. On filing divisional reissue applications, they shall be referred to the Commissioner. Unless otherwise ordered by the Commissioner upon petition and payment of the fee set forth in § 1.17(i)[(1)], all the divisions of a reissue will issue simultaneously; if there be any controversy as to one division, the others will be withheld from issue until the controversy is ended, unless the Commissioner shall otherwise order.

29. Section 1.312 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(b) Any amendment pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section filed after the date the issue fee is paid must be accompanied by a petition including the fee set forth in § 1.17(i)[(1)] and a showing of good and sufficient reasons why the amendment is necessary and was not earlier presented.

30. Section 1.313 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.313 Withdrawal from issue.

(a) Applications may be withdrawn from issue for further action at the initiative of the Office or upon petition by the applicant. Any such petition by the applicant must include a showing of good and sufficient reasons why withdrawal of the application is necessary and, if the reason for the withdrawal is not the fault of the Office, must be accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(i)[(1)]. If the application is withdrawn from issue, a new notice of allowance will be sent if the application is again allowed. Any amendment accompanying a petition to withdraw an application from issue must comply with the requirements of § 1.312.

* * * * *

31. Section 1.314 is proposed to be revised to read as follows:

§ 1.314 Issuance of patent.

If payment of the issue fee is timely made, the patent will issue in regular course unless[-(a) The] ctheb application is withdrawn from issue (§ 1.313), or [(b) Issuance] cissuanceb of the patent is deferred.

Any petition by the applicant requesting a deferral of the issuance of a patent must be accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(i)[(1)] and must include a showing of good and sufficient reasons why it is necessary to defer issuance of the patent.

32. Section 1.666 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(b) If any party filing the agreement or understanding under paragraph (a) of this section so requests, the copy will be kept separate from the file of the interference, and made available only to Government agencies on written request, or to any person upon petition accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(i)[(1)] and on a showing of good cause.

* * * * *

33. Section 1.701 is proposed to be added to Subpart F to read as follows:

c§ 1.701 Extension of patent term due to prosecution delay.

(a) A patent, other than for designs, issued on an application filed on or after [the implementation date] is entitled to extension of the patent term if the issuance of the patent was delayed due to:

(1) proceedings under 35 U.S.C. 135(a), and/or

(2) the application being placed under a secrecy order under 35 U.S.C. 181, and/or

(3) appellate review by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences or by a federal court under 35 U.S.C. 141 or 145, if the patent was issued pursuant to a decision reversing an adverse determination of patentability and if the patent is not subject to a terminal disclaimer due to the issuance of another patent claiming subject matter that is not patentably distinct from that under appellate review.

(b) The term of a patent entitled to extension under paragraph (a) of this section shall be extended for the sum of the periods of delay calculated under paragraphs (c)(1), (c)(2) and (c)(3) of this section, to the extent that these periods are not overlapping, up to a maximum of five years. The extension will run from the original expiration date of the patent unless an earlier expiration date is set by terminal disclaimer (§ 1.321).

(c)(1) The period of delay under paragraph (a)(1) of this section for an application is the sum of the following periods, to the extent that the periods are not overlapping:

(i) with respect to each interference, if any, in which the application was involved, the number of days in the period

beginning on the date the interference was declared or redeclared to involve the application in the interference and ending on the date that the interference was terminated with respect to the application; and

(ii) the number of days, if any, in the period beginning on the date prosecution in the application is suspended by the Patent and Trademark Office due to interference proceedings under 35 U.S.C. 135(a) not involving the application and ending on the date of the next Office communication reopening prosecution.

(2) The period of delay under paragraph (a)(2) of this section for an application is the sum of the following periods, to the extent that the periods are not overlapping:

(i) the number of days, if any, the application is maintained in a sealed condition under 35 U.S.C. 181;

(ii) the number of days, if any, in the period beginning on the date of mailing of an examiner's answer under § 1.193 in the application under secrecy order and ending on the date the secrecy order and any renewal thereof is removed;

(iii) the number of days, if any, in the period beginning on the date applicant is notified that an interference would be declared but for the secrecy order and ending on the date the secrecy order and any renewal thereof is removed; and

(iv) the number of days, if any, in the period beginning on the date of notification under § 5.3(c) and ending on the date of mailing of the notice of allowance under § 1.311.

(3) The period of delay under paragraph (a)(3) of this section is the sum of the number of days, if any, in the period beginning on the date on which an appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences was filed under 35 U.S.C. 134 and ending on the date of a final decision in favor of the applicant by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences or by a federal court in an appeal under 35 U.S.C. 141 or a civil action under 35 U.S.C. 145.

(d) The period of delay set forth in paragraph (c)(3) shall be reduced by:

(1) any time calculated pursuant to paragraph (c)(3) of this section before the expiration of three years from the filing date of the first national application for patent presented for examination, and

(2) any time, as determined by the Commissioner, during which the applicant for patent did not act with due diligence. In determining the due diligence of an applicant, the Commissioner will examine the facts and circumstances of the applicant's actions during the pendency period of the application to determine whether the applicant exhibited that degree of timeliness as may reasonably be expected from, and which is ordinarily exercised by, a person during the pendency period of an application.b

PART 3—ASSIGNMENT, RECORDING, AND RIGHTS OF ASSIGNEE

34. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 3 would continue to read as follows:

Authority: 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6.

35. Section 3.21 is proposed to be revised to read as follows:

§ 3.21 Identification of patents and patent applications.

An assignment relating to a patent must identify the patent by the patent number. An assignment relating to a national patent application must identify the national patent application by the application number (consisting of the series code and the serial number, e.g., 07/123,456)[or the serial number and filing date]. An assignment relating to an international patent application which designates the United States of America must identify the international application by the international application number (e.g., PCT/US90/01234). If an assignment of a patent application filed under § 1.53(b)(1) or § 1.62b is executed concurrently with, or subsequent to, the execution of the patent application, but before the patent application is filed, it must identify the patent application by its date of execution, name of each inventor, and title of the invention so that there can be no mistake as to the patent application intended.clf an assignment of a provisional application is executed before the provisional application is filed, it must identify the provisional application by name of each inventor and title of the invention so that there can be no mistake as to the provisional application intended.b

36. Section 3.81 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(b) If the assignment is submitted for recording after the date of payment of the issue fee, but prior to issuance of the patent, the assignee may petition that the patent issue to the assignee. Any such petition must be accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(i)[(1)] of this Chapter.

Notice of Public Hearing and Request for Comments on 18-Month Publication of Patent Applications

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce

Action: Notice of public hearing and request for public comments

Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) requests public comment on issues associated with the 18-month publication of patent applications. Interested members of the public are invited to testify at a public hearing and to present written comments on procedures for implementing 18-month publication, including the topics outlined in the supplementary information section of this notice.

Dates: A public hearing will be held on Wednesday, February 15, 1995, in Room 912, Crystal Park Two, 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia, starting at 10:00 a.m. Those wishing to present oral testimony must request an opportunity to do so no later than February 13, 1995. Written comments on the topics presented in the supplementary section of this notice will be accepted by the PTO until February 17, 1995.

Addresses: Those interested in presenting written comments on the topics presented in the supplementary information, or any related topics, may mail their comments to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, marked to the attention of Stephen G. Kunin, Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Patent Policy and Projects, or send them by facsimile transmission to (703) 305-8825.

Written comments should include the following information:

-name and affiliation of the individual responding;
-an indication of whether comments offered represent views of the respondent's organization or are the respondent's personal views; and
-if applicable, information on the respondent's organization, including the type of organization (e.g., business, trade group, university, non-profit organization).

Parties offering testimony or written comments are asked to provide their comments in machine readable format. Machine-readable submissions may be provided as electronic mail messages sent over the Internet to early-pub@uspto.gov, or on a 3 1/2-inch floppy disk formatted for use in either a Macintosh or MSDOS-based computer. Machine-readable submissions should be provided as unformatted text (e.g., ASCII or plain text), or as formatted text in one of the following file formats: Microsoft Word (Macintosh, DOS or Windows versions) or WordPerfect (Macintosh, DOS or Windows versions).

Requests to present oral testimony should be presented to Stephen G. Kunin by mail or facsimile, at the address listed above. No requests for presenting oral testimony will be accepted by phone or through electronic mail.

Written comments and transcripts of the hearings will be available for public inspection on or about March 3, 1995, in Room 520 of Crystal Park One, 2011 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia. In addition, transcripts of the hearings and comments provided in machine readable format will be available on or about March 3, 1995, through anonymous file transfer protocol (ftp) via the Internet (address: ftp.uspto.gov).

For Further Information Contact: Stephen G. Kunin by telephone at (703) 305-8850, by facsimile at (703) 305-8825, by electronic mail at rbahr@uspto.gov, or Jeffery V. Nase by telephone at (703) 305-9282, or by mail marked to the attention of Stephen G. Kunin, addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Supplementary Information

I. Background

Legislation was introduced, but not passed, in the 103rd Congress that would have required the publication of pending patent applications. Both S. 1854, The Patent Simplification Act of 1994, and S. 2488, The Patent Application Publication Act of 1994, had provisions directed to publishing patent applications after 18 months from an application's earliest effective filing date. Copies of these bills may be obtained from the individuals identified in the "For Further Information Contact" section of this notice.

The PTO anticipates that legislation with an 18-month publication provision similar to S. 1854 and S. 2488 will be introduced in the 104th Congress. In addition, the Secretary of Commerce and the Japanese Ambassador to the United States have exchanged letters in which the United States committed, among other things, to introduce legislation to provide for the publication of pending patent applications 18 months after their effective filing date. The Japanese Government also committed to significant changes in its patent system. The United States committed to begin publishing patent applications by January 1, 1996. If Congress enacts this change, the PTO will need to implement the legislation quickly to meet the January 1, 1996, date set out in the exchange of letters. In the event legislation with an 18-month publication provision is enacted next year, public comments will greatly assist the PTO in formulating any notice of proposed rulemaking implementing the legislation. Specifically, the PTO is considering ways to implement possible legislative changes which would require the PTO to publish all patent applications at 18 months from the filing date, including the earliest filing date for which a benefit is desired under 35 U.S.C. §§ 119, 120, 121, and/or 365. The PTO would publish sufficient information about pending applications to enable a knowledgeable reader to determine whether the technology described is relevant to the reader's interest. If such legislation is enacted, certain changes will be required in the way business is conducted both with and within the PTO. Accordingly, it is appropriate that the public be given an opportunity to comment prior to any rules being proposed.

Currently, national patent applications are maintained in confidence by the PTO until a patent is granted as required by 35 U.S.C. § 122. In accordance with 37 C.F.R. § 1.14(a), information regarding the status of any such application may be given to a third party when "the application has been identified by serial number in a published patent document or the United States of America has been indicated as a Designated State in a published international application, in which case status information such as whether it is pending, abandoned or patented may be supplied." If legislation similar to S. 1854 or S. 2488 is enacted into law, all pending applications filed on or after the effective date of the legislation, except for those under a 35 U.S.C. § 181 secrecy order, will be published at 18 months from the earliest filing date for which a benefit is sought, unless the application has already issued as a patent.

The earliest filing date for which a benefit is sought for purposes of 18-month publication of the application should not be confused with the filing date of an application for purposes of a 20-year patent term. The date of filing in the legislation concerning a patent term of 20 years from the date of filing, as proposed, is the date on which the application was filed in the United States, or, if the application contains a specific reference to an earlier filed application or applications under 35 U.S.C. §§ 120, 121 or 365(c), the date on which the earliest of such applications was filed. Although the benefit of a filing date under 35 U.S.C. §§ 119, 365(a) or 365(b), including provisional applications as provided for in the proposed 20-year patent term legislation, will not be taken into account for purposes of a patent term of 20 years from the date of filing, it will be taken into account for purposes of publication of the application at 18 months from the earliest filing date for which a benefit is sought.

In order to plan for implementation of publication at 18 months, certain issues must be resolved. For example: What will be published? Will access to the application file be available following publication? How will submissions of prior art by third parties be treated? Should there be a fixed time in which an applicant must claim priority under either 35 U.S.C. §§ 119 or 120, or risk loss of priority or benefit of a previously filed application?

PTO's current planning approach to implement early publication is to create an electronic data base which captures the content of the paper application file. This electronic data base will be used to provide a source for (a) meeting publishing requirements for the applications, (b) providing a basis for electronic searching and retrieval of applications, and (c) providing a basis for producing copies of the application file. It is currently contemplated that the publication of an application will take the form of publishing certain portions of the information in an application necessary to identify the technical subject matter of the application (a Gazette Entry) in a separate Gazette of Patent Application Notices, and a one-page paper document (a Patent Application Notice) containing similar information will be created for placement in the search files. It is further contemplated that public access will be provided to at least the bibliographical and technical content of the application (specification including claims and drawings) upon publication.

The creation of an electronic data base which mirrors the content of the paper application file will provide the greatest degree of public access to the application, while causing the least disruption to the examination process. It is the PTO's intention to have such an electronic data base in operation when the proposed legislation becomes effective. However, provisions for providing access to the paper application file may be necessary in the event that the electronic data base is not fully operational when applications are first published. Accordingly, some access to the paper application file may be necessary for a short period of time.

II. Issues for Public Comment

Any interested member of the public is invited to testify and/or present written comments on any topic related to 18-month publication. The public was invited to comment on the advisability of introducing an 18-month publication procedure into the patent system of the United States in a public hearing conducted in October 1993. Accordingly, the public is encouraged to limit comments to the procedures that the PTO should adopt if an 18-month publication regime is enacted. Questions included at the end of this section are intended to illustrate the types of issues upon which the PTO is particularly interested in obtaining public comment.

A. Creation of the Electronic Data Base

1. Data Capturing Operation

A data capturing operation will enable the creation of a data base containing image and text equivalent to the content of a paper application file. It is currently contemplated that those application materials not submitted in machine readable format will be image and/or optical character recognition (OCR) scanned by the PTO for entry into this electronic data base. The PTO currently contemplates that the content of the application as originally deposited in the PTO will be captured after the application is serialized, and application-related materials subsequently submitted will be captured after identification as directed to an existing application. Currently, the PTO accepts, either by hand-carried delivery or facsimile transmission, application related materials (e.g., amendments, petitions) in locations other than the central mailroom (e.g., the various Examining Groups). Unless the PTO requires that all official application-related materials be submitted at a central location (e.g., the mailroom), the PTO will have to either (1) forward such application-related materials to a central data capturing facility, or (2) provide data capturing facilities at every location at which application materials may be filed in the PTO. Notwithstanding the cost of either providing and operating numerous data capturing facilities, or routing all application-related materials to a central data capturing facility, the PTO is concerned that a decentralized operation will cause some application-related materials to elude capture onto this data base. See Question #1.

2. Standard Application Format

The creation of an electronic data base which mirrors the content of the paper application file will be facilitated if papers filed in the PTO are either (1) submitted in machine readable format or (2) specifically arranged for image and/or OCR scanning by the PTO for entry into this electronic data base. To facilitate the scanning of papers not submitted in machine readable format, the PTO is considering requiring some type of standard application format to increase scanning accuracy and significantly reduce data capture costs. The PTO requests comments on the advisability of a standard format and on the type or extent of a standard format. This standard format could take the form of (1) requiring only bibliographic data (e.g., title, inventor(s) name(s), address(es), etc.), representative, correspondence address, priority claims, be arranged in a standard format, (2) requiring bibliographic data and portions of the technical content of the application such as the abstract, claims, and drawings be arranged in a standard format, or (3) requiring that the entire application be arranged in a standard format. In addition, the standard format could include requiring standard paper sizes (8 1/2 by 11 inches and/or A4 only) for all application papers and/or requiring (1) that claims be located on a separate page from the specification, (2) special numbering for and/or spacing between each claim, or (3) that each claim be located on a separate page. See Question #2.

B. Publication

1. Publication Content

The PTO has considered a number of options regarding what the pre-grant publication might contain. These options included publishing the following:

i. Only the title and certain limited bibliographical data.

ii. Something similar to what the Official Gazette provides for an issued patent: a drawing figure, representative claim and certain bibliographical data, perhaps also including the abstract or the abstract rather than a representative claim (a Gazette Entry).

iii. The entire application as filed.

iv. The entire application file as it exists at a fixed time before publication.

Options (i) and (ii) contemplate that, subsequent to publication, access will be made available on demand to the content of the application (specification, claims and drawings), hereinafter "application content," as of the filing date or some fixed time before publication.

Option (iii) would require printing the entire application as filed (specification, claims, and drawings), costing substantially the same as the printing of the patent, and taking up considerable space in the search files. The costs and space requirements of option (iv) would be greater than those of option (iii), but option (iv) would provide the greatest amount of published information. At present, it is believed that implementation of option (ii), with access to the application content, will best serve the interests of both the PTO and the public. Costs will be minimized by keeping the published information to a single page and the impact on the public and examiners' search files will be minimal, as compared to options (iii) and (iv). Furthermore, the information provided by option (ii) should be sufficient to enable the reader to make an educated decision as to whether "detailed access" to the application itself is necessary. Option (i), although somewhat lower in cost, would most likely cause unnecessary requests for review of the application file since the published information would be limited to a title, which may not be reasonably indicative of the technical disclosure of the application, much less what is actually being claimed. Present thinking is to publish a Gazette Entry in a separate Gazette of Patent Application Notices, provide access to the application content, and create a Patent Application Notice containing similar information for placement in the search files. See Question #3.

The PTO also requests comments as to whether separate delivery of a copy of the published application information, i.e., the Gazette Entry or the Patent Application Notice, to the applicant is desirable. As the published information will be available in the Gazette of Patent Application Notices, and applicants will know from their own files what is published, it is unclear that the additional delivery of a copy of such information to the applicant justifies the additional costs, and thus fees, for providing such information. See Question #4.

2. Publication Cut-Off Date

The PTO is currently considering establishing a firm cut-off date at which time applicants must decide whether or not they wish their applications to be published, with the only alternative to publishing being abandonment of the application. Present thinking, based on experiences in the publishing of patents and SIRs, is that a cut-off time of 15 months from the earliest filing date for which a benefit is sought would be necessary to assure publication at 18 months. An applicant would have to notify the PTO of his or her wish to not publish, and thus abandon, the application by this cut-off date. The PTO recognizes that in certain instances an applicant may desire to maintain the invention as a trade secret if the protection to be afforded, in light of the prior art considered by the examiner, is limited in nature. Examination before the examiner in most non-continuing United States origin applications should be concluded, and a first Office action should be issued in most applications, by this cut-off date. Nevertheless, in certain circumstances, an applicant may request accelerated examination such that in a non-continuing United States origin application, prosecution before the examiner should be complete by the cut-off date.

3. Accelerated Examination

Currently, the PTO will accelerate the examination of (make special) an application under the conditions set forth in 37 C.F.R. § 1.102, as described in M.P.E.P. § 708.02 and Petitioning to Make Applications Relating to Biotechnology Special, 1092 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 55 (July 15, 1988). It is contemplated that some applicants will desire an accelerated examination of their respective applications to obtain a final patentability determination prior to the critical publication cut-off date, when an applicant must decide whether to have the application published. Of course, increasing the number of accelerated examinations may diminish the availability or speed of accelerated examination to an individual applicant, as there will be more applications receiving an accelerated examination. This will further delay the examination of applications not provided with accelerated examination. In view of the potential value of an accelerated examination to an individual applicant, thought must be given as to whether (1) the current requirements for receiving an accelerated examination are adequate, (2) accelerated examination also should be provided for a substantial fee, or (3) there is another alternative that would meet the needs of all applicants. See Question #5.

4. Recovery of Publication Costs

The PTO estimates that 82 percent of the applications filed in Fiscal 1996 would be published under the proposed legislation, and that it would require about $14 million in Fiscal 1996 to recover the costs of publishing these applications in accordance with option (ii) discussed above. If the proposed legislation provides the flexibility to the Commissioner to recover the costs of publication by adjusting the filing, issue, and maintenance fees, or by charging a separate publication fee, or by any combination of these methods, how should this cost be allocated among the various fees? Should the cost of publication be recovered through a separate publication fee per se, or should all or part be distributed among the filing, issue, and maintenance fees? In addition, fees assessed under 35 U.S.C. §§ 41(a) and (b), such as filing, issue and maintenance fees, are subject to a 50 per cent small entity discount, whereas a publication fee may or may not be subject to a small entity discount. Accordingly, the manner of allocating the costs of publication will dictate the relative proportion of the costs paid by large and small entities. See Question #6.

5. Procedures for Collecting a Publication Fee

If the legislation provides for charging a publication fee, how should the fee be collected, and what safeguards should be provided to ensure timely publication and prevent unnecessary loss of potential patent rights? The PTO contemplates that such a publication fee, if instituted, will be required prior to 15 months from the earliest filing date for which a benefit is sought, or, on filing, whichever is later, and that failure to timely submit this fee will result in abandonment and non-publication of the application. The PTO may institute a regimen under which (1) an application will not be published unless the applicant affirmatively requests publication by paying the publication fee, or alternatively, (2) an application will be published unless the applicant affirmatively indicates that the application is not to be published, regardless of whether the publication fee is timely submitted. The PTO recognizes that provisions for the acceptance of an unavoidably/unintentionally delayed payment of this fee, vis-a-vis 37 C.F.R. § 1.316, would be desirable.

Under either option, any applicant who did not timely submit the publication fee must petition for acceptance of a late publication fee to revive the application. Under option (2), the costs of publishing applications lacking the publication fee, but also lacking an affirmative statement that the applicant does not desire publication, will be passed to other applicants, unless the application is subsequently revived; however, this option will avoid the delay in publication inherent where an application is not published until a delayed publication fee is submitted for the application. See Question #7. Finally, there is a question as to whether the PTO should develop procedures for the withdrawal (and abandonment) of an application from publication subsequent to payment of the publication fee.

C. Priority Rights

It had been proposed in S. 2488 that "each application for patent shall be published ... as soon as possible after the expiry of a period of 18 months from the earliest filing date for which a benefit is sought under this title." Both 35 U.S.C. §§ 119 and 120, as proposed in S. 2488, provided that the Commissioner (PTO) may determine the period within which a claim for priority must be filed; however, 35 U.S.C. § 119 expressly requires that this period be during the pendency of the application. To enable the PTO to publish applications as soon as possible after 18 months from the earliest priority date, the PTO must be aware of any claims for priority under 35 U.S.C. §§ 119 or 120 as early as possible, preferably on filing of the application. The PTO contemplates requiring applicants to state any claim for priority under 35 U.S.C. §§ 119 or 120 on filing, but accepting late claims for priority with a surcharge. The PTO further contemplates establishing, by regulation, a fixed period, such as within 3 months of filing, within which late claims for priority under 35 U.S.C. §§ 119 or 120 will be accepted with a surcharge to avoid the loss of such claim for priority. The time period for claiming priority under 35 U.S.C. § 119 should be distinguished from the time period for perfecting such claims, i.e., submitting a certified copy of the priority document, which would remain as set forth in 37 C.F.R. § 1.55(a). In view of the potential for delaying the publication of an application by delaying the filing of a claim for priority, the PTO is considering a requirement that any late claim for priority be accompanied by a verified statement that the delay in submitting such claim was unintentional. See Question #8.

D. Prior Art Effect of Published Application

It had been proposed in S. 2488 that 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) will include "an application for patent, published pursuant to section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent" within its scope. Accordingly, a published application would have constituted prior art under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) by the express terms in S. 2488. A published application will also constitute prior art for its entire disclosure as a "printed publication" under 35 U.S.C. §§ 102(a) and (b) as of its publication date. Thus, a published application would have constituted prior art under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) by the express terms in S. 2488 as of its filing date, and also it would constitute prior art under 35 U.S.C. §§ 102(a) and (b) as of its publication date. Of course, the published application also would be available as prior art under 35 U.S.C. § 103. While the PTO does not currently contemplate publication of the entire application, the application content will be accessible to the public. In addition, the Gazette Entry in the Gazette of Patent Application Notices will categorize the application (title, abstract and/or claim, U.S. classification) so as to make the application sufficiently accessible to those interested in the art. In re Hall, 781 F.2d 897, 900, 228 USPQ 453, 456 (Fed. Cir. 1986); see also, In re Wyer, 655 F.2d 221, 210 USPQ 790 (CCPA 1981) (application available to the public as prior art, with an abstract, claim, and classification published); and compare, In re Cronyn, 890 F.2d 1158, 13 USPQ2d 1070 (Fed. Cir. 1989) (undergraduate student thesis not available as prior art where the thesis, while accessible to the public, was indexed or categorized only by the author's name, rather than by subject matter).

As discussed above, it is currently contemplated that a Patent Application Notice will be placed in the search files. The PTO is undecided as to whether this Patent Application Notice should be removed from the search files if and when the application issues as a patent, or whether to include publication information on the issued patent. See Question #9.

E. Access to Published Applications

1. Degree of Access

Providing the public with access to the application content as originally filed will serve the legislative purpose of more rapid dissemination of the technical content of a patent application. Additional access to papers filed by an applicant, or issued by the PTO, will not add to the disclosure of the technical content of an application, but would be useful for (1) determining the metes and bounds of the invention claimed in an application, such that persons could ascertain their potential liability for infringement should the application issue as a patent, and (2) participating in the prosecution of the application, e.g., submitting prior art or a protest in the application. Unless the contemplated electronic data base is in operation when the proposed legislation becomes effective, or contingency arrangements permitting equivalent access to the application content are developed, any access to a pending application will require the removal of the application file from the examiner to allow copying of the accessible portions. The degree of access provided to pending applications may well have an adverse impact on the examination process by increasing the pendency of applications. Balancing the desires for reasonable access to applications subsequent to publication with the continued desirability for limiting pendency of applications, the PTO currently contemplates that access will be limited to the content of the originally filed application papers as amended prior to the 15th month from the earliest filing date for which a benefit is sought, or, on filing, whichever is later. In other words, publication of the application at 18 months would entitle any member of the public to purchase a copy of the application (specification, claims, and drawings) as amended at a point in time prior to publication. Other options regarding access to the application file after publication include access to the entire content of the application file from filing up to the date of publication, or continuing access to the application file after publication, including all papers contained in the file wrapper from filing to grant of the patent. As access is increased, more information about the course of prosecution is available to the public, but the opportunity for disruption of the examination process, and the opportunity for increased costs and pendency, also increases. See Question #10. Finally, the PTO also requests comments on whether, subsequent to publication, access should be provided to (1) the assignment records of an application, or (2) the deposit of biological materials as set forth in 37 C.F.R. § 1.802 et seq. See Questions #11 and #12. The PTO currently contemplates that access fees, either for copying the paper application file, or searching and copying information from an electronic data base, will be required to compensate for the costs of providing these services.

2. Submission of Amendments

VOL 1170 ISS 1 JA 3 1995 UMI

The current procedures for entering amendments into applications sometimes cause errors in the entry of amendments into applications and in the printing of applications as patents. To facilitate the accurate entry of amendments into applications and the printing of applications as patents, as well as the understanding of the applications (specification, claims, and drawings) by a person seeking access, the PTO is also considering altering the current procedures for entering amendments into applications. The procedures for entering amendments into an application could take the form of requiring (a) substitute paragraphs of specification and the complete rewriting of any amended claim, (b) substitute pages or sheets of specification, drawings or claims, or (c) replacement of the entire application. See Question #13.

F. Third Party Activity

The current protest practice as provided for in 37 C.F.R. § 1.291 and M.P.E.P. § 1901 et seq. requires that the protest identify the application under protest by application number or serial number and filing date and include a listing of all patents, publications or other information relied upon, a concise explanation of the relevance of each listed item, an English translation of non-English language documents and be accompanied by a copy of each document. In addition, the protest papers must reflect that a copy of the same has been served upon the applicant or upon the applicant's attorney or agent of record, or be filed with the PTO in duplicate in the event that service is not possible. It is important that any protest against a pending application specifically identify the application with as much detail as possible.

In 1974, a Trial Voluntary Protest Program (TVPP), which included two trial programs, was undertaken by the PTO. A total of 6,745 applicants were given the opportunity to participate in the TVPP. In response, 1,970 or 29.2 percent of the applicants elected to participate. Protests were subsequently filed in 128, or 6.5 percent, of the 1,970 published applications. Prosecution was re-opened in eighty, or 62.5 percent, of the protested applications. The pendency of published applications which were not protested was delayed by 6 to 8 months. The pendency of protested applications was further delayed for varying periods.

As noted above, 6.5 percent of all of the TVPP applications were protested. If we assume that ten (10) percent of the published applications are protested this would lead to a dramatic increase of protests. In fact, the ten (10) percent figure may be on the low side, since the claims in the TVPP applications were in allowable condition. As of the contemplated cut-off date, many of the applications may not, as yet, have isolated the metes and bounds of allowable subject matter.

The PTO requests comments as to when the submission of prior art by third parties should be permitted subsequent to publication of the application. Traditionally, applications are maintained in secrecy during their entire prosecution, thus rendering the entire prosecution of an application ex parte. Nevertheless, the third party submission of prior art may improve the quality of issued patents by providing examiners with the best prior art. Should it be considered desirable to substantially maintain the ex parte nature of application prosecution, it is unclear as to what limits should be placed on the submission of prior art by third parties.

As the prosecution of an application may be closed (under final rejection or Notice of Allowance) at the time of publication, the time periods for the submission of prior art by third parties must be limited to avoid delays in prosecution. In addition, the PTO requests comments on whether to stay the proceedings for a set period following the publication of the applications to permit the third party submission of prior art. Providing any time period subsequent to the publication of an application for the submission of prior art by third parties could result in the reopening of prosecution in an application. Such continued prosecution of applications, if permitted, would lead to increases in pendency, the adverse effects of which will be further exacerbated under a 20-year patent term regime.

If the submission of prior art in a pending application by third parties is considered desirable, what procedures should be adopted to accommodate such submission and take advantage of its potential benefits? In addition, a specific time period, e.g., the earlier of the mailing of a Notice of Allowance in the application or two months after publication of the application, must be established during which prior art may be submitted to ensure its consideration. The PTO currently contemplates that prior art submitted outside this time period by third parties would simply be placed in the application file. Finally, the PTO does not currently contemplate providing third parties with any opportunity that would amount to an opposition proceeding. See Question #14.

III. Questions

1. Should the PTO require that all official application-related materials be delivered to a central location? Specifically, what problems would a requirement that all official application-related materials be delivered to a central location cause?

2. Should the PTO adopt a standard application format? If so, what portions of the application papers should the PTO require be submitted in a standard size and/or format, and what sanction (e.g., surcharge) should be established for the failure to comply with these requirements?

3. Assuming that the entire application is not published, what information concerning the application should be published in the Gazette of Patent Application Notices?

4. Should the patent applicant receive a copy of the published application — either published notice and/or application content at time of publication?

5. Should the PTO permit an accelerated examination? If so, under what conditions?

6. Since the cost for publishing applications must be recovered from fees, how should the cost of publication be allocated among the various fees, including the possibility of charging a separate publication fee?

7. Should the PTO require an affirmative communication from a patent applicant indicating that the applicant does not wish the application to be published, or should failure to timely submit a publication fee be taken as instruction not to publish the application? That is, should an application be published unless the applicant affirmatively indicates that the application is not to be published, regardless of whether a publication fee has been submitted? What latitude should the PTO permit for late submission of a publication fee?

8. The delayed filing of either a claim for priority under 35 U.S.C. §§ 119 or 120 may result in the delayed publication of the application. Should priority or benefit be lost if not made within a reasonable time after filing? What latitude should the PTO permit for late claiming of priority or benefit?

9. Once the patent has issued, should the paper document containing information similar to that published in the Gazette of Patent Application Notices, i.e., the Patent Application Notice, be removed from the search files, and should publication information be included on the issued patent?

10. After publication, should access to the content of the application file be limited to the originally filed application papers? If not, what degree of access should be permitted? Should access be limited to the content before publication, or should it extend to materials added after publication?

11. After publication, should assignment records of a published application also be made accessible to the public?

12. After publication, should access include the deposit of biological materials as set forth in 37 C.F.R. § 1.802 et seq.?

13. What types of problems will be encountered if all amendments must be made by (a) substitute paragraphs and claims, (b) substitute pages, or (c) replacement of the entire application?

14. Should protest procedures be modified to permit the third party submission of prior art only prior to a specific period after publication of the application? What actionshould be taken with respect to untimely submissions by a third party?

Adverse Decisions in Interference

In the designated interferences involving the following patents, final decisions have been rendered that the respective patentees are not entitled to patents containing the claims listed.

Patent No. 4,623,688, Thomas P. Flanagan, REMOISTENABLE HOT MELT ADHESIVES, Interference No. 102,191, final judgment adverse to the patentee rendered Oct. 31, 1994, as to claims 1-10.

Patent No. 4,663,077, Nuno M. Rei, Ronald C. Wilson, MICROBIOCIDAL COMPOSITIONS COMPRISING AN ARYL ALKANOL AND A MICROBIOCIDAL COMPOUND DISSOLVED THEREIN, Interference No. 102,030, final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered July 13, 1993, as to claims 1-3, 6-8 and 63.

Patent No. 4,889,812, Perry W. Guinn, Gary N. Mills, Robert A. Bedient, Martin O. Greeley, BIOREACTOR APPARATUS, Interference No. 103,096, final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered Nov. 29, 1994, as to claim 9.

Patent No. 5,022,144, Prem R. Hingorany, METHOD OF MANUFACTURE POWER HYBRID MICROCIRCUIT, Interference No. 103,391, final judgment adverse to the patentee rendered Nov. 29, 1994, as to claims 2-10.

Patent No. 5,024,926, Hisato Itoh, Katashi Enomoto, Takahisa Oguchi, Tsutomu Nishizawa, ALKYLPHTHALOCYANINE NEAR-INFRARED ABSORBERS AND RECORDING/DISPLAY MATERIALS USING THE SAME, Interference No. 102,905, final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered Nov. 16, 1994, as to claims 1 and 2.

Patent No. 5,043,483, Loris Sogli, Raffaele Ungarelli, L. Lawrence Chapoy, PROCESS FOR THE ALKYLATION OF PHENOLS, Interference No. 102,965, final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered Nov. 29, 1994, as to claims 1-16.

Patent No. 5,065,540, William S. Potter, Jr., STRIKING ROD HOLDER, Interference No. 103,253, final judgment adverse to the patentee rendered July 19, 1994, as to claims 1-4, 8, 11, 14, 19, 29, 30 and 32.

Patent No. 5,114,480, Edward F. Cassidy, Herbert R. Gillis, Malcolm Hannaby, Alain Parfondry, INTERNAL MOULD RELEASE COMPOSITIONS, Interference No. 103,431, final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered Oct. 12, 1994, as to claims 1-6.

Patent No. 5,124,247, Wilhelm Ansorge, PROCESS FOR SEQUENCING NUCLEIC ACIDS, Interference No. 103,142, final judgment adverse to the patentee rendered Oct. 12, 1994, as to claims 1, 3, 8-19, 22-25.

Patent No. 5,133,492, Franz X. Wohrstein, Roger Paulman, METHOD AND APPARATUS FOR SEPARATING THIN-WALLED, MULTIPORT MICROEXTRUSIONS, Interference No. 103,325, final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered Oct. 25, 1994, as to claims 1-14.

Patent No. 5,145,890, Clay B. Frederick, John R. Udinsky, METHOD FOR REDUCING THE CARBOXYLESTER CONTENT OF AN EMULSION POLYMER, Interference No. 103,377, final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered Oct. 18, 1994, as to claims 1-24.

Patent No. 5,218,060, William M. Rolfe, Michael R. Thoseby, CALIXERENE EPOXIDE RESINS AND HARDENERS, Interference No. 103,382, final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered Nov. 9, 1994, as to claims 1-7.

Patent No. 5,222,881, Fumiaki Sano, Masahiko Oide, Toshiyuki Nakamura, Hiroshi Ogawa, Norihide Kobayashi, Yoshinori Shirafuji, Takashi Yamamoto, Keiji Sakaino, SCROLL TYPE COMPRESSOR HAVING CURRIED SURFACE PORTIONS BETWEEN THE SHAFT AND BEARING MEANS, Interfernece No. 103,272, final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered Nov. 7, 1994, as to claim 1.

Patent No. 5,262,503, Shiroh Gotoh, RANDOM COPOLYMERS AND CROSSLINKED PRODUCTS OF THE SAME, Intereference No. 103,373, final judgment adverse to the patentee rendered Oct. 18, 1994, as to claims 1-4.

Grant of Certificate of Interim Extension of the term of U.S. Patent No. 4,062,848; Remeron

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Notice of Interim Patent Term Extension
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office has issued a certificate under 35 U.S.C. § 156(d)(5) for a one-year interim extension of the term of U.S. Patent No. 4,062,848 that claims the human drug product known as Remeron.
For Further Information Contact: Gerald A. Dost by telephone at (703) 305-9282; or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Office of the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Patent Policy and Projects, Office of Special Programs, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: Section 156 of Title 35, United States Code, generally provides that the term of a patent may be extended for a period of up to 5 years if the patent claims a product, or a method of making or using a product, that has been subject to certain defined regulatory review. Under section 156, a patent is eligible for term extension only if regulatory review of the claimed product was completed before the original patent term expired.

On December 3, 1993, section 156 was amended by Pub. L. No. 103-179 to provide that if the owner of record of the patent or its agent reasonably expects the applicable regulatory review period to extend beyond the expiration of the patent, the owner or its agent may submit an application to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks for an interim extension of the patent term. If the Commissioner determines that, except for permission to market or use the product commercially, the patent would be eligible for a statutory extension of the patent term, the Commissioner shall issue to the applicant a certificate of interim extension for a period of not more than one year.

On November 25, 1994, the patent owner Akzona Incorporated filed an application under 35 U.S.C. § 156(d)(5) for interim extension of the term of U.S. Patent No. 4,062,848. The application states that the patent claims the active ingredient mirtapazine in the human drug product Remeron. The application indicates that the product is currently undergoing a regulatory review before the Food and Drug Administration for permission to market or use the product commercially. The original term of the patent is set to expire on December 13, 1994. Applicant requests an interim extension of the term of the patent for a period of one year.

Review of the application indicates that, except for permission to market or use the product commercially, the subject patent would be eligible for an extension of the patent term under 35 U.S.C. § 156. Since it is apparent that the regulatory review period may extend beyond the expiration of the original patent term, an interim extension of the patent term under 35 U.S.C. § 156(d)(5) is appropriate. Accordingly, an interim extension under 35 U.S.C. § 156(d)(5) of the term of U.S. Patent No. 4,062,848 has been granted for a period of one year from the original expiration date of the patent.

Availability of PatentIn Computer Program Training

1. Training In Washington, D.C. Friday, January 20, 1995 and Friday, February 24, 1995

VOL 1170 ISS 1 JAN 3 1995

The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) has developed a computer program, called PatentIn, that will facilitate compliance with the Requirements for Patent Applications Containing Nucleotide Sequence and/or Amino Acid Sequence Disclosures (sequence rules: 37 CFR 1.821 through 1.825). (Final rules were published in the Federal Register, 55 Fed. Reg. 18230 (May 1, 1990), and in the Official Gazette, 1114 O.G. 29 (May 15, 1990).)

Two one-day training sessions will be held on the use of the PatentIn Computer Program on Friday, January 20, 1995 and Friday, February 24, 1995. Each session will be conducted from 10:00 am to 4:00 pm. The training will be held at the Department of Agriculture Graduate School Training Facility. The School is located at 600 Maryland Ave., S.W., Washington, D.C. at the L'Enfant Plaza Metro stop.

The training will be hands on, using personal computer equipment and will include (1) the use of PatentIn to prepare the sequence listing file of information, and (2) the use of word processing software to prepare the PatentIn sequence listing file for inclusion as part of the application papers. The class will also include training on the basic file editing and manipulation skills that may be necessary for preparing sequence information for importing into PatentIn.

Because of the limited number of computers available, the class will be limited to no more than 17 participants.

Requests to attend the class should be made in writing, addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks; Washington, D.C. 20231; Attention: Arthur F. Purcell, Office of the Administrator for Search and Information Resources; Crystal Park Building 3, Suite 702. Requests should include a check for $100, made payable to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, or an authorization to charge a PTO Deposit Account. Requests authorizing charges to Deposit Accounts may also be sent via facsimile to 703-308-6879.

2. Training On Request

On request from a sponsoring organization, PatentIn training, as well as training on the sequence Rules, can also be provided by qualified PTO instructors at remote locations under the following conditions:

- A request for such training should be directed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231, by the sponsoring organization. The request should reference this Notice.

- Because the number of qualified instructors is very limited, sponsoring organizations normally should submit requests at least three months in advance of the desired training session date and should be flexible as regards scheduling of training sessions.

- If the sponsoring organization is other than a non-profit entity or membership association, e.g., the sponsoring organization is a private company or firm, that organization must specify that the training opportunity will also be made available to individuals not employed by the company or firm.

- The sponsoring organization must agree to pay for all travel related expenses of the instructor(s) plus a fixed fee of $500 per instructor per instruction day to cover salary, overhead and training materials costs.

- The sponsoring organization must provide the physical facilities and any equipment necessary to conduct the training. Since these will vary according to the circumstances and number of trainees, such arrangements should be made in consultation with the instructor.

Any questions concerning this notice should be directed to Arthur F. Purcell, by telephone at (703) 308-6856, or by FAX at (703) 308-6879.

SPECIAL BOXES FOR PATENT MAIL

Special box designations should be used to allow forwarding of particular types of mail to the appropriate areas as quickly as possible. Such mail is forwarded to the appropriate area without being opened. Only the specified type of document should be placed in an envelope addressed to one of these special boxes. If any documents other than the specified type identified for each special box are addressed to that box, they will be significantly delayed in reaching the appropriate area for which they are intended.

Please address mail as follows:

Box _____
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Washington, D.C. 20231

Box Designations	Explanation
Box 7	Reissue applications for patents involved in litigation and subsequently filed related papers.
Box 12	Contributions to the Examiner Education Program.
Box 313b	Petitions under 37 CFR 1.313(b) to withdraw a patent application from issue after payment of the issue fee and any papers associated with the petition, including papers necessary for filing a continuing application.
Box AF	Expedited procedure for processing amendments and other responses after final rejection.
Box DAC	Petitions decided by the Office of Petitions including petitions to revive and petitions to accept late payment of issue fees or maintenance fees.
Box DD	Disclosure Documents or material related to the Disclosure Document Program.
Box FWC	Requests for File Wrapper Continuation Applications (under 37 CFR 1.62).
Box Interference	Communications relating to interferences and applications and patents involved in interference.
Box Issue Fee	All communications following the receipt of a PTOL–85, "Notice of Allowance and Issue Fee Due," and prior to the issuance of a patent should be addressed to Box Issue Fee, unless advised to the contrary. Assignments are the exception. Assignments should be submitted in a separate envelope and not be sent to Box Issue Fee.
Box M Fee	Correspondence related to a patent that is subject to the payment of a maintenance fee.
Box MPEP	Submissions concerning the Manual of Patent Examining Procedures.
Box Non-Fee-Amendment	Non-fee amendments to patent applications. (Use Box AF for responses after final rejection).
Box PATENT APPLICATION	New patent application and associated papers and fees.
Box Pat. Ext.	Applications for patent term extension.
Box PCT	Mail related to applications filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty.
Box Reconstruction	Correspondence pertaining to the reconstruction of lost patent files.
Box Reexam	Requests for Reexamination for original request papers only.
Box Sequence	Submission of diskette for biotechnical application.
Box SN	For fee and petitions under 37 CFR 1.182 to obtain date received and/or serial number for patent applications prior to the Office's standard notification (return postcard or the official "Filing Receipt," "Notice to File Missing Parts," or "Notice of Incomplete Application").

SPECIAL BOXES FOR TRADEMARK MAIL

Special box designations should be used to allow forwarding of particular types of trademark mail to the appropriate areas as quickly as possible. In addition to these box designations, filers are encouraged to indicate whether the contents of the envelope contain a fee. Envelopes containing a fee should be marked "FEE;" envelopes not containing a fee should be marked "NO FEE." Box designations and "FEE/NO FEE" indicators should appear on the envelope as well as on the cover sheet or first page of any document.

Please address mail as follows:

Box _____
FEE (or "NO FEE")
Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks
2900 Crystal Drive
Arlington, Virginia 22202-3513

Box Designations	Explanation
Box NEW APP FEE	New trademark applications and fees.
Box ITU FEE	Statements of Use (SOU's), and extension requests.
Box TTAB FEE	Oppositions, Cancellation petitions, and ex parte appeals.
Box TTAB NO FEE	Interferences, motions and extension requests.
Box STATUS NO FEE	Written status inquiries.

Box EEO	Mail for the Office of Civil Rights.
Box OED	Mail for the Office of Enrollment and Discipline.

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents and Trademarks Available for Public Use in Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries (PTDLs), receive patent and trademark information in various formats from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Many PTDLs have on file all full-text patents issued since 1790, trademarks published since 1872, and select collections of foreign patents. All PTDLs have both the patent and trademark sections of the Official Gazette of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. The full-text utility and design patents are distributed numerically on 16 mm microfilm, and plant patents on color microfiche. Patent and trademark search systems on CD-ROM (Compact Disc-Read Only) format are available at all PTDLs to increase utilization of and enhance access to the information found in patents and trademarks. It is through the CD-ROM systems that preliminary patent and trademark searches can be conducted through the numerically arranged collections.

All information is available for use by the public free of charge.

In addition, each PTDL offers reference publications which outline and provide access to the patent and trademark classification systems, as well as other documents and publications which supplement the basic search tools. PTDLs provide technical staff assistance in using all materials. Facilities for making paper copies of patent and trademark information are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent and trademark collections among the PTDLs, and their hours of service to the public vary, anyone contemplating use of these collections at a particular library is urged to contact that library in advance about its collections, services, and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

MARKS PUBLISHED FOR OPPOSITION

The following marks are published in compliance with section 12(a) of the Trademark Act of 1946. Applications for the registration of marks in more than one class have been filed as provided in section 30 of said act as amended by Public Law 772, 87th Congress, approved Oct. 9, 1962, 76 Stat. 769. Opposition under section 13 may be filed within thirty days of the date of this publication. See rules 2.101 to 2.105.

A separate fee of two hundred dollars for opposing each mark in each class must accompany the opposition.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

CHEESE, OIL, PAINT, DYESTUFFS AND PHARMACEUTICAL PROCESSING INDUSTRIES, NAMELY PLATE AND FRAME FILTERS, CERAMIC FILTERS, CARTRIDGE AND RECLAIM OIL FILTERS, ULTRA, MICRO AND MEMBRANE FILTERS; MACHINES, NAMELY POWDER BLENDERS, MIXERS, AND COMPOUNDERS; PUMPS, NAMELY CENTRIFUGAL, DOUGH, PISTON, ROTARY AND POSITIVE DISPLACEMENT PUMPS; MACHINES, NAMELY SEMI-HERMETIC AND SCREW SEPARATORS AND SHREDDERS; MACHINE PARTS, NAMELY SIEVES FOR USE IN THE FOOD, FRUIT JUICE, BEVERAGE, DAIRY, CHEESE, OIL, PAINT, DYESTUFF AND PHARMACEUTICAL PROCESSING INDUSTRIES; SILO AND BIN ACTIVATOR MACHINES TO ACTUATE VALVES IN SILOS AND BINS; MACHINES AND TWIN SCREW COMPOUNDING MIXERS; SOAP PLODDERS; SOLVENT RECOVERY MACHINES; KEG WASHERS; VERTICAL MIXERS; MACHINES FOR THE FOOD INDUSTRY (INCLUDING BAKERY, CONFECTIONERY, SUGAR, CHOCOLATE, SLAUGHTERING AND MEAT PROCESSING), NAMELY SUGAR, PARTICLE, LIQUID AND HONEY COATING MACHINES FOR CEREAL PRODUCTS; FLAKING ROLL MACHINES FOR BREAKFAST CEREALS; BAGGERS; BAND, BELT, SCREW AND PNEUMATIC CONVEYORS; BAND CLEANERS AND GREASERS; BASKET LOADERS; BATCH BLENDERS; BELT CONVEYORS FOR FEEDING MACHINERY; BIN ACTIVATORS; BISCUIT AND COOKIE COOLING CONVEYORS; BISCUIT AND COOKIE CREAM MIXER; BISCUIT AND COOKIE DOUGH PORTIONING MACHINE; BISCUIT AND COOKIE DOUGH ROUT PRESSES; BISCUIT AND COOKIE DOUGH SHAPING MACHINE; BISCUIT AND COOKIE GRINDER, SUGAR MILL, SUGAR GRINDER; BISCUIT AND COOKIE HANDLING CONVEYORS AND CHANNELING BOARD; BISCUIT AND COOKIE HANDLING MACHINE, WRAPPING AND PACKING MACHINE; BISCUIT AND COOKIE SANDWICHING MACHINES, MACHINES, NAMELY BISCUIT CREAMERS, AND BISCUIT AND COOKIE STACKERS; BOTTLE FILLING AND HANDLING MACHINES; BREAD AND ROLL DOUGH HANDLING MACHINE; BREAD, BISCUIT, BATTER, BREAM AND CAKE MIXERS; BREAD DEPANNERS; BREAD SLICERS, BAGGERS, WRAPPERS, CASE PACKERS; CAN FILLING AND HANDLING MACHINES; CHAIN CONVEYORS; CHOCOLATE DECORATING MACHINES; MACHINES, NAMELY CHOCOLATE COATERS; CHOCOLATE TEMPERING MACHINES; CHOCOLATE MOLDING AND CHOCOLATE SHELLMOLDING MACHINES; CONFECTIONERY FONDANT AND CREME MIXERS, DEPOSITORS, NAMELY MACHINES FOR USE IN THE CONFECTIONERY INDUSTRY TO DEPOSIT CONFECTIONERY INTO MOLDS ORONTO SURFACES; LOLLIPOP MAKING MACHINES; CANDY AND BAKED CONFECTIONERY WRAPPING MACHINES; COOKER EXTRUDERS, DOUGH AND PASTE EXTRUDERS; CREAM, BATTER, DOUGH AND PASTE MIXERS; CREAMING, JAM LAYERING AND SANDWICHING MACHINED; DOUGH AND PASTE KNEADERS; DOUGH FORMERS, DOUGH FOLDERS AND LAMINATORS; DOUGH KNEADERS; DOUGH MIXERS; DOUGH MOLDING MACHINES; DOUGH PIECE HANDLING MACHINE, DOUGH PROVER, SETTER, MOLDER, PANNING, DEPANNING MACHINES; DOUGH PORTIONING MACHINE, DOUGH SHAPING MACHINE, DOUGH DIVIDING MACHINE; DOUGH PRESHEETERS, DOUGH SHEETERS, DOUGH CONVEYORS, DOUGH SHREDDERS, KIBBLER MACHINES FOR GRINDING AND/OR FORMING INTO PARTICLES OR BITS; EXTRUDERS COMPRISING ROLL, SCREW, TWIN SCREW, VERTICAL AND MULTI-LANE HORIZONTAL FILLERS; FAT AND FLOUR SPREADERS; FAT PLASTICIZER MACHINES FOR USE IN FOOD PROCESSING TO PREPARE EDIBLE FATS FOR MIXING AND SIMILAR OPERATIONS; FEEDER BELT CONVEYORS; FERMENTATION AGITATORS; FILLING MACHINES FOR USE WITH TUBS AND CARTONS; FORM FILL AND SEAL PACKAGING MACHINES; GAUGE ROLL MACHINES FOR DOUGH; HOMOGENIZER MACHINES FOR USE IN THE FOOD, FRUIT JUICE, BEVERAGE, DAIRY, CHEESE, OIL, PAINT, DYESTUFF PROCESSING INDUSTRIES; HORIZONTAL FORM FILL AND SEAL PACKAGING MACHINES; INGREDIENT FEEDERS; MECHANICAL MIXING MACHINES; LABELLING MACHINES; LIQUID BLENDERS; LIQUID SPONGE FERMENTERS FOR FERMENTATION OF DOUGH FOR USE IN THE BAKING INDUSTRY; MILLING MACHINES; MIXERS, COMPOUNDING MACHINES; OIL SPRAY COATER; OVEN LOADERS; PACKAGING AND CARTONING AND CRATING MACHINES; PACKAGING MACHINES FOR BAGGING, COLLATING, OVERWRAPPING AND BUNDLING; PACKAGING, CARTONING, BAGGING AND WRAPPING MACHINES FOR BREAD, CAKE, BISCUITS, COOKIES, CEREAL AND SNACKPRODUCTS; PARTICLE SPRINKLERS, COATERS AND DUSTER MACHINES; PARTICULATE GOODS ELEVATORS, DOUGH AND TUB HOISTS; PELLETISERS; PLASTIC CASE AND CORRUGATED BOX CASING MACHINES; POWDER AND PARTICLE BLENDERS; POWDER BLENDERS; PUMPS, NAMELY CENTRIFUGAL, DOUGH, PISTON, ROTARY AND POSITIVE DISPLACEMENT PUMPS; RADIANT COOLING CONVEYORS; RECIPROCATING AND ROTARY BISCUIT CUTTING AND EMBOSSING MACHINES; RECIPROCATING AND ROTARY CUTTERS, AND EMBOSSERS, COATING AND SPRINKLING UNITS; RECIPROCATING COMPRESSORS; ROLL AND BUN MAKING MACHINES; ROLL FLAKERS; ROLLING MACHINES FOR DOUGH, ROLL SHAPING MACHINES; SANDWICHING MACHINES FOR BISCUITS AND WAFERS; SEMI HERMETIC AND ACRE# SHREDDING MACHINES; SHRINK WRAPPER MACHINES FOR HANDLING AND PACKAGING BREAD, CAKE, BISCUITS, COOKIES, CEREAL PRODUCTS, SNACK PRODUCTS; SINGLE AND TWIN SCREW COMPOUNDING MIXERS; SPRINKLER MACHINES FOR FLOUR, POWDER, SUGAR, SALT; SUGAR CONFECTIONERY AND PASTE EXTRUDERS; SUGAR PULLER AND DEPOSITOR MACHINES; SUGAR MOLDING MACHINES; FEEDING TANKS FOR CHOCOLATE AND EDIBLE FAT; TOPPING RECOVERY MACHINES FOR SUGAR, SALT, CHEESE AND THE LIKE SPRINKLED ON A FOOD PRODUCT; TRAY LIDDING MACHINES; TUB TILTING MACHINES FOR USE IN THE FOOD INDUSTRY; TURBULENT AIR COOLING CONVEYORS; VERTICAL FORM FILL AND SEAL PACKAGING MACHINES; VESSEL, TUB AND KEG ELEVATORS; MACHINES FOR CUTTING AND/OR HANDLING DOUGH, NAMELY WIRE CUT, ROUT PRESSES, GUILLOTINES, KNIFE CUTTERS, DOUGH PIECE DEPOSITORS, SPONGE DEPOSITORS FOR DEPOSITING SPONGE CAKE MIXTURES FOR USE IN THE COMMERCIAL BAKING INDUSTRY; WRAPPING MACHINES; MACHINES FOR THE DIARY INDUSTRY, (INCLUDING PROCESSING MACHINERY FOR MILK, CREAM, YOGHURT, CHEESE AND ICE CREAM PRODUCTS), NAMELY ASEPTIC PROCESS PLANTS COMPRISING MECHANICAL MIXING MACHINES, COOKERS, FILLERS; BATCH BLENDERS; BOTTLE FILLING AND HANDLING MACHINES; CHEESE AND BUTTER MAKING MACHINES COMPRISING MAINLY METERING PUMPS, TANKS, MIXERS, AND PRESSES; EXTRUDERS COMPRISING ROLL, SCREW, TWIN SCREW, VERTICAL AND MULTI LANE HORIZONTAL FILLERS; FALLING FILM EVAPORATOR; FILLING, PACKING AND HANDLING MACHINES FOR TUBS, CARTONS AND BOTTLES; ICE CREAM MAKING MACHINERY, NAMELY DEPOSITING MACHINES, MECHANICAL MIXERS, ICE LOLLY MACHINES; MACHINERY FOR CHEESEMAKING; MIXERS, EXTRUDERS, BUTTER CHURNS AND MIXERS; MOLDING AND DEMOLDING MACHINES; PACKAGING AND HANDLING MACHINES FOR TUBS CARTONS AND BOTTLES; PLASTIC CASE AND CORRUGATED BOX CASERS; PUMPS, NAMELY CENTRIFUGAL, DOUGH, PISTON, ROTARY AND POSITIVE DISPLACEMENT PUMPS; UF AND RO SEPARATORS; WHEY PROCESSOR MACHINES FOR USE IN THE FOOD, DAIRY AND CHEESE PROCESSING INDUSTRIES; MACHINES FOR THE BEVERAGE INDUSTRY, (INCLUDING PROCESSING MACHINERY FOR ALCOHOL, BREWERY, YEAST, WINE, LIQUOR, SOFT DRINKS, FRUIT AND FRUIT JUICE), NAMELY BATCH BLENDERS; BOTTLE FILING AND HANDLING MACHINES; DE-ALCOHOLIZING APPARATUS, NAMELY MACHINES FOR MAKING LOW-ALCOHOL BEER AND WINE; KEG WASHERS AND CAN WASHERS; PLASTIC CASE AND CORRUGATED BOXED CASERS; PUMPS - CENTRIFUGAL, DOUGH, PISTON, ROTARY AND POSITIVE DISPLACEMENT PUMPS; MACHINES FOR PUBLIC TRANSPORT, NAMELY GOODS ELEVATORS, GOODS LIFTS, PERSONNEL ELEVATORS, AND PERSONNEL LIFTS; COMPRESSORS FOR MACHINES; COMPRESSORS AND FANS FOR AIR CONDITIONERS, MACHINES, NAMELY FERMENTATION AGITATORS (U.S. CLS. 23 AND 31).

CLASS 9—ELECTRICAL AND SCIENTIFIC APPARATUS

FOR CLEAN IN PLACE SYSTEMS FOR USE IN THE DAIRY, FOOD, BIOTECHNICAL AND CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES, PRINCIPALLY COMPRISED OF CONTROLS PANELS WITH CONTROLLERS, PUMPS, AND TANKS; AUTOMATIC VALVES; GAUGE ROLL MACHINES; LEVEL CONTROLS; GAS AND LIQUID FLOW METERS FOR INDUSTRIAL USE; VIDEO MONITORS; ELECTRIC COOKING OVEN CONTROLLER SYSTEMS; REMOTE CONTROL OF INDUSTRIAL OPERATING PLANT AND MACHINERY, NAMELY PROGRAMMABLE LOGIC ELECTRONIC CONTROLLERS FOR THE CONTROL OF PROCESS MACHINERY USED IN THE FOOD PROCESSING, FRUIT JUICE, BEVERAGE, DAIRY, CHEESE, OIL, PAINT, DYESTUFFS AND PHARMACEUTICAL PROCESSING INDUSTRIES; AND THERMOMETERS; MACHINES FOR THE CHEMICAL INDUSTRY AND ASSOCIATED INDUSTRIES (INCLUDING PLASTICS, RUBBER, PAINTS, PHARMACEUTICAL, OIL, NUCLEAR POWER GENERATION AND BIOTECHNOLOGY), NAMELY AUTOMATIC CONTROL SYSTEMS MAINLY COMPOSED OF SENSORS, INSTRUMENTS, CONTROLLERS, COMPUTERS; MACHINES FOR THE FOOD AND DAIRY INDUSTRIES (INCLUDING BAKERY, CONFECTIONERY, SUGAR, CHOCOLATE, SLAUGHTERING AND MEAT PROCESSING), NAMELY AUTOMATIC CONTROL SYSTEMS MAINLY COMPOSED OF SENSORS, INSTRUMENTS, CONTROLLERS, AND COMPUTERS; ICE CREAM MAKING MACHINERY, NAMELY DOSING MACHINES; INGREDIENT DOSING MACHINES; ICE CREAM MAKING MACHINERY, NAMELY METERING PUMPS (U.S. CLS. 21 AND 26).

CLASS 11—ENVIRONMENTAL CONTROL APPARATUS

FOR AIR CONDITIONERS; HUMIDIFIERS, DEHUMIDIFIERS; FOOD FREEZERS; DRYERS, COMPRISING BAND, DRUM, FLASH, FLUIDIZED BED, SPRAY, PRESSURE AND VACUUM, SPIN FLASH DRYER, PNEUMATIC DRYER, CONVEYOR BAND DRYER, ROTARY DRYER, FILM DRUM DRYER, ATMOSPHERIC TRAY DRYER; HEAT EXCHANGERS; FREEZING PLANT - COMPRISE SCREW AND RECIPROCATING COMPRESSORS, SPIRAL AND PLATE FREEZERS, LIQUID CHILLERS; BAKING OVENS AND DRIERS; HEAT EXCHANGERS; PLATE AND TUBULAR HEAT EXCHANGERS, SHELL AND TUBE HEAT EXCHANGERS; SCRAPED SURFACE HEAT EXCHANGERS; FILTERS AND FILTRATION SYSTEMS FOR LIQUIDS FOR USE IN THE DAIRY, FOOD, BIOTECHNICAL AND CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES, OF THE TYPE MICRO, ULTRA AND MICRO, THE FOREGOING COMPRISED OF CERAMIC FILTERS, OSMOTIC AND MEMBRANE FILTERS, PLATE AND FRAME FILTERS, CARTRIDGE FILTERS; SPIRAL COOLERS; FOOD FREEZERS; FREEZING PLANT - COMPRISING SEMI-HERMETIC, ACRE AND RECIPROCATING COMPRESSORS; FREEZING PLANT - COMPRISING SPIRAL AND PLATE FREEZERS; FREEZING PLANT - COMPRISING SCREW AND RECIPROCATING COMPRESSORS, LIQUID CHILLERS; REFRIGERATION SYSTEMS COMPRISING AMMONIA COMPRESSORS, RECEIVERS, CONDENSERS, EVAPORATORS, VALVES AND PIPING; FILTERS AND STRAINERS FOR LIQUIDS FOR USE IN THE DAIRY, FOOD, BIOTECHNICAL AND CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES; MACHINES FOR THE CHEMICAL INDUSTRY, NAMELY DEALCOHOLIZATION INSTALLATIONS MAINLY COMPOSED OF TANKS, PIPES, VALVES AND FITTINGS; DISTILLATION PLANT INCLUDING TANKS, PIPES, COLUMNS, VALVES AND FITTINGS; EVAPORATORS; VENTILATION FANS FOR COMMERCIAL AND/OR INDUSTRIAL USE; AIR FILTERS FOR INDUSTRIAL INSTILLATION; CATALYTIC POLLUTION CONTROL OXIDIZERS FOR TREATMENT OF OVEN FLUE GASES FOR USE IN THE FOOD INDUSTRY; CALCINERS; COOLERS COMPRISED AS DRUM, SPIRAL AND BAND COOLERS; COOLERS, RADIATION COOLERS, COOLING TABLES, FORCED AIR COOLERS FOR CHOCOLATE AND SUGAR CONFECTIONERY; COOLING TOWERS; DE-HUMIDIFIERS; ELECTRICAL AND/OR GAS DRYERS, COMPRISED AS STOVES, TUNNEL, BAND, FILM, DRUM, FLASH, ROTARY, SPRAY, VACUUM; EVAPORATORS; FREEZERS, NAMELY PLATE, SPIRAL, CARTON, LIQUID NITROGEN, BLAST; HEAT PUMPS; HEAT RECOVERY HEAT EXCHANGERS; HUMIDIFIERS; MICROWAVE COOKER; ELECTRIC AND/OR GAS PRESSURE COOKERS; ELECTRIC AND/OR GAS ROTARY PRESSURE COOKERS; REFRIGERATORS; WATER PURIFICATION PLANT; MACHINES FOR THE FOOD INDUSTRY, NAMELY AIR COOLER; GAS AND/OR ELECTRIC BAKING OVEN AND BURNERS; CALCINERS; CEREAL BAND DRYERS AND ELECTRIC TOASTERS; CHOCOLATE TEMPERING MACHINES; DOUGH PROVERS, BEING HEATED METAL CABINETS/MACHINES FOR PROVING DOUGH FOR USE IN THE BAKING INDUSTRY; DOUGH RETARDERS, BEING COOLED METAL CABINETS/MACHINES FOR RETARDING THE PROVING OF DOUGH FOR USE IN THE BAKING INDUSTRY; PASTEURIZERS; REFRIGERATORS; STERILIZERS FOR USE IN THE DAIRY, FOOD, BIOTECHNICAL AND CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES AND NOT FOR MEDICAL USE; SUGAR, JELLY AND CANDY COOKERS; THAWING UNITS; MACHINES GAS AND/OR ELECTRIC FOR THE DAIRY INDUSTRY, NAMELY AIR COOLER; GAS AND/OR ELECTRIC BURNERS; CALCINERS; PASTEURIZERS FOR MILK AND ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE INCLUDING BEER; STERILIZERS; THAWING UNITS; MACHINES FOR THE BEVERAGE INDUSTRY, NAMELY AIR COOLER; BURNERS; CALCINERS; HEAT PASTEURIZER UNITS FOR USE IN THE FOOD, FRUIT JUICE, BEVERAGE, DAIRY, CHEESE AND PHARMACEUTICAL PROCESSING INDUSTRIES; HEAT PASTEURIZING UNITS FOR BEER; MACHINES FOR THE BUILDING INDUSTRY, NAMELY ELECTRIC FANS, CEILING FANS, VENTILATING FANS FOR COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL USE; WATER PURIFICATION PLANTS, WATER FILTERING UNITS, HEAT PUMPS; DRYERS COMPRISING BAND, DRUM, FLASH, FLUIDIZED BED, SPRAY, VACUUM; SUGAR COOKERS; SUGAR COOLERS AND COOLING TABLES; CONTINUOUS DEARATORS FOR USE IN THE DAIRY, FOOD, BIOTECHNICAL AND CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES; EVAPORATORS AND CONCENTRATORS FOR USE IN THE DAIRY INDUSTRY; DRYING, EVAPORATING AND CONCENTRATING PLANT COMPRISING MAINLY PRESSURE AND VACUUM TANKS; PORTABLE ICE CREAM MAKING MACHINES; MACHINES FOR THE BEVERAGE INDUSTRY, NAMELY DISTILLATION COLUMNS; AMBIENT AND FORCED AIR COOLERS, COMMERCIAL BAKING OVENS, NAMELY "TRAY", "RACK" AND "CONTINUOUS BAND"; BUTTER THAWERS AND MELTERS; CONTINUOUS DEARATORS BY HEAT FOR USE IN THE DAIRY, FOOD, BIOTECHNICAL AND CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES; DEEP FAT FRYERS; HEAT PUMPS; ICE CREAM BLOCK MAKING MACHINES; AIR COOLED CONDENSERS FOR USE IN THE FREEZING, REFRIGERATION AND AIR CONDITIONING INDUSTRIES; ASEPTIC PROCESS PLANTS COMPRISING STERILE SURGE TANKS, MIXERS, COOKERS, FILLERS FOR USE IN THE FOOD, FRUIT JUICE, BEVERAGE, DAIRY, CHEESE, OIL, PAINT, DYESTUFFS AND PHARMACEU-

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

TRADEMARK REGISTRATIONS ISSUED UNDER SECTION 1(d)

The following marks have registered on the Principal Register pursuant to the intent-to-use provisions of Section 1(d) of the Trademark Act of 1946, as amended.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

TRADEMARK REGISTRATIONS AMENDED, CORRECTED, ETC.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

Any change to the registration will be indicated at the bottom of each entry under ELEMENTS AMENDED, CORRECTED OR RESTRICTED. With the exception of changes to the goods and services, additions to the registration will appear in asterisks and deletions of the registration will appear in brackets. Elements which are only changed will be listed with no punctuation. As to the goods/services statement, amendments to the goods/services will appear in asterisks and deletions will appear in brackets. In addition if any change to the goods/services occurs, the element "Goods/Services" will be listed under ELEMENTS AMENDED, CORRECTED OR RESTRICTED.

Notice of Maintenance Fees Payable

Title 37 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), Section 1.362(d) provides that maintenance fees may be paid without surcharge for the six-month period beginning 3, 7, and 11 years after the date of issue of patents based on applications filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980. An additional six-month grace period is provided by 35 U.S.C. 41(b) and 37 CFR 1.362(e) for payment of the maintenance fee with the surcharge set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(h), as amended effective Dec. 16, 1991. If the maintenance fee is not paid in the patent requiring such payment the patent will expire on the 4th, 8th, or 12th anniversary of the grant.

Attention is drawn to the patents which were issued on January 7, 1992 for which maintenance fees due at 3 years and six months may now be paid. The patents have patent numbers within the following ranges:

VOL 1170 ISS 2 JA 10 1995 UMI

Utility Patents 5,077,836 through 5,079,774
Reissue Patents based on the above identified patents.

Attention is drawn to the patents which were issued on January 5, 1988 for which maintenance fees due at 7 years and six months may now be paid. The patents have patent numbers within the following ranges:

Utility Patents 4,716,594 through 4,715,121
Reissue Patents based on the above identified patents.

Attention is drawn to the patents which were issued on January 3, 1984 for which maintenance fees due at 11 years and six months may now be paid. The patents have patent numbers within the following ranges:

Utility Patents 4,423,523 through 4,424,594
Reissue Patents based on the above identified patents.

No maintenance fees are required for design or plant patents.

Payments of maintenance fees in patents should be directed to "Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box M. Fee, Washington, D.C. 20231."

For patents based on applications filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980, but before Aug. 27, 1982, patent owners must establish small entity status according to 37 CFR 1.27 if they have not done so and if they wish to pay the small entity amount.

The current amounts of the maintenance fees due at 3 years and six months, 7 years and six months, and 11 years and six months are set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(e)-(g), as amended Oct. 1, 1994, which are reproduced below:

37 CFR § 1.20 Post-issuance fees

(e) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980, in force beyond 4 years; the fee is due by three years and six months after the original grant:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $480.00
By other than a small entity $960.00

(f) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 in force beyond 8 years; the fee is due by seven years and six months after the original grant:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $965.00
By other than a small entity $1,930.00

(g) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 in force beyond 12 years; the fee is due by eleven years and six months after the original grant:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $1,450.00
By other than a small entity $2,900.00

The amount of the surcharge for paying the maintenance fee during the grace period or after expiration of the patent are set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(h), and (i) which are reproduced below:

(h) Surcharge for paying a maintenance fee during the 6 month grace period following the expiration of three years and six months, seven years and six months, and eleven years and six months after the date of the original grant of a patent based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $65.00
By other than a small entity $130.00

(i) Surcharge for accepting a maintenance fee after expiration of a patent for non-timely payment of a maintenance fee where the delay is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been:

(1) unavoidable $640.00
(2) unintentional $1,500.00

Notice of Expiration of Patents Due to Failure to Pay Maintenance Fee

35 U.S.C. 41 and 37 CFR 1.362(g) provide that if the required maintenance fee and any applicable surcharge are not paid in a patent requiring such payment, the patent will expire at the end of the 4th, 8th or 12th anniversary of the grant of the patent depending on the first maintenance fee which was not paid.

According to the records of the Office, the patents listed below have expired due to failure to pay the required maintenance fee and any applicable surcharge.

Notice of Expiration of Trademark Registrations Due To Failure to Renew

15 U.S.C. 1059 provides that each trademark registration may be renewed for periods of ten years from the end of the expiring period upon payment of the prescribed fee and the filing of an acceptable application for renewal. This may be done at any time within six months before the expiration of the period for which the registration was issued or renewed, or it may be done within three months after such expiration on payment of an additional fee.

According to the records of the Office, the trademark registrations listed below are expired due to failure to renew in accordance with 15 U.S.C. 1059.

SPECIAL BOXES FOR PATENT MAIL

Special box designations should be used to allow forwarding of particular types of mail to the appropriate areas as quickly as possible. Such mail is forwarded to the appropriate area without being opened. Only the specified type of document should be placed in an envelope addressed to one of these special boxes. If any documents other than the specified type identified for each special box are addressed to that box, they will be significantly delayed in reaching the appropriate area for which they are intended.

Please address mail as follows:

Box ____
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Washington, D.C. 20231

Box Designations	Explanation
Box 7	Reissue applications for patents involved in litigation and subsequently filed related papers.
Box 12	Contributions to the Examiner Education Program.
Box 313b	Petitions under 37 CFR 1.313(b) to withdraw a patent application from issue after payment of the issue fee and any papers associated with the petition, including papers necessary for filing a continuing application.
Box AF	Expedited procedure for processing amendments and other responses after final rejection.
Box DAC	Petitions decided by the Office of Petitions including petitions to revive and petitions to accept late payment of issue fees or maintenance fees.
Box DD	Disclosure Documents or material related to the Disclosure Document Program.
Box FWC	Requests for File Wrapper Continuation Applications (under 37 CFR 1.62).
Box Interference	Communications relating to interferences and applications and patents involved in interference.
Box Issue Fee	All communications following the receipt of a PTOL–85, "Notice of Allowance and Issue Fee Due," and prior to the issuance of a patent should be addressed to Box Issue Fee, unless advised to the contrary. Assignments are the exception. Assignments should be submitted in a separate envelope and not be sent to Box Issue Fee.
Box M Fee	Correspondence related to a patent that is subject to the payment of a maintenance fee.
Box MPEP	Submissions concerning the Manual of Patent Examining Procedures.
Box Non-Fee-Amendment	Non-fee amendments to patent applications. (Use Box AF for responses after final rejection).

SPECIAL BOXES FOR TRADEMARK MAIL

Special box designations should be used to allow forwarding of particular types of trademark mail to the appropriate areas as quickly as possible. In addition to these box designations, filers are encouraged to indicate whether the contents of the envelope contain a fee. Envelopes containing a fee should be marked "FEE;" envelopes not containing a fee should be marked "NO FEE." Box designations and "FEE/NO FEE" indicators should appear on the envelope as well as on the cover sheet or first page of any document.

Please address mail as follows:

Box _____
FEE (or "NO FEE")
Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks
2900 Crystal Drive

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents and Trademarks Available for Public Use in Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries (PTDLs), receive patent and trademark information in various formats from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Many PTDLs have on file all full-text patents issued since 1790, trademarks published since 1872, and select collections of foreign patents. All PTDLs have both the patent and trademark sections of the Official Gazette of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. The full-text utility and design patents are distributed numerically on 16 mm microfilm, and plant patents on color microfiche. Patent and trademark search systems on CD-ROM (Compact Disc-Read Only) format are available at all PTDLs to increase utilization of and enhance access to the information found in patents and trademarks. It is through the CD-ROM systems that preliminary patent and trademark searches can be conducted through the numerically arranged collections.

All information is available for use by the public free of charge.

In addition, each PTDL offers reference publications which outline and provide access to the patent and trademark classification systems, as well as other documents and publications which supplement the basic search tools. PTDLs provide technical staff assistance in using all materials. Facilities for making paper copies of patent and trademark information are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent and trademark collections among the PTDLs, and their hours of service to the public vary, anyone contemplating use of these collections at a particular library is urged to contact that library in advance about its collections, services, and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

MARKS PUBLISHED FOR OPPOSITION

The following marks are published in compliance with section 12(a) of the Trademark Act of 1946. Applications for the registration of marks in more than one class have been filed as provided in section 30 of said act as amended by Public Law 772, 87th Congress, approved Oct. 9, 1962, 76 Stat. 769. Opposition under section 13 may be filed within thirty days of the date of this publication. See rules 2.101 to 2.105.

A separate fee of two hundred dollars for opposing each mark in each class must accompany the opposition.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
